NGS!
ER." Suits,
Coats and Vests,
Children's Clothing, Hats, of Everything.
ST PRICES. Look chless Show-Win-han we can.
EY'S
ay and Pine.

ICAN BOY
hoes in two or three ernal relative will
In fact, a shoe-shop ct to a boy's well-has a pair in pro-has on a pair which TITUTION
o wear out the most ng it. But an IRON-he paternal pocket-& BRO.
TREET,
r Boys and Youths,
or lasting qualities.
d catalogue for this n your name and ad-

e and Carpet Co. n Avenue.
T BEDROOM SETS in ndsome PARLOR FUR-EVERYTHING NEED-n EASY WEEKLY or Call and be convinced.

RWEAR!
RCHASE.
. . . . . 75c
. . . . . 95c
1.00. . . 60c
n not be pur-
S IN EAR !

CLOSED UFACTURER de up from the ET.
ROM 50c
with Tie. rnishing Goods
DEPARTMENT.
our Illustrated Catalogue.

THE LARGEST EVENING PAPER IN THE COUNTRY.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THE ONLY TWELVE-PAGE EVENING PAPER.

VOL. XXXIV. ST. LOUIS, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1885.---TWELVE PAGES. NO. 116.

WE BEAT THEM ALL
YOU CAN SAVE 25 PER CENT.
Only House in the City Retailing Gents' BOOTS & SHOES
At Manufacturers' Prices.
Remember you buy Direct from the Manufacturers. We warrant every Pair.
Latest Styles.
Lowest Prices.

THE HOME SHOE CO.,
218 NORTH EIGHTH STREET.
F. HEROLD, President.

CHEROKEE BREWERY CO.
TRADE MARK
ST. LOUIS
LAGER BEER.

Cherokee Brewery Co.,
Brewers and Bottlers of Renowned "Herold's Superior" Bottled Lager Beer, American Ale, Porter, HALF-AND-HALF.
Brewery, Cherokee St. and Iowa Av.
Branch Office and Depot, 413 and 415 Chestnut Street.
Awarded Grand Gold Medal at Great St. Louis Fair, 1884 and 1885.

GARLAND
STOVES
AND RANGES
"The World's Best."
Made in Every Style and Variety Known to Modern Cooking and Heating Stove and Range Construction.
PRICES FROM $10 to $75.
The above Trade Mark is a Guarantee that every Article bearing it is the Finest and Best that can be made for the price asked.
Beware of Imitations. If your Dealer will not furnish you with a "Garland" write direct to The Michigan Stove Company,
DETROIT, MICH. CHICAGO, ILL. BUFFALO, N. Y.
FOR SALE BY
CHAS. NIEDRINGHAUS, 1001 Franklin Av.
VALENTINE FATH, 1202 S. Broadway.

CUTLERY
CUTLERY
A. J. JORDAN,
612 Washington Av.
CUTLERY
CUTLERY

AT 1003 and 1005 FRANKLIN AVENUE.
A new assortment of various grades and pleasing styles of all classes of FURNITURE,
In the leading kinds of wood and marble at very reasonable prices, highly finished, NOW IN STOCK. For Cash and on Time. Compare our cash prices this season.
H.L.NIEDRINGHAUS.

SOMETHING NEW DAILY
—AT THE—
Wonderful 5C Store, 417 Washington Av.

LATEST EDITION.

TWELVE PAGES.

LOGAN'S LAMENT.

The Illinois Senator on the Result of the Recent Elections.

An Interesting Interview—Gen. Logan Resents the Insinuation That His Speeches Damaged Davenport's Prospects—Some Emphatic Remarks About Bloody-Shirtism, Mugwumps and Independents.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, November 7.—The POST-DISPATCH correspondent called upon General Logan yesterday afternoon and asked him what he had to say about the New York election. He said he had nothing to say about it in particular, more than that the Democrats seemed to have carried the State by quite a majority.

"I see that the New York Times and other papers in New York, as well as the chairman of the Republican Committee, attribute the Republican defeat in part to the 'bloody shirt' campaign that was made," said the correspondent.

"I see that the insinuation has been made in some of the papers, at which I was very much surprised," said the General. "I did not know of any 'bloody shirt' campaign being made in New York. I certainly made no such campaign in New York. The insinuation made against me that I damaged the prospects of Mr. Davenport is such an insinuation that I, being brought up in a rural district of the West, would probably not have the disposition to make against my fellow Republicans where they had done the best they could for a ticket. But the amenities between gentlemen seem to be only known to men of experience in political matters and cultured in all things that make men great in the estimation of themselves. There are some men in New York, perhaps, who claim to be Republicans, and I will not dispute them, but who last fall voted the Democratic ticket, who claimed that the election of Mr. Davenport would be sustaining Mr. Cleveland's administration; therefore, they voted for Davenport to sustain their President, and against Mr. Hill, because a vote for him would be a vote against Mr. Cleveland, as they said. The logic of this would be that every man who was against Mr. Cleveland's administration must vote for Mr. Hill, and those who voted in favor of Mr. Cleveland's administration would vote for Mr Davenport. This struck me as a strange mode of argument to induce Republicans to support a Republican ticket, and at the same time induce Democrats to vote against their candidate. Mr. Cleveland took it upon himself to go to Buffalo to vote for Mr. Hill. I will not say that this twaddle damaged Mr. Davenport, but I do say that I heard men in New York, who voted the Republican ticket last fall, say that if voting the Republican ticket this fall was voting to sustain Mr. Cleveland's Administration, they would not cast that ballot, and I say that if the inquiry was made of a great many Republicans who are very bitterly opposed to Mr. Cleveland, as to the effect of that argument upon them, their answer might throw some light upon the situation."

"But these men and papers are very influential in New York, General."

"It is so said, but it seems that last fall, when these same papers and men who made the argument were all combined against the Republican ticket, the Democratic ticket in New York City obtained 48 000 majority. But this fall these papers and men making this argument mentioned had the immense influence in that city necessary to increase the Democratic majority from 43,000 to 48,000. This would seem to look as though their influence

WORKED THE WRONG WAY.

In my country, we would not charge outside friends with the loss of the State, were we to lose it under any circumstances."

"Can you give any facts tending to show that your canvass aided the Republican ticket in any degree?"

"I make no claim that my speeches were of special benefit to the ticket, but can only call your attention to a few figures deducted from the vote by counties. The Republicans lost in nearly every county in the State. A few made Republican gains. I made my comparisons with the vote of 1884. I had appointments in four counties, Niagara, Oswego, Cayuga and Broome. Niagara and Oswego Counties show a gain over 1884, of nearly one thousand votes for the Republican ticket. Broome County, the home of the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governonor, about held her own, and Cayuga shared in the general loss. I have no remarks to make upon the showing, but only to call attention to it in connection with the statement that my speeches damaged the Republican ticket."

"These papers did not publish your speech in New York, did they?"

"No, they did not. I presume the reason was that they thought they were Republican speeches, and they certainly were not Administration speeches. The WORLD gave synopses of several of my speeches which were much more elaborate than any other paper in New York. For this I am indebted to the WORLD, inasmuch as it gave me the only means I had to let the people know I was not making 'bloody shirt' speeches, but was making what I understand to be Republican speeches. I did not speak of the record of the Republican party in most flattering terms. I did not believe that would make any Republican mad. If it did, then I was at fault. I did speak of the record of the Democratic party truthfully, and not vindictively nor maliciously. If that record was unsatisfactory to Democrats I could not help it, for I did not make it and they did. If it was distasteful to Republicans, then I am sorry Republicans have forgotten what the Republican party has done for this country. I did speak of civil service reform as being the child of the Republican party, and that they had faithfully nourished it. If that was offensive then I offended them. I did not speak of the bad faith of the Navy Department towards John Roach, and the distress that has been brought upon his employes by the course of the Government. If that was offensive to Republicans, then I offended in that. I did speak of the course of the Post Office Department in withdrawing the contracts for carrying our mails by American vessels and sending these mails in English bottoms. If this was offensive, then I offended. But it seems to me that no paper could object to this character of statement unless feeling more friendly to English interests than to American interests."

"In what did they charge you with waving the bloody shirt?"

"I presume it was on account of the appeal I made to the voters of New York when I spoke for an honest ballot and a fair count. I did say that it was a fact that in many of the States South, in many parts of them, Republicans were

NOT ALLOWED A FREE BALLOT;

that they were cheated out of their rights as American citizens. I did call attention to the fact that the vote cast in New York in 1884 was 1,107,226, and on that vote New York had thirty-six members of Congress and Senators and thirty-six votes in the Electoral College. That Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi, all combined, cast 474,868 votes in 1884, a little more than one-third the vote of New York, and on that vote these States had thirty-six members of Congress and cast thirty-six electoral votes. I said that the remainder of the voters in these States were prevented from casting their ballots, and in that way one vote in the South was equal to two and one-half votes in the North, and if any Democrat in New York was willing to admit that he was entitled to only a little more than a third of the influence in this Government that a Democrat in the South was entitled it was a question for him to determine. I said that the charge that Republicans could have prevented this was not correct. The Republicans were not the ones who committed the frauds or did the bulldozing, and therefore they were not the ones to correct it. But it was an easy matter for the Democrats to put a stop to it by ceasing to perpetrate these frauds over the country. I said that if this was continued it would finally be destructive to republican government. This I said, and I stick to it. If this was offensive to Republicans, then I offended. If any man in New York, Republican or Democrat, indorsed this kind of fraud and does not wish it stopped, then to him I have naught to say. I was against it in my speeches in New York. I am against it now and propose to continue to be against it, and if gentlemen in New York who are connected with this canvass, claiming to be Republicans, can't stand it when it is true, they are of a different material from those I have had the pleasure of meeting heretofore. If this is what is called waving the 'bloody shirt,' by certain so-called Republicans in New York, then I did it, and will continue so to do it wherever I go, in or out of Congress, until these frauds cease. Until they do cease this Government will not be fully restored. I spoke in same terms about the frauds in Cincinnati and Chicago, and claimed that they ought to cease. If there are any Republicans in New York who do not desire them to cease, then that class I offended."

"How did you come to go to New York?"

"I went to New York State on the invitation of the Republican State Committee. I spoke where they assigned me, and made no selection of location. I did the best I could for our Republican ticket. If some men in New York wish a scapegoat in order to get from under the hay themselves I suppose I can flee to the mountains as well as any one."

AN AMAZON IN COURT.

Murdered His Employer—A Bigamist on Trial—Illinois Items.

BLOOMINGTON, November 7.—John Muffly, the plaintiff in a divorce case, was dragged around the court-room by the hair of his head yesterday afternoon by his sister-in-law. His wife had fainted at charges of infidelity.

QUINCY, November 7.—Ex-Judge Brennan, who keeps a livery stable, had a difficulty yesterday with James Davidson, one of his drivers, and received a fatal blow on the head with an iron bar. Davidson put in a plea of self-defense. He recently shot a man in Iowa for an attempted indecent assault upon his daughter.

DECATUR, November 7.—The trial of James H. McNeal for bigamy commenced yesterday. He left a young and pretty wife in Pennsylvania and came here to marry his aunt.

MARSHALL, November 7.—The explosion at the Jones residence, on the Bement farm, was the work of dynamite. The police are investigating the matter.

BLOOMINGTON, November 7.—Dr. Harris, who shot and killed Dr. Barton, was admitted to bail last evening in the sum of $8,000.

HILLSBORO, November 7.—Mrs. Clarence E. Cole entered a $3,000 damage suit against F. Weingand, a saloon-keeper, for encouraging her husband in habits of dissipation. The jury last night returned a verdict for $165.

JOLIET, November 7.—Fritz Miller, an employe at the rolling mills, had the life crushed out of him yesterday by a fall of pig-iron.

PEORIA, November 7.—John C. Yates made an assignment last night for the benefit of creditors. The liabilities are placed at $34,100 and the assets at $28,000.

TUSCOLA, November 7.—The creamery, a joint stock concern, closed yesterday for want of patronage.

STREATOR, November 7.—John Gilboski, a Hungarian miner, was killed yesterday by the fall of a rock.

SPRINGFIELD, November 7.—The Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry reports that the lung fever is stamped out among the herds in Illinois.

DOWNS DETERMINED.

The Boston Preacher and Mrs. Taber Want An Investigation From Pulpit to Pew.

BOSTON, MASS., November 7.—Pastor Downs metaphorically dynamited his congregation last night, and it will be sometime before they recover from the shock. After the regular prayer meeting last night, he announced that he had some remarks to make. His remarks were to the effect that pending the decision of the civil courts he proposed to have an investigation, beginning with the pulpit, and ending with the pews, and he proposed to carry it through, even if it made a clean sweep of every member of the church. He then announced that he wished to meet the Prudential Committee in the vestry, and he would read some documents, but that he did not propose to resign. In the vestry he read a document signed by himself, calling for an investigation, and reiterating the remarks made by him in the church. It created some excitement. He then read a document from Mrs. Taber, calling for an investigation, and then one from Mattie Davison, which created an absolute sensation, for in it she alleges that Mr. Taber criminally assaulted her on several occasions, using either force or taking his opportunity during fainting spells. She asserts that she did have relations with Taber, but in the manner described.

Mr. Downs then went on to say that he honored the woman for the course she pursued, and went on further to state that attempts had been made to bribe him to resign.

CORRUPT OFFICIALS.

Two Philadelphia Police Captains Dismissed for Protecting Gambling Houses.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., November 7.—This city has a police gambling sensation. Yesterday evening an official order was sent to all the station houses which dismissed Police Captains Joseph Schooley and John W. Emery. Detective Alexander Gray has been asked to resign and Officer Montague has been removed. The causes are that these officers connived at gambling. Last June Mayor Smith declared that the gamblers must go, and they did go; furthermore, he notified the police that they would be held responsible for the inforcement of this order and would be removed if they failed in their duty. About three weeks ago the Mayor was informed that gambling was being carried on openly and it was said that it was under police protection. Detectives visited the places and procured evidence, and it was determined to make a grand raid at 10 o'clock last night, and the Mayor was prepared to try cases against police officers. At 8 o'clock the places were in full blast but at 9 o'clock they were closed and deserted. The Mayor had been betrayed, he knew it and was correspondingly mad. He quickly procured affidavits and issued the order making the removals.

RUN DOWN BY BLOODHOUNDS.

Bill Moss, a Mississippi Murderer, Surrenders After a Desperate Fight.

COLUMBIA, MARION COUNTY, MISS., November 7.—A difficulty occurred between Bill Moss and John and Eliza Cook, Thursday night. Moss shot John Cook through the bowels, killing him, and also shot Eliza Cook in the right breast, inflicting a probably fatal wound. Moss ran from the town and escaped to the woods. Pursuit was organized by citizens yesterday, but Moss succeeded in eluding those after him until two bloodhounds were put on his trail. The hounds tracked him deep into the woods and overtook him. He turned and fired twice at the dogs, killing one of them. By this time the pursuing party, which was close behind the dogs, came up and threatened Moss with death unless he surrendered. He gave himself up and is now in jail.

HAPPY HOME MAGAZINE.

A Gang of Literary Swindlers Brought to Grief at Easton, Pa.

EASTON, PA., November 7.—Byron Douglas, Sam'l Ehrich and Chas. Leechy of Philadelphia were committed to jail here last night for swindling people in this region by securing subscribers to the "Happy Home" magazine, purporting to be published by the "Quaker City Publishing and Premium Company," 155 North Fourth street, Philadelphia. The constable visited Philadelphia and found that the "publishing company" occupied a small room without type, and traced the swindlers to Wilkesbarre, where they were engaged in the same business. It is estimated that over 1,000 people in this State have been swindled by this concern.

HE HAD A FIT.

A Big Scare Near the Den of the New York Dynamiters.

NEW YORK, November 7.—A crowd yesterday gathered round the prostrate body of a man on the pavement in front of O'Donovan Rossa's office on Chambers street. Rumors of another fray in the den of the dynamiters kept interest active for a minute. A police officer summoned help to take the sufferer to the Chambers Street Hospital, and brought the excitement to an end. The man was in an epileptic fit.

Connecticut's Pest.

NORWICH, CONN., November 7.—Until a few years ago it was believed that wild cats were extinct in Connecticut. They are making trouble for poultry and sheep raisers. They are numerous in all the back country towns, and are said to be of enormous size.

Made Big Money.

BOSTON, November 7.—The report of the Boston and Providence Railroad for the year ending September 30 shows a total income of $1,677,065; total expenses $1,284,116.

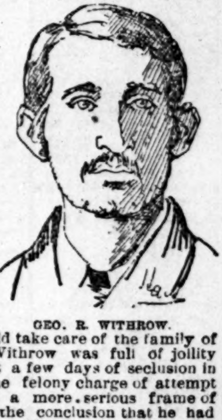
GONE TO MEET WITHROW

The Dynamiters Lodged in Jail This Morning.

Precautions Taken That They Shall Not Approach Withrow, the Betrayer—The Prisoners Pleased at the Change—Portraits and Descriptions of the Interesting Quintet—The Latest Developments.

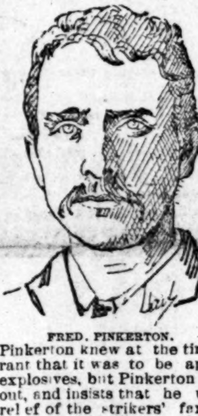
The five dynamiters were lodged in the jail this morning on warrants charging them with placing obstructions on the car track, which, after careful consideration of the case, Joseph G. Lodge, who represents the railroads in the prosecution, decided was the kind of felony which could be made to stick with the greatest certainty. The transfer from the cockroachy calaboose to the comparatively airy and sunny jail quarters was hailed with delight by the prisoners, who have regained their cheerfulness to a great extent since the charge was made. They had been heard while in the calaboose to express a strong desire to meet Withrow, but Jailer Siegmund decided that the possible unpleasantness of an exchange of sentiment between the betrayer and his victims should be avoided and he gave orders that Withrow's hours for exercise should be arranged at a time when the rest of the prisoners were in their cells. In this way a very fine jail sensation has, without doubt, been nipped in the bud.

The Quintet.



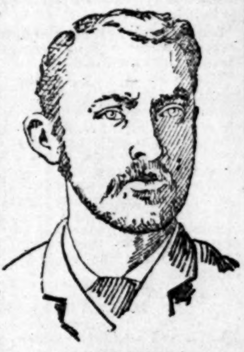
GEO. R. WITHROW.

George R. Withrow, who gave the conspiracy away under the pressure of Chief Harrigan's honeyed persuasions, is a very tall, slim man of about 32. He worked on the Broadway line as a conductor, and during the strike was one of the boldest of the organized intimidators, being arrested on several occasions. He was a recording secretary in the Cleveland Assembly, but was discharged by Casper Heep, with whom he had a few days previously, on bended knees, and with uplifted arms, sworn an oath of mutual protection until death them parted, coupled with an agreement that if one should survive he would take care of the family of the deceased. Mr. Withrow was full of jollity when first arrested, but a few days of seclusion in the city jail, under the felony charge of attempt to kill brought him to a more serious frame of mind, and he came to the conclusion that he had better save himself by sacrificing his co-conspirators. He will not meet them in jail, as Jailer Siegmund has decided that it will be safer for him to take his exercise when the other dynamiters are locked up in their cells.



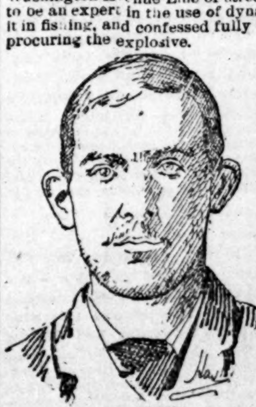
FRED. PINKERTON.

Frederick Pinkerton is the Master Workman of Cleveland Assembly, Knights of Labor, and, according to Withrow's statement, is the man who supplied Weathers with the $20 to be expended on the trip to Louisville and the purchase there of the dynamite. Withrow has declared that Pinkerton knew at the time he supplied the warrant that it was to be applied to the purchase of explosives, but Pinkerton has denied this throughout, and insists that he understood it was for the relief of the strikers' families. He is a man of about 30 years of age, of medium size, and with a prematurely care-worn and wrinkled countenance, which makes him look as though he had been born puzzled.



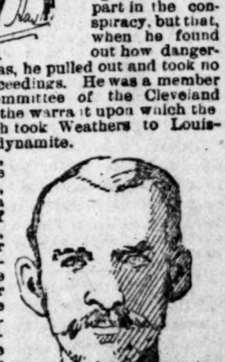
M. W. WEATHERS.

M. W. Weathers is the adventurous spirit who went to Louisville, purchased the dynamite and brought it back to St. Louis, where such it as had not been expended was discovered when Sergeant McNamee and Special Officer Lewis made the raid upon the room at 2119 Lucas avenue last Thursday night, and captured Weathers and Sears. Weathers is a member of the Knights of Labor Executive Committee who directed the strike. He is the brightest of the quintet, and by far the best looking, being a decidedly handsome young man of about 24 years of age. He is a photographer by profession, but, failing to make art pay, he became a driver on the Washington Avenue Line of street cars. He claimed to be an expert in the use of dynamite, having used it in fishing, and confessed fully the part he took in procuring the explosive.



P. S. BYRNS.

Philip S. Byrns, who was a conductor on the Bellefontaine line, is the baby among the dynamiters being only 23 years of age. He is simple and straightforward in his address and does not look at all like a member of a secret company engaged in the felonious use of explosives. He acknowledges that he at first agreed to take part in the conspiracy, but that, when he found out how dangerous the undertaking was, he pulled out and took no further part in the proceedings. He was a member of the Executive Committee of the Cleveland Assembly, and signed the warrant upon which the $20 was obtained which took Weathers to Louisville and paid for the dynamite.



W. P. SEARS.

Walter P. Sears, Judge-Advocate of the Cleveland Assembly, Knights of Labor, is a tall and slender man of about 30 years of age, who used to gather nickels on the Washington avenue line. He was captured together with Weathers and the valise containing dynamite at 2119 Lucas avenue. He is said to be of quite a judicial bent of mind and to have supplied a large proportion of the brains used in directing the strike. Since his arrest he has been very non-committal and if a conviction is secured in his case, it will not be by virtue of either any open confession or unguarded utterance.

The Strikers' Headquarters.

At Hoevel's Hall on Eleventh and Franklin avenue about twenty-five members of the striking street car men were lounging about this morning, some playing cards and others discussing the recent arrests. Said one of them to the reporter: "This man who informed against the dynamiters is called Withrow by all the papers. This is a mistake. His right name is Mathews—George Mathews, as the superintendents of either the Fourth street or the Gravois line can prove. He never was a conductor until he got on the Broadway line, and he had to assume a false name to secure that situation."

"What about calling off the strike—will this be done?"

"No, sir. At the meeting last night a vote was taken on this question and but one man out of over 300 voted to declare it off. We intend to stick it out to the end. To-morrow afternoon a meeting of the District Assembly will again be held and probably another vote on the question will be taken.

The Dynamiters' Warrants.

The warrants upon which the dynamiters were transferred to jail this morning are four in number and they charge that William P. Sears, Millard W. Weathers, Fred Pinkerton, David Keenan, Philip Byrns and George Withrow "unlawfully, feloniously and maliciously placed an obstruction, to-wit, dynamite, on the tracks" of the different railroads, upon that of the Lindell road, October 23; the Benton-Bellefontaine, October 24; the Jefferson avenue, October 25, and the Mound City, October 26.

GLOVER NEGOTIATING.

He Makes a Bid for President Sam Clubb's Republican Stock.

The statement made by Mr. Gerard B. Allen to a POST-DISPATCH reporter yesterday, to the effect that he had "heard" that Mr. Glover had been inquiring about certain shares of the Republican Company, but had not purchased them, meant more than appeared on its face. It is now known that this stock after which Mr. Glover was inquiring was the stock belonging to S. C. Clubb, president of the Republican Company. This stock, it will be remembered, was part of the holding of the late George Knapp, and on his death was sold at par by Mr. Allen, administrator of the estate, to Captain Clubb. The number of shares which passed over to Mr. Clubb was about 620, valued at about $62,000. When Mr. Clubb purchased the stock it was with the understanding that it would vote with the Allen-Paschall-George Knapp stock, and it was with this understanding that Mr. Clubb was made president of the concern. It is now known that a short time since John M. Glover approached Mr. Clubb with a view to purchasing his 620 shares, and made him an offer for the entire lot. Mr. Clubb, it is understood, consulted Mr. Allen and informed that gentleman that he was anxious to get out of the concern and felt inclined to accept the offer of Mr. Glover. He would, however, naturally give Mr. Allen the refusal of the stock at the price bid by Mr. Glover. This story is rendered all the more plausible from the fact that Mr. Allen stated yesterday that he did not absolutely control Mr. Clubb's stock, but he believed Mr. Clubb would not act without consulting him.

WHAT MR. GLOVER WOULD GAIN

by the purchase of the Clubb stock however, is hard to see. It is very probable that he could obtain the co-operation of John Knapp who controls between 1,700 and 1,800 shares even if he could not purchase the stock outright; for the Knapp and Allen interests are not thought to be working very harmoniously together. This, however, would give the opposition, at the outside, 2,400 shares out of 5,000, the balance of which Mr. Allen claims to control. A minority interest in a stock company which has not paid a dividend in several years is hardly what Mr. Glover would be seeking. It is barely possible, however, that there is some single holding in the Geo. Knapp or Paschall families which is as independent as that of Mr. Clubb, and the possession of which would, added to the John Knapp and Clubb stock, give the holder control of the Republican Company.

A FAVORABLE SHOWING.

October Report of the Cotton Crop in the Memphis District.

MEMPHIS, TENN., November 7.—The cotton crop report for the Memphis district, which embraces West Tennessee, North Mississippi, North Arkansas and North Alabama, to be published to-morrow by Messrs. Hill, Fontaine & Co., will say: "The weather during October has been most favorable to gather the crop, except in portions of North Alabama, where too much wet weather is reported. In all the other States, however, the season has been unexceptionally fine, and picking has progressed with greater rapidity than has been chronicled for years. Up to November 1 fully 61 per cent of the crop had been gathered, which is 7 per cent in excess of what had been picked last year up to that date. This indicates that the crop is twenty days earlier than last year. With continued favorable weather it will be completed by December 20.

SHIPMENTS FROM PLANTATIONS

have been prompt, and there seems to be a general desire on the part of planters to market their crop at the earliest possible period. Low stages of water in some of the tributaries to the principal streams in the district have somewhat retarded steamers, but there is every indication that receipts will continue to be heavy for the next six weeks. Frost is reported from many localities, occurring as early as October 4, but it was not until October 21 that a killing frost fell, and no serious damage was reported. There will be an increased yield in Mississippi and in the Valley of the Mississippi River, but reports from the hill lands of North Arkansas, West Tennessee and North Alabama indicate a decreased yield in those sections, which will offset the increase mentioned and make the yield of the district about equal to that of last year.

LAWLESSNESS IN ARKANSAS.

A Farmer Brutally Beaten and Spirited Away by an Armed Mob.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., November 7.—Reports of a lawless outrage upon a farmer, twelve miles from this city, in the country, perpetrated by his neighbors, have just been received here. The news was brought by his wife who came to secure assistance. Her husband's name is Reaves, and he has had difficulties with his landlord over rentals. A few nights since, she says, an armed mob visited their house, took her husband out, abused and threatened him and gave him twenty-four hours to leave the country, on pain of death. The next day two men, whom she recognized as members of the mob, visited their house and renewed the threats against her husband. He did not leave within the time, but has since disappeared and she fears he has been murdered. She claims to know three of the parties in the mob. Sheriff Housely has dispatched a posse to the scene of the trouble with warrants for the arrest of the leaders.

WILLIAM W. OSBORNE.

A Well-Known Citizen's Death Early Tihs Morning—The Funeral.

At 5 o'clock this morning Mr. William W. Osborne, chief book-keeper for the Western Union Telegraph Company, and brother of Mr. Chas. J. Osborne, local Associated Press agent, died in his room at the Glemore Hotel, on Fifteenth and Olive streets, from an attack of neuralgia of the chest. Mr. Osborne had been ailing for several months past with the sickness which finally carried him off, and this morning's attack was the third of that nature. Dr. Ware attended him. Mr. Osborne was 48 years of age, and had been in the employ of the Western Union Company for the past twenty years. No arrangements will be made for the funeral until Mr. Osborne's family, who resides at Cuba, Missouri, have been communicated with.

THE OHIO ELECTION.

The Hearing of the Testimony in the Senatorial Mandamus Case.

CINCINNATI, November 7.—In the Circuit Court to-day the relator in the election mandamus case filed a reply to the answer to which the defense demurred, but argument was waived and the Court proceeded to a hearing of the testimony. It first took up the question of alleged disagreement between the total votes accredited to senatorial candidates, and the total number of names on the pool books. This involves an inspection of the returns and will prolong the hearing.

The Houston and Texas Central.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The official statement of the Houston and Texas Central Railway Company for the eight months ending August 31 shows cash earnings of $1,324,160, a decrease from the same period last year of $191,024; operating expenses $1,184,068, an increase of $142,198; renewals and betterments $51,258, decrease of $58,643, leaving a deficit of $12,817 against a deficit for the same time last year of $122,702.

Denver and Rio Grande.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The Denver and Rio Grande Railway shows earnings for October of $639,098, an increase over the same month last year of $71,764.

PITY THE PRINCE.

The Public Humiliation of Prince Alexander by the Czar.

The Balkans Question—Preparations for the Burmese Expedition—Editor Stead and Mrs. Jarrett Convicted—Secret Orders Issued by the Government for the Execution of Riel—Foreign News.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, November 7.—The event of the week in foreign affairs is the public humiliation of Prince Alexander by the Czar. This, bad enough in itself, is made much worse by the wording of the Russian official order. Instead of the usual wording meaning that he had dispensed with his services, the Czar employed one having a disgraceful meaning, "struck off." Such action is highly significant, as it shows, first, that Russia has given up all hope of Alexander ever being anything but hostile to her and the ruler of the independent principality; second, it foreshadows the probability of the conference breaking up in dissension; third, Alexander also holds similar commands in the German and Austrian armies, but these countries have taken no steps against him, which means much.

A MISCHIEVOUS PROPOSAL

The proposal that England shall withdraw from the conference, which is made in certain quarters here, especially by the Daily News, is most mischievous. It would be repeating the blunder of Beaconsfield in 1876. It is well said here that the European concert is the forerunner of the United States of Europe. In the meantime every telegram tells of increased activity in military preparations and enormous purchases of war material on all sides.

THE BALKANS QUESTION.

The situation in the last few days may be summed up as follows: The mere restoration of the status quo ante is out of question. Greece, for instance, though a poor country, has spent 50,000,000 francs and cannot be expected to disarm without guarantees against further disturbances. Bulgaria will certainly fight for the present state of things. Servia is in a turmoil, as shown by the plot against King Milan. The Powers are not agreed, and therefore the forecast is either a war, precipitated by offensive action of Greece or Servia, in which case no man can foretell anything, or else concessions will be made by the Powers to the Balkan States on the basis of pecuniary compensation to Turkey.

THE BURMESE DIFFICULTY.

As regards Burmah, all is ready for the expedition. The troops are now all concentrated at Rangoon. It is safe to say that Theebaw's plea for a postponement of hostilities on account of an interesting domestic matter in his family will not weigh much. Almost all parties in England are reconciled to the annexation in the belief of thus securing great wealth, which will flow to English instead of French hands. Wilfred Blunt asks, this morning, in view of the Egyptian experiences who will be responsible in case the whole affair ultimately proves a wretched mistake.

HOME POLITICS

are well described in the first words of the leader in this morning's Standard: "We print, this morning, a number of political speeches, for no better reason, we confess, than the fact that they were delivered last night. If they do nothing else, they will serve to illustrate the depressing influence of a prolonged canvass on the minds of public men." No new issue has arisen. All are waiting upon Gladstone, appealing to him to win back the liberal churchmen by a declaration that he will have nothing to do with disestablishment.

CABLE GOSSIP.

The Inventors' Exhibition closes Monday, after a successful year. The chief result has been to accustom the English people to Continental out-door life, as there is much mystery attending its employment. There are enormous profits from these great shows.

Oxford students have forwarded a petition to Mathew Arnold asking him to come forward for the Chair of Poetry. The chief candidate, F. T. Palgrave, offered to withdraw. Arnold's reply, stating that it is best that younger men should be tried, gives much disappointment.

I have just seen Lieutenant Greely, who has kept himself secluded here. He says his health is much improved. He leaves to-day for Dalmeny, Lord Roseberry's estate in Scotland, and will be Roseberry's guest until the 19th, when he delivers an address before the Scotch Geographical Society. Gladstone will be staying with Roseberry at the same time.

A life of Sheridan by Percy Fitzgerald, a life of Hood, by Alfred Ainger, and a book called "From Korti to Khartoum," by Sir Charles Wilson, describing the voyage up the Nile in the fruitless effort to relieve Gordon, are published by Blackwood.

Unwin's Annual will make its first appearance this month. It is called "The Broken Shaft," and will contain tales "in midsocean," supposed to be told by English-American passengers on board the Bavaria while the shaft was broken, and will also contain stories by Marion Crawford, R. L. Stevenson, F. Austey, Walter Pollock, the editor of the Saturday Review, William Wicher, Tighe Hopkins and others.

Stewart Cumberland's novel, "The Rabbi's Spell," containing a murder and second sight Nihilism, appears printed in blue ink on green paper. The Saturday Review has an article called the Poetical Worksof Eliza Armstrong.

England.

JUSTICE LOPEZ' CHARGE.

LONDON, November 7.—The trial of Mr. Stead and the other defendants in the Armstrong abduction case was resumed to-day before Justice Lopez. The Judge, in his charge to the jury, urged that they bring in a verdict according to the law, and not to allow their personal sympathies to influence their decision. Mr. Stead, Justice Lopez said, filled the Pall Mall Gazette with filthy, disgusting articles of an obscene nature, the publication of which was not connected with the present charge. The only material question for the jury to decide was "whether the child, Eliza Armstrong, was taken away from her home against her father's will." They were also to determine whether the mother sold the child to the prisoners, as alleged by the defense.

THE JURY RETIRE.

The jury retired at 3:40 p. m. The foreman asked the judge before the jury left their seats to allow them to distinguish between Mrs. Jarrett and Mr. Stead, as to their criminal liability, in case the jury concluded that Mrs. Jarrett had disobeyed the instructions of Mr. Stead.

STEAD AND MRS. JARRETT CONVICTED.

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty against Stead and Rebecca Jarrett, and acquitted Booth and Jacques.

THE VERDICT.

The jury returned to the court room at 6:40 o'clock with their verdict. They agreed that Stead and Mrs. Jarrett took Eliza Armstrong from home against her father's will, but could not agree as to whether Mrs. Jarrett obtained the child by false pretense. They also agreed that the mother did not sell her child, as alleged by the defense, and that Mr. Booth and Mr. Jacques were not parties to the abduction. The Judge deferred passing sentence on the convicted prisoners until after the trial of the indictment for indecent assault against Stead, Jacques, Jarrett and Mouray.

ADMITTED TO BAIL.

The prisoners were all admitted to bail to appear on Tuesday next. The jury allowed that Mr. Stead had been misled, and they urged that the laws for the protection of women and children should be better enforced.

The Dominion.

RIEL SURE TO HANG.

ST. PAUL, MINN., November 7.—A Winnipeg special says: A sensation has been caused here by the discovery that two members of a medicacl commission appointed by the Government to inquire as to Riel's alleged insanity passed through here Thursday en route to Regina, to hold an investigation. The Government has been acting with the greatest secrecy in the matter, but the fact has leaked out. The commission consists of Dr. Jakes, surgeon to the Northwest Mounted Police, and an Ontario and a Quebec physician. The Ontario doctor is an Englishman and the Quebec doctor a Frenchman. Dr. Jakes, the third man is an Englishman, and gave expert testimony during Riel's trial, holding that he was perfectly sane. It is generally believed that the Government made the appointment merely as a blind and to appease a certain French faction. The intention is, as the commission began its labors to-day, to have it report to the Government by telegram so, that if the report is that the prisoner was responsible for his deeds, the execution may take place next Tuesday, as agreed upon. It is stated here, upon capital authority, that the Government, knowing that the commission would report adversely to the prisoner, has sent up instructions to the authorities at Regina to hang Riel on the tenth, and the execution papers went through on the same train as the commission.

DECREASE OF SMALL-POX.

MONTREAL, November 7.—There were only forty-nine new cases of small-pox reported and twenty cases verified yesterday, the smallest number for many weeks.

THE SMALL-POX.

Returns at the Health office to-day show twenty-three deaths yesterday from small-pox in the city and fifteen in the suburbs.

FACETIOUS ORANGEMEN.

OTTAWA, ONT., November 7.—James Clarke, the District Orange Master, in an address to a meeting of Orangemen said, referring to the rebellion and the case of Riel, that the proposal to appoint an insanity commission was wrong, and that if it was adopted by the Government as soon as Parliament opened a commission should be made to examine the members of the Cabinet in order to ascertain whether or not they were insane.

France.

M. BRISSON'S MINISTERIAL DECLARATION.

PARIS, November 7.—M. Brisson has submitted to his colleagues a portion of a ministerial declaration referring to the religious question. It affirms the Government's desire for a strict application of the concordat, but makes no allusion to a separation of church and state.

Austria.

BARON EYBERFELD TO RESIGN.

VIENNA, November 7.—Baron Eyberfeld is about to resign as Minister of Education. He will be succeeded by Councillor Frankenthuo.

Russia.

THIS YEAR'S HARVEST.

LONDON, November 7.—The Russian harvest of 1885 is above the average for winter wheat, but below for spring wheat. The deficiency in spring wheat is due to drought. Rye is slightly above the average. The oat crop is bad. Other cereals are below the average. The total wheat production is 86,000,000 quarters, which is 20 per cent under the average.

South America.

THE MOUNTAIN CHIEF NOT CAPTURED.

LIMA, November 7, VIA GALVESTON.—The announcement of the capture of Romero F. Flores proves false, as he has appeared with a small band of mountaineers in the Province of Pallason.

Ireland.

GROUNDED IN CORK HARBOR.

CORK, November 7.—The Danish steamer Constantine, chartered by the cattle dealers who are boycotting the Cork Steam Packing Company, while proceeding to Liverpool with the cargo of cattle, grounded in Cork harbor. She was subsequently floated without injury to the vessel or cargo. The cattle dealers openly charge the Loyalists with bribing the pilot of the Constantine to wilfully ground the vessel.

BELLEVILLE.

Strike at the Pump and Skein Works—News and Notes.

The molders at the Pump and Skein Works have entered on a strike because the managers refused to accede to the three following requests which were made in writing a few days ago: First—That the molders be furnished with the piece price of all work made by them. Second—That the discount on defective work be furnished to the employes so that they may know for what their work was discounted. Third—That the molders have a voice in setting the piece price of the work they are required to make. The trouble has been brewing for some time, and at a recent meeting the above resolutions were drawn up, with the understanding that if the managers did not accede to what was demanded a strike would be at once inaugurated. The men claim that they are paid less than workmen of their class in St. Louis.

The Schuetzengelde will give the closing shooting tournament of the season to-morrow at the Fair Grounds. Clubs from St. Louis and Highland will participate.

John Rickert, convicted of forgery in this city in 1881, and sent to the Penitentiary for eight years, has had his sentence commuted and will be released on December 23.

The subject of to-morrow morning's sermon at the Baptist Church will be "Our Young Men and What Shall We Do for Them."

The jury in the case of Samuel Frazer against the East St. Louis and Carondelet Railway, brought in a verdict last evening in favor of the plaintiff for $2,500. Mr. Frazer had a leg so badly crushed on that road some years ago that he has been obliged to use crutches ever since.

Isaac Gruber, an eccentric character well known throughout the county, died at the County Farm last evening at the advanced age of 70 years.

Edward Beyer, who was adjudged insane yesterday and sent to the County Farm, escaped from that institution last night and has not since been captured.

KELLY'S TRIUMPH.

The Dual Classification Question Decided in Favor of St. Louis.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

CHICAGO, November 7.—The General Managers' resolution on the dual classification question makes 3½ cents difference on sugar, syrup, coffee, canned goods and other staple groceries, and 20 per cent on other articles. "All things considered," said Secretary Kelly of the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange Transportation Committee after the meeting, "this is a victory, although not a complete one. Three Chicago roads were pledged to make no changes. Had not the St. Louis roads made a hard fight nothing would have been accomplished. The action of the General Managers will simplify our future work for an equitable adjustment of the entire matter. The St. Louis delegates are amply pleased."

A Snow Blockade.

OMAHA, NEB., November 7.—Dispatches received at the Union Pacific headquarters state that a heavy snow storm is prevailing along the line and coming eastward. At Laramie and Cheyenne snow was falling all day yesterday and drifting badly on Laramie Hill, so that a blockade was feared. There is heavy snow also at Denver Junction. At Ogallalla, Neb., fourteen inches fell and drifted. One freight train was blocked in a cut west of Ogallalla. Snow was still falling at last accounts. At North Platte four inches have fallen and the storm is still in progress. The temperature north of Platte is 30°.

Rolling Stock Transferred.

BUFFALO, N. Y., November 7.—Judge Lewis, in the Supreme Court, this morning, directed Receiver Chapman, of the Lackawanna and Pittsburg Railroad, to deliver the whole of the rolling stock to the Central Trust Company of New York within thirty days, and to furnish a schedule of rentals.

A Heavy Assignment.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., November 7.—Thomas U. Thompson, whose planing mill and box factory was burned recently, has made an assignment. His liabilities are over $50,000, and assets under $20,000. The creditors are principally lumbermen of the city.

Heavy Snow Storm.

BRAINERD, MINN., November 7.—A heavy snow storm set in here last evening and has been raging furiously for several hours, with a prospect of continuing. A fall to at least twelve inches is looked for.

Great Damage at Alta, Ill.

PEORIA, ILL., November 7.—A terrific storm struck Alta, this county, about 6 o'clock last night, doing great damage. Barns were demolished, houses unroofed, etc. So far as learned no one was injured.

A Terrible Northeaster.

DULUTH, MINN., November 7.—A terrible northeast storm, with rain and snow, is now raging, stopping all work around the docks.

DUPED DAKOTANS.

A Farcical Election Held by the Republicans of the Territory.

The Civil Service Commission in Full Accord With the Administration—Ex-Justice Vincent and His Vindication—The St. Louis Postmastership—President Cleveland's Proclamation Regarding the Washington Territory Troubles.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—Judge Church, newly appointed to a Dakota Judgeship, left for his post of duty this morning. He has twenty court clerkships at his disposal and will no doubt be hailed with joyous acclamations by Dakota youths who covet offices such as he has to give.

A MOCK ELECTION.

Delegate Gifford from Dakota and some of his friends from the Territory, have little to talk about outside of the mock election had throughout Dakota, Tuesday. The Republicans, some time ago, drafted a constitution for the prospective State of Dakota, and nominated an entire State ticket. The election resulted in the adoption of the constitution, the carrying of the prohibition act, and by the popular vote it was decided to locate the capitol of South Dakota at Huron. The Republicans, it is said, had the whole thing to themselves, the Democrats declining to vote. Three-fifths of the vote of South Dakota was called out, however. Of the votes cast seven-eighths were in favor of the measures at issue. The election is without binding force and would appear in a degree farcical.

Ordered to Disperse.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—The President has issued a proclamation commanding all persons at Seattle and other places in Washington Territory, who have assembled for unlawful purposes, to desist therefrom and to disperse, and to retire peaceably to their homes, on or before 12 o'clock m., to-morrow, the 8th.

THE PROCLAMATION.

The following is the proclamation: "By the President of the United States of America, a proclamation: Whereas, it is represented to me, by the Governor of the Territory of Washington, that domestic violence exists within the said Territory, and that, by reason of unlawful obstructions and combinations and the assemblage of evil-disposed persons, it has become impracticable to enforce, by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings, the laws of the United States at Seattle and at other points and places within said territory, whereby life and property are there threatened and endangered; and, whereas, the Legislature of said territory cannot be convened, and in the judgment of the President an emergency has arisen and a case is now presented which justifies and requires, under the Constitution and laws of the United States, the employment of military force to suppress domestic violence and enforce the faithful execution of the laws of the United States if the command and warnings of this proclamation be disobeyed. Now, therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States of America, do hereby command and warn all insurgents and all persons who have assembled at any point within the said territory of Washington for the unlawful purposes aforesaid, to desist therefrom, and to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes on or before 12 o'clock on the 8th day day of November, instant, and I do admonish all good citizens of the United States and all persons within the limits and jurisdiction thereof, against aiding, abetting, countenancing or taking any part in any such unlawful acts or assemblages.

In witness whereof, I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and eighty-five, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and tenth. GROVER CLEVELAND.

By the President,
T. F. BAYARD,
Secretary of State.

The Civil Service Commission.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, November 7.—The personnel of the Board of Civil Service Commissioners has been changed so as to cause the political faith of the majority of its members to coincide with that of the Administration, and this action of the President has received the approval not only of the Democrats, but of honest Republicans as well. The various Boards of Civil Service Examiners, however, remain as constituted under the Republican regime, when they were made to consist in the greater part of persons given up entirely to Republican principles. Especially is this the case in reference to the Board of Departmental Examiners in this city, which, in its constitution, is supposed to consist of thirteen members. Of all these only one, the representative of the Navy Department, was a Democrat, and he was appointed without being questioned as to his politics, but merely on the strength of his ability, although there have been changes in the personnel of the board. Its Republican complexion has been maintained, and now continues. It is not charged that there has been any discrimination made by the board in favor of persons belonging to their particular party, because under the system of calling the candidates for appointment by number instead of by name, any partiality was almost impossible. But it is claimed that at least a majority of the members should be in accord with the politics of the Administration. The duty of the board was to examine and pass upon the papers of the candidates who had been examined for appointment in the departments from any of the States or Territories. If, in their opinion, the papers did not rank high enough, they were authorized to inform the writer that he had failed to pass. In case of any question arising which they did not feel authorized to answer, it was referred to Mr. Lyman, the chief examiner, who is also a Republican.

Vincent's Vindication.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—Ex-Judge Vincent of New Mexico, left Washington yesterday afternoon for Springfield, Ill., where he will be married to Miss Mary Ridgely on the 17th inst. Before leaving this city he addressed a long communication to the President, which he says is a complete vindication of his conduct while Chief Justice of the Territory. Courtesy to his superiors, he says, forbade his making known the contents of his communication. He said he has been assured that the only charge preferred against him, and which caused his removal, was simply that he had appointed Dorsey as a Jury Commissioner or had had anything to do with him. As to the probable result of his communication to the President, Mr. Vincent would say nothing, beyond the statement that his communication would vindicate him.

The St. Louis Postmastership.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—Saturdays the President usually devotes to the consideration of post office matters, and the Postmaster-General makes a day of it at the White House. It was understood that the St. Louis Postmastership would be considered at the conference to-day, inasmuch as all the papers in the case were taken up to the White House by Mr. Vilas this morning. Senator Vest had a long talk with the President and Postmaster-General a few days ago at which he was told that the matter was now in a fair way for being disposed of, but he was not enlightened as to the outcome. Up to a late hour this afternoon nothing definite could be learned from the White House conference, but the general drift of opinion is favorable to Mr. Hyde's chances.

Maguire's Bad Break.

Thomas Maguire, a pipeman of Engine No. 9, resigned under charges this morning. Chief Lindsay immediately accepted the resignation and appointed John Farris, a new man, to the vacancy. The charges against Maguire were preferred by Chief Lindsay, himself, at the instigation of Mr. Christian Peper of the Broadway car line. It seems that Maguire, while under a five days' suspension for neglect of duty, misbehaved himself on a Broadway car. This was considered too much at one time by time by the Chief, and the result was as stated above.

Appointments by the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—The President made the following appointments: James A. Bayard of Maryland, to be Secretary of Arizona; James C. Straughan of Indiana, to be Surveyor-General of Idaho; James Dawson of Colorado, to be Surveyor-General of Colorado; John Hise of Arizona, to be Surveyor-General of Arizona.

New Custom Officers.

The President to-day appointed Geo. Frank Bayless to be Surveyor of Customs of Port Jefferson, N. Y.; Edward R. Pierce to be Appraiser of Merchandise in the District of Portland, at Falmouth, Me.; R. G. Goodman to be Assistant Appraiser of Merchandise in the District of Portland and Falmouth, Me.; Robert Thompson, to be Appraiser of Merchandise in the District of San Francisco; Christian Reis, to be Assistant Appraiser of Merchandise in the District of San Francisco.

Publication of War Records.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—Colonel Scott, in charge of the publication office of war records, has reported to the Secretary of War the progress made in the publication of the official records of the Rebellion since October 14, 1884, the date of his last annual report. In addition to the matter already published, seven volumes are now in the hands of the printer.

Dakota's Admission.

NEW YORK, November 7.—A Washington special says: "Dakota men profess to know that it is the intention of the President to recommend the admission of Dakota as a State, but that he is inclined to think that the territory is large enough for two States. He requested Delegate Gifford of that Territory to come here to confer upon this subject. Secretary Lamar is considering the question, and the President will probably adopt Mr. Lamar's conclusions.

COMMERCIAL CHAT.

The Military Situation—The Grocer's Triumph—Exchange Notes.

The shutting down of the mills was the chief topic of conversation in the wheat and flour corners to-day. It is not believed that the closing down has been ordered by the local association, but is by tacit understanding. Millers have been only too anxious to shut down for six months past, but have been afraid to do so without united action. It is probable that this stoppage will last until the new year.

* * *

The statement that the objects of the local association are to take from the hands of brokers the Southern trade is absurd. The local association was formed to give the millers an opportunity to cope with the elevator interest, which is united, and the influence in the speculative pit, which is easy of combination. The Southern trade is the most unsatisfactory trade that millers have. There are more claims for damages from the South, more drafts sent back and more trouble generally than with the trade of any other part of the country.

* * *

The New York stock market opened stronger this morning, but weakened and closed about the same as yesterday. L. G. McNair's correspondent telegraphed at the opening:

The slump at the close was on rumor that the Baltimore and Ohio had refused to sign the agreement. The fact is that all the roads signed, and the Western connections will follow. Some disappointment has been caused by the Baltimore and Ohio matter apparently not included. The Baltimore and Ohio people says there will be no trouble. The St. Paul party continue confident and advise buying for par. There is a fight in Western Union and would rather bet on lower prices. Think Gould is that way, and that the fight between the telegraph companies may be worse soon. Union Pacific looks as well as anything. It is possible that the stock is bulled for its effect on telegraph. Think the Villards will work lower. Orders to buy Oregon Transcontinental are around. Good selling of Jersey Central and traders think the Morgan pool is selling, Lake Shore. I hear Lake Shore is earning at the rate of only 1 or 2 per cent on the stock. Woerishoffer is reported again quite bearish.

* * *

The wholesale grocers remained in Chicago to-day fighting against the St. Joseph and Kansas City interests for the abolishment of the dual classification. At 2 o'clock this afternoon Mr. W. A. Scudder received a telegram from W. E. Schweppe, secretary of the Wholesale Grocers' Association, containing the one word, "Victory." As the grocers had said they would not be satisfied with half-way measures, this indicates something substantial. The grocers will return to-night.

* * *

The board of trustees of the Merchants' Exchange Benevolent Society met at 10 o'clock this afternoon and admitted a few members. No other business was transacted.

A New York telegram concerning the trunk line meeting this morning, said: "The Baltimore and Ohio entrance into New York has been settled by agreeing to give the Pennsylvania a percentage. The Pennsylvania will then take care of the Baltimore and Ohio. Good people are advising sales on the theory that the good news has come out, and stocks will now be sold fast. It is claimed that it is too near the assembling of Congress to start another big lift."

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD.

Arrest of John S. Overton, the Newsdealer, on a Serious Charge.

Late this afternoon an indictment was found by the United States Grand Jury against John S Overton, proprietor of the Southern Hotel new stand, charging him with conspiracy to defraud the Government. Overton is charged with complicity in the fraudulent deeds of John E. Quinn, ex-Postmaster of Paragould, Ark., who was also indicted to-day, and whose case is referred to in another column. The frauds in which Overton is declared to be involved consist in the presenting of forged money orders at the St. Louis Post Office signed by Quinn and made out to a fictitious person. Overton's complicity lay in his identification of Quinn as the fictitious person by means of whom he was enabled to collect the orders. Several orders were collected by Quinn under the name of Henry Watson, through Overton, amounting to several hundred dollars. Another charge of defrauding the Government by buying postage stamps of Quinn at reduced rates, the stamps being stolen by the latter, is pending against Overton. A warrant was issued for Overton's arrest, and a deputy marshal was sent to secure him. Overton is a retired actor, and has been in charge of the news stand at the Southern for several years past. He is a middle-aged man without family.

Foundry Burned.

PITTSBURG, November 7.—A Steubenville, Ohio, Chronicle-Telegraph special says: Fire at an early hour this morning entirely destroyed Sharp & Son's stove foundry and two stables adjoining. One horse was cremated. Loss, $21,000; insurance, $15,000.

A Negro's Idea of Secession.

From the Savannah News.

General Toombs is credited with relating this story: "When we were all down at Milledgeville passing the ordinance of secession the excitement was most intense, and when the ordinance finally passed the people had a big impromptu jubilee, lasting late into the night. Some of the members grew hungry at last and went to the hotel to get supper, but found that the cook was later than usual in getting it ready. They took occasion to 'damn him' for the delay, when the sable humorist coolly remarked: 'Well, gemmen, you all said dat you all was gwine outer de United States 'fore 3 o'clock dis ebenen' an' darfo' I thought that mebbe you all ud be purty late a-gittin' back. Dat's de reason I warn't in no great hurry!' And with one consent the crowd excused him."

One of the new cloths for tailor-made dresses and coats is called "Irish blarney," which ought to have a fine run among the "belles of the kitchen." Wait until it is Mary Ann's Sunday out.

"Camping-out malaria" is a new and fashionable disease contracted by young people who "roughed it" last summer. Physicians say the only cure for it is sarcasm and ridicule in large doses.

Copper-plate writing-book handwriting is crowding the spider-leg style all the while and people now are silly enough to say there is more "character' in the latter than in the former.

One of the Boston papers has shocked, if not horrified, its readers by stating that "low-neck dresses will be dropped at the opera this season." A great many old ladies feared last winter it would come to this.

ARTICLES of incorporation of the Missouri Gas Generating Company were recorded this afternoon; capital stock $9,000, all paid; shares held by Albert W. Ayton, John W. Kelley, George McGann and Mary Healy. The company will manufacture the Globe Gas Generator.

SARAH WALTON, colored, 16 years of age, has been missing from her home, 2514 N. Broadway, since October 15, and a reward is offered for her recovery.

THE BARRACKS MURDER.

Two White Soldiers Shot by a Young Colored Recruit.

One Man Will Die and the Other May Recover—The Murderer Captured—A Result of Pay-Day, Liquor and Dice—Another Shooting This Morning, in Which a Military Convict Drops in His Tracks—Story of the Two Affairs.

A lightly-built, smooth-faced young negro sat in a two-seated wagon in front of Colonel Mizner's headquarters at Jefferson Barracks about 10 o'clock this morning. He wore the uniform of a private soldier and the brass letters of his company and regiment above the peak of his cap shone in the morning sun over a face as black as coal, but bloodless and terrified in expression. The sleeves of his blouse failed to conceal a pair of heavy handcuffs, the color of which was hardly distinguishable from his black skin. Three police officers from the Carondelet station sat in the wagon with him, while another, a sergeant, conversed in low tones with a United States officer, the principal feature of whose get-up was a heavy cavalry sword. A POST-DISPATCH reporter who had been dispatched to the barracks to secure the particulars of the murder that occurred there at midnight climbed up on the wheel of the wagon and said to the negro:

"Mose, what did you kill those men for?"

The darkey's teeth chattered as he replied: "I don't know, sir."

"Did you have anything against them?"

"No, sir."

"Well, were you drunk?"

"I don't 'member nothin' about it."

"You're sure you didn't have a grudge against them?"

"Yes, sir. I was crazy. I didn't know what I was doing."

Then three cavalrymen dashed up on horses, the sergeant mounted to the seat on which the darkey was shivering, and, clasping hands behind the negro with the officer on the other side of him, gave the order to drive off. The wagon started briskly down the road, while the three cavalrymen, their holsters bulging out, followed after.

COL. MIZNER,

who was found in his office, said that a shooting had taken place at midnight at the post trader's store, and two men were injured. The darkey who had just been seen in the wagon was the man who did the shooting. He was now in the hands of the civil authorities, having been captured by the police. As to the shooting, it was one of the most unprovoked cases he had ever heard of. The two white men were playing pool or billiards, or something at the post trader's, when the colored man came in and, without a word from either, shot them. That was all there was to it.

Colonel Mizner did not appear to want to give up the news willingly. He said he didn't want anything sensational; that the discipline of the post was good and that the shooting was the freak of a man who was out of his head. In reply to a request for more definite particulars, the Colonel took up the official notification of the shooting and said, "This is all I know about it. All the men concerned are recruits. The man who did the shooting is Moses Johnson of the Colored Detachment Mounted Service. The men who are shot are Albert F. Otto and John Dowling of Company A, District on Mounted Service. Johnson escaped after the shooting, which took place at 11:30 last night, and four mounted parties were sent in pursuit. The Chief of Police was telegraphed, and this resulted in the arrest of Johnson at Carondelet at 12:45 a. m., by Officer John Scanlon. These are all the facts I have. If you want to obtain a description of the wounded men, you can see Dr. Carson at the Hospital, that long building over there at the crest of the hill."

The victims of Johnson's frenzy were found in a long ward at the hospital. One of them, Dowling, had lost no color, and his eyes were bright and steady. Dr. Carson pulled down the blanket to show the man's wounds. They were three; two in the buttock, where a ball passed through, and one in the right side. The first were flesh wounds; the latter an unimportant one. The man was in no danger whatever. The other poor fellow, Otto, lay, with a bandage around his head, pale and bloodless, taking short, heavy breaths. "He can't last long," said the doctor. "He is going now." Otto is just 21 years of age, and investigation at the Sergeant-Major's office showed that he was a German-American from Buffalo, N. Y. Dowling is a red-cheeked young Irishman, not long out from his native County, Kerry, and his place of enlistment was New York City.

The story of the shooting, as told by the soldiers who were interviewed, was given with different facts by each man. Said one: "The white men ain't got the best of feeling for these niggers, nohow, and if that escort hadn't been sent along with the police this morning, I'll bet they'd have taken that fellow away from the policemen

AND HUNG HIM.

There was'nt no reason in the world for this shootin', except that one side was white and the other black."

"Is there so much feeling between the black and whites here?"

"Well, you heard what I told you. If the whites could get at that darkey, he wouldn't live half an hour."

Another soldier said: "Mose Johnson was the banker at a game of clutch-a-luck at the post-traders, and Otto and Dowling were playing against him. These two won a bet against the bank and claimed it. Johnson refused to pay. Then they made a big kick, and, the first they knew, off went Johnson's gun and out flew Johnson. Now that is all there's to it."

The post-trader's store is a long, low building just outside of the square of houses which forms the headquarters of the soldiers. It is of frame and has three apartments. The first is a grocery store and the second and third are rough barrooms filled with card tables. Thursday was pay-day, and the soldiers received two months' wages. It was not a "settlement day," the day on which the soldiers pay for their clothes and other expenses, so that each man had for himself his entire wages. The most vicious of the soldiers go on a pree after receiving their wages and the greater part of their money goes to the post trader. Last night the two bar-rooms were filled with men. Three barkeepers were kept busy waiting on the crowd. The room was noisy with drunken talk, ribald songs and laughter. The dim light of a couple of swinging lamps in each room fell on this crowd, the greater part of which, unable to find seats, stood in groups. Suddenly all were startled by the sound of three shots fired in quick succession. The uproar that followed was hideous. Men climbed over the bar and crept under the tables. Some flew out of the doors, and others ran into corners. To add to the confusion, some of the lights were put out, and the doors became blockaded with a clogged mass of humanity. After the first fright it was found that two men had been shot by a negro who had made good his escape. The men, bleeding like slaughtered pigs, lay in their blood on the floor. The whole barracks was aroused with the commotion, the officers took charge and the revelers were sent to their quarters. Then pursuing parties were formed and sent out, and the police of this city were notified by telegraph. The wounded men were taken to the hospital. One was unconscious and the other almost scared to death. Inquiry as to the cause of the shooting was fruitless. No one appeared to know. All who were in the rooms at the time were so drunk that they were unable to tell what was going on, and Dowling, the conscious one of the two who were shot, said he had never more than spoken to the man who selected him for a mark for his revolver practice.

THE MURDERER'S STATEMENT.

Johnson, when visited later in the day at the Carondelet Police Station by a POST-DISPATCH reporter, gave the following: "I am 23 years of age and was born and raised in Mercy County, Ky. I enlisted at Cincinnati last August, and was sent out here. Last night about 9:30 o'clock I went to the sutler's store and drank from eight to ten glasses of beer. We received our monthly wages last Tuesday. I saw several parties playing chuck-a-luck and I wanted to play and put down a dime when some one of the white fellows that were sitting around the table grabbed it. I was pretty drunk at the time and I hardly knew what I was doing, but I remember distinctly laying the dime on the table and seeing it disappear. I pulled out my pistol and told the fellows that I wanted my money back, but they seemed not to mind me, I fired twice, as I thought, in the air. I wanted to step back but slipped and fell forward, when accidentally I fired again. I then went out and over to my quarters. Finding all the lights turned out I thought I would go up town. When I reached Carondelet I was arrested by an officer. That is all I know and can think of now, as I was drunk at the time."

SERGEANT SUPRENENT

of Company A, who was an eye witness to the shooting, said: "Dowling, Otto and myself were sitting at a table playing 'chuckaluck' when two negro soldiers came in, and one said, 'Let me play.' We didn't object and so we began to bet. He laid down a dime saying he would bet on a 'five' and a 'six.' Dowling objected to this, and when about to explain, the colored fellow let fly a blow which Dowling dodged. I then grabbed Dowling and told the fellow to get out, that if he did not I would put him in the guard-house. This seemed to frighten him and he left. I was still holding Dowling when the other negro Johnson pulled out a pistol and fired at us. I thought he was fooling, and was using a blank cartridge. He fired again. Otto, who was still sitting at the table got up, and, looking around to see who was doing the shooting, received a ball in his head below the ear, and fell to the ground. I then dropped Dowling, who also fell. Seeing that the fellow fired to kill I gave chase to him."

A warrant was sworn out against Johnson this morning by Sergt. Suprenet of Co. A, charging him with killing Otto and seriously wounding Dowling.

Another Dying Man.

Another dying man was seen in the Barracks Hospital this morning. He was a colored soldier named John H. McLean, and he was suffering from the effects of a gun-shot wound in the region of the base of the spine. McLean was a military convict and was confined in the prison at the Barracks awaiting transfer to the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, where he was to serve out a three years' sentence for desertion. This morning, just after reveille, he, with several other prisoners, was taken from the prison to the wash-house, preparatory for breakfast. As he was being transferred from one building to the other and just as he had reached the door of the wash-house, McLean turned and ran for dear life across the common towards the woods. He had scarcely got a hundred yards away when bang went the sentry's rifle and down fell Mr. McLean with a big hole in his back. The groans of the wounded man were frightful to hear. He had worked himself into an intensely nervous state over his intended attempt to escape, and when the bullet stopped him he became hysterical. The fright he received, together with the pain of the shot, caused him to yell pitifully and those who heard him thought he was in the agonies of death. It seems that he, with three other prisoners, broke their shackles yesterday in accordance with a plan made a few days ago to escape this morning. The escape, they thought, could be managed nicely, as the sentries would be sure to be drunk after pay-day, and unable to catch them. McLean, when the time came, was the only man who had sufficient nerve to make the effort, but he had miscalculated as to the mental activity of the sentinel, and fell in his tracks at the discharge of the latter's rifle. Dr. Carson said the wound was a very dangerous one, and he did not think the man would live.

Help in plenty may be had
By inserting here an ad.

WHISTLING AND WHISTLERS.

Why Men and Women Whistle—A Preventive of Profanity.

From the Denver Tribune.

It is an accomplishment which proves very useful in a variety of emergencies. Many a young man going home from seeing his girl and plodding over a lonely country road would have been scared to death only that he had whistled up his courage; otherwise he would have been looking about for ghosts and highwaymen and got frightened by the sound of every falling leaf or perambulating cat. The whistle prevents him from hearing mysterious sounds and his attentions being taken up with trying to follow the tune and work his eyebrows in unison, will have no time to look about for what might be lying in wait for him. And before he knows it, he will arrive at the paternal domicile and have to study about getting into the house without awakening his father.

Many a man and a great many more ladies have been prevented from committing the sin of profanity because they whistled when they pounded their forefinger instead of the tack with which they were attempting to fasten the carpet toward the evening of a spring-cleaning day.

Men whistle when they are happy and they whistle when they are sad. When you see a carpenter or a house painter pushing the plane or slabbing on the paint and whistling a lively air at the same time set him down as a man who pays his debts, is cheerful at home and never whips the children. When the latter task has to be performed his wife has to do it.

When a man is sad he whistles in a doleful tune. Nine times out of ten he won't choose a dismal air, but he will never whistle a lively tune, a hornpipe or a negro minstrel end song. And he will draw the melody in and out between his lips in a way to draw tears from all listeners. Sometimes a man accomplishes the same result when he is cheerful and trying to whistle real good.

When a man is studying some complex problem, wondering how he can live at a rate of $2,000 a year on a $500 income, or something of that sort, if he has not got something to smoke he will whistle. He will walk up and down the room or the back yard, or he will sit in a rocking chair and thrusting his hands as far as the elbows into his pants pockets and whistle—whistle softly.

When a man is suddenly surprised at a preposterous statement, if he is very profane he will say: "H—and d—nation!" If mildly profane he will say: "The d—l!" If not at all wicked he will whistle: "W-h-e-w!"

Girls cannot whistle as a rule. Now and then there is one who can, but she is an honorable exception to the rule. There is one pretty golden-haired creature in Denver who can whistle first rate, but the boys usually do not appreciate it, and they let her know it. But girls, as a rule, whistle in a jerky, disconnected sort of way and groan mildly between the notes.

There used to be a pious old deacon of the Baptist church who was continually whistling, although nobody was ever known to hear him. He was a fat, happy-looking old gentleman, and he used to walk with a slow, rolling gate, which, in a shorter man and one of quicker movements, would have degenerated into a waddle. He always walked with his hands behind him and his lips pursed into the aditude of a perpetual whistle. Thus he would roll along the quiet streets of the town where he passed his peaceful life, ever with the whistle just about to emerge from his lips, but still it never escaped. When he was very young, his schoolmates, his sweetheart and later his wife, and the brethen and sisters in the church, his neighbors, children and grandchildren, at the early stages of their acquaintance with him, waited for the time, but all were disappointed and he died and made no sound. Doubtless there was a tune in his mind of so rollicking and worldly a character that his position in the church would not allow him to let it go forth to set a bad example to the young. And so he heroically restrained the earthly desire and went down to his grave with the pucker upon his lips and the world none the worse for his having whistled all to himself.

Business Cards in personal col.
Cost, each line, a quarter dol.

THE SCHOOLMARM.

I met her by the salt sea wave,
A maiden who, both gay and grave,
Could flirt or talk on science;
She smiled on me as doth a flower
Upon a bee who to her bower
Comes bent on an alliance.

She painted roses and blue sky,
She sketched some cat-tails and a fly,
She sang a high soprano;
She gathered grasses by the brook,
She fished within a shady nook,
She played on the piano.

"I'll flirt with her to while away
This pleasant prosy time of play,
This idle summer weather."
I said, and sought the maiden's side;
And through the fields we wandered wide;
We sang and rowed together.

And then, forgetting wisdom's part,
I asked the maiden for her heart,
With gentle condescension.
She said, with a superior glance
That pierced my bosom with the lance
Of sudden comprehension.

"I'm sorry if I cause you pain,
But really, sir, you ask in vain,
And I must soon forget you;
For, though you may not be aware,
I promised Mr. Millionaire
Before I ever met you."

I left next morn those rural ways,
These sweet and quiet country days,
Where rocks the waters dash on,
Her eyes had lost their love-look by,
And I resolved no more to hie
Where the schoolmarms are the fashion.
—Ha er's Bazar.

Boarders with ten cent in cash,
Advertise for a hange of hash.

at a pistol and fired at us. I olling, and was using a blank fired again. Otto, still sitting at the looking around to see who was received a ball in his head befell to the ground. I then dropped to fall. Seeing that the fellow fired to him."
sworn out against Johnson this Supreme of Co. A, charging Otto and seriously wounding other Dying Man.

man was seen in the Barracks
ning. He was a colored soldier McLean, and he was suffering from gun-shot wound in the region of pine. McLean was a military con-confined in the prison at awaiting transfer to the at Fort Leavenworth, where he a three years' sentence for deserjust after reveille he, with soners, was taken from the prison preparatory for breakfast. As sferred from one building to the reached the door of the Lean turned and ran for dear life mon towards the woods. He a hundred yards away when bang r de and down fell Mr. McLean his back. The groans of the were frightful to hear. He had into an intensely nervous state over mpt to escape, and when the bul-him he became hysterical.
received, together with the caused him to yell pitifully and him thought he was in the agonies ns that he, with three other their shackles yesterday in ac-plan made a few days ago to morning. The escape, they managed nicely, as the be sure to be drunk aft-unable to catch them.
time came, was the only man nerve to make the effort, but he d as to the mental activ ty of the his tracks at the discharge of Dr. Carson said the wound was a one, and he did not think the man plenty may be had by inserting here an ad.

ING AND WHISTLERS.

and Women Whistle—A entive of Profanity.

Tribune.

complishment which proves very iety of emergencies. Many a young me from seeing his girl and plodonely country road would have o death only that he had whistled e; otherwise he would have been t for ghosts and highwaymen and d by the sound of every falling bulating cat. The whistle pre-om hearing mysterious sounds and being taken up with trying to ne and work his eyebrows in uni-no time to look about for what ng in wait for him. And before he will arrive at the paternal domicile study about getting into the house kening his father.
man and a great many more ladies evented from committing the sin because they whistled when they ir forefinger instead of the tack they were attempting to fasten the d the evening of a spring-cleaning le when they are happy and they n they are sad. When you see a a house painter pushing the plane n the paint and whistling a lively n me set him down as a man who is cheerful at home and never ildren. When the latter task has ned his wife has to do it.

man is sad he whistles in a doleful times out of ten he won't choose a but he will never whistle a lively pipe or a negro minstrel end song.
draw the melody in and out bes in a way to draw tears from all Sometimes a man accomplishes the when he is cheerful and trying to good.
man is studying some complex probring how he can live at a rate of r on a $500 income, or something if he has not got something to ll whistle. He will walk up and em or the back yard, or he will sit chair and thrusting his hands elbows into his pants pockets and histle softly.
man is suddenly surprised at a pre-atement, if he is very profane he —and d—nation!" If mildly pro-say: "The d—l!" If not at all will whistle: "W-h-e-w!"
not whistle as a rule. Now and is one who can, but she is an honor-ion to the rule. There is one pretty reed creature in Denver who can t rate, but the boys usually do not t, and they let her know it. But rule, whistle in a jerky, discon-of way and groan madly between to be a pious old deacon of the urch who was continually whistling, obody was ever known to hear him.

fat, happy-looking old gentleman,
l to walk with a slow, rolling gate, shorter man and one of quicker
s, would have degenerated into a
He always walked with his hands bed his lips pursed into the aditude of l whistle. Thus he would roll along streets of the town where he passed l life, ever with the whistle just merge from his lips, but still it never
When he was very young, his schools sweetheart and later his wife, and en and sisters in the church, his people and grandchildren, at the early their acquaintance with him, waited him, but all were disappointed and he made no sound. Doubtless there was mind so rollicking and worldly er that his position in the church allow him to let it go forth to set a ple to the young. And so he heroically the earthly desire and went down to with the pucker upon his lips and none the worse for his having whistled self.

iness Cards in personal col.
Cost, each line, a quarter dol.

THE SCHOOLMARM.

r by the salt sea wave,
den who, both gay and grave,
d flirt or talk on science;
ed on me as doth a flower
a bee who to her bower bees bent on an alliance.

painted roses and blue sky, ketched some cat-tails and a fly,
sang a high soprano;
athered grasses by the brook,
ished with a shady nook, played on the piano.

flirt with her to while away pleasant, prosy time of play,
this idle summer weather;
d, and sought the maiden's side;
through the fields we wandered wide sang and rowed together.

then, forgetting wisdom's part,
the maiden for her heart,
n gentle condescension,
d, with a superior glance pierced my bosom with the lance sudden comprehension.

sorry if I cause you pain,
ply, sir, you ask in vain,
d I must soon forget you;
though you may not be aware,
ed Mr. Millionaire fore I ever met you."

I next more those rural ways,
e sweet and quiet country days, here rocks the waters dash o eyes had lost their love-looks shy,
I resolved no more to hie
where the schoolmarms are the fashion.
—Harper's Bazar.

Card ... ers with ten cents in cash.
Advertise for a ... change of ba...

HOW'S THIS?

Butchers' and Brewers' Boots by the 1,000, worth $5, for $2 50, for $2 50.
Men's Calf Custom-made Boots, worth $3 50, for $2.
Men's Kip Boots, worth $3, for $1 50.
Men's Seamless, Lace, Button or Congress, worth $3 50, for $2 00.
Men's Hand-Sewed Shoes, Lace, Button or Congress, worth $7, for $4.
Children's Shoes, sizes 8 to 10 1-2, Goat, spring heel or heeled and tipped, worth $1 25, for 75c.
Children's spring heel, sizes 3 to 7, Kid or Goat, worth $1, for 50c.
Infants' Shoes, worth 60c, for 25c.
Ladies' Hand-sewed Shoes, worth $5, for $3.
Ours is the only place that can give the Workingman a good, whole stock shoe for 75c.

ALL GOODS WARRANTED.

CALL AND CONVINCE YOURSELF AT

TORLINA & WEBER, Shoe Dep't.,

Globe Shoe and Clothing Co., 705-713 Franklin Av.

The Largest and Cheapest Shoe and Clothing House in the West. Look for Checkered Front and Big Globe.
Open every night until 9 o'clock, Saturdays 11 o'clock.

THE FLEUR-DE-LIS.

Some Points About the Lily and Its Prominent Place in History.

From the Quiver for November.

The lily, or fleur-de-lis, has long been regarded as the flower emblematic of France. From the time of the Merovingian dynasty it has been employed among signs of royalty. The great seals of Frederic Barbarossa, of Edward the Confessor and of other monarchs show the flour-de-lis either on the point of the sceptre or on the crown. Many noble families of France, Germany and Italy bear it on their signet. Louis VII, le Jeune, appears to have been the first King of France who placed it in his arms, and from that time it became the hereditary armorial bearing of the Capets. Innumerable fleur-de-lis covered the royal vestments and the oriflamme or banner. Phillippe III reduced the number to three to suit the triangular shape of his shield.

Guillim's "Display of Heraldry," folio edition, date 1724, is a quaint old book, reprinted and revised from former editions. He has something to remark on every flower used in heraldry, but not always anything that is interesting save to students of that particular science. Of the lily he has somewhat to say; the rose and the lily are the flowers most often borne in coats of arms. Guillim says: "Of all other the Fleur de Lis is ofmost esteem, having been from the first bearing the charge of a regal Escutcheon, originally borne by the Kings of France; though Tract of Time hath made the Bearing of them more vulgar; even as purple was in ancient Times a Wearing only for Princes, which now hath lost that Prerogative through Custom."

At the time of the first Restoration, that of Louis XVIII., in 1814, certain citizens of Paris were called Chevaliers du Lis and carried a small silver lily on a white ribbon, hanging from the buttonhole. This was not an order of knighthood, but a mark of fervent royalists. Every one holding any office under the restored monarchy was at first compelled to wear the lily, but when the early excitement wore off the sign of it disappeared, after an existence of only two years.

The name Susan or Shushan signifies in Hebrew, Lily.

In Longfellow's little poem called "Flower-de-Luce" he addresses the "beautiful lily," the "Iris, fair among the fairest," as "dwelling by still rivers," as "born to the purple," and as "winged with the celestial azure." It is also called asphodel; in his Lotus-eaters Tennyson says that the happy dead

"In Elysian valleys dwell, Rest weary limbs at last on beds of asphodel."

The D'Imecourt-Musurus Elopement.

From the London Daily News.

The marriage of Mlle. d'Imecourt, which has just taken place, has naturally recalled the memory of the famous trial which took place some four or five years ago before the Ecclesiastical Tribune at Rome. Mlle. d'Imecourt was then 19, and had formed a romantic runaway marriage with M. Paul Musurus, son of the Ambassador of Turkey in London. Aided by the co-operation of the young lady's governess, the young couple met in London and were there married in a register's office. They lived together for some weeks, but the young bride was induced to return to France by the false representations of a police agent employed by her mother, and on her arrival was shut up in a convent. The Comtesse d'Imecourt then appealed to the Ecclesiastical Tribune to declare the marriage null and void on the ground that M. Paul Musurus had practiced arts of sorcery upon her daughter. The pleadings were withheld from the public by order of the President of the Civil Tribunal out of deference to the Marquis de Gallifet, whose sister the Comtesse d'Imecourt is. But the enterprising editor of the Paris Figaro managed to get hold of the mother's petition, and from it gave copious extracts to a curious public. She declared her daughter to be of a disposition more than commonly susceptible to the spells of the magician, being subject to hallucinations, attacks of hysteria and fits of somnambulism. At the age of nineteen she was so childish in character that she played with dolls. Having thus portrayed her daughter's character in the light most favorable for her own purpose, the Comtesse next sketched that of her son-in-law malgre elle. He was not of noble birth or fortune, she pleaded, and was well aware that his religion, as a member of the Greek Church, would alone prove an insuperable obstacle to his union with her daughter, whom he had won from her home by the exercise of unhallowed spells.

The counter-pleadings of M. Paul Musurus contained copious extracts from the letters of the lady, who had a pretty gift of versifying. That Mdle. d'Imecourt was in love is very fully proved by her letters. She asks him to send her a second photograph because she has almost worn out the first with kissing it. She writes to tell him that she is one of the ladies deputed to make the collection at the Church of St. Clotilde in the month of May, and begs him to attend and drop a coin into the bag she is to carry. When she begs her lover to come and elope with her to England, he replied that if he did so his father would curse him and her. To this she responds: "Adored Paul, I am terribly agitated by your letter. No, my Paul, your father shall not curse us. We will rather die than incurr his malediction. Nevertheless, we must run away—there's no help for it. My white shoes and gloves are bought and ready. I shall follow any course you may suggest, but, come what may, your wife I must be." This may be taken as a fair example of the logical train of thought to be found in love letters: "Your father will curse us if we marry, therefore we will not marry. But we must marry, for the white shoes are bought. I will, however, follow any course you suggest." The trial ended by the marriage being pronounced null and void by the Pope, the bride's family having used every possible effort to this end. On Saturday last the lady was married to Prince Frederick William of Hohenlohe. The ceremony was a civil one, as the bridegroom is a Protestant, a fact which lays the bride's mother open to a charge of inconsistency, one of her pleas against M. Paul Musurus being that he did not belong to the Roman Catholic Church. The Pope, in this instance, has smoothed away all difficulties by freely giving his sanction to the marriage on the sole condition that all the children of the union are to be brought up as Roman Catholics. The newly wedded pair are now at Lourdes, and intend passing the winter at Vienna. Such is the commonplace sequel to a romantic story on which the attention of the Continental world was fixed with unusual interest during the course of the trial.

General Wolseley at Home.

From the London World.

The atmosphere of Lord Wolseley's study is redolent of war and Chippendale. Before your respectful contemplation of the throne of the deposed African potentate has come to an end, Lord Wolseley rises to greet you, pushes his letters aside and invites you to find a seat by the fire. He is dressed in a suit of light tweed; a black necktie is tied in a sailor's knot round his throat; and, although his hair and mustache are silvered almost to whiteness, his figure is as lithe and his complexion as fresh as they were when he gained his spurs in Burmah, before the Crimean war was thought of. The proofs of the next edition of the Soldier's Pocket-Book lie beneath a paper-weight, made from a morsel of the Porcelain Tower at Pekin, and many of the capacious drawers before him are crammed with memoranda and materials for the yet unwritten "Life of Marlborough," which Mr. Bentley is some day to publish. Over the mantelpiece are framed engravings of the Queen, Pitt, Warren Hastings, Olive, Wellington and Sir John Moore. They possess, one and all, the same mellow tint of age, for the comparatively modern portrait of Her Majesty was found among the treasures of the smoke-begrimed hut of Cetewayo in the Ulundi kraal. Bismarck, too, has with justice found a place in this gallery of powerful men, for, as Lord Wolseley very truly observes, he almost rules the entire world. It was in this room, and in the midst of these striking surroundings, that General Gordon's mission to Egypt was decided on.

Delf, Bisque and Terra Cotta.

Some elegant claret jugs now come in Worcester china.

Cupid in a bonnet is one of the newest cute things in bisque.

The collection of fancy china is the very latest popular craze.

A great deal of the new decorated Italian majolica ware is being sold.

For the dining-room game pieces are now executed in porcelain bas-relief.

Blue Flemish delf is coming much into vogue. It is very appropriate for hall decoration.

All Japanese ware has to a considerable extent been supplemented by European pottery.

Koochi water bottle, Tokio vases, Owari plates and all sorts of Japanese ware are plentiful.

Curious little ornament are now being made, copied after those found by Schliemann in old Troy.

The new cerulean blue is popular in pottery, and ancient Peruvian shapes are being extensively copied.

One of the most charming figures in fine clay just issued is "Lorely," the German maiden of the Rhine.

Large and striking figures are now being executed in the Barbotine ware, which started out with only flowers in relief.

Lovely clay statuettes are now being made in Naples, in which the skin is made a natural tint and different to the drapery.

Terra cotta busts are in high favor. The best known and the most popular pair at present are "Alsace and Lorraine."

Expensive English Nonsense.

From the London Truth.

I am sorry to hear that, in accordance with the usual discreditable practice, an application is to be made to Parliament for the amount of the fees charged for admitting Prince Henry of Battenberg to the order of the Garter. The vote will certainly be opposed, and it is to be regretted that the Queen should have been so ill-advised; for I hear that Her Majesty was disposed to pay the amount herself, but that some wooden-headed officials about the Court persisted that this would be creating an inconvenient precedent. It strikes me that it will be considerable more inconvenient if the vote be rejected by the House of Commons. Within the last two years over £1,000 has been paid for the Garter fees of the Prince of Wales's sons, and, including the cost of special missions, upwards of £100,000 has been paid by the public during the present reign on account of the "extra" (Royal) Knights of this Order. When the Queen came to the throne there were only five or six "extras," but now there are no fewer than twenty-eight, the blue ribbon having of late years been scattered about Europe with a very ill-judged profusion. Nothing is more absurd than the custom of invariably presenting a Royal Knight with the full trappings of the State costume, which cost some £500, and are never worn. There is only one case known during the last thirty years of a Knight having arrayed himself in his full dress, and this was a certain German princelet who desired to have his portrait painted in this quaint garb.

ABOUT TOWN.

Assistant Postmaster Semple arrived home today after a week's absence from the city.

THE Orion Club has issued cards for a soiree dansante at the Liederkranz Hall on November 13.

A BENEVOLENT and pleasant entertainment was given last night by the Malley brothers, at which a gold watch was raffled for the benefit of Mrs. Krance of 706 O Fallon street.

THE Paragon Club, composed of the best society people of South St. Louis, will give its first complimentary ball on Thanksgiving evening at the South St. Louis Turner Hall. Tickets can be procured from members.

MARGARET COSTIGAN, who lives at 709 S. Broadway, wants to know the whereabouts of her brother, William Costigan, who was last heard of in St. Louis twenty years ago. He may be in New York or Chicago.

THE second elevens of the Thistle and Hibenian football clubs will play at Union Grounds at 9:30 a. m. to-morrow. The first elevens of the same clubs will meet on the same grounds in the afternoon. The morning game will be free.

THE ladies of Trinity Church are arranging for an entertainment in the nature of a fair to be given on the 23rd and 24th of this month. The successful efforts of the ladies of this church in the past give promise of an enjoyable event.

King Toilet Package.

When one sheet is used another presents itself.
The best and cheapest. Five packages with one holder in a carton, only $1.

LEVISON & BLYTHE STATIONERY CO.
213 and 215 N. Third Street.

NELSON & NOEL,
BANKERS,
Northwest Cor. Third and Pine Streets.
Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Arkansas and Texas State, County, City and School Bonds a Specialty.
Also all local bonds and stocks bought and sold on favorable terms.

MONEY.

NEW YORK, November 7.—11 A. M.—The stock market was very strong at the opening this morning, first prices showing advances over last evening of ⅛ to ¾ per cent. Immediately after opening the whole market became weak, and in the course of twenty minutes Jersey Central lost 1¾c, St. Paul and Western Union 1⅛c, Union Pacific 1⅛, and Lackawanna and Lake Shore ¾c each. A rally of ⅛c to ⅝c occurred then, but in turn was lost. Towards 11 o'clock the market became firm again; at that hour was active and firm.

NEW YORK, November 7.—NOON—Money nominal at 2½@3 per cent. Bar silver 102⅞. The stock market was less active after 11 o'clock, and firm, advancing ⅛@⅜ per cent, although Lake Shore, on a large business, advanced 1 per cent. In the latter part of the hour portions of the advance were lost, but just before noon the market again became strong and at noon is moderately active and strong. Threes, 103⅜; 4½s, 113⅛; 4s, 123⅛; Pacific 6s of '95, 128⅜.

NEW YORK, November 7, 3 P. M.—After midday stocks advanced ⅛ to ⅜ per cent. About 1 o'clock prices declined a small fraction, but the market became firm about 2 o'clock and continued so until near the close, when it became active and strong, closing at about the best figures of the day.

The total exports of specie from this port during the past week were: $355,399; of this amount the exports to Europe were $199 245 silver and $1,400 gold, and the exports to Havana were $1,300; the total imports of specie at the port during the week were $100,198.

The total imports at this port during the past week were valued at $5,766,243, exclusive of dry goods.

Money nominal at 2½@3 per cent. Bar silver 102⅞.

BOSTON, November 7.—Mexican Central 11⅛, 7s 49, scrip 85¼.

Weekly Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The weekly bank statement, issued to-day, shows the following changes: Loans, decrease, $3,401,900; specie, decrease, $3,189,300; legal tenders, decrease, $717,800; deposits, decrease, $3,710,800; circulation, increase, $600; reserve, decrease, $2,979,400. The banks now hold $25,452,598 in excess of the legal requirements.

New York Stock Quotations.

Corrected daily by Matthews & Whitaker, bankers and brokers, No. 121 N. Third street, St. Louis, Mo.

STOCKS.	Opening.	Highest.	Lowest.	Closing.
Canada Southern	42¾	43⅜	42¾	43⅜
Canadian Pacific	50	50⅛	49⅞	50⅛
Central New Jersey	48⅛	48⅛	42	42¾
Central Pacific	44¾	45⅜	44¾	45¼
Chic. St. P., M. & O.	39½	39⅝	39¼	39½
Chic. St. P., M. & O., pref.	102	102½	102	102½
Chicago, R. I. & Pac.	124½	.....	.....	124½
Chic. Bur. & Quincy	135¼	135¾	135¼	135½
Chic., Mil. & St. P.	95	95½	93⅞	95¼
Chic. & N. W. com.	111⅜	112	111⅜	112
Del., Lack. & W.	119¾	120⅝	119½	120⅝
Del. & Hudson	99	99	98	98
Denver & Rio Grande	18½	18⅞	18½	18⅞
Erie com.	22⅝	23	22⅜	22⅞
Erie 2d Mtg. Bds.	84⅞	84⅞	83⅞	84⅞
Illinois Central	138	139	138	134
Ind., B. & Western	18	18¾	18	18¾
Lake Shore	84⅝	86¾	84	86¾
Louisville & Nashville	45⅜	45⅞	45¼	45⅞
Michigan Central	74⅝	75¾	74⅝	75¾
Missouri Pacific	101⅞	102	101	102
Mo. Kan. & Texas	28¼	28⅝	28	28⅝
Manhattan Elevated	109	109½	109	109½
New York Central	103¼	103⅞	103	103⅞
Northern Pacific com	25⅝	25¾	25⅜	25⅝
do pref.	55	55⅜	54¾	55⅜
Oregon & Transcontinental	29¼	29⅝	29	29⅝
Oregon Nav. & Trans. Co.	98	98⅜	98	98⅜
Ohio & Miss. com.	24	24¼	23⅝	24¼
Pacific Mail	56¼	56⅜	56¼	56⅜
Philadelphia & Reading	21	21⅛	21	21⅛
St. L. & SanF. Com	22¼	23	22¼	23
St. L. & San F. 1st pfd.	98	.....	.....	98
St. L. & San F 2d pfd.	43	43¾	42⅝	43¾
St. P., M. & Manitoba	104⅝	105	104⅝	105
Texas Pacific	21⅛	21⅜	20⅞	21⅜
Tex. & Pac. Incomes	46⅝	.....	.....	46⅝
Union Pacific	58⅜	59⅛	57⅞	59⅛
Wabash St. L. & P.	9⅜	9⅜	9¼	9⅜
do pfd.	18	18	17⅞	17⅞
Western U. T. Co	78⅞	78⅞	77⅝	78⅝
West Shore Certificates	45⅛	.....	.....	45⅛
English Consols, cash	100 5-16	.....	.....	100 5-16

Corrected daily by James Campbell, Banker and Broker 307 Pine street.

U. S. BONDS.

	When due.	Interest payable.	Bd.	Ask.
⅌ cent bonds		M. A. N. & F.	101	101¼
4½ ⅌ cent bonds	1891	J. S. D. & M.	113	113⅛
4 ⅌ cent bonds	1907	J. A. J. & O.	123⅛	123¼

RAILWAY BONDS.

Mo. Pac. 1st m. 6's	1888	Feb. & Aug.	105	105¾
Mo. Pac. Consols	1920	May & Nov.	106	106⅛
Mo. Pac. 2d m. 7's	1891	Jan. & July	114⅛	115
Mo. Pac. 3d	1905	May & Nov.	105	106⅛
No. Mo. 1st m. 7's	1895	Jan. & July	114	114¾
K. P. 1st m. 6's	1895	Feb. & Aug.	108	109
K. P. 1st m. 6's	1896	June & Dec.	108	110
K. P. D. Ex. 6's	1899	May & Nov.	105	105½
K. P. Consols	1919	May & Nov.	98⅛	99
St. L. & M. 7's	1892	Feb. & Aug.	115⅜	116

ST. LOUIS CITY AND COUNTY BONDS.

City 4's sterling, 10-20s	1902	May & Nov.	102	102⅛
City 4's sterling, 10-20s	1906	Jan. & July	103	103⅛
City 5's sterling, 10-20s	1900	June & Dec.	103⅛	104⅛
City 5's	1900	Jan. & July	108	109
City 6's currency	1886—87	Various	104	104⅛
City 6's gold	1892—96	Various	109	110⅛
City 6's sterling	1898	June & Dec.	116	117
City 6's water	1887	June & Dec.	103⅛	104⅛
City 6's water	1890	June & Dec.	107⅛	108⅛
City 6's water	1892	April & Oct.	109	110⅛
City 6's bridge approach	1892	June & Dec.	109⅛	110⅛
County 6's gold	1895—96	Jan. & July	....	113
County Park	1905	April & Oct.	122	123

*Interest to seller.

Clearings	$ 2,581,270
Balance	287,936
Clearings this week	15,712,628
Clearings last week	13,662,181
Corresponding week 1884	13,287,781
Balance this week	1,816,580

COMMERCE.

CONTROLLED BY CORN.

A Sharp Advance in the Coarser Cereal Strengthens all the Markets.

Special by Telegraph from Pickering & Co., Chicago, to the POST-DISPATCH:

CHICAGO, November 7.—Brilliant weather and lower cables gave a weaker feeling this morning, and wheat ruled dull. The firmness in corn helped the market some, and later good buying for both local and Eastern account sent the price up to 88 cents for December. This was the ruling figure for most of the day, but trade was light and transactions unimportant. Receipts at Western points were 342,000 bushels, a marked falling off, and it is generally thought that the next visible will show less than a million increase, but not much is said about it, as it is regarded as very uncertain. The export business was reported small. The market here closed active and firm.

Oats were firm in sympathy with corn, and closed steady at a slight advance over yesterday.

Corn opened quiet, but under a sharp demand for November the market soon became excited and advanced rapidly. Cash corn sold up to 45½c and November to 41⅞c, with heavy trading. Year was active and higher. Jones sold Bryant 300,000 bushels at 39⅛c, which was the largest single trade of the day; but general trading was very active, and large quantities changed hands. The demand came from all sides, and the prospects are that corn will be a good deal more active in the future. The market fell off towards the close, as orders were filled, but the final close was quiet and firm.

For Monday receipts are estimated at 129 cars wheat, 132 cars corn, 86 cars oats and 40,000 hogs; 240,000 hogs are expected for next week.

Provisions were firmer, with more active trading in both pork and lard. Nearly all transactions are in January and forward of that month. Kirkwood sold Baldwin 5,000 tierces January lard, which was the largest single trade of the day.

CLOSING PRICES 3 P. M.

Reported daily by S. W. COBB & CO., 317 and 319 Chamber of Commerce.

CHICAGO.

	Closing Yesterday.	Highest To-day.	Lowest To-day.	Closing To-day.
WHEAT—
Nov	86	86⅞	86⅛	86⅞
Dec	87⅝@¾	88¼	87½	88⅛ b
Jan	89	88⅞	87⅞	88⅞
May	94⅝	95⅜	94⅝@¾	95⅛@⅜
CORN—
Nov	40⅞	41⅞	40⅞	41⅞ a
Year	38⅞	39⅝	38⅞	39@⅛
January	36⅝	37	36⅝@⅝	37 a
May	38⅞	39⅞	38⅝@⅞	39⅛ a
OATS—
November	26⅛	26⅛	26⅛	26⅛
December	26⅛	26⅝	26⅜	26⅝
May	30	30⅜	30	30⅜
PORK—
November	$8 35	$8 50	$8 47½	$8 50
December	8 40	8 55	8 42½	8 55
January	9 27½	9 45	9 27½	9 42½
May	9 37½	9 55	9 40	9 55
LARD—
November	5.92½	6.00	5.95	6.00
December	5.95	6.02½	5.97½	6.02½
January	6.02½	6.10	6.02½	6.10
February	6.10	6.20	6.10	6.17½@20
SHORT RIBS—
November	4.65	4.70	4.65	4.70
January	4.67½	4.75	4.67½	4.72½
February	4.77½	4.82½	4.77½	4.82½

NEW YORK—Wheat—November 93¾; December 96½; January 98⅛ b; February $1 00; May $1 05½. Corn—November 54¾; December 53⅝; January 48⅛; February 48¼; May 47⅛ b. Oats—November 33⅝ b; December 33⅛ b; January 34⅛ b.

TOLEDO—Wheat—November 94¼, December 95⅛, January 96¾, February 98⅛, May $1 03. Corn—November 42⅛, year 39, January 38, May 39⅛.

DETROIT—Wheat—November 95, December 95⅛, May $1 02⅛.

BALTIMORE—Wheat—November 91⅛@¼, December 93⅛@⅛, January 95⅛@⅜. Corn—Year 45⅛@47, January 46@⅛.

Exports of Provisions.

From Atlantic ports from November 1 to October 31.

	1884-85.	1883-84.	Increase.
Pork, lbs	52,891,200	37,484,200	15,407,000
Lard, lbs	297,330,132	221,456,157	75,873,975
Meats, lbs	440,186,605	337,681,936	102,504,669
Total	790,407,937	596,622,293	193,785,644

Grain Inspections.

INTO ELEVATORS — Wheat—1 car No. 2 red winter; 10 cars No. 3 do; 11 cars No. 4; 8 cars rejected; 1 car No 2 hard winter; 1 car No. 3 do; 1 car No. 2 Mediterranean; 2 cars No. 2 spring; 5 cars No. 3 do; 1 car rejected do; total, 41 cars. Corn—21 cars No. 2 mixed; 20 cars rejected; 13 cars no-grade; 3 cars white-mixed; 3 cars rejected; total 59 cars. Oats—2 cars No. 2; 7 cars rejected: total, 19 cars. Rye—1 car No. 2. Total in, 120 cars.

OUT OF ELEVATORS—Wheat—20 cars No. 2 red winter; 6 cars No. 3 do; 2 cars rejected; total 28 cars. Corn—54,600 bu No. 2 mixed; 36 cars rejected; 12 cars no-grade; 1 car new; total, 49 cars and 54,600 bu. Rye—1 car rejected. Total out, 78 cars and 54,600 bu.

Stocks of Grain in St. Louis Elevators.

	Wheat.	Corn.	Oats.	Rye.	Barley
To-day	2,687,634	189,117	212,312	17,425	89,256
Yesterday	2,708,897	212,388	218,241	18,576	88,630
	No. 2 Red.	No. 2 Mixed.	No. 2.	No. 1.
To-day	2,218,718	49,027	145,134	13,547	.....
Yesterday	2,229,953	54,009	148,011	14,673	.....

Movements of Wheat and Corn To-Day.

	Receipts		Shipments.
	Wheat.	Corn.	Wheat.	Corn.
St. Louis	22,632	36,300	.....	17,386
Chicago	53,359	70,566	11,540	218,180
Milwaukee	17,610	6,260	10,705	.....
Baltimore	20,541	26,208	.....	.....
Toledo	28,257	4,052	3,098	11,520
New York	232,000	69,700	74,062	72,459
Detroit	28,017	.....	28,383	.....
Kansas City	5,000	17,000	16,000	12,500
Duluth	84,000	.....	14,000	.....
Minneapolis	156,240	.....	19,600	.....

CHICAGO INSPECTIONS—125 cars spring wheat, 8 cars winter wheat, 129 cars corn, 92 cars oats, 16 cars rye, 87 cars barley. By canal, 6,000 bu. corn.

Receipts of Leading Articles at St. Louis, for the week ending Saturday, November 7, 1885, and total recipts since January 1, 1885, and for the corresponding time 1884, as reported by the Merchants' Exchange.

ARTICLES.	Receipts for Week Ending Saturday November 7, 1885.	Total Receipts since January 1, 1885.	Corresponding Time, 1884.
Flour, brls	21,011	897,236	1,257,815
Wheat, bu	188,770	9,877,494	13,470,852
Corn, bu	254,010	21,114,436	16,200,600
Oats, bu	113,630	6,566,637	6,107,783
Rye, bu	36,027	594,190	496,834
Barley, bu	168,277	1,866,619	1,978,549
Bran and shipstuff, sks	5,827	143,897	174,418
Bran and shipstuff in bulk, cars	54	716	787
Cornmeal, brls	.....	9,920	7,195
Cotton, bales	33,512	227,659	168,976
Hay, tons	2,100	82,599	68,920
Tobacco, hhd	474	29,437	17,613
Lead, pigs	13,232	849,024	818,188
Pork, brls	1,060	6,122	8,951
Hams, lbs	85,300	3,456,252	2,371,554
Meats, lbs	1,294,195	64,064,790	64,155,260
Lard, lbs	61,290	7,033,987	8,563,454
Wool, lbs	88,823	20,272,895	11,782,906
Cattle, head	3,599	346,545	412,626
Sheep, head	4,216	325,519	344,301
Hogs, head	29,503	1,121,698	1,146,260
Horses and mules, head	256	35,944	39,140

Commercial Notes.

Exports of wheat and flour from the Atlantic seaboard from August 24 to October 31 were equal to 10,870,000 bu. wheat, against 22,120,000 bu. for same time last year; exports corn were 8,561,000 bu., against 2,547,000 bu. last year.—A difference of 504,000 bu. between the two last visible supply reports of wheat, after making allowance for the Minneapolis and St. Paul stocks, amount on rail and stocks afloat at Baltimore and Richmond, was made up in part of 387,000 bushels to catch up in the preceding week's report of Walker's. Thus he acknowledges that he does occasionally make errors.—The seven city mills that will close down tonight and next week possess half the total capacity of all the city mills. As the mills to still continue running will not run to more than half capacity, the total output should not be over 3,000 barrels flour, so that less than 15,000 bushels wheat per day will be used.—The stock of wheat in St. Louis elevators has decreased 37,600 bus since last Saturday, No. 2 red falling off 27,300 bus: withdrawals from elevators for past week were 96,357 bus to city mills and 23,295 to railroads. Stock of corn is 3,800 bus smaller than last Saturday, No. 2 mixed decreasing 59,740 bu, and is now less than 50,000 bu; week's elevator withdrawals 54,493 bu to city, 71,546 to railroads; 135,324 to river. Stock of oats increased 25,100 bu and of No. 2 is 12,300 bu larger than last Saturday; week's withdrawals 9,015 bu to city, 14,692 to railroads, 9,043 to river.—C. A. King, Toledo, believes there will be no material change in the next visible of wheat or New York's report; and states that there is a milling demand in Toledo.—Tom Carter says that a bull on wheat is "an unsophisticated rhetorician inebriated by the exuberance of his own verbosity." Oswald Graves will now give his idea of what a bear is.—After looking for a corner in corn for a couple of months past the Chicago traders will probably be accomodated with one this month. To-day 45½c was bid in that market for cash No. 2 corn.—Receipts of wheat at eleven leading markets for past week were 4,194,000 bu, and the shipments were 1,579,000 bu, leaving a surplus of 2,615,000 bu for milling and to go into stocks. Of this excess over 1,000,000 bu was at Minneapolis. Taking into consideration the decrease there should be in amount afloat on lakes, canal and seaboard ports, the next New York report on the visible supply will show little change, or, if anything, a small decrease, and the Chicago report should increase 500,000 bu.—Moses Fraley wires from Chicago: "I tell you every single house in St. Louis, New York, Toledo and every other place are all short wheat, corn and provisions. Look out when they try to cover."—To-day's wheat market was another "fooler" for the crowd and no one could call the turns. Speculative manipulation proves to be more powerful than the legitimate situation right along.

St. Louis Markets.

FORENOON SESSION, CLOSING 1 P. M.

Wheat—There was nothing to relieve the monotony of a dull and featureless market this morning. Outside speculation was nil, for there were absolutely no orders from the country. Trading consequently was light of a merely scalping character in the main. Early in the day there was considerable selling, and the bears appeared to be possessed of an urgent desire to sell, though only J. C. Ewald showed any real nerve in letting go of very much. The dull and easier cables (both public and private), with 6d decline in California cargoes, the change to clearing and colder weather and the expected shutting down of most of the principal city mills afforded encouragement to those who favored the short side. The pressure to sell weakened the market ⅜c, but at the reduced rates the demand from shorts desirous of covering was active. Then came a stiffening up in the other markets that checked the decline and finally put the brakes on the selling movement, and the strength became so well developed as to work up more confidence among buyers. From the lowest point there was a recovery of ⅜@⅝c, and the close was firm at ⅛c above yesterday's close. November sold at 94⅜; December at 95⅜ to 96, opening at 95⅜ and closing at 95⅞; January at 97⅝ to 98, closing at 97⅞ bid; May at $1 05⅜ to $1 05⅞@1 06, opening at $1 05⅝ and closing at $1 05⅞. The cash market was firm, but quiet, as the offerings were small and there was not much of a demand, millers taking very little. No. 2 red 95 in D., 94⅜ bid regular; No. 3 red 89⅜ in U., 89⅛ in A., 91⅛ in M.; No. 4 80 asked for St. L., 77 bid; rejected 64 asked regular and bid for St. L.

Corn improved in value, for, though the weather had cleared off and a cold wave was predicted as sweeping down on this section, the strength displayed by Chicago's firm cables and light receipts checked selling and put up prices. The principal demand came for this year's options, which advanced ⅛c, though closing ⅛c off from the highest rates that were bid. November sold at 35⅛ up to 36⅛, with last trades at 36⅛; year at 34⅜ to 34⅛, though on noon call sellers, and was traded in at 36⅛@⅜ to 36⅜. January offered 34⅜ was bid, but afterwards sold at 34⅛ again. May had poor at 33⅜, bid 33⅝. Cash grades were higher and in shipping local demand, but the advance seemed to shut out river exporters, as they took no No. 2 mixed, though it only improved ⅛c. No. 2 mixed 38 regular, 38⅛ E. side and later 39 bid for latter; No. 2 white-mixed 40 bid this side; rejected do 39 bid this side; rejected 35⅛@35⅜ this side, 36⅛@36⅜ in U.; No-grade 30 this side, 30⅛ in U. and E. new mixed 35⅛ in St. L.

Oats futures were firm for the near options, but had no sellers, except at prices far above what buyers would pay. The only month offered was December at 25⅛, with 25 bid, but bids of 24⅜ for November and year failed to draw any out. May was in demand at 30⅛, and sold fairly at that. Small offerings and an active order demand advanced cash grades, No. 2 selling at 25⅛ in E., 26 in M. and 26⅛ in St. L.; rejected at 24⅜ in U., 25⅛ in M. and 26 in St. L.

Rye was firmer and the demand was better, with shippers buying all offered, and not getting much. No. 2 sold at 57⅛ in St. L. and 58 in C. and for E. side 58⅛ was bid; rejected sold regular at 56@56⅛.

Barley was dull, with something of a pressure to sell and market weak. Prices range as follows: Rejected 40@45, No. 3 90⅛@95, prime 60@55, choice 70@80, fancy 80@95, Canada $1 for No. 2, $10 6 for No. 1.

Flour—Very slow and quiet, with only a light demand and small sales. Prices showed no change one way or the other, but the rates were generally held pretty firm at the following: xx $3 10@3 20; xxx $3 35@3 45; family $3 50@3 60; choice $3 85@3 95; fancy $4 35@4 45; extra on including favorite brands, $4 65@4 85; patent $5 10@5 30. These prices are for lots on arrival at depot and levee; order lots higher.

Cornmeal—Unchanged at $1 90@1 95 on city orders delivered. Pearl meal and grits nominal at $2 75@3 00.

Rye Flour—Firm at $3 75@3 90.

Bran firmer and in active demand, the contemplated closing down of some of the principal mills sharpening the demand. Sacked sold at 64@66 f. o. b. this side, 63⅛@65 E. track and 63 at mill; bulk at 56@58 this side, 51 at country point.

Hay—The usual slack Saturday demand prevailed, but the market was steady. Market rates were: This side—Prairie $7 50@9 00 for prime to fancy: mixed $9@10 50; timothy $11 to $14 50 for prime to fancy: East track stock sells about 50c@$1 per ton below above rates.

Provisions held up firmly but were quiet, as the market generally is on the last day of the week. The demand continued for meats, and bacon was rather better in price; most of the offerings consisted of short clear. Nothing was done in up country meats. Standard mess pork sold at $8 75, and there was some trading in January, but terms kept private. Prime steam lard nominally worth 5.90. Loose dry salt shoulders sold at 3⅛ f. o. b., and longs at 4.70@4⅜ and boxed longs at 4⅜@4⅞ and shorts at 5.15; loose f. o. b. on cash orders 20@25; dry shoulders 3⅜, longs 4.70, c'ribs 4.90, shorts 5.10. Packed bacon longs sold at 5.60, c'ribs at 5⅜ and shorts at 6@6⅛; loose c'ribs at 5⅛ E. St. Louis and shorts at 5.80. Country lard 5⅛@5⅜ in irregular packages. City hams 9⅛@11. Breakfast bacon 7⅛@9. Beef—Family $10@15 ⅌ br., according to brand; on orders higher. $6@7 per ⅛-brl dried $10@11; selected 12⅛; smoked tongues $5@5 50 per doz. Tallow—Prime in oil barrels, 5⅛; No. 2 in do 5 in irregular packages ⅛c less; tallow grease 4⅛@4⅛. Grease—Brown and yellow 3@4⅛; white 5⅛@4⅜. Salt—Domestic $1 05@1 10 per brl, as in size of lot; ground alum $1 10 per sack—small way higher.

Whisky—Steady; sales 127 brls at $1 10. Cincinnati steady and quiet at $1 09. Chicago, $1 15. Peoria, $1 09 and firm.

Lead firmer and tending upward, with small offerings of spot, which could be sold much higher than future deliveries. Sales of 10 cars chemical hard made E. St. Louis, but terms kept private. It was quotable spot at $3 95@3 97½, and refined was worth $4, a car selling at that. Round lots refined for year or December delivery could be bought at $3 95.

Cotton.

Cotton was again very weak and lower, both spots and futures undergoing a decline of several points. Cables were a 1-16 lower for spots at Liverpool and dull, futures closing weak, 2-64d off. New York spots declined 1 16 and futures opened easy and closed weak at 6 to 7 points decline. New Orleans spots unchanged, but weak, and futures lower. The local market eased up and fell off in sympathy with other markets. Sales were over 300 bales.

LOCAL SPOT QUOTATIONS—Low ordinary 7¼; ordinary 7¾; good ordinary 8⅛; low middling 8⅜; middling 8⅝; good middling 9⅛; middling fair 9 13-16; stained and tinged not quoted.

RECEIPTS, SHIPMENTS AND STOCKS.—Gross receipts today 4,457 bales, against 4,652 last year; since September, 1885, 138,335 bales, against 77,649 same time last year; shipments to-day 2,713 bales, against 2,511 bales last year; since September 1, 1885, 97,982 bales, against 56,015 bales same time last year; stocks in compresses and warehouses to-day 42,012 bales, against 23,166 bales.

NET RECEIPTS, EXPORTS AND STOCKS.—Net receipts at United States ports for 1 day 29,469 bales, against 53,014 last week and 29,839 the same time last year; exports 15,960 bales, against 44,282 same time last year; stock 669,032 bales against 741,774 last year; net receipts since September 1, 1,691,407 bales.

CLOSING PRICES—1 P. M.

LIVERPOOL—Uplands 5⅛d; Orleans 5⅜d; sales 6,000 bales. Futures closed weak. November and December 5 3-64d; December and January 5 3-64d; January and February 5 6-64d; February and March 5 9-64d; March and April 5 12-64d; April and May 5 16-64d; May and June 5 20-64d; June and July 5 23-64d.

NEW YORK—Futures closed weak. November 9.16, December 9.23; January 9.35; February 9.47; March 9.59; April 9.71; May 9.83; June 9.94; July 10.0; August 10.13. Sales 65,300 bales.

NEW ORLEANS—Futures closed steady: November 8.75; December 8.81; January 8.94; February 9.08; March 9.22; April 9.36; May 9.50; June 9.64; July 9.76; August 9.82. Sales 32,200 bales.

Country Produce.

APPLES—Good stock steady and in active demand, but common (offerings mainly of that) very dull. Common and damaged $1@1 25; fair to good shipping stock $1 40@1 60; choice to fancy $1 75@1 85.

DRIED FRUIT—Steady. Apples—Common to fair sundried 1⅛@2; prime to choice quarters 2⅛@2⅜c; fancy 2⅜@2⅝; common to good evaporated 4⅛@6c, choice 6⅛@7⅛c. Peaches—Sun-dried quarters and mixed 2⅜@3c, good to choice new bright halves 3⅛c. Evaporated: Unpeeled—Prime 7c; choice 8@9c; fancy 10@11c; peeled, prime, 9c, choice 10@12c; fancy 13c. Blackberries 3@3⅛c.

VEGETABLES—Potatoes rather slow but unchanged at 37⅛@45 per bu. Onions quiet and unchanged at 70@75c per bu, $1 75@1 00 per brl.

BUTTER — Receipts 23,455 lbs. All desirable grades in fair local demand and steady, but offerings large of low grades and such dull and dragging. We quote: Creamery—Choice and fancy 25@27c; selections 28c; seconds at dairy rates. Dairy—Choice and fancy 20@22c; selections 23c; fair to good 16@19c; common 8@10c; grease 4@5. Country store packed at 4@7c for common, and 8@11 for choice. Roll—Receipts light—choice, nicely handled range at 14@15; inferior less.

CHEESE—Wisconsin full cream 9⅛@10⅛; part skims 6⅛@8; Ohio cream 8@9; Young America 10⅛@11.

EGGS—Receipts 517 pkgs. Steady at 16⅛c for guaranteed fresh; inferior cull at much less.

POULTRY—Chickens next to unsalable, and receivers could not induce buyers to take hold by giving liberal concessions, and therefore some will have to be held over till next week. Turkeys more plentiful and lower. We quote: Old chickens—Cocks at $1 50; mixed (cocks and hens) $1 75@2, hens $2 25. Springs—Small $1@1 25, fair to good size $1 50@1 75, choice large $2; young and old mixed $1 50@2. Turkeys—Small and thin 7@8c per lb live weight, large young and old 9a10c; ducks $2a2 25; geese $3 50a4 50. Dressed—Slow sale, as weather is too warm; turkeys 10a11c per lb; chickens $1 50a2 25 per doz.

GAME—The weather has been quite mild for some time, and a large portion of the game came to hand in bad condition; in fact, considerable of it was condemned by the Meat Inspector as being unfit for human food. This was caused, to some extent, to the carelessness of shippers in packing their game, and we therefore publish our directions for handling game (which will be found in another column), again, which, if observed, will save considerable expense. To-day's arrivals were again more or less out of order. Weather colder and more favorable for handling game, but the demand was light, and prices generally lower. Grouse in fair demand and steady; quail abundant, dull and lower; ducks and rabbits fair sale; venison dull, the supply being largely in excess of the wants; snipe lower. We quote (selected stock only): Large quail $1 75; no price for small; grouse $4. Ducks—Mixed $1 25; teal $1 50, mallard $1 75@2; Minn. pheasant $4; Illinois and Missouri $4 50; venison saddles 8@9c per lb; deer carcasses 4a5c; Bear 25c per lb; Rabbits $1 25; jack rabbits $2 50; squirrel 75c; wild turkeys 8@9c per lb; woodcock $3; snipe 75c; golden plover $1; frog legs 75c@$1; opossum 5@10c each.

VEALS—Steady, but slow. Small fat quotable at 7c, rough and thin 5⅛@6⅛c and heretics 3@5c per lb.

GRASS SEEDS—Quiet; the demand for clover good, and the only lot offered, which consisted of 120 sks, sold quickly at $5 20, which indicates an advance. Timothy quiet and steady at $1 60@1 65. Red top at 35@45.

FLAXSEED—Receipts 3,000 bu; market easier, with $1 13 the best bid.

CASTOR BEANS—Prime salable $1 70.

Wool, Hides, Etc.

WOOL—Receipts, 7,089 Quiet and steady, but unchanged. We quote spot cash:

MISSOURI, ILLINOIS, ARKANSAS, &C.

Tubwashed—Choice	33	@33½
Fair	30	@32
Low, dingy or coarse	26	@29
Unwashed—Choice medium clothing and combing	24	@24½
Fair medium clothing and combing	22	@23
Low or coarse	18	@21
Fine—Choice, light	22	@23
Fine—Heavy	17	@20
Hard burry, cotted and chaffy	14	@15

Slightly do do 2@5c off; untied or broken fleeces 1@3c less.

KANSAS, NEBRASKA, IOWA, &C.

Unwashed—Choice light bright medium	22	@22½
Fair to good medium	20	@21
Brashy or earthy medium	16	@19
Carpet stock or low	12	@16
Fine—Choice light bright	20	@21
Fine—Heavy or earthy	12	@13

TEXAS, SOUTHWEST ARKANSAS, &C.

Spring clip—Choice light fine, 12 months' growth	23	@23½
Choice light medium, 12 months' growth	22	@23
Choice light medium, 6 to 8 months' growth	20	@22
Choice light fine, 6 to 8 months' growth	19	@21
Sandy or burry 2@5c less. Hard burry	10	@15
Short and sandy Western	12	@17
Carpet stock and low	12	@17

For new sks 20c is allowed, and for old 10c—tare 3⅛ lbs.

HIDES—In demand and firm. We quote: Green salted at 9⅛c; damaged 8⅛c; bulls or stags 6c; green (uncured) 8c; do do damaged 6⅛c; glue stock 5c; dry flint 18c; damaged 15c; bulls or stags 10⅛c; dry salted 12c; damaged 10c; glue stock 6c. Hides under 10 lbs classed as damaged.

FEATHERS—Lower; dull. We quote, Prime live geese at 46c in large sks and 47c in small; unripe, quilly, etc., 30 to 40c; mixed 10 to 30c; tare 8 and 10 per cent.

DEER SKINS—Steady; prime No. 1 at 18c; No. 2 13c.

SHEEP PELTS—Green salted 50@75c; dry do 25@60 shearlings; dry 10@25.

BEESWAX—Steady at 22c for choice.

LIVE STOCK.

	Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.	Horses and Mules.
Receipts	435	2,772	187	16
Shipments	855	1,951	134	11

CATTLE—Nothing transpired in this market to-day worthy of mention. Buyers were scarce, and the supply of stock of all descriptions very light, the fresh receipts not amounting to much and there being little or nothing left over from the day before. As far as the week's business is concerned, the trade has developed no new features, and the little strength that was developed early was not maintained to the close. Very few good cattle of any kind have been received during the week, but common and thin stock have been plentiful enough. Sales during the week were generally based upon the following quotations:

RULING QUOTATIONS—Exporters $4 90@5 00: for good to heavy steers $4 60@4 85; light to fair steers $4 00@4 40 common to medium native steers $3 00@3 25: Southwest steers $3 00@3 25: grass Texans $2 50@3 35: native cows and heifers, common to choice, $2 25@2 75; scalawags of any kind $1 40@2 00; milch cows and calves $20 00@40 00; veal calves $8 00@11 00.

REPRESENTATIVE SALES.

National Stock Yards.

Yesterday's late sales.

No.	Description.	Av.	Price
19	native steers	1,341	$4 55
18	native steers	1,095	3 60
21	native cows	903	3 00
26	native heifers	705	2 25
94	half-breeds	1,017	3 00
24	half-breeds	980	3 00
21	Indian mixed	766	2 85
81	Indian mixed	740	2 65
24	Texas cows	844	2 40

HOGS—There was a light run of hogs to-day and under a brisk demand they were disposed of early at a shade stronger rates than prevailed yesterday, yorkers bringing from $3 50@3 60, which is about 5c higher than yesterday's best prices. Packing grades sold from $3 35@3 55, and selected butchers $3 60@3 65. Advices were generally favorable and the market ruled firm all through the day at the above rates.

SHEEP—Quiet but steady at $3@3 25 for good to choice and $1 75@2 75 for common to fair.

Horses and Mules.

HORSES—Heavy draught, extra, $135 to $170; heavy draught, good, $115 to $135; saddlers, $125 to $150; drivers, extra, $135 to $170; drivers, good, $80 to $115; Southern horses, $70 to $100; plugs, $30 to $60.

MULES—14 hands, 4 to 7 years old, $75@85; 14½ hands, 4 to 7 years old, $95 to $105; 15 hands, 4 to 7 years old, dull, $105 to $115; 15½ hands, extra, $130 to $140; 16 to 16½ hands, extra, $150 to $160.

Live Stock Markets by Telegraph.

KANSAS CITY, MO., November 7.—Receipts—Cattle 1,511; held over from Friday 5,530; market more active, with prospects fair for first part of next week. Receipts—Hogs 9,244; market active, higher; choice heavy sorted $3 45@3 59; choice heavy $3 40; heavy mixed $3 30@3 35; light $3 30; all the good hogs sold.

CHICAGO, November 7.—Hogs—Receipts 2,100. Market active and firm; 5 cents higher; light $3 30@3 70; rough packing $3 35@3 55; heavy packing and shipping $3 55@3 75. Cattle—Receipts 1,000; steady; shipping $3 50@5 75; butchers $1 50@3 50; stockers $2 40@3 90; Texans $2 50@3 30. Sheep—Receipts 800; market weak; sales at $2@3 90.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Wheat opened ⅛@⅛c lower; later ruled stronger and recovered from decline; fair business. Receipts 232,000 bu; sales 96,000 bu. No. 2 red November 93⅛@93⅜; 1,592,000 bu. do December 95⅛@96⅛, 768,000 bu. do January 97⅛@98; 160,000 bu. do February 99⅛; 168,000 bu do May $1 04⅛@1 04⅜. Corn ⅛@⅛c higher; fairly active; mixed Western spot 36@57; futures 47⅛@55; receipts 69,700 bu; sales 872,000 bu. Oats—⅛@⅛c higher; Western 31@39; receipts 35,150 bu; sales 800,000 bu. Beef dull; new extra mess $10. Pork steady, new mess $9 50@10. Lard higher and firm; steam rendered 6.35. Butter firm; Western 8@25. Sugar dull; crushed 7⅛; powdered 6 11-16@7; granulated 6 5-16. Molasses steady. Eggs—Western fresh 22⅛@24.

BALTIMORE, MD., November 7.—Wheat—Western firmer and dull; No. 2 winter red spot 91@91⅛; November 91⅛@91⅛; December 93⅛@93⅛; January 95⅛@95⅜; February 97⅛@97⅜. Corn—Western firmer; mixed spot and November 49, year 45⅛@47; January 46@46⅛; February 46⅛. Oats firm; Western white 32@34; mixed 29@31. Provisions steady, with moderate inquiry. Mess pork $9 50@10. Lard—Refined 7⅛. Eggs firmer at 24@25. Coffee easier; Rio cargoes ordinary to fair 7⅛@8⅛. Receipts—Flour 1,169 brls; wheat 20,000 bu; corn 26,000 bu; oats 1,000 bu; rye 800 bu. Shipments—Flour 691 brls.

NEW ORLEANS, November 7.—Flour slow; extra fancy $3 25@3 10; fancy $4 75@4 85; choice $4 60. Cornmeal dull at $2 40. Corn declining; mixed, yellow and white 43@44. Oats in fair demand; No. 2 at 34⅛@35. Bran—Only moderate demand at 80@82⅛. Hay—Receipts liberal; prices easy; prime $14 50@16. Provisions firmer, but demand lower. Pork $9. Cut meats—Shoulders 3.80; sides 5; bacon at 3⅛@5⅜; l. c. s. 5⅜. Hams—Choice sugar-cured 10@10⅛. Lard—Refined tcs 6; packers tcs 6⅛. Whisky—Nominal. Exchange on New York 300@125 discount; sight nominal. Cotton—Spot dull and weaker at 9; net receipts 7,61 bales; gross receipts 8,457 bales.

KANSAS CITY, MO., November 7.—The Daily Indicator reports: Wheat—Receipts 1,485 bu; shipments 4,872 bu; in store 844,22 bu; weaker; No. 2 red cash sales at 73⅛@73⅜; December 75⅛ bid, 77⅛ asked; January 78⅛ bid, 79⅛ asked; May sales at 87@87⅛. No. 2 soft cash sales at 83⅛. Corn—Receipts 5,218 bu; shipments 4,019 bu; in store 30,484 bu; steady; No. 2 cash 30 bid; November sales at 30⅛; do year 26⅛ bid; January 29 bid; May 29 bid. Oats nominal. Rye—No. 2 cash 50 bid, 52 asked. Eggs and butter unchanged. Hay unchanged.

CHICAGO, November 7, 11:15 A. M.—Wheat opened weak, sold off to 87⅛c for December, steadied, and has since advanced to 87⅝c. Corn very strong at 41⅜ November. Oats firm at 30⅛ to 30⅝ for May. Pork strong at 9.37⅛ January. Lard 6.05 January.

1 P. M.—Wheat ruled stronger and closed ⅛c higher than yesterday; 86⅞ cash; 88⅛ December; 88⅞ January; 95⅛@95⅜ May. Corn easy and strong; 47⅛ cash; 41⅛ November; 39@39⅛ year. Oats strong; 26⅛ cash; 26⅛ November; 30⅛ May. Rye 60. Barley 67. Flaxseed $1 14. Whisky $1 15. Pork strong and higher: $8 50 cash; $8 55 December, $9 42½ January. Lard firm; 6.00 cash; 6.02½ December; 6.10 January.

CINCINNATI, November 7.—Flour steady and unchanged. Wheat easier and lower; No. 2 red 93⅛@94. Corn strong and higher; No. 2 mixed 44. Oats quiet; No. 2 mixed 27⅛@27⅛. Rye dull; No. 2 65. Barley firm and unchanged. Provisions firm and unchanged. Pork at —. Lard—Prime steam 5.97½. Bulk meats—short ribs 5.10. Bacon steady and unchanged. Whisky steady at $1 09.

TOLEDO, OHIO, November 7.—Wheat quiet and steady; cash 94@94⅛; November 94; December 95 January 96⅛; February 98⅛; May $1 02⅛. Corn dull and firm, cash 45; November 42⅛; year 39; January 38; May 39⅛. Oats quiet; cash 27 bid; May 32. Cloverseed inactive cash $5 47⅛; November $5 47⅛ bid; December $5 55; January $5 60; February $5 65.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., November 7.—Wheat strong; cash 87, December 88, May 95⅛; receipts 17,610 bu; shipments 10,705. Corn strong; No. 2 45. Oats firm; No. 2 26⅛. Rye quiet; No. 1 60⅛. Barley firm; No. 2 56⅛; receipts 46,610 bu; shipments 6,925.

DETROIT, MICH., November 7.—Wheat stronger; No. 1 white 92 cash and November; 93⅛ nominal December; $1 01⅛ bid May; No. 2 red 95 cash and November; 95⅛ bid December; $1 02⅛ bid May; No. 3 red 85 nominal; receipts 23,000 bu. Corn 49. Oats—No. 2 white 31; No. 2 28⅛ bid.

Oil and Petroleum.

PITTSBURG, PA., November 7.—Petroleum was dull, but steady. Prices opened at 107⅛, advanced to 108, and then dropped back to 107⅛ at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Trading is light.

CLEVELAND, November 7.—Petroleum steady. S. W. 110°, 8.

WILMINGTON, November 7.—Turpentine dull at 34⅛.

Foreign.

LIVERPOOL, November 7.—Wheat arrived, dull; corn arrived, nothing offering. Wheat to arrive not much doing; corn to arrive, firmer. California wheat to arrive declined 6d; California wheat off coast 35s 6d. Wheat quiet, with little desire to buy and holders offer freely; No. 2 spring is 1d@7s 3d; red winter 7s@7s 3d; No. 1 California 7s 2d@7s 4d; No. 2 do 6s 11d@7s 2d. Mixed Western firm, with a fair demand at 4s 6d. Demand from United Kingdom and Continent not much doing in wheat and fair for corn.

LIVERPOOL, November 7, 2:30 P. M.—CLOSE—Pork—Holders offer freely; prime mess Eastern 50s; do Western 42s. Lard—Holders offer moderately; spot and November, 32s; steady; December and January 32s. Wheat—Holders offer freely; new No. 2 winter and spring 7s 1⅛d. Flour—Holders offer freely at 8s 4d. Corn—Holders offer moderately; spot November and December 4s 6d; January at 4s 4d; steady.

LONDON, November 7, 12:30 P. M.—Consols opened at 100 5-16 for both money and the account.

THE RIVER.

Height of water above low water mark..........11.2 ft.
Rise in past 24 hours..........0 ft.

Arrivals.

E. C. Elliott, Grand Tower.	W. F. Nisbet, Tenn. River.
Gem City, Keokuk.	Spread Eagle, Grafton.
S. C. Baker, Alton Slough.	Dolphin, St. Genevieve.

Departures.

Pearl, Island No. 8.	City of Natchez, N. Orleans.
E. C. Elliott, Grand Tower.	Belle of Memphis, Vicksburg.
W. F. Nisbet, Tenn. River.	Bald Eagle, Clarksville.
Spread Eagle, Grafton.	Gem City, Keokuk.

Wharf Whisperings.

The Pearl left for Island No. 8, towing one barge.

The Dolphin came in from St. Genevieve with two barges.

The S. C. Baker came in from Alton Slough towing two scows loaded with ice for Huse-Loomis Ice Company.

Weather Bulletin.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
SIGNAL SERVICE U. S. ARMY,
WASHINGTON, November 7, 1885.

The following observations are taken at 7 a. m., 75th meridian time:

STATIONS.	Barom.	Therm.	Wind.	Rainfall in 24 h.	State of Weather
Jacksonville, Fla	30.10	74	S	.....	Cloudy.
Vicksburg	29.94	64	Calm	.78	Cloudy.
New Orleans, La	29.90	75	SE	.....	Threatn'g
Shreveport, La	29.94	57	SW	.20	Fair.
Fort Smith	29.99	42	W	.....	Clear.
Little Rock, Ark	29.91	54	W	.05	Clear.
Galveston, Tex	29.89	74	SW	.....	Foggy.
Memphis, Tenn	29.90	60	SW	.....	Threatng
Nashville, Tenn	29.92	63	SE	1.00	Cloudy.
Louisville, Ky	29.83	67	S	1.14	Cloudy.
Indianapolis, Ind	29.77	58	S	.89	Fair.
Cincinnati, Ohio	29.85	64	SE	.53	Cloudy.
Pittsburg, Pa	29.93	67	S	.17	Lt. Rain.
Chicago, Ill	29.61	58	SW	.10	Clear.
St. Paul, Minn	29.41	40	N	.24	Threatng
La Crosse, Wis	29.42	45	S	.42	Cloudy.
Davenport, Iowa	29.58	42	S	.51	Cloudy.
Des Moines, Iowa	29.51	39	W	.24	Cloudy.
Keokuk, Iowa	29.64	42	SW	.10	Cloudy.
Cairo, Ill	29.87	59	S	.13	Cloudy.
Springfield, Ill	29.67	47	SW	.22	Clear.
St. Louis, Mo	29.73	54	SW	.01	Clear.
Leavenworth, Kan	29.75	38	W	.....	Cloudy.
Omaha, Neb	29.67	35	NW	.15	Cloudy.
Yankton, Dak	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....
Moorhead, Minn	29.68	28	N	.85	Lt. Snow.
Bismarck, Dak	29.94	24	N	.01	Fair.
Fort Buford, Dak	30.07	27	E	.01	Cloudy.
Ft. Assiniboine, Mont	29.94	24	S	.....	Clear.
Fort Custer, Mont	30.08	11	SE	*	Clear.
Deadwood, Dak	30.11	32	SW	.....	Clear.
North Platte, Neb	29.99	25	W	.81	Clear.
Denver, Col	30.30	35	SW	.10	Clear.
West Las Animas	30.13	22	W	.....	Clear.
Dodge City, Kan	30.13	29	W	.....	Clear.
Fort Stockton	30.20	45	Calm	.....	Clear.
El Paso, Tex	30.22	49	NW	.....	Cloudy.
Salt Lake City	30.22	36	SE	.....	Cloudy.

Dash(*)—indicates rainfall inappreciable.

ST. LOUIS, MO., November 7.

STATIONS.	Above low Beach-Mark.	Fall.	Rise.
St. Louis	11.2 ft.	0.0 in.	0.2 ft.
Hermann, Mo	8.0 ft.	0.0 in.	0.4 ft.
Peoria, Ill	9.4 ft.	0.0 in.	0.4 ft.
Warsaw, Ill	7.8	.....	.....
Kansas City	.....	.....	.....

Local Weather Report.

ST. LOUIS, MO., November 7, 1885.

Local Time.	Ther.	Wind Dir.	Wind Vel.	Weather.
1:59 a. m.	59.3	SW	23	Clear.
5:59 a. m.	53.6	SW	28	Clear.
9:59 a. m.	52.0	W	26	Clear.
1:59 p. m.	56.8	W	27	Clear.

Maximum temperature, 66.0.
Minimum temperature, 50.0.
River stage, 11.2 ft. rise 0.2 ft.

G. A. WEBER,
Corporal Sig. Corps, U. S. A.

Indications.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—For the West Gulf States—Fair colder weather; northwesterly winds, with a cold wave in southern portions, causing temperature to fall about 15°. For the Ohio Valley and Tennessee—Colder clearing weather; winds shifting to westerly, with a cold wave, causing temperature to fall about 15°. For the Lower Lake Region—Cloudy weather, with local rains for to-day, followed during Sunday by slightly colder weather; winds shifting to westerly. For the Upper Lake Region—Cloudy weather; local rains, followed during Sunday by colder clearing weather, rising barometer, winds generally shifting to northwest and southwest. For the Upper Mississippi Valley—Clearing colder weather, with fair weather in the southern portion, northwesterly winds, rising barometer. For the Missouri Valley—Fair weather, generally warmer; westerly winds, backing to southerly. The rivers will generally rise slightly.

River Telegrams.

CAIRO, ILL., November 7.—Arrived: Arkansas City, St. Louis, 10 p. m.; City of Bayou Sara, New Orleans, 1 a. m. Departed: Arkansas City, Vicksburg, 2 a. m.; City of New Orleans, New Orleans, 8 a. m.; Bayou Sara, St. Louis, 5 a. m.; Gondola, below, 7 a. m. River 19 feet and rising. Clear and cool.

MEMPHIS, TENN., November 7.—River rising. Departed Wyoming to Cincinnati, 7 a. m.; City of Providence to Vicksburg, 9 a. m. Weather clear.

PITTSBURG, November 7.—River 5 feet 3 inches and rising. Weather cloudy and warm.

CINCINNATI, November 7.—River 18 feet 5 inches and rising. Clear. Thermometer 69. Arrived: Emma Graham, Pittsburg.

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 7, NOON.—River rising; 7 feet 11 inches in canal, 5 feet 9 inches on falls. Business good. Weather fair and cooler. Locals on time.

EVANSVILLE, IND., November 7, NOON.—River rising; 13 feet on gauge. Thomas Sherlock leaves for New Orleans at 2 p. m.

Marine.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Arrived: Steamer City of Richmond from Liverpool.

STEAMBOATS.

LOWER MISSISSIPPI.

St. Louis and New Orleans Anchor Line
UNITED STATES MAIL AND BONDED LINE.
Packets for Natchez, Bayou Sara, Baton Rouge, and New Orleans leave Wednesdays and Saturdays.
CITY OF NATCHEZ..........Bixby, Master
Leaves Saturday, November 7, at 4 p. m.
Packets for Cape Girardeau, Cairo, Hickman, Memphis, Helena, Greenville, Arkansas City and Vicksburg leave Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.
BELLE MEMPHIS..........Baker, Master
Will leave Saturday, November 7, at 5 p. m.
Packets for Ste. Genevieve, St. Mary's, Chester, Wittenburg and Grand Tower.
STR. E. C. ELLIOT..........Lennon, Master
Leaves Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 4 p. m.
JOHN W. CARROLL, Agent.

St. Louis and Mississippi Valley Transportation Company.
For New Orleans—Str. Henry Lourey and barges leaves Saturday, November 7, at 5 p. m. For freight rates to New Orleans and points in Texas, apply to JAS. F. BURDEAU, Agent.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch,
PUBLISHED BY THE DISPATCH PUBLISHING CO.
JOSEPH PULITZER, President.

[Entered at the Post Office at St. Louis, Mo., as second-class mail matter.]

TERMS OF THE DAILY.

One year, postage paid	$9 00
Six months	4 50
Three months	2 25
One month	85
One month (delivered by carrier)	65
By the week (delivered by carrier)	15

Subscribers who fail to receive their paper regularly will confer a favor upon us by reporting the same to this office by postal card.

THE WEEKLY.

One year, postage paid	$1 00
Six months, postage paid	60

All business or news letters or telegrams should be addressed

POST-DISPATCH,
515 and 517 Market street.

TWELVE PAGES.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1885.

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

GRAND (Market, bet. Fifth and Sixth)—The New Magdalen.
OLYMPIC (Bdwy. bet. Walnut and Elm)—Felix McKusick.
POPE'S (Ninth and Olive streets)—Jack o' Diamonds.
PEOPLE'S (Sixth and Walnut streets)—Tony Denier's Co.
STANDARD (7th and Walnut)—Reiley & Woods' Co.
CASINO (Fourth, near Walnut)—Acme Novelty Co.
PALACE MUSEUM (6th, near Franklin av.)—1 p. m. to 10 p. m.
STAR RINK—Nineteenth and Pine.
CRESCENT RINK—Compton avenue and Olive street.
GLOBE RINK—Fifth street and Chouteau avenue.

MATINEES TO-MORROW.

STANDARD—Reily & Wood's Company.
CASINO—Acme Novelty Co

ALL that is needed to give St. Louis a new bridge is a little sand.

THUS far the POST-DISPATCH predictions about the Postmastership are the only ones that have been verified.

IF any change is made in the United States Marshalship, the only one who has any "claim" on the office is Chief of Police HARRIGAN.

AMONG the various explanations given for the acquittal of Mrs. WALKUP the most probable one is that the jury acquitted her because they did not believe her guilty.

THE telegraph wires of all kinds must be put under ground. What is the use of fighting against it? There can be but one end to the fight, and the sooner it comes the better.

THE Mugwump wing and the Blaine wing of the Davenport combination are blaming each other for their joint defeat, and flinging mud at each other with a fury that shows plainly what an unholy and unnatural combination it was.

THE trunk lines propose to fasten their grip on the whole commerce of the country, but St. Louis can afford to view their preparations with unconcern. St. Louis has been squeezed dry and the new combination can no more get an extra rate out of St. Louis than it can get blood out of a turnip.

IF the great trunk lines, the wealthy railroad companies, with their millionaire directors and managers, set an example of boycotting, it is not to be wondered at if their example is followed by poor mechanics here and there who have no other means of living except their week's wages.

IT has been seventeen years since the Servians last massacred a ruler, and they are preparing to serve King MILAN as they served his uncle. It is better to be a Republican officeholder under a Democratic administration than "to be perked up in a glistering grief, and wear a golden sorrow," in one of the brand new kingdoms of Southeastern Europe.

IN answer to an inquiry made to Queen VICTORIA asking her if she was taking part in any Bulgarian intrigues, the Queen requested the publication of an emphatic denial of all the rumors charging her with such conduct. This was where the Queen differed from a Missouri Senator. If she had been a Missouri Senator she would merely have said "Damn the newspapers."

THE telegram of Senator VOORHEES telling the President just what kind of a victory had been won in New York must be accepted as an evidence that the Tall Sycamore of the Wabash has kindly consented to overlook the President's errors, provided they are not repeated. In St. Louis the veteran mossy-backed Bourbons are withholding their opinion until they find out who are going to get the offices.

KANSAS CITY has recently added to its metropolitan features by revealing a case in which a lady who moved in the highest circles of society, as a widow of refinement and culture, varied the monotony of existence by conducting a profitable saloon and grocery business. In any other city this would be considered peculiar, but in Kansas City the ruling idea is to have each inhabitant count two, and little idiosyncracies which swell the census are not only condoned but approved.

A CORRESPONDENT in our Forum gives voice to the very widespread opinion that the lack of work for men is caused by the giving of work to women and children. It is hard to understand the manhood which would ask a woman to starve in order that an able-bodied man might live by doing a woman's work. The facts that present themselves to the impartial observer are that, in Missouri there are millions of acres of good land waiting for the plough, and thousands of women leading lives of shame, while thousands of men are shirking man's work and doing woman's work.

GOVERNOR MARMADUKE is said to be drumming up supporters for Col. TOM PARK as the successor of EPH. B. EWING, who, it is understood, will resign the position of Consul-General to Mexico. Col. PARK is a genial, bright and popular man, but if he knows anything about commerce or the commercial relations of this country, he must have learned it while running the Platte City Landmark and the caucuses of Platte County politics. If our Governor and Senators insist on ignoring the commercial centres of the State and filling the important position of Consul-General to Mexico with men who have had no special training for the work and no practical acquaintance with commercial affairs, the office may be given to some other State. It might have been better for us if a competent citizen of some other State had been appointed instead of Senator COCKRELL's brother-in-law.

THE New York Herald elaborately sets forth five different causes contributing to the election of HILL. (1) The injustice of the sweeping indictment of President CLEVELAND's administration by the Republican State Convention. (2) Mr. HILL's reiterated and almost servile public profession of loyalty to President CLEVELAND and devotion to his political reforms. (3) Mr. HILL's solicitation of the labor vote and the deceitful dealings of the N. Y. Tribune with the Printers' Union. (4) The insults heaped by the latter paper upon the Mugwumps. (5) The revenge of the Republican Stalwarts. The Herald might have added: (6) The support which Mr. BENNETT's paper gave to DAVENPORT after President CLEVELAND had giyen Mr. BENNETT's brother-in-law a fine, fat office.

IT was the ghost of Judge FOLGER that drove Macbeth BLAINE from the New York election banquet last year. The man whom BLAINE's friends in BLAINE's interest slaughtered in 1882 "had borne his faculties so meek" and been "so clear in his great office" that his virtues still "plead like angels, trumpet-tongued, against the deep damnation of his taking off," and there can be no doubt that his friends had a good deal to do with the defeat of DAVENPORT this year, as well as with the triumph of CLEVELAND over BLAINE last year. The party chief who, for his own personal advancement or to head off a possible rival, permits his friends to slaughter their party nominee when he is so eminent, so justly popular and so blameless a candidate as Judge FOLGER was, commits a crime as revolting as MACBETH's, and puts upon his hands and theirs such a stain that "there is not rain enough in the sweet heavens to wash it out." The small Republican vote which the Blaine organs, with the assistance of all the Mugwumps, rallied to the support of BLAINE's candidate in New York the other day tells the story of many thousand Folger men who stayed at home in 1885 to avenge the treachery of 1882.

CHIEF BUSHYHEAD and all the rest of the advocates of tribal communism who are trying to keep the Indian Territory closed against any other form of civil or social organism, are building on an untenable foundation when they set up treaties, or even President VAN BUREN's patent to the Cherokees, against the constitutional power of Congress over the primary disposition of the soil. No matter for what purpose the Cherokees ceded and the United States bought back the Oklahoma district, or any other portion of the lands originally patented to the Cherokees, such purchase and cession wiped out the Cherokee title, and the land is now as much subject to the disposal of Congress as any other unsold land belonging to the Government. Even where land has been sold and patented, or where, as in Texas, the original title was derived from the State and not from the United States, the private owner must hold it subject to the power of eminent domain, under which it can be taken from him for public use. It is nonsense to claim for the Indians any sort of control over the disposal of lands they have sold and ceded to the United States, when the Government unquestionably can, by law, transfer the title of their patented lands from the tribe to individuals in severalty, or ordain that all or any portion of the same shall be sold to the highest bidder for their common benefit.

IT was shown in the POST-DISPATCH a day or two ago that our bridge monopoly levies a tax of $625,000 a year on the coal consumed in St. Louis. More than half of this large sum is a tax upon the fuel used in our industrial establishments. From the bridge tolls on fuel alone we can judge what a heavy tax is laid by that monopoly on the raw material used in our industries, on their product when shipped, and on every article of our commerce that must cross the bridge. This barrier also favors the formation of pooling combinations and discriminations against St. Louis which a free bridge would break up. When to the enormous taxes levied on St. Louis plant and business for State and municipal purposes we add the burden imposed by the bridge tolls, the switching monopoly and the railroad discriminations which accompany these impositions, we cannot wonder that our industries have been injured and our commerce crippled when all else seemed favorable to their prosperity. It is only in flush times that trade can carry such a load, and our only means of casting it off is by securing the site and franchise for a free bridge at Chain-of-Rocks from adverse possession by any railroad interest whatever. Such a bridge can be built for less than the tax which the present monopoly levies on St. Louis business in one year, and no time should be lost in getting the site and franchise placed in safe hands, to be held for the benefit of the city and the public at large.

PROF. LOWE's apparatus for producing water-gas is attracting a good deal of attention in the East. He claims that the labor of one man can produce with his appliances over 62,000 cubic feet of fuel gas to each ton of coal consumed, and that while this gas would be cheaper at 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet than any other fuel, and better and more convenient for any heating purpose, it can be delivered to consumers for 80 cents per 1,000 at a profit representing the difference between $18 60 and the cost of a ton of coal. He claims that the plant is so cheap and the process so simple that fuel gas can be supplied at this rate to towns of not more than 1,000 inhabitants. In order to use the non-luminous combustion of this gas for illuminating purposes, he brings a lighted jet into contact with a spiral of indestructible metal, which, at white heat, becomes brilliantly luminous, producing an incandescent light of twenty-candle power that does not flicker and costs the consumer only one-fourth of a cent per hour. The gas is represented to be simply the product of steam super-heated over a fire-brick surface, then passed through a bed of incandescent coal, and thence through a purifying process to the holder, no other material but coal and water being used. The apparatus has been in operation at the Novelties Exhibition in Philadelphia, where it was successfully applied to a great variety of heating and illuminating purposes, running bake ovens, making steam for power engines, and supplying heat to a restaurant, two confectioneries and a laundry.

FOREIGN ECHOES.

A RUMOR is current on the West African Coast to the effect that the Portugese Government has embarked in the slave trade, having purchased 1,200 slaves from the brutal King of Dahomey to work in some coffee plantations, and that arrangements are being made to convey them to their desination in a gun-boat.

A PHOTOGRAPH has lately been received in England of the portrait of Beethoven recently discovered at Freiburg. It was painted in oils by J. Mahler of Vienna, in 1815, and it is now in the possession of Her Victor Zon Gleichenstein. It is an undoubted portrait, although it differs from many of the existing pictures and busts which according to Sir Geo. Grove either idealize him into a sort of Jupiter Olympus or rob him of all expression. In the Freiburg painting, which is in an excellent state of preservation, the Dutch origin of the composer is evident and the piercing black eyes, which look straight into the face of the spectator, justify the assertion of his biographer that "they were the special feature of his face and it was in them that the earnestness and sincerity of his character beamed forth."

THE Kingdom of Burmah, the probable annexation of which to the British Crown is just now absorbing the consideration of the nation, is, perhaps, the one kingdom in Indo China seriously worth having. It is more than two-thirds the size of France, is accessible by three splendid rivers, of which one—the Irrawaddy—is the most convenient water highway in Asia, and is splendidly fertile almost throughout. The forests are full of teak, the mountains overflow with minerals, and the plains under the rudest culture produce everything cultivated in the tropics. The reservoirs of earth-oil rival those of Pennsylvania or Batoum, and there are large fields of coal ready for the working. Gold is believed to exist in large quantities, and Burmah is the native land of the sapphire, the ruby and the emerald, which have been exported for generations without any visible effect on the supply. The country commands the only easy route into Western China, and, moreover, much of the land is vacant. Whatever the ancient population may have been, it has died away even more completely than that of Assam. There is room for thirty millions of agriculturalists, and with a single line of railway Burmah could be utilized to relieve that terrible multiplication of peasantry in Bengal which has arisen from the very perfection of British rule and which sometimes reduces the most philanthropic officials to despair.

A SUBSCRIPTION list is being formed in Scotland with a view to presenting a free-will offering to the American poet, Walt Whitman.

A DRESDEN paper gives some interesting notes on the Battenberg family, which has suddenly risen to such importance in Europe. About sixty years ago Count Bruehl, who was engaged in the organization of the Dresden Museum, employed an old clerk who kept the count's books, copied his letters and performed other small duties. By sheer accident he gained the favor of the Russian governor, the Grand Duke of Constantine, who took his son, a tall young Saxon, into his regiment and then advanced him with astounding speed to the military degree of colonel and the aristocratic title of count. His only child, a little girl, made an impression upon the heart of Prince Alexander of Hesse, the brother of the late Empress of Russia, who married her. He was obliged, however, in consequence of thus marrying beneath him to give up his Russian career and return to Germany. In Darmstadt the lady received the title of Princess Battenberg and gave birth to three sons. One of these is now the famous Alexander the greatest, Prince of both Bulgarias; the second is the son-in-law of the Queen of England, and the third is the son-in-law of the Grand Duke of Hesse.

IT is not generally known that nitro-glycerine is almost as valuable for a remedy to be taken internally as for explosive purposes of an external nature. Tablets of this material have accordingly been introduced into the British pharmaeopoeia. These tablets differ in shape, some being round, others oval, and others again square, and also in color, some being white, some black and others brown. This is objected to by the Lancet on the ground that so dangerous a remedy should be detectable at sight. Some induce a persistent headache, even when handled, while others have no such effect. Some are stamped prominently with the words "Nitro-Glycerine P. B." while others have nothing to indicate that they are not harmless chocolate drops. The effect is of a powerfully stimulating character, and they are recommended for "angina," neuralgia, headache, asthma and sea-sickness.

AN editor of liberal tendencies in Australia has received a shock. He has been in the habit of writing most eloquent articles on the encouragement of native industry, and also of getting his clothes made by a tailor in the Old Country and forwarded to him. The last box reached him all but empty. There were three tweed suits in it when it left England, but when he opened it he found only one waistcoat. Why the thieves should have left the waistcoat will ever remain a mystery. The well nigh broken-hearted editor instituted inquiries and by and by the thieves were caught. So far well; but there was a rival editor in the land, and, though the little affair has been kept quiet, it reached his ears. While the one editor was rejoicing over the recovery of his garments, the other was busy with a telling article calling attention to a singular circumstance. It was that his rival had roused the continent with impassioned appeals to his readers to encourage the trade of their own land, while at the time he was getting his clothing made in England. There has been quite a stir over the affair.

AN important addition to the British navy was made on October 27 by the launch at Chatham of the armor-plated turret ship Hero. The christening ceremony was performed by the Princess of Leiningen. The Hero is plated with armor twelve inches in thickness and will be equipped with two forty-three-ton breechloaders, mounted in turrets, and four six-inch steel guns, together with a strong armament of Gardner & Nordenfeldt machine, and Hotchkiss six-pounder quick firing guns. The Hero is said to be the best equipped man-of-war in the British navy.

THE new House of Commons will shortly find itself on the horns of a dilemma at least as serious as the Bradlaugh question has proved for the present House. Miss Helen Taylor is standing for one of the divisions of Camberwell (South London), and, if she be elected, the House will have to decide whether or not a woman can sit in Parliament. It has always been assumed that, as a woman cannot vote, she cannot be elected. There is, however, some doubt upon this point. There is no direct statutory prohibition, and the question has never been really raised. It is possible that the returning officer will decline to receive Miss Taylor's nomination, and if so the question will be at once raised in the law courts.

A PROPOSAL is on foot to beg Her Majesty to mark the fiftieth year of her reign in 1886 by reviewing the volunteer troops as in 1881. The reviews then were held at Windsor and Edinburgh, when about 100,000 volunteers marched past the Queen. It is thought that by changing the site of the proposed Southern review to Hyde Park, a much larger attendance of English volunteers could be obtained than on the former occasion. It is stated on good authority that the Queen is taking into grave consideration the policy of abdication at the close of the half century in favor of her son, the Prince of Wales. It is also stated that the English as a nation would greatly favor such an arrangement.

Newspaper Exaggeration.

From the New York WORLD.

The story of "The Three Black Crows," or the proneness of humanity to expand the truth, is receiving a splendid exemplification in journalism just now. A short time ago an old-fashioned Jacksonian Democrat, Mr. John McKnight, of Troy, N. Y., whose name had been unfortunately confounded in the WORLD with that of an ex-jobber in Washington City, sued Mr. Joseph Pulitzer for libel. The enterprising young attorney for the WORLD made an answer which was never seen by his client, and which was drawn in such form as to convey the idea that the wrong man had been sued, to-wit:

"Defendant denies that he is the proprietor or the publisher of the WORLD newspaper, and while admitting that he is an editor thereof, denies that he was in any way, directly or indirectly, connected with, responsible for or concerned in the composition or printing or publication of the alleged libel set forth in the complaint. * * * Defendant has no information sufficient to form a belief as to the circulation of said newspaper in the County of Rensselaer."

Now comes the amusing part of the business. A correspondent of the Herald in Troy sent to his paper a garbled statement in which this answer was so twisted that the Herald was persuaded to inquire: "Who Owns the WORLD?" A newspaper published in Troy declared that the answer as above quoted was sworn to by Mr Pulitzer, whereas that gentleman not only did not swear to it but he never read it, never laid eyes upon it at all. Referring to the matter the Troy Budget gravely asserts that the WORLD is without an owner. Then the exaggeration continues. The Utica Herald says that Mr. Pulitzer "swore emphatically that he is neither editor, proprietor nor publisher of the WORLD," and that he "could not form a belief as to the circulation of the WORLD"—not in Rensselaer County, mind you, but in the whole universe. The Philadelphia Bulletin, referring to the matter, says that Mr. Pulitzer testified, etc., and declared that he knew nothing whatever about the circulation of the WORLD. The New Haven Register declares that Mr. Pulitzer "took oath," etc., and then by way of climax the Philadelphia North American announces as the outgrowth of all this unwarranted exaggeration and misrepresentation that "Jay Gould is the real owner of the WORLD."

It will be interesting to note the crescendo scale upon which this falsification, peculiar to a portion of the press, will proceed hereafter. It will be also instructive to note how many of these newspapers will take the trouble to correct their blundering work by announcing that the WORLD is owned and published by a corporation, and that the gentleman whose name stands at the head of this page is the owner of all the stock of said corporation.

The Junk Man.

From the New York Sun.

If there is anywhere that a newspaper is losing money, and is in a condition of doubtful vitality, the first thing to do is to start a report that John McLean is negotiating to buy it.

MEN OF MARK.

KING MILAN's foot is so large that he is accused of having a sister in Chicago.

JUSTIN McCARTHY has been selected to contest Londonderry in the National interest.

MR. GERHARDT, the artist, was offered $10,000 for the Grant death mask, but declined to sell.

Two soldiers of the Light Brigade made famous by Tennyson's boom are residing in New York.

CANON FARRAR is of the opinion that Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter" is the ablest novel ever written by an American.

GEORGE W. CABLE, the novelist, began to write for the New Orleans Picayune. He is a clever amateur banjoist.

JUSTICE BRADLEY, sometimes called irreverently "Old Aliunde" sleeps unblushingly in court after listening a few minutes.

IT has been found that Banker Fish looks very much like John Quincy Adams. Which of our Presidents does Ferd Ward resemble?

THE Minister of the Argentine Republic never signs his name in a Washington hotel without giving himself the title of "His Excellency."

C. M. LEWIS, the Yale class poet of 1885, is a brother of J. M. Lewis, the class poet of 1883, and they are the sons of C. T. Lewis, the class poet of 1853.

SENATOR GEORGE is said by Mississippi papers to have almost entirely recovered from an affection of the eye with which he has long been afflicted.

THOMAS JAMES of Gainsville, Fla., is the father of fifty-four children, thirty-three of them still living at home with him. He had three wives, all living at the same time.

GENERAL T. L. ROSSER, the ex-cavalry commander, is building a handsome residence at Charlottesville, Va. He is very rich, and has made his money since the war.

AT a "tournament" at Spearfish, Dak., a running start of seventy yards was given to a steer, and Cowboy Driscoll overtook him, lassoed and threw him, and, dismounting, tied his feet in forty-one seconds.

M. C. JOHNSON of Lexington, Ky., is arguing at Frankfort a case which has been on the docket for seventy years, and in which he himself has been engaged for a half century, and yet the suit is not worn out.

COLONEL JAMES EDWARD CALHOUN of Elberton, Ga., a man of letters, wealth and eccentricity, and a near relative of John C. Calhoun, will be married in December to a fair widow of that State. He is 90 years of age.

NAT GOODWIN, the actor, once received a West Point cadetship from John Morrissey, and remained at the institution about five weeks. Four weeks of that time, he says, he spent in the guard house. Then he left.

AUGUSTE DORCHAIN, poet and dramatist, the latest "conveyer" of Shakespeare into French, is but 28 years old, and is the author of a volume of poems—"La Jeunesse Pensive"—lately crowned by the Academie Francaise.

MR. GLADSTONE in his contribution to the book, "Why I am a Liberal," defines the principle of Liberalism to be a trust in the people qualified by prudence, and the principle of Toryism to be mistrust of the people qualified by fear.

LORD BUTE's new palace, just completed, covers an acre, and cost nearly a million pounds sterling. It contains a grand marble staircase, made of Carrara marble, and three libraries and a billiard room, all in carved stone. One wing contains Turkish baths and a swimming pool.

PROF. FRANZ LANGE of the Woolwich Royal Military Academy has taken the prize offered by the Berlin Das Echo for the best translation of Tennyson's Ode to Beatrice on the occasion of her marriage to Battenberg. Hundreds of competitive translations were offered, most of them better in German than the original in English.

WOMEN OF THE WORLD.

MRS. McCLELLAN will spend the winter in New York City.

MME. ALICE FLEURY DURAND is the real name of the French novelist, Henri Greville.

GAIL HAMILTON will spend a portion of the coming winter in Mr. Blaine's home at Augusta, Me.

ULTRA fashionable ladies in New York import their dresses from Japan and give "Mikado" receptions.

MAUDE BANKS has written a domestic play on the story of "Old Robin Gray," which will be produced before long.

THE Countess of Carnarvon and Lady Herbert go the rounds of the leading London hospitals and leave flowers with the sick.

EIGHT months ago a Connecticut woman lost her voice. Last week she recovered it while coughing to relieve a tickling sensation in her throat.

THE footmen who wait solely upon the Queen of Sweden and her daughters wear a very quaint uniform, consisting of a tunic, a petticoat and breeches edged with gold lace.

IN all her recent drives Queen Victoria has been taking Battenberg, her new son-in-law, out with her as often as possible, in the hope of popularizing him with the people.

LADY JOHN MANNERS is one of the greatest advocates of sewing in England and is doing everything in her power to have girls of every condition in life learn to make their own dresses.

"SPEAKING of superstition, ladies," said the minister, "do you think any woman would consent to be married on Friday?" "Yes," spoke up one of the ladies, "she would—if it was her last chance."

PALATKA is a nice place for young men to go to. Two-thirds of the wealth of the town is to be inherited by young girls with orange groves. Their fathers have no sons and no poor relations. These groves will average an income of $40,000 clear of all expenses.

AT the wedding of the eldest son of Lord Colville to Miss Streatfield the six youthful bridesmaids wore white, with sashes, braces, cuffs and collars of ruby surah. They also wore wide white hats, with ruby pompons in front, red stockings and shoes and carried bouquets of red roses.

MRS. COLES, daughter of ex-Senator Thurman, is building a handsome house at Richmond Hill, Long Island, near that of her sister, Mrs. McCormick. Governor McCormick, formerly of Arizona, who married the other Miss Thurman, was the son of a New York merchant, who lived out on Long Island.

THE METROPOLITAN PRESS.

What the Editors of the New York Journals Are Saying This Morning.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The WORLD says: "General Logan seeks through the columns of the WORLD to-day to defend himself from the Mugwump-Republican charge that his recent speeches in the State damaged the cause of Davenport. He makes a very fair showing from his standpoint, though the WORLD must maintain that it understood from the first that the fiery old Tybalt's business in the State was to waft the bloody shirt. We were somewhat disappointed in the mildness of General Logan's speeches, though they doubtless stirred up a good many Democrats who were disposed to be apathetic, and thereby increased Mr. Hill's plurality."

THE SUN.

The Sun says: "The action of the colored citizens of Virginia last Tuesday, more than anything they have done since their emancipation, vindicates their capacity to exercise the suffrage with intelligence and places them on a footing with the whites, which assures their rights and brightens their future."

THE TIMES.

The Times says: "The conduct of Mr. Randall during the last session of Congress in blocking the way of important legislation with the appropriation bills is likely to lead to a very important and very desirable amendment of the rules of the House. The distribution of the appropriation bills among the committees having charge of the various interests for which they provide, would at once relieve the Appropriations Committee from a burden of labor which has been made an excuse for dilatory action and deprive its chairman of a power over legislation which experience has shown may be grossly abused."

THE TRIBUNE.

The Tribunes says: "For years all the Democrats and a part of the so-called Republicans have been defending crimes against the purity of elections at the South, denying their existence or sneering at every mention of them and calling it a revival of 'the sectional issue.' It is strange that the minds of men once decent are becoming demoralized? Is it strange that partisans begin to think that notorious fraud may as well prevail at the North as at the South?"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

STRANGER—We know of no such agency as you speak of.

D. F.—Mr. Stuart Robson is the gentleman with the very peculiar voice.

C. C.—Three cent stamped envelopes are redeemable at the stamp window of the Post Office.

D. P. M.—The Veiled Prophet's parade last year passed Sixteenth and Olive streets, going west.

ENQUIRER—If St. Ange avenue should be designated numerically it would be called Fourteenth street.

OLD SUBSCRIBER (Little Rock)—You can get the book "Dark Days" at any bookstore. Any bookseller in Little Rock will get it for you if he has not got it in stock.

H. DYER.—A juror receives $1 50 a day. Residents of St. Louis, not citizens, are required to serve. A juror must serve whenever his name is drawn. The law punishes a drummer just as it would punish his employer, for attempting to evade jury duty, with fine, and in extreme cases with imprisonment.

READER—As the law provides that the stands at the Union Market shall be auctioned off on May 1 and November 1, Comptroller Campbell will not auction the new stands to be erected on Sixth street for the period between the time of their completion and May 1, but will use his discretion in letting them to the most desirable bidder.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Through the Mud.

ST. LOUIS, November 7, 1885.

To the Editor of the POST-DISPATCH.

The patrons of the Franklin Avenue Railway Company who have to walk through the mud twice a day at the stables of that company want to know why their protests are constantly ignored.

It is simply an outrage to compel the passengers to change cars and await the outgoing of cars from those stables, when the management could easily obviate all the annoyance and inconvenience by letting one out of every three or four cars run through.

Influenced by the disagreeable fact that changes will have to be made at the stables the coming winter, many people have changed their residence and commenced patronizing other lines, and the result is a large number of empty houses "to rent." There are, manifestly, enough people living west of the stables to justify this complaint, and their wishes should command attention and redress.

A company that has been noted for its liberality in the past ought not disregard their protests and should put on through cars at once, and thus show their patrons that they are entitled to some degree of consideration. If the cars are run for the accommodation of the people, the company cannot any too soon commence to accommodate.

A PATRON.

Crowded Out.

ST. LOUIS, MO., November 6, 1885.

To the Editor of the POST-DISPATCH.

In this evening's issue you print a clipping from the Boston Herald, entitled "The Tramp Question," which sapiently (?) attributes present business depression to high tariff. If one will but stand on our leading thoroughfares at "early morn or dewy eve," and see the troops of females passing to and from our offices, stores and factories, he will observe a more potent factor than the one alleged. Girlhood, boyhood and womanhood gives manhood no chance—except where the former triune are unavailable. They have invaded almost every trade and profession and are driving the "Lords of Creation" from the field of labor. Penurious capitalists command their services at half wages, and they, accepting, blame the sterner sex for their penchant for bachelorhood. No man desires to wed starvation; if our work-women want husbands let them abandon the harvest field of labor to male gleaners—or spinsterhood is certain to crown the majority of the usurpers.

ONE OF THE CROWDED OUT.

Enjoyed Himself in Pittsburg.

From the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

"Well, did you enjoy yourself?" asked a resident of the lumber region of a prominent citizen who had been spending a few days in the city.

"You bet I did," was the reply.

"Had a nice time, I suppose?"

"That's what's the matter. Why, down there at Pittsburg there are places where you can get beer at three cents a glass."

When the Old Lady Broke a Plate.

From the Philadelphia Herald.

"Did he pop the question last night?" eagerly asked the mother as the daughter came down late to breakfast. "No, not quite." "What did he say?" "Why, he squeezed my hand twice and said that he believed I'd make some man an excellent wife if the fellow had sense enough to take me so far away that you couldn't visit me more than once in twenty years."

Lucky Sophomores.

From the Princetonian.

The ladies of the Cornell freshman class by a combination succeeded in electing the vice-president and secretary from their number. This will add an interesting phase to the freshman class supper, where the sophomores have a custom of carrying off both the supper and the officers.

But Think of the Fun You Have.

From the New York Sun.

Some one has estimated that the time thrown away in this world in courting the girl you want to marry, and who is ready to marry you, would build all the railroads and bridges and tunnels and factories and public buildings.

Dreads That Kind of Anti-Fat.

From a Washington Letter.

I see numerous stories about President Cleveland being about to marry this or that woman. There is nothing in them. He is growing fat as a bachelor President, and has enough political troubles not to seek matrimonial ones.

Lawyers All Out of Town?

From the Hackensack Republican.

One of the most remarkable facts ever noted in regard to our court room is that a gentleman placed an umbrella under the clerk's desk at 10 a. m. Monday and found it there at 5 p. m.

Labor's Friend.

From the Nashville World.

The friend of labor is usually looking on while others work and then appropriating the larger part of the proceeds.

All That the South Asks For.

From the Nashville American.

The South does not ask for much. Give her at least her own country postmasters and her own deputy marshals.

THE AUTOCRAT RAILROAD POOL.

The Question of Rates to be Considered by the Executive Committee.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The Times says of the pool contracts of the trunk railroads: "The agreement signed is essentially that published yesterday. Commissioner Fink, in making the official announcement of the signing of the new contract, stated the principal point in which it differed from the old pooling contract was in the assumption of responsibility on the part of the trunk lines for the acts of their western connections. The question of rates was not taken up and will be considered by the Executive Committee. No action was taken by the presidents concerning the position of the Baltimore and Ohio relative to passenger business in the new pool, this also being left for future settlement. After the signatures of the presidents had been affixed to the new agreement it was sent to all the immediate connections of the trunk lines, and assurances were given that these roads would join in the agreement, which thus becomes a fixed basis for the government of all the roads concerned."

ENFORCING THE SUNDAY LAW.

An Arkansas Preacher Found Guilty of Working on the Sabbath Day.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK., November 7.—One of the most interesting cases that has for some time been tried in our Circuit Court was disposed of yesterday morning. A minister of the Seven Day Adventists faith was charged with Sabbath breaking by laboring on that day. The case was ably argued in behalf of the State by Prosecuting Attorney J. Frank Wilson, and ex-Senator J. D. Walker and J. V. Walker for the defendant. The jury were out only five minutes and returned a verdict of guilty. The case was argued strictly on constitutional grounds and will likely go to the Supreme Court of the United States.

A TERRIFIC STORM.

Houses Blown Down at Decatur, Ala.—A Steamboat Totally Demolished.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., November 7.—A special from Decatur, Ala., gives the details of a terrific storm there last night. Houses were blown down, trees uprooted, fencing destroyed and other great damage done. J. T. Wilder, a steamboat at the wharf, was almost totally demolished by the wind, and another steamboat, the Shell Mound, sustained serious injuries.

A PLUCKY CONSTABLE.

Lillian Russell's Effects Attached by a Member of Her Company.

NEW YORK, November 7.—The box office receipts, scenery and wardrobes of the Lillian Russell Company were seized under two attachments at the Newark Opera House last night to satisfy the claims of Emiline Richards, a member of the company, for $259. The constable serving the writ was resisted at the box office and knocked the ticket seller down before securing the money.

RAILROAD REORGANIZATION.

The Bondholders of the Shreveport and Houston Narrow Gauge Take Possession.

SHREVEPORT, LA., November 7.—The negotiations between Simon Levi, the receiver, and the bondholders of the Shreveport and Houston Narrow Gauge Railway Company, settled last night by the bondholders assuming and paying all the indebtedness. E. L. Bremond was elected president, vice F. D. Jacobs, resigned. G. G. P. Shelton and Neil McDonald of New York were elected directors.

A Family Tragedy.

LAGUACHE, COL., November 7.—One of the most interesting murder trials that ever took place begun here yesterday. John D. Clements, his son, Marshall Clements, and his two daughters, Kate and Mono Clements, are on trial for the murder of Thomas Clements and his wife, committed in August last. The murdered man was rather more successful in life than the other members of the family, and, as he quarreled with the family about his wife, he desired to move from the family homestead, thus reducing the income of the household. An attempt was made to poison the couple and he was finally shot by Marshall Clements, who subsequently shot his wife to prevent her giving evidence.

New York's Apple Crop.

BUFFALO, N. Y., November 7.—The apple crop of Niagara County this year is estimated at 800,000 barrels, the largest yield ever known. The fruit is of excellent quality. The average price is about $1 85 a barrel. The splendid yield will fully compensate for the loss of the potato crop, which is practically a failure.

Larabee's Majority.

DES MOINES, IOWA, November 7.—From returns received up to an early hour this morning the Register places the majority of Larabee, Republican candidate for Governor, at 7,664.

The Type-Stickers Happy.

NEW YORK, November 7.—It is announced that the New York Tribune has advanced its rates of composition to 47 cents per 1,000 ems.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Items of Interest and Gossip From jacent Towns.

Special Correspondence of the POST-DISPATCH.

ALTON, ILL., November 6.—The Union giving services will be held at the Congr Church this year.—The effects of the la Club are to be sold at auction during the —Capt G. W. Neill, of the Eagle Pack pany, has removed his family here from —The Glass-Blowers will give their annu Turner Hall, the 17th instant.—The Trade will rent the rooms vacated by Club.—The Grand Jury, now in se return about forty indictments.—The the appointment of gauger here excite deal of comment.

JERSEYVILLE, ILL., November 6.—Dr. Enos is spending the week in Chetopa, Ka E. Hibbie and family departed Wednesda ing for Florida to reside.—Fred. Ege bride are spending their honeymoon in City.—C. R. Hutchison and wife are visi parents near Decatur, Ill.—Mrs. Walter is visiting in Chatham, Ill.—Hon. A. A. was in St. Louis Wednesday.—Mrs. Leigh visited in Kane this week.—The Corbett Dramatic Company played Tuesd and stranded. Most of the troupe steer Louis.

DE SOTO, MO., November 6.—The social event of the season was marriage Kora Thomas to Mr. J. W. Evens, at the the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. Thomas, on last Wednesday night, at Dr. Tudor, of the St. Louis Centenary M. E officiated.—Dr. Kennet, of the best-kn most successful physicians of Jefferson lying dangerously ill at his home in De S blood poisoning.—Mrs. Mocalmann, was despaired of on Monday and Tuesday week, is slowly convalescing.—Miss Hardesty, of St. Louis, spent a few days guest of the Misses Thomas.—Mrs. B was struck by a railroad car in cro track in front of her house, on Monday, the injury received, yesterday, after suf tolerable agony for two days.—Rev. L. paid De Soto a flying visit on Monday, pre to making his home in Carondelet.

SHELBYVILLE, ILL., November 6.—Mi Hudson of Terre Haute spent Sunday and with the Misses Stephenson on her way ho St. Louis.—Mrs. H. S. Mouser of Dakota, is here on a visit.—Mrs. George Canton is the guest of Mrs. A. Gregory.—Libbie Birkett and Maggie French of Tod spent the Sabbath here.—Miss Pearl Kansas, and Miss Jennie Hunt of Assum spending a week with Mrs. James Ward, Weakley went to St. Louis Monday.— Phillips has returned from Taylorville.— Shaffer of Windsor has been visiting Mrs. Gunnett.—Rev. J. H. Noble is attendin isterial conference at Neoga.—Several rain have seriously delayed farmers in corn.

CARROLLTON, ILL., November 6.—The Company is doing so large a business tha it necessary to move their quarters and m improvements.—Miss Mary Clark is v brother's family in Chicago.—Miss Gr is in Jacksonville.—Miss Clara Powell i hall.—Mrs. Mamie Dix of St. Louis has recently.—Miss Allie Brennan of Wind been the guest of Mrs. John G. Henders C. W. Keley was with relatives in Pike —Mrs. Mark Taylor of St. Louis has b her mother, Mrs. Laura Wright.— Simpson is home from an extended visit and Belleville.—Carrollton needs a fire —Miss Amanda Jackson left last Sa her home in Rushville.—Mrs. Gus New with her two daughters from Chicago, guests of Mrs. J. T. Cameron.—Gen. tiss, the hero of Shiloh, will deliver his l on Tuesday evening, the 24th.

WARRENSBURG, MO., November 6.— man of Odessa is the guest of her frie and Mrs. W. L. Hornbuckle.—Capt. S. Holden was here Wednesday on busines Ruffin of Colorado is visiting his siste Mrs. W. H. Anderson, jr., returned from Nashville, Tenn., where she has b relatives.—A Chautauqua Circle was o the residence of Mr. Jos. Stone, on Ho last Tuesday evening. Meetings wil weekly at the residence of the different —Miss Nellie Corum of Knobnoster ha guest of friends in this city.—Miss Ad is visiting friends here.—H. Martin W turned from Iowa Wednesday morning.

PIERCE CITY, MO., November 6. Horn, who came here last spring from pastor of the Christian Church, will Sunday give up the charge on account —There are 150 students enrolled in City Baptist College, a larger number ever been in attendance at any previous Mr. McCasky of the Ozark, at Sprin leased for a term of seven years the here, which will be christened the Wind new time-table of the 'Frisco, which effect next month will bring the train 7 in the morning instead of 9, as at pre passengers will breakfast here.— Church festival last night, notwithstan clement weather, proved a decide —November 12 St. John's will be held at Armory

MARYVILLE, MO., November 6.—Gro man were refused a dramshop licen County Court by reason of their not required block petition. This is the firs move of the Prohibitionists, and closes the finest saloons in the State.—Mrs. has returned from a pleasant visit to fri Oak, Iowa.—The Maryville Times purchased by the Democrat, and Rep The Baptist people are having a very series of protracted services.—Mr Thompson was baptized last night at of worship.

NEVADA, MO., November 6.—Mrs. Sa Lamar, Mo., is in the city, the gu McAfee.—John A. Tyler and daug Sedalia, Mo., on a visit.—Mrs. Dr. Ann returned from a visit to relatives and Harrisonville, Mo.—Miss Bina Shive field, Mo., is the guest of Mrs. Dr. Cl Ida Crowley, of St. Joe, is in the city her mother, Mrs. Miller.—Dr. J. F has returned from a visit to his parent County.—Captain J. M. Davison lef ing trip to Vinita, I. T.—Bella Clark this week with friends here.—Fran Sioux City, Iowa., is visiting his broth Harvey.—Mrs. Col. A. C. Dawes, of Mo., is visiting among friends.—C. general passenger agent, and G. M. Jor freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, in our city yesterday.—Miss Agnes returned home after a week's visit Scott, Kan.—Mayor Ingels has ret St. Louis, Mo.

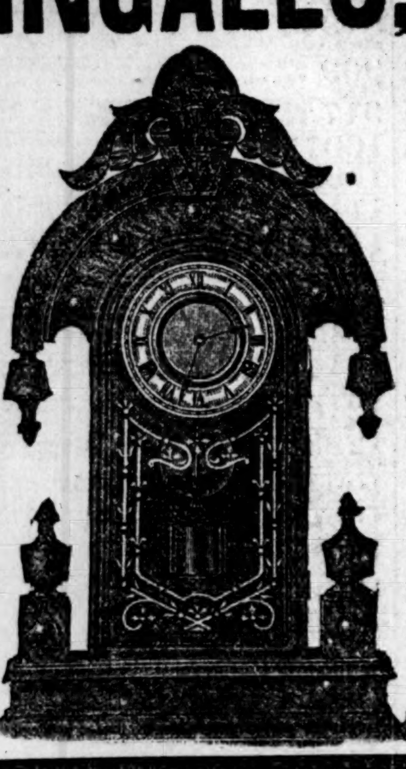
ST. CHARLES, MO., November 7.— Gauss, formerly of this place, but no County, Mo., is visiting friends here.— Lefaivre returned home Friday from to friends at Portage, Mo.—Mrs. Gardner and company are here.—Me and Hilary Hayden of St. Paul, Mo., w Thursday.—Mr. J. A. Boeschert from a visit to his sister, Mrs. Henry Edwardsville, Ill.—Probate Court Monday. Judge W. W. Edwards wi at Clayton, Mo., next week.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, MO., Novembe Robertson of St. Louis preached in th Church here last night and after the firmed nine candidates. The audience church was completely filled.—T students of the S. E. Normal hold a reu chapel. Part of the entertainment con tations, essays and orations.—Mrs. Ju of Murphysboro, Ill., left for her hom after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs lton.—Miss Amelia Hirsch accom sister, Mrs. H. W. Krayer, home to St. she intends to spend the winter.—M B. Carroll is entertaining Mrs. Samue New Madrid this week.—Mr. and M returned home yesterday after visiting Cincinnati and Maysville, Ky. Mays Painter's former home, that he had sixty-one years.

JOPLIN, MO., November 6.—Mrs. and Mrs. Young, daughters of Mr. E Carrollton, Mo., who has been paying of several weeks, parted with him ye return home. He was accompanied Moffett, who will spend several mo family at Carrollton.—Miss Mami step-daughter of Mr. M. A. Grant of dangerously ill.—The mile-long Mai city, the rival to that extent of New Road," is at length receiving due a gards its sidewalks by order of the Council, upon the "Apples of Gold Silver" principle.—The Chautauqua terday at the residence of Mrs. W. The Progressive Euchre Club were e night at Mrs. J. C. Lewis.—Mr. T ternal Revenue Collector, was here This afternoon the ladies of the Ep met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. —Messrs. Luther McGehee and Bu within an ace of being crushed to de boulders in separate mines this week

COLUMBIA, MO., November 7.— Howard of Trinidad, Col., is visiti Mrs. J. K. Rogers. Rev. A. A. Pfan of Troy, Mo., arrived here Monday.— Crumbaugh, who has been spending with Miss Dicky of St. Louis, has re —J. K. Hickman, wife and son a Sid Cunningham is Washington C ty. Marmaduke was expected in Colum but did not arrive.—Linn S. Ba City is visiting relatives and friends —The Columbia Herald has about necessary equipments for the printin reports, and will have all the departm ing order in a short time. Mr. Ste prietor, has added greatly to the bus of this place.—Quite a number attended the Young-Foley wedding weeks. Dr. Young was formerly of Miss Foley has visited here.—Mi returned from St. Louis, where s for quite a while.—H. C. Weil

INGALLS, 1007 OLIVE ST.



This New Price List will open your eyes. Read Every Word.

Price $6 for this 8-Day Striking Clock with Alarm, guaranteed for 2 years.

I have 200 other styles ranging from $1 up to $100 each. You can buy of me for cash or on my own easy payment plan. Take your choice Hanging Lamps from $1.50 to $18. Best quality Silver Plated Casters, Butter Dishes, Knives, Forks, Spoons, etc., at bottom prices. Fine Illustrated Bibles 25 per cent less than ever before. Photograph Albums in the latest designs. Fine Pier Glasses and Mirrors, and a full line of Solid Gold Jewelry and Watches. Pictures to please everybody, Frames made to order in my own factory. New Steel Engravings and Pastels just received. Remember my prices are down to rock bottom and my terms for time payments are so easy that thousands of ladies are fitting up their homes so easy they never miss the money.

PRICE $1.50, for this Latest and Best Electric Lamp, all complete with Chimney It is full size and first-class.

INGALLS

1007 Olive St., bet. 10th and 11th.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Items of Interest and Gossip From the Adjacent Towns.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

Alton, Ill., November 6.—The Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the Congregational Church this year.——The effects of the late Alton Club are to be sold at auction during the month.——Capt G. W. Neill, of the Eagle Packet Company, has removed his family here from Hannibal.——The Glass-Blowers will give their annual ball in Turner Hall, the 17th instant.——The Board of Trade will rent the rooms vacated by the Alton Club.——The Grand Jury, now in session, will return about forty indictments.——The delay in the appointment of gauger here excites a great deal of comment.

Jerseyville, Ill., November 6.—Dr. C. W. Enos is spending the week in Chetopa, Kan.——W. E. Hibbie and family departed Wednesday morning for Florida to reside.——Fred. Egeinoff and bride are spending their honeymoon in Kansas City.——C. R. Hutchison and wife are visiting their parents near Decatur, Ill.——Mrs. Walter E Carlin is visiting in Chatham, Ill.——Hon. A. A. Goodrich was in St. Louis Wednesday.——Mrs. Wallace Leigh visited in Kane this week.——The Aymar-Corbett Dramatic Company played Tuesday night and stranded. Most of the troupe steered for St. Louis.

De Soto, Mo., November 6.—The notable social event of the season was marriage of Miss Kora Thomas to Mr. J. W. Evens, at the house of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. John L. Thomas, on last Wednesday night, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Tudor, of the St. Louis Centenary M. E. Church, officiated.——Dr. Kennet, of the best known and most successful physicians of Jefferson County, is lying dangerously ill at his home in De Soto, from blood poisoning.——Mrs. Moculmann, whose life was despaired of on Monday and Tuesday of this week, is slowly convalescing.——Miss Lizzie Hardesty, of St. Louis, spent a few days here, the guest of the Misses Thomas.——Mrs. Butts, who was struck by a railroad car in crossing the track in front of her house, on Monday, died from the injury received, yesterday, after suffering intolerable agony for two days.——Rev. L. W. Allen paid De Soto a flying visit on Monday, preparatory to making his home in Carondelet.

Shelbyville, Ill., November 6.—Miss Eliza Hudson of Terre Haute, spent Sunday and Monday with the Misses Stephenson on her way home from St. Louis.——Mrs. H. S. Mouser of Hitchcock, Dakota, is here on a visit.——Mrs. George Higbee of Canton is the guest of Mrs. A. Gregory.——Misses Libbie Birkett and Maggie French of Todd's Point spent the Sabbath here.——Miss Pearl Pound of Kansas, and Miss Jennie Hunt of Assumption, are spending a week with Mrs. James Ward.——J. T. Weakley went to St. Louis Monday.——Mrs. J. H. Phillips has returned from Taylorville.——Minnie Shaffer of Windsor has been visiting Mrs. A. H. Gunnett.——Rev. J. H. Noble is attending the ministerial conference at Neoga.——Several days of rain have seriously delayed farmers in gathering corn.

Carrollton, Ill., November 6.—The Creamery Company is doing so large a business that they find it necessary to move their quarters and make some improvements.——Miss Mary Clark is visiting her brother's family in Chicago.——Miss Grace Devine is in Jacksonville.——Miss Clara Powell is in Whitehall.——Mrs. Mamie Dix of St. Louis has been here recently.——Miss Allie Brennan of Winchester has been the guest of Mrs. John G. Henderson.——Mrs. C. W. Kelley was with relatives in Pike this week.——Mrs. Mark Taylor of St. Louis has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Laura Wright.——Miss Jennie Simpson is home from an extended visit to St. Louis and Belleville.——Carrollton needs a fire company.——Miss Amanda Jackson left last Saturday for her home in Rushville.——Mrs. Gus Newman is here with her two daughters from Chicago. They are guests of Mrs. J. T. Cameron.——Gen. B. F. Prentiss, the hero of Shiloh, will deliver his lecture here on Tuesday evening, the 24th.

Warrensburg, Mo., November 6.—Mrs. Coleman of Odessa is the guest of her friends, Judge and Mrs. W. L. Hornbuckle.——Capt. S. T. Allen of Holden was here Wednesday on business.——Chad Ruffin of Colorado is visiting his sister here.——Mrs W. H. Anderson, jr., returned Wednesday from Nashville, Tenn., where she has been visiting relatives.——A Chautauqua Circle was organized at the residence of Mr. Jos. Stone, on Holden street, last Tuesday evening. Meetings will be held weekly at the residence of the different members.——Miss Nellie Corum of Knobnoster has been the guest of friends in this city.——Miss Addie Mason is visiting friends here.——H. Martin Williams returned from Iowa Wednesday morning.

Pierce City, Mo., November 6.—Rev. Mr Horn, who came here last spring from Colorado as pastor of the Christian Church, will after next Sunday give up the charge on account of ill health.——There are 150 students enrolled in the Pierce City Baptist College, a larger number than have ever been in attendance at any previous session.——Mr. McCasky of the Ozark, at Springfield, has leased for a term of seven years the new hotel here, which will be christened the Windsor.——The new time-table of the 'Frisco, which will go into effect next month will bring the train here about 7 in the morning instead of 9, as at present, and the passengers will breakfast here.——The Baptist Church festival last night, notwithstanding the inclement weather, proved a decided success.——November 12 St. John's festival will be held at Armory Hall.——

Maryville, Mo., November 6.—Gross & Lippman were refused a dramshop license by the County Court by reason of their not having the required block petition. This is the first successful move of the Prohibitionists, and closes out one of the finest saloons in the State.——Mrs. Ed Forsyth has returned from a pleasant visit to friends at Red Oak, Iowa.——The Maryville Times has been purchased by the Democrat and Republican.——The Baptist people are having a very successful series of protracted services.——Mrs. Lawyer Thompson was baptized last night at their house of worship.

Nevada, Mo., November 6.—Mrs. Sallie Fain, of Lamar, Mo., is in the city, the guest of C. B. McAfee.——John A. Tyler and lady went to Sedalia, Mo., on a visit.——Mrs. Dr. Annerman has returned from a visit to relatives and friends at Harrisonville, Mo.——Miss Bina Shivley, of Deerfield, Mo., is the guest of Mrs. Dr. Cline.——Mrs. Ida Crowley, of St. Joe, is in the city the guest of her mother, Mrs. Miller.——Dr. J. R. Buchanan has returned from a visit to his parents in Lincoln County.——Captain J. M. Davison left on a hunting trip to Vinita, I. T.——Bella Clark is spending this week with friends here.——Frank Errett, of Sioux City, Iowa., is visiting his brothers Gene and Harvey.——Mrs. Col. A. C. Dawes, of St. Joseph, Mo., is visiting among friends.——C. C. Barrett, general passenger agent, and G. M. Jordan, general freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, were visitors in our city yesterday.——Miss Agnes Newbauer returned home after a week's visit from Fort Scott, Kan.——Mayor Ingels has returned from St. Louis, Mo.

St. Charles, Mo., November 7.—Mr. Eugene Gauss, formerly of this place, but now of Boone County, Mo., is visiting friends here.——Mrs F. E. Lefaivre returned home Friday from a week's visit to friends at Portage, Mo.——Mrs. Chas. A. Gardner and company are here.——Messrs. Joseph and Hilary Hayd n of St. Paul, Mo., were in town Thursday.——Mr. J. A. Boeschert has returned from a visit to his sister, Mrs. Henry Harles, of Edwardsville, Ill.——Probate Court meets next Monday. Judge W. W. Edwards will hold court at Clayton, Mo., next week.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., November 5.—Bishop Robertson of St. Louis preached in the Episcopal Church here last night and after the service confirmed nine candidates. The audience room of the church was completely filled.——To-night the students of the S. E. Normal hold a reunion in their chapel. Part of the entertainment consists of recitations, essays and orations.——Mrs. Judge Albright of Murphysboro, Ill., left for her home Tuesday, after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. Kate Hamilton.——Miss Amelia Hirsch accompanied her sister, Mrs. H. W. Krayer, home to St. Louis, where she intends to spend the winter.——Mrs. Major A. B. Carroll is entertaining Mrs. Samuel Philips of New Madrid this week.——Mr. and Mrs. J. Painter returned home yesterday after visiting in St. Louis, Cincinnati and Maysville, Ky. Maysville was Mr. Painter's former home, that he had not visited in sixty-one years.

Joplin, Mo., November 6.—Mrs. O. R. Moffett and Mrs. Young, daughters of Mr E. Hostetter of Carrollton, Mo., who has been paying them a visit of several weeks, parted with him yesterday on his return home. He was accompanied by Miss Lillie Moffett, who will spend several months with his family at Carrollton.——Miss Mamie Chessman, step-daughter of Mr. M. A. Grant of Wall street, is dangerously ill.——The mile-long Main street of this city, the rival to that extent of New Orleans' "Shell Road," is at length receiving due attention as regards its sidewalks by order of the present City Council, upon the "Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver" principle.——The Chautauqua Club met yesterday at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Picker.——The Progressive Euchre Club were entertained last night at Mrs. J. C. Lewis'.——Mr. T. C. Love, Internal Revenue Collector, was here this week.——This afternoon the ladies of the Episcopal Society met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Barney.——Messrs. Luther McGehee and Bud Farley were within an ace of being crushed to death by falling boulders in separate mines this week.

Columbia, Mo., November 7.—Mrs. Arthur B. Holland of Trinidad, Col., is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. K. Rogers. Rev. A. A. Pfanstiel and wife of Troy, Mo., arrived here Monday.——Miss Bertie Crumbaugh, who has been spending a few weeks with Miss Dicky of St. Louis, has returned home.——J. K. Hickman, wife and son are visiting Mr. Sid Cunningham in Washington City.——Governor Marmaduke was expected in Columbia this week, but did not arrive.——Linn S. Banks of Kansas City is visiting relatives and friends here this week.——The Columbia Herald has about added all the necessary equipments for the printing of the court reports, and will have all the departments in working order in a short time. Mr. Stephens, the proprietor, has added greatly to the business facilities of this place.——Quite a number of Columbians attended the Young-Foley wedding in Fulton this week. Dr. Young was formerly of Columbia, and Miss Foley has visited here.——Miss Scheneck has returned from St. Louis, where she has been absent for quite a while.——H. C. Wells and family, formerly of Boonville, have removed to Columbia, and will take charge of the Powers House.——Rev. M. B. Chapman, of the M. E. Church South, is recovering, and will soon be out again.——

Montgomery City, Mo., November 6.—Miss Mollie Nooney, who has been visiting in St. Louis for two months, has returned home.——Miss Maggie Duffy is visiting relaties in St. Louis.——Miss Teresa Gresham of St. Louis is visiting in this city, the guest of the family of A. Kirm.——Miss Cora Sullivan has returned from an extended visit to St. Louis.——Little Fred, a 6 year-old son of L. P. Crutcher, six miles southeast of this place, died a few days ago.——The infant son of John Ryan of this city died Wednesday.——Little George, son of James Powell, six miles east of this place, died a few days ago of diphtheria.——C. L Smith, an old resident of this county, aged about 65 years, died at his residence four miles north of town last Saturday.——Elder W. T. Sallee left to-day to hold a protracted meeting at Olivet in Ralls County.——Misses Annie and Nellie McGuigan are visiting relatives in Moberly.——Sheriff Appling is in Arkansas awaiting the arrival of a horse thief who stole T. J. Powell's horse last week. He was traced to Rolla, Mo., and the Sheriff then went to Arkansas to head him off.——Miss Annie Burton of Paris is the guest of her cousin, Miss Hettie Rombaugh.

F. H. Ingalls publishes a new price list on our fifth page to-day. It is worth reading.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The Grecian parliament yesterday voted extensive war credits.

Turkey is rapidly occupying posts on the frontier of Epirus and Thessaly.

Stanley, the explorer, goes back to the Congo country early next year.

Londonderry, Ireland, has selected Justin McCarthy for Parliament.

Robbers on an Italian railway train yesterday secured $8,000 and escaped.

Churchill denies that there is any alliance between the Parnellites and Tories.

A split in the Canadian Cabinet over the Riel case is considered not improbable.

Governor Martin, of Kansas, has organized a new county to be known by the name of Meade.

United States Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller was determined to wage war on Tennessee Moonshiners

An anti-Chinese League has been formed in British Columbia, and will adopt vigorous boycotting measures.

Queen Victoria opened a bridge at Ballater, Scotland, yesterday. She will hold a council at Balmoral on the 16th.

The Berlin papers are making an outcry against the official prosecution of German Catholics in the Baltic provinces of Russia.

The Liberals of Chester are arranging to make Gladstone's departure Monday for Midlothian the occasion of a grand ovation.

It is now said that the triple alliance is broken, and that Germany and Austria in the Balkan business are now with England, France and Italy against Russia.

The Russian agent at Sofia, Bulgaria, has protested against the death penalty being executed on the Russian leader of a Montenegrin mutiny in the Bulgarian army.

Lord Lieutenant Carnarvon refuses to interfere to pardon the parties sentenced to imprisonment for conspiracy to murder Landlord Smythe of Barbavilla, Ireland, in 1884.

When the Grand Jury reports to-day in Boston an application for a requisition for A. A. Mellen, of Baltimore, and one of the principals in the Mellen-Coolidge conspiracy will be made.

Henry K. Goodwin, of Lawrence, Mass., on trial for murdering Albert D. Swan, was arraigned before the Supreme Court at Salem, Mass., yesterday. He had Gen. Benjamin Butler for counsel, and in spite of his counsel attempted to plead guilty.

CITY NEWS.

A wood shed in the rear of Mrs Schufstein's residence, 1005 Biddle street, was destroyed by fire last night.

Mr. John J. Menges, passenger agent of the Vandalia line, died last evening at his residence, 3651 Finney avenue, after a short illness.

Edward Reynolds had his left foot badly crushed last night by the wheel of a moving freight car passing over it. He was sent to the City Hospital.

Tom Mullen and Edward Murphy, both old-timers, were arrested last evening for attempting to break open the money drawer of Martin Chrisman's fruit store, 3909 Broadway.

The formal opening of the Henry Shaw School of Botany took place at Memorial Hall last night, the inaugural lecture being delivered by Prof. Wm. Trelease. The attendance was large.

The Hoffman Bros. Produce Company offer $30 to any person who guesses the nearest to the number of beans contained in a box which can be seen at their store, 700 and 702 N. Second street.

A 5-year-old daughter of Mr. R. W. Haskins, living on Goode near Ferdinand avenue, was kicked in the head by a horse yesterday afternoon and sustained injuries which are likely to prove fatal.

The Supreme Lodge of the Mutual Protection Association met at Druids' Hall last evening, and the newly elected officers were installed. It was decided that the next annual session of the society be held in this city.

Jerome Haley, 10 years of age, residing at 1430 N. Eighteenth street, while on his way home from a grocery in the neighborhood last evening, was struck in the head by a boy named John Nugent. Haley was seriously injured and Nugent was arrested and locked up.

The Building Committee of the School Board met last night. The contract of fire proofing the Polytechnic building was awarded to E. Felix at $400. A. N. Moulman was awarded the contract to pave the yard at the Clay School. Michael Brett, whose bid for erecting the new warehouse was $1,284, was awarded the contract.

Valentine John, a baker residing at 2139 Biddle street, is continually quarreling with his wife, and last night, while they were engaged in their usual warfare, John drew a pistol and fired four shots at her. His aim was bad and only one of the bullets took effect, lodging in the fleshy part of her right thigh, making a wound not considered dangerous. John was arrested.

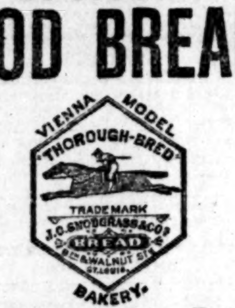
During the trial of the ejectment suit of Mary E. and W. C. Jamison against Charles and Margaret Dossen, in Justice O'Connell's Court yesterday afternoon, some exciting scenes were enacted. Mr. Jamison several times called Mr. O'Grady, the defendant's attorney, a liar, and attempted to draw his revolver. He was taken in charge by a constable and fined $20 for contempt of court.

A meeting of representatives of all the German societies in the city was held last evening at Anthony & Kuhn's Hall, the object of the meeting being to discuss the advisability of buying the Hancock farm south of the city limits and using it for a picnic ground and shooting park. The scheme was commented upon favorably, and on next Wednesday delegates from all the societies will drive out to the park on a tour of inspection. It is thought that the farm can be purchased for $20,000.

THE MOST DELICATE constitution can safely use Dr. J. H. McLean's Tar Wine Lung Balm; it is a sure remedy for coughs, loss of voice, and all throat and lung diseases. 25 cents a bottle.

DO YOU LIKE

GOOD BREAD?



See that this Label is on Every Loaf You Buy.

Marriage and death notices will be inserted at the rate of twenty-five cents for three lines.

DIED.

GARRETT—At Florissant, St. Louis County, November 7, 1885, ANNIE, wife of Richard W. Garrett, and daughter of Michael Powers, esq., in the 24th year of her age.

The funeral will take place to-morrow, Sunday, the 8th instant, from the residence of her father, at 11 o'clock, thence to the Catholic Church at Florissant, where solemn high mass will be celebrated, thence to Calvary Cemetery.

Friends of both families are respectfully invited to attend.

Carriages will leave Haughey & Co.'s stables, Sixteenth and Market streets, at 8 o'clock a. m.

SCHINKE—Mrs. EMMA A. SCHINKE, nee Collins, Friday, the 6th inst., at 6:20 a. m.

Funeral services will be held at father's residence, 1823 Randolph street, at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, the 8th inst.

Friends of the family are invited.

DOUGHERTY—JOSEPH, infant son of Wm. and Katie Dougherty.

Funeral November 7, at 2 p. m., from 1113 Vandeventer avenue.

Friends are invited to attend.

BOONE—At her residence, No. 1517 N. Seventeenth street, at 2 a. m., November 7, DEMA F. BOONE, wife of Edward F. Boone, aged 58.

Funeral from her residence Sunday, November 8, at 2 p. m.

The ONLY PLACE in this city to find a stock of gorgeous, ready-made for immediate delivery is

SALOON FIXTURES

No. 211 Market Street.

☞ For a few days we will have on display our late magnificent exhibit from the recent Exposition, and a great variety of other equally elegant saloon outfits.

Beer Coolers, Bar Screens, Mirrors and everything appertaining to the furniture of a first-class saloon at low prices.

The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co.,
Billiard and Pool Table Makers,
211 Market Street.

AMUSEMENTS.

POPE'S
MATINEE AT 2 TO-DAY.
TO-NIGHT AT 8.

LAST TWO PERFORMANCES.
FRED BRYTON IN JACK O' DIAMONDS!
"A Poem of the Heart."

Sunday, Nov. 8—Louise Balfe, in Dagmar. Entire audience photographed at every performance.

People's Theater.

Grand Matinee this (Saturday) Afternoon at 2.

25c 50c | TONY DENIER'S PANTOMIME SPECIALTIES AND WILD WEST. | 25c 50c

To-night at 8, regular rates.

Sunday night, November 8—Chas. A. Gardner, in Karl, the Peddler.

Globe Rink,
BROADWAY AND CHOUTEAU AVENUE.

Friday night, BICYCLE RACE between John S. Prince and F. W. Eck.

ADMISSION, 25 CENTS.

CREVE CŒUR LAKE

Sunday trains leave 7:30 and 9:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Leave Lake daily 3:15 and 7 p. m.

☞ Round trip tickets 50c.

Crescent Rink,

Olive, west of Compton av.

Three sessions daily, Sunday excepted.

Finest floor in the west.

DIAMOND BUYERS!

An Opportunity That Seldom Occurs!

The undersigned has determined to give up business, will leave this country about January next, and as no reasonable offer will be refused for any of my goods, consisting of a large stock of elegant

Diamond Jewelry and Gold Watches

Those who intend buying goods of that description should not lose this chance. Connoisseurs and experts invited. Also dealers in the above goods.

John Lipshut,
317 North Fourth St., St. Louis,
Formerly Spyer's Diamond Parlor.

Crossman's Specific Mixture.

With this remedy persons can cure themselves without the least exposure, change of diet, or change in application to business. The medicine contains nothing that is of the least injury to the constitution. Ask your druggist for it. Price, $1 a bottle.

AMUSEMENTS.

STAR RINK,
Nineteenth and Pine Sts.
Boys' Race To-Night.

The famous little flyer, Walter Lord, will skate Saturday night, 5-mile race; Anderson vs. Gilson Monday night—Fat men's race. All the fat men in town have entered. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—Polo, Galesburg vs. St. Louis. Great games.

STANDARD THEATER.
—TO-NIGHT—
Reilly & Woods' Specialty & Comedy Co.

Reduction of prices for three weeks—10c, 20c and 30c, including Matinee and Night.
Matinees Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday.
Next Week—IN THE RANKS.

OLYMPIC

EXTRA!
EXTRA!
EXTRA!

SUNDAY NIGHT, Nov. 8,

Last appearance of

SOL. SMITH RUSSELL
IN
Felix McKusick.

The Hit of the Season.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Two Performances To-Day.

CLARA MORRIS,
IN THE New Magdalen!

Matinee at 2, Evening at 8,
Miss Morris positively appearing at both performances.

Next week Nov. 9—Lawrence Barrett.

-:-CASINO.-:-
THE ACME NOVELTY COMPANY OF VAUDEVILLE STARS.
Matinees Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Grand Opera House.
SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.
ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.
Commencing Sunday Evening, November 15.
THE N. Y. THALIA OPERA CO.,
Under the management of Mr. G. AMBERG.
The best and most complete organisation in America.

BEGGAR STUDENT. NANON, FELDPREDIGER, GASPARME,
CZAR and ZIMMERMAN, BOCCACCIO, POSTILLION OF HONGIMEAN, FLEDERMAUS, MARTHA,
SCHONE UNGUM, FREISCHUETZ

Popular prices—Sale of Seats begins on Thursday next.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—EXTRA

Monday, November 9. Six Nights. Only Matinee Saturday.
MR. LAWRENCE
BARRETT.

Monday, RICHELIEU; Tuesday, FRANCESCA DA RIMINI; Wednesday evening and Saturday matinee, Double Bill, Two Comedies, THE KING'S PLEASURE and THE WONDER; Thursday, Double Bill, Tragedy and Comedy, YORICK'S LOVE and DAVID GARRICK; Friday, Double Bill, Tragedy and Comedy, A BLOT IN THE 'SCUTCHEON and THE KING'S PLEASURE; Saturday evening, JULIUS CÆSAR, Mr. Barrett as Cassius, Mr. John W. Norton as Brutus.
SEATS NOW ON SALE.

OLYMPIC | NEXT WEEK | ABBOTT

SALE OF SEATS TO-DAY.
THE FAMOUS EMMA ABBOTT
Grand Opera Company.

Monday, Wednesday, Saturday, - - Mikado
Tuesday, - - - - - - - Norma
Wednesday Matinee, - - - Bohemian Girl
Thursday, - - - - - - - Faust
Friday, - - - - - - - La Traviata
Saturday Matinee, - - - - - Mignon

BROADWAY & TREYSER'S
Palace Museum,
North Sixth Street, near Franklin Av.
JAMES A. BARNES . . . Sole Manager
THE HUMAN UNICORN
AND
DEN OF LIVING ALLIGATORS,
AND ELEGANT STAGE SHOW.
TEN CENTS. ONE LITTLE DIME. TEN CENTS
Admits to Museum, Menagerie and Theatre.

MUSIC HALL, EXPOSITION BUILDING

GILMORE!
GILMORE!
GILMORE!

Two Farewell Concerts!

(Farewell Until Next Fall) by

GILMORE'S INCOMPARABLE BAND!

—ON—

SATURDAY, NOV. 14th, 1885.

MATINEE AT 2:30. EVENING AT 8.

The above organization, after a highly successful tour of the Western cities, since the close of the Exposition, will return to St. Louis, en route to New York, and give two Concerts as above, assisted by the gifted Swedish Soprano, MLLE. LOUISE PYK!

The programmes will be made up of such works and musical gems as became the greatest favorites with the splendid audiences during the recent Exposition, and doubtless they will be received with renewed pleasure by all who may be present on the above occasions.

POPULAR PRICES:

Matinee, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS to all parts of the House, boxes excepted.
Boxes holding six persons : : : : : : : : : : $5 each Evening Concert, General Admission, : : : : : 25 Cents
Reserved Seats : : : : : : : : : : : : : 50 Cents

Tickets to be had at Main Entrance Exposition Building, commencing Thursday at 9 o'clock a. m.

WE ARE SOLE AGENTS

IN ST. LOUIS FOR THE SALE OF THE

"Laclede Roller Skate,"

—AND—

Mendenhall's Anti-Friction Rollers.

This Skate is the most comfortable and easiest running made; has broad tread and adjustable tension.

SIMPLE, STRONG, DURABLE.

Simmons Hardware Co.

MITCHELL FURNITURE CO.,

607 NORTH FOURTH STREET.

We have put in a complete line of new styles and designs of Furniture, and guarantee our work first-class and Prices the Lowest in the city.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE SCOTT RECITALS,
(Sixth Year)

With the comedietta, "A HUSBAND IN CLOVER," will open the now fully completed ENTERTAINMENT HALL (smaller hall),

EXPOSITION BUILDING,

Tuesday Evening, November 17,

With Scenery, Drop-Curtain, Footlights, etc. Hon. E. O. STANARD will deliver the dedicatory address.
Admission, 50c; Reserved Seats, 25c extra; Boxes, $8. Diagram at Balmer & Weber's on and after Tuesday morning, November 10.

AMUSEMENTS.

OLYMPIC.

Two Last Days

SOL. SMITH RUSSELL
IN
Felix McKusick,

Extra Performance Sunday Night.

Matinee Saturday at 2.
Monday Nov. 9—Emma Abbott in Mikado.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES.

First Congregational Church, Delmar av., near Grand—Jas. G. Merrill, D. D., pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Sunday, November 8, morning subject, "The Invitation of the Church to the Congregation."The Rev. A. F. Sweet will give entertaining talks on China.

Central Christian Church, Corner Morgan st. and Compton av., Rev. Calvin S. Blackwell, pastor. Services at 11 a. m.: "Worship as Angel, Work as a Man." At 7:30 p. m. a union service of the Central and First Churches at 17th and Olive, when Mr. Blackwell will preach a sermon by request of the Y. M. C. A., in harmony with their week of prayer. Programme: "Why the Angel of the Everlasting Gospel Discriminates Against Boston, New York, Chicago and St. Louis."

Pilgrim Congregational Church, corner Washington and Ewing avs.—Rev. C. L. Goodell, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10:30 a. m. in connection with the reception of new members, infant baptism and the Lord's supper. At 7:30 p. m. Sabbath-school service. Harvest Festival, with special music and fruits of the autumn, with an address by the pastor. Bible school at 12 m. Young People's Union at 6:45 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 8. Welcome.

Swedish Evangelist Congregational Church, n. e. corner 16th and Walnut. Rev. G. Holmqvist, pastor. Preaching Sunday mornings at 10:30 and evening 7:30. Prayer-meeting every Thursday evening. All Scandinavians are welcome.

Third Congregational Church, cor. Grand and Page avs. Rev. William C. Stiles, pastor; residence, 3546 Page av. Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m. Children's sermon at 10:40 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. Topic: "Obedience." Preaching in German by Rev. M. Herberg at 3 p. m. Young people's prayer meeting at 7:15. Preaching at 7:45. The pastor will before each evening sermon give a prelude on current themes. Topic of prelude: "McClellan, McCloskey, the Protestant General and the Romanist Cardinal." Topic of sermon: "What Can Christians Do?" All are welcome.

Second Presbyterian Church, N. W. corner Seventeenth street and Lucas place, Rev. S. J. Niccolls, D. D., pastor. Divine service, Sunday, November 8, at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m., conducted by the pastor. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. in the chapel. A cordial invitation and welcome extended to all.

St. Mark's English Evangelical Lutheran Church, Bell street and Cardinal avenue—M. Rhodes, D. D., pastor. Services 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sabbath-school 9 a. m. Prayer meeting and lecture by the pastor Wednesday evenings at 7:45 p. m.

Church of the Messiah (Unitarian), corner Garrison avenue and Locust street. Rev. John Snyder, pastor. Sunday, November 8, 1885, Preaching at 11 a. m. Subject: "The Relation of Jesus to Christianity," and 7:30 p. m. Rev. Mr. Bowen, the celebrated blind preacher, will speak on the subject, "What Christianity Has Done for the Blind." Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m. Mission Sunday-school at Mission Chapel, corner Ninth and Wash streets, at 2:45 p. m. Everybody invited.

First Presbyterian Church, Corner Locust and Fourteenth streets. Preaching Sunday morning, November 1, at 11 o'clock, and at 7:45 o'clock p. m., by the pastor, Rev. Geo. E. Martin. Subject of morning sermon: "Circumstances." Subject of evening sermon: "The Open Gates." Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock. Midweek meeting Wednesday evening. All are cordially invited to all services.

Second Baptist Church, corner of Locust and Beaumont (27th) streets. The pastor, Rev. W. W. Boyd, D.D., will preach at 11 o'clock a. m. Subject: "Out of Christ." Communion at close of service. At 7:30 o'clock Sunday-school praise service. Singing by church choir and chorus from the Sunday-school and address by the pastor. Church Sunday-school with pastor's class at 9:30 a. m. Afternoon school at 3 o'clock. Mid-week service Wednesday evening. All are welcome.

North Presbyterian Church, cor. 11th and Chambers sts. Rev. H. Spencer Williams, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., Sabbath-School 9 a. m. Young People's meeting at 6:45 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Grand Avenue Presbyterian Church, cor. Grand and Washington avenues, Rev. A. Nelson Hollifield, D. D., Pastor. Residence 3420 Washington av. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sabbath school 9:15 a. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. Welcome.

Grace Church, cor. Twelfth and Warren streets (15 minutes from Washington av.)—Rev. Dr. Ingraham, rector. Services will be held during the spring and summer at 11 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.: night services omitted. Dr. Ingraham will hold services at Ferguson to-morrow, the 12th, at 3 p. m.

Lafayette Park Presbyterian Church (opposite western gate of the park).The Pastor. Rev. George P. Wilson, will preach on Sunday, 1st, at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sabbath school meets at 3 p. m. Young people's meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Prayer-meeting Wednesday evening same hour. Teachers meet for study of the lesson on Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock. All are cordially invited to all meetings.

Methodist (South).- On To-morrow morning at Centenary Church Dr. Tudor will preach morning and evening.

LODGE NOTICES.

I. O. O. F.—SUMMIT LODGE, 277.—Meets every Monday evening at 7:30 at their hall, s. w. cor. of Ewing av. and Market st. Officers and members are requested to attend. Visiting brothers and sister lodges cordially invited. By order of C. W. KNOTT, N. G.
JAS. FERGUSON, Sec. s38

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

Bookkeepers.

WANTED—Position by an expert bookkeeper: man of family: best of refs. W 27, this office.

WANTED—By a young man, a position as book-keeper, cashier, salesman, or assistant book-keeper: have had seven years' experience and can furnish excellent reference or security; salary moderate. D 29, this office. s36

WANTED—Situation by a young man who has some knowledge of book-keeping; will work for small wages. A. Roche, 1125 Bogy st. s36

Clerks and Salesmen.

WANTED—Office position as bill clerk, or to post books and collect; will give first-class ref. s37

WANTED—Work of any kind by a clerk with thorough knowledge of accounts: satisfactory refs. J 31, this office. s37

The Trades.

WANTED—Situation by a first-class baker on bread, cakes and ornamental work; country preferred. Ad. L 31, this office. s38

Coachmen and Drivers.

WANTED—A young man would like a position to drive a team: well acquainted with the city. Ad. P 31, this office. s39

WANTED—By a man a place as carriage driver, or attend to furnace, or porter in store. Address 314 Morgan st. s39

Cooks.

WANTED—Situation by a young first-class man cook; best of references given. 1604 Pine. w40

WANTED—A situation as meat and pastry cook, by first class man. Ad. J 30, this office. m40

Boys.

WANTED—Situation by a good boy of 16 years in an office or store: can furnish good reference. 820 Franklin av. 42

WANTED—Situation by a boy to do chores and errands: two hours in morning and evening. Ad. Master Eddie, 2905 Gratiot st. f61

WANTED—Strong boy of 16 wishes a situation at anything: can give ref., would like wholesale house. Ad. 2346 Howard st. s42

Miscellaneous.

WANTED—A chance with some one having a small place to start a poultry yard: I know how to make it pay from the start. H 31, this office. s43

WANTED—Two young Germans want situations, one as coachman, the other to work around the house. Ad. G 30, this office. s45

WANTED—Employment for a light delivery wagon, horse and driver; part or full time. Call on or address E. Handley, 708 Mound st. s43

WANTED—A situation by a good man to take care of horse or cow: good references given. Address 1707 Lucas av. s43

WANTED—Situation by young man used to horses and other stock: no objection to country: city ref. Ad. L, 707 O'Fallon st. s43

WANTED—A young man would like a situation to learn a trade. Ad. R 31, this office. s43

HELP WANTED—MALE.

Clerks and Salesmen.

Bryant & Stratton's

BUSINESS, SHORT-HAND and ENGLISH TRAINING SCHOOL, corner Broadway and Market st., St. Louis, Mo. This school has the largest attendance of any Business College in the United States and it is the only one in St. Louis conducting office work and banking departments for the benefit of students. Send for circulars. 54

The Trades.

WANTED—An experienced collar and cuff maker. T. B. Boyd & Co., 309 N. 4th st. 58

WANTED—A shoemaker for repairing and custom work. Apply at Cook's, 2704 Chouteau av. s58

WANTED—Three good tinners on assortment work, to go to Memphis, Tenn. Apply to Robt. E. Ryan, at Excelsior Manufacturing Company., 612 to 618 N. Main st.

Boys.

WANTED—Boy as student in architect office; no salary till he can earn one. Ad. N 31, this office. s61

WANTED—A stout boy to work in restaurant and saloon. Southeast cor. 6th and Market sts. s61

WANTED—Two strong boys. Robt. A. Holekamp, Sash, Door and Blinds, Dock and Main sts. s61

WANTED—A first-class house boy that understands his business, with best of ref. 314 Chestnut st. s61

HELP WANTED—MALE.

Miscellaneous.

Ingalls' Latest. See Page 5.

WANTED—A steady man for farm work; no use applying unless good references are brought. 710 N. 5th st. 62

DARNING and mending gents' underware neatly done: Woman's Exchange, 617 Locust st. s62

WANTED—Four respectable young men who are willing to work for small salary. Call 9 a. m. Monday, at No. 915 Locust st. s62

WANTED—First-class dairy hand. Ap. at once to Walton Avenue and Narrow Gauge Railroad. 62

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

Teachers, Companions, Etc.

WANTED—A bright, cheerful young lady, well educated and recommended, desires an immediate engagement as governess, nursery governess or companion; would give lessons, teach in a school or make herself useful in any capacity. Address B 27, this office. 44

WANTED—Lady wishes situation as companion for any one; answer one week. M 31, this office. s77

Clerks and Saleswomen.

WANTED—Bright young lady would like office work; good correspondent: quick at figures. Address C 27, this office. 44

Stenographers.

Stenographers need not sob,
Advertising finds a job.

WANTED—A lady wishes a position as stenographer and type-writer, or as cashier. Ad. C 32, this office.

WANTED—A steady man for farm work; no use applying unless good references are brought. 710 N. 5th st. 63

Dressmakers and Seamstresses.

WANTED—By good seamstress, family sewing: small wages; good home most desired; best reference. L 30, this office. s46

WANTED—A lady wishes sewing in private family; excellent fitter and finisher; references. Ad. G 31, this office. s46 Housekeepers.

WANTED—Situation as housekeeper. Ad. B 32, this office. s47

General Housework.

STOVE REPAIRS!

For every stove or range made in the United States to be had at A. G. Brauer's, 219 Locust st. 48

WANTED—Situation to do housework, by a girl. Ad for 3 days, M. S. 2626 Pine st. s48

WANTED—Situation by good girl of 18 to do housework and nursing. 2720 Franklin av. s48

WANTED—Situation by girl to do housework and plain sewing in private family. Please call 2905½ Cass av. s48

WANTED—Place to do house or dining-room work. Ad. N 30, this office. s48

WANTED—A young girl wants a situation for housework. Ad. 117 Centre st. s48

CITY and country furnished help for any work; good girls furnished work, 25c; lodging 15c a night until work is given. 917 N. 12th st. (old 14th st.), between Franklin av. and Wash st. Several good cooks want places. s48

WANTED—Situation by a respectable young girl to assist in general housework. Please drop card. 1918 Franklin av., upstairs. s48

WANTED—A girl wishes a situation in a private family, to do housework or general housework. Call at 312b Thomas st. s48

WANTED—Situation as house or dining-room girl. Answer by postal to 2555 Maiden lane. s48

Cooks.

WANTED—Situation in private family to cook, wash and iron. Call at 912 N. new 12th st. s49

WANTED—A respectable woman desires a situation first-class washer and ironer and plain cooking, in a private family. 1308 Biddle st., in rear down stairs. s49

Laundresses.

Girls who wash or cook or iron
Should advertise and get the hirin'.

WANTED—Family or gents' washing to take home: good water and references. 1509 Warren st., up stairs. s51

WANTED—Situation by first-class laundress to go out to work. 2429 Wash st. f51

WANTED—Situation by a first-class laundress first of the week. Call at 1226 N. 9th st. s51

WANTED—Work to take home. Ad. Mrs. Brooks, 2814 Morgan st. s51

Miscellaneous.

WANTED—A widow with daughter wants employment; no objection to the country; a home more of an object than wages. Address or call on Mrs. Gibbons, 1514 Lucas avenue, in rear. 52

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

General Housework.

WANTED—A German girl for general housework in a family of two: one who will sleep at home; ref. req. 1926A Oregon av. s66

WANTED—Good girl for general housework. Apply 3714 Garfield av. s66

WANTED—Girl to do general housework in family of three. 1723 California av. s66

WANTED—A girl to cook and do general housework. Apply 1225 Monroe st. s66

WANTED—A good girl to do general housework; German preferred. Apply at 4483 Garfield av. s66

WANTED—A good girl for light housework. Apply 3913 Evans av. s66

WANTED—A competent Swede or German Protestant for housework and to assist in care of children: ref. req. Apply this evening or Monday at 3100 Chestnut st. s66

WANTED—Girl for general housework. 713 N. Jefferson av. s65

WANTED—A German girl for general housework in a family of two; one who will sleep at home; ref. req. 1926 Oregon av. f66

Laundresses.

WANTED—At Lafayette Park Hotel, first-class laundress. m67

WANTED—A good washwoman to go out by the day. 2038 O'Fallon st. s07

FOR RENT—Grand and North Market: splendid stand; new: only $18. s67

Cooks.

WANTED—A girl to cook, wash and iron for a family of three grown persons: a good home for a good girl: the Franklin avenue cars pass the house. Apply to Mrs. M. A. Wolff, Marcus av., Cote Brilliante. s68

WANTED—At 2813 Locust st., a colored woman to cook, wash and iron: also colored girl for chamber and dining-room. s68

WANTED—Girl to cook, wash and iron for small family: German preferred. 1009 Grattan st., near Chouteau av. m68

Dressmakers and Seamstresses.

A GOOD opportunity for a neat and apt apprentice girl to learn dressmaking, at 2630 Lucas av. s69

WANTED—A competent woman, who understands fitting and the finishing of fine work in dressmaking; a good salary to one who comes with experience and good reference. Ad. W 29, this office. s69

WANTED—Active girl that can sew to learn dressmaking: one who can run a Wheeler & Wilson or Domestic machine. Ap. 2239 Chouteau av. s69

WANTED—Five machine and hand girls for pants. Call Sunday or Monday morning at 1610 Biddle st.

WANTED—Machine hands on jeans pants and overalls: also hands on coats. 107 Locust st. s69 Nurses.

WANTED—Nurse girl for two children and assist in light housework. 1724 Division st. s70

Miscellaneous.

WANTED—Lady agents who wish to canvass for a line of Ladies' and Children's furnishing goods that sell in every house at 100 per cent profit, should address, with stamp, E. H. Campbell & Co. 484 W. Randolph st., Chicago, Ill.

WANTED—A good girl or woman to work in kitchen at 500 N. 14th st. s71

WANTED—Girls experienced in pasting paper bags, 19 Locust st. s71

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Book-keeping, Shorthand and Telegraphy thoroughly taught by expert teachers. Night school in all branches, Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Several young ladies attend our night school, preparing themselves for better paying positions. Call or address Barnes & Hayward's College, 210 and 212 N. 4th st. 71

WANTED—A girl for up-stairs work. Apply 1813 Washington av. s71

WANTED—Ladies to work for us at their own homes. $7 to $10 per week can be quietly made. No photo. painting: no canvassing. For full particulars, please address, at once, Crescent Art Co., 19 Central st., Boston, Mass., Box 5170.

DRESSMAKING.

WANTED—Competent dressmaker would like few more customers; work cheap. Ad. O 31, this office

AGENTS WANTED.

WANTED—Agents for five Christmas books, selling from 50c to $3. Experience not necessary. One lady without experience has sold in five weeks 250; one in four weeks 150; one 50; one 70, and one 8 the first week. Send for circulars. Cassell & Co., limited, 40 Dearborn st., Chicago. 73

WANTED—Agents, for select readings; best terms; Dan. Linahan, 4th and Washington av. 73

WANTED—Lady agents of tact for our Bust and Form Developer: no humbug: indorsed by physicians. Write for sealed description and terms. Erie Med. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. 73

DANCING.

HARMONIE DANCING ACADEMY,

Central Turner Hall, Tenth, between Market and Walnut streets. Learn to dance. Lessons only $5 a term. New term commences Monday evening November 9. s76

NOW is the time to learn dancing: Prof. R. M. Adams, Foster Academy, 16th and Pine sts., offers the best opportunity; the only academy giving five lessons per week; new scholars for the second term will be received next Monday evening, November 9. Call and view the classes and get terms; reception every Wednesday evening. A complimentary party Wednesday evening, November 11.

BOARD AND LODGING WANTED.

WANTED—By a young man, room and board in a strictly private family where there are no other boarders: a home is what is most desired: must be a reasonable distance from St. Louis Law School; state terms. Address A 31, this office. s20

WANTED—A neatly furnished front room in small private family to two gents with breakfast and supper: in vicinity of Lafayette Park: terms $15 per month; ref. ex. Ad. E 28. this office. s13

HOUSES, ROOMS, ETC., WANTED.

WANTED—Everybody to save money by getting their rooms and houses furnished 10 per cent cheaper than cash prices. Geo. W. Jones & Co. House Furnishers, 22 and 24 S. 14th st. and 1302 Washington av. 21

WANTED—A room for transient use in the vicinity of Easton av., not further west than Grand. Ad. H 30, this office. s21

WANTED—Small house and lot near cable road: state cash price and location. S 30, this office. s21

WANTED—A neat 4 or 6 room house, front and rear yards, good order, by careful and prompt-paying tenant. Ad. J 29, this office. f14

Rooms and houses greet the eyes
Of the folks who advertise.

WANTED—PARTNERS.

WANTED—A partner with $150 to go prospecting with dry wash machine to Arizona. Ad. T 29, this office.

WANTED—Individuals with a small amount of money and a will to invest same to open a repairing manufacturing enterprise of a new driving-power gear for all kinds of vehicles, railroad hand-cars, small boats, etc. Please call for particulars on Louis O. Keil, 306 Elm st. city. s23

MY business requires more capital: if the right person comes forward with from $2,000 to $3,000 and takes an equal interest, large profits will be guaranteed. Money invested need not be out of control of party investing: business established and on a firm and secure basis, wholesale and retail; ref. given and req. Address giving real name, E 31, this office. s23

WANTED—TO EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE or trade for improved or unimproved city property, two houses and three lots in the city of Hannibal, Mo., located on Center st.; rented all the time; price $2,700: will pay difference (if any). Address S 22, this office. s24

WANTED—To exchange a good business, house and lot situated at No. 2640 Gravois Road, for a dwelling valued at $3,000 located in Western part of the city. Julius Schields, city. s24

MONEY WANTED.

WANTED—To borrow $300 or $400 on first-class piano and household furniture; no exorbitant interest paid; state terms, rate, etc. F 32, this office. s25

EDUCATIONAL.

BARNES & HAYWARD'S Business College, 210 and 212 N. 4th st. Thorough instruction in bookkeeping, arithmetic, telegraphing, shorthand, etc. Open day and night. 27

Individual Instruction

Given in Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Shorthand, Type-writing, Arithmetic, &c., &c., at the ST. LOUIS MERCANTILE COLLEGE,
Cor. Washington Av. and Fourth St.
For circulars call or address: PERKINS & HERPEL.

MARTIN'S Shorthand and Type-writing College, 613 and 620 Olive st., established 1876. Trial free. 29

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—A registered letter marked K. Morgner, containing 2,015 shares of the Missouri Pan Electric Telephone Company, in all 6 certificates, 3 certificates of 500 shares each, issued September, 1885, to Emma Morgner, Nos. 212, 213, 214. One of 200 shares issued June, 1884, to Emma Morgner, No 53; one of 215 shares issued June, 1884, to Miss P. Morgner, No. 105; one of 100 shares issued October 19, 1885, to A. R. Haning, No. 197, all assigned in blank. Notice has been given at the office not to transfer said stock. The public is hereby warned not to negotiate any of the above stock lost. Finder will be rewarded by leaving said stock at 2800 Chouteau av. or send notice. K. Morgner. m30

TAKEN UP by T. T. Brown, No. 2151 Salisbury street, one dark bay mare mule about 7 years old. s30

LOST—Black and tan hound dog: reward paid if returned to P. A. Holekamp, No. 1902 Oregon av., cor. Lock and Main sts. s30

LOST—Check 771, drawn by W. M. Carpenter, dated November 6, on Bank of Commerce, payable to Post-Dispatch, for $42. Finder will please return to this office. 30

LOST—Between Lindell av. and 4900 Olive st. road, pair cuffs with hammered silver buttons, square. Return to 709 N. 4th st.; liberal reward. s30 LOST—Black and tan hound: had on heavy leather collar: return to 2813 Second Carondelet avenue and receive reward. s30.

BOOKS.

IT is really wonderful how low you can buy books and stationery at the International, and these goods are strictly first-class. 709 N. 4th st. 28

BOOKS FOR HOLIDAYS—Newest, best editions at prices as low as cheap trash at the Bazar Stores. International, 709 N 4th st. 28

PROFESSIONAL.

TREATMENT by metaphysical system at 2227 Olive st. Consultation free. f34

DR. J. L. FITZPORTER—Office No. 205 S. 14th st. Female and Chronic diseases specialties. 34

FINANCIAL.

MONEY TO LOAN on real estate at lowest rates of interest.
E. H. PONATH & CO.,
Real Estate and Financial Agents,
515 Chestnut st.

MONEY TO LOAN
On city real estate
at 6 per cent.
31 MEAGHER & NAGLE,
204 N. Eighth st.

HOUSES BUILT on city real estate on monthly payments, at cash prices
31 F. H. GOSS,
109½ N. Sixth st.

A GENTLEMAN wishing to invest some surplus funds will loan $25 and upwards on household furniture and other security. Parties wishing advances will be treated fairly and can secure loans on satisfactory terms. Call at 1015 Morgan st. 31

MONEY TO LOAN on jewelry, guns, pistols, clothing, trunks, valises and all goods of value, in sums from $1 to $10,000; low rate of interest. S. Van Raalte, 12 and 14 S. 4th st.

$25 TO $500 loaned on furniture, pianos, etc., without removal; also on horses and wagons; weekly payments taken and interest reduced in proportion; lowest rates: no commission. F. W. Peters & Co., 701 Pine st. m31

MONEY TO LOAN
AT 6 PER CENT.
on this city and county real estate. Apply to 31 TAAFFE, EMERSON & CO.,
710 Chestnut st.

$2,500 AT 6 PER CENT on improved city property. Other amounts on city real estate at lowest rates.
31 TONTRUP & CO.,
626 Chestnut st.

FURNITURE LOANS.

$25 and upwards to loan on furniture at residence without removal: lowest rates: business strictly confidential. C. F. Betts, 208 N. 8th st. 31

MONEY LOANED—On furniture in residence; business confidential; no charge for making loan. Brolaski & Voorhis, 111 N. 8th st. 31

$1,300 To lend on city real estate. Ad. H 29, this office. s31

$12,000 Can be had for five years on city real estate; security. Ad. G 29, this office. s31

LOANS made on furniture in residence, city real estate and all good securities, on fair and reasonable terms: no commission charged. Any amount advanced and loans completed in a few hours. Room 2, 904 Olive st. 31

MONEY TO LOAN.
$100,000, $10,000, $10,000, $5,000, $3,000, $2,500 on city and county real estate at 6 per cent.
31 JOHN LADY.

PERSONALS.

Advertisements under the head of "Personal" are received subject to revision or rejection entirely. The money paid for rejected advertisements will be refunded when address is given, or by calling at this office with ticket. All personals not of a business nature ten cents a line.

PERSONAL—Special accommodations for ladies and families at Central Restaurant, (formerly Thatcher's Cafe), Sixth street near Olive. s1

PERSONAL—Regular dinners 20 cents, breakfasts, suppers 25 cents, midday business lunch 15 cents. Central Restaurant (formerly Thatcher's Cafe). w1 PERSONAL—A widow of refinement recently from abroad, lonely, living in West End, desires to meet a thoroughly honorable and cultured gentleman of good social standing. Address in sincerity, S 28, this office.

PERSONAL—Wanted—Two dudes to correspond with two jolly girls: object, fun. Box 15, Ste. Genevieve, Mo. s1

PERSONAL—Two delegates, aged 25, to the Cattle Convention, who expect to spend the winter in St. Louis, desire the acquaintance of two jolly but refined ladies (maid, widow or otherwise), to attend theaters, parties, etc. C 31, this office. s1

PERSONAL—Corns! N. Kenison & Sons, chiropodists, 628¼ Olive st. Lady assistant to button ladies boots, etc. s1

PERSONAL—A gentleman of refinement is anxious to meet a lady of pleasing manners, for mutual friendship and social amusements this winter. G 32, this office.

PERSONAL—A middle-aged lady, having her own house, no encumbrance, would like to make the acquaintance of some elderly gent: object social amusement and pastime. F 31, this office. s1

PERSONAL—West End: Will be at the same place next Thursday at 8 p. m. G. s1

PERSONAL—Susie B: Have been out of this city: note received: both of you come to-morrow (Sunday) morning at 10 a. m. or 2 p. m. H. s1

PERSONAL—As suggested: sorry it rained' any night next week: let me know. P. s1

PERSONAL—Gent of 40 pleas answer lady in need. Ad. P 30, this office. s1

PERSONAL—Wanted ladies' correspondence. Address B 31, this office. s1

PERSONAL—A gentleman visiting the city would like to meet a young lady socially inclined. Address K 30, this office. m1

PERSONAL—A young lady wishes the acquaintance of a gentleman of means who will assist her in joining the stage. C 30, this office. f1

PERSONAL—A respectable widower of middle age would like to form the acquaintance of a respectable lady or widow that would appreciate a true friend: object, social amusement. L 29, this office. s1

PERSONAL—125: Have moved; let me know when you are coming: will meet you at the Depot; send my mail at the general delivery. M. s1

PERSONAL—Madame Moore Sisters gives new treatments: massages; luxurious baths. 1216 Pine st. s1

PERSONAL—Rebecca L. Ady, M. D., 1422 Olive st., electric magnetic hand baths. See Personal Sundries. 1

PERSONAL—Cosby Restaurant, 803 Olive st., opposite Custom House. Dinner 25 cents, oysters, New York counts, 25 cents per doz., any style. Open day and night.

STORAGE.

STORAGE—Clean, cheap, dry, free from vermin and fire-proof: household goods packed and shipped, estimates given Brandon & Co., 1516 Franklin av. 81

STORAGE—Furniture, etc.; clean and safe: get our rates. 1005 Olive st., R. U. Leonori, jr., & Co. 81

BEST storage for furniture: clean, dry and lowest rates Brolaski & Voorhis, 111 N. 8th st. 2

FURNITURE, pianos, etc., stored: money advanced when desired; packing and shipping a specialty; moving with care. C. F. Betts, 208 N. 8th st. 84

BOARDING.

309 N. FIFTEENTH ST.—Nicely furnished front rooms, with or without board. s18

311 S. SEVENTH ST.—Nice furnished front rooms, gents and ladies: board $4 per week. s18

609 N. TWENTY-FIRST ST.—Room, with board for two gents, by a young widow. s18

706 CHOUTEAU AV.—Nice front room, with board: also rooms for light housekeeping. s18

916 BENTON ST.—Furnished room; with or without board. s18

1133 WASHINGTON AV.—Large second-story front room, furnished or unfurnished, with board. s18

1116 CHAMBERS ST.—Furnished front room: with or without board. s18

1117 N. NINETEENTH ST.—Second-story front room, furnished or unfurnished, without board. s18

1236 CLARK AV.—Furnished or unfurnished rooms for gents, man and wife, with or without board. s18

1317 PINE ST.—Furnished or unfurnished rooms, with or without board; hall room $5 per month. s18

1322 PINE ST.—Fur. rooms, with or without board: good accommodations. s18

1521 OLIVE ST.—Pleasant rooms: first-class attention: day boarders accommodated. s18

1533 CHOUTEAU AV.—2 nicely fur. rooms, each suitable for 2 gents, with board: terms reasonable for permanent gents. 18

1809 RUTGER ST.—Nicely furnished rooms, with board and all conveniences, near Lafayette Park: convenient to 4th st. cars, s18

1831 OLIVE ST.—Pleasant rooms nicely furnished with board: terms reasonable. s13

1911 N. THIRTEENTH ST.—Parlor or back room nicely furnished, with board. s18

1919 OLIVE ST.—A well-furnished room with board for 2 gents. f18

2007 OLIVE ST.—Furnished rooms for rent with board: transient boarders accommodated.

2202 RANDOLPH ST.—Nicely furnished room with board for two gents or couple in private family: terms $13 per month. s18

2739 MORGAN ST.—Rooms with board for gents. s18

2733 CLARK AV.—Pleasant front room: so. ex.: fur. or unfur.; with or without board. w18

2815 LOCUST ST.—Two elegantly furnished front and back rooms, with board, 2d floor: ref. ex. s13

2828 FRANKLIN AV.—Furnished room with breakfast and late dinner for two gents. s18

3053 SHERIDAN AV.—Elegantly furnished 2d-story front room, with board; so. exp., with every convenience. m18

3119 CHESTNUT ST.—Handsomely furnished rooms, single or en suite, with board. 13

FOR RENT—Elegantly furnished room with board, to one or two gentlemen; private family; reference required. s18

FOR RENT—Room and best of board in private family for two young men with reference. E 32, this office.

BOARDING—At Lafayette Park Hotel, one suite of rooms, fronting park: private bath w18

FOR RENT—Two gents can have handsome room, with bath adjoining: excellent table, private family; location unsurpassed—Pine, near Jefferson av.; $45. S 31, this office. s18

WANTED—Man and wife to board; good accommodations. N 23, this office. s15

BOARDING—At Lafayette Park Hotel two suites of rooms fronting park; private bath. 18

FURNISHED HOUSES TO LET.

Furnished houses you can get
If you advertise; you bet.

FOR RENT—ROOMS.

3 N. EWING AV.—One nicely furnished room, for two gents, in private family: terms $12 per month. s13

9 S. TWENTY-FIRST ST.—One furnished room for light housekeeping; furnished hall-room, $4 per month. s13

11 S. HIGH ST.—Two unfurnished rooms on third floor; eastern, western and southern exposure. s13

103 S. FOURTEENTH ST.—Two nicely furnished rooms, second, floor for light housekeeping. s13

107 S. FOURTEENTH ST.—One nice large room unfurnished or partly furnished for $6. s13

115 S. THIRD ST.—Furnished rooms for rent; also rooms for light housekeeping: rent low. s13

125 S. FOURTEENTH ST.—Nicely furnished 2d story front, also three unfurnished rooms: conveniences. s13

205 S. FIFTEENTH ST.—Nicely furnished front room, 1 large room unfurnished: rent low. s13

205 CENTER ST.—Two rooms, kitchen and cellar. Ap. as above. s13

213 N. SEVENTH ST.—Hall room, nicely furnished: $5 a month: side door. s13

214 S. TWELFTH ST.—3 unfur. rooms suitable for light housekeeping, or fur. rooms with board. s13

303 N. TWELFTH ST.—Nicely furnished front rooms. s13

303 N. FOURTEENTH ST.—Plainly furnished room: $5 per month. s13

311 N. THIRD ST.—Fur. rooms: small rooms $5 a month, with fire and light. s13

320 S. FOURTEENTH ST.—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, very convenient. s13

330 MONTROSE AV.—Cheap—Two nice large rooms (basement), sink in kitchen. s13

416 N. SEVENTH ST.—Five rooms. Inq. on premises or of Farrar & Co. s13

504 MARKET ST.—Large fur. rooms; $10 and $12 per month. s13

519 FRANKLIN AV.—Neatly fur. room for one or two gents, private family, rent reasonable. s13

607 N. TWENTY-THIRD ST.—A nicely furnished room; also two unfurnished rooms suitable for light housekeeping. s13

615 LOCUST ST.—Furnished and unfurnished rooms for rent. s13

705 PINE ST.—Nice fur. front and hall room; also back room, cheap. s13

713 MORGAN ST.—One furnished front room suitable for light housekeeping. s13

609 and 613 N. SEVENTH ST.—Two front rooms and one back room to rent, handsomely fur. for gents, terms reasonable. s13

811 LOCUST ST.—Opposite Post Office—Furnished rooms, with fire, gas and good attention. s13

812 N. ELEVENTH ST.—Three nice rooms and bath, second floor, to small family; references exchanged. s13

813 N. TWENTY THIRD ST.—A large furnished front room for gent with or without board: private family; home comforts. 13

909 MORRISON AV. (formerly Winter st.) 5 rooms, bath, etc. Inquire at 909 Morrison av., or 1126 S. 4th st. s13

917 PARK AV.—Elegant suite of rooms; lower floor; new house: rent reasonable. 13

1007 S. SEVENTH ST.—A nicely furnished room. s13

1103 LUCAS AV.—Fur. room for man and wife or 2 gents. s13

1117 OLIVE ST.—Furnished rooms. 13

1121 LOCUST ST.—Large rooms for party of gents, $6 per month each, with stove heat: refs. s13

1125 CHESTNUT ST.—Rooms for light housekeeping, 1st floor, fur. or unfur. s13

1213 N. SEVENTH ST.—Three nice, pleasant rooms for family on third floor, with water and sink in kitchen, only $8 per month. s13

1214 OLIVE—Furnished room, southern exposure, for a couple; also furnished parlor for office; rent low. s13

1216 CHAMBERS ST.—A pleasant furnished room; rent, $6; ref. req. m13

1223 WASHINGTON AV.—Nicely furnished hall room, with fire; also 3d-story room; board if desired. s13

1224 AUTUMN ST.—Rooms for three or four gents: $1 per week. 13

1228 CLARK AV.—Furnished rooms; convenient to Union Depot. s13

1308 CLARK AV.—Nicely fur. 2d-story front; also, front and back 3d story. s13

1309 FRANKLIN AV.—Front room, nicely furnished, handsome stove; everything clean, comfortable and convenient; everything kept in good order; $9, including fire. s13

1310 OLIVE—Opposite Exposition—Furnished rooms, with use of piano; terms, $2 50 to $3 per week. s13

1311 CARR ST.—Nice second-story front room, for one or two gents. s13

1402 PINE ST.—Pine St. Furniture Store will furnish your rooms on time at cash prices. Wickersham. s13

1410 OLIVE ST.—Nicely fur. room.

1420 N. ELEVENTH ST.—Two rooms, 3d story, $4 50. Inquire of the old man, 1214½. 18

1429 PINE ST.—Furnished 2d-story front room suitable for man and wife. s13

1506 OLIVE.—2 connecting rooms, suitable for a gentlemen or gentleman and wife; rent reasonable to reliable parties. s13

1506 PINE ST.—Nicely furnished second-story front room, suitable for two gents; terms reasonable. s13

1511 OLIVE ST.—Second story front, new and neatly furnished for gentlemen. s13

1506 OLIVE ST.—Two connecting rooms suitable for 3 or 4 gentlemen or for light housekeeping for gentleman and wife. s13

1513 WASHINGTON AV.—Nicely fur. front and back rooms gas and fire; terms moderate.

1522 OLIVE ST.—Nicely furnished room for rent: fire, gas and bath. s13

1506 BLAIR AV.—Nicely furnished 2d-story front room: suitable for two gents; in strictly private family. s13

1515 WASHINGTON AV.—Neatly furnished back room for one or two gents at $8; also front rooms; all conveniences. s13

1529 OLIVE ST.—Furnished rooms. s13

1535 VAIL PLACE—Fur. front room, one block east of Lafayette Park: suitable for man and wife or 2 gents. s13

1606 OLIVE ST.—Handsomely furnished parlor, $20 per month: fire and light included. s13

1609 OLIVE ST.—Front parlor suitable for two gentlemen or man and wife. s13

1618 WASHINGTON AV.—Large, nicely furnished second story front; also, hall room: private family; to gents. s13

1627 WASHINGTON AV.—Very pleasant, nicely fur. rooms; all conveniences. m13

1726 CARR ST.—Unfurnished rooms, $10, $8 and $7; furnished, $10, $12 and $15: attendance; hot and cold water; new house. s13

1800 WASH ST.—Nicely furnished or unfurnished rooms, en suite, on first and third floor.

1803 CARR ST.—Furnished room: fronting in nice location: cars will pass the door; $10.

1808 OLIVE ST.—Furnished back parlor and 2d-story back room. s13

1920 GRAND AV.—Three rooms; water, etc.; new only $15. s13

1929 OLIVE ST.—Nicely fur. room. s13

1928 GRATIOT ST.—Nicely furnished room: southern exposure; bath; $8 per month. s13

2007 CHESTNUT ST.—Desirable furnished rooms; single or en suite; hot and cold baths, etc.: rent low: references exchanged. s13

2010 CHESTNUT ST.—Three unfurnished rooms: 1st floor. s13

2012 OLIVE ST.—Nicely furnished front room for gentlemen only. w13

2013 CHESTNUT ST.—Two beautiful rooms for light housekeeping: hot and cold water. s13

2020 EUGENIA ST.—Nicely furnished front room for one or two gents: car line. s13

2027 PINE ST.—One nicely furnished 2d-story front room suitable for one or two gentlemen; all conveniences. s13

2110 OLIVE ST.—Two delightful 3d-story rooms; handsomely furnished: excellent board next door. s13

2115 MORGAN ST.—Two nicely furnished rooms in private German family. s13

2227 FRANKLIN AV.—3 rooms and kitchen, 2d floor, $10 per month. s13

2228 RANDOLPH ST.—Neatly furnished rooms first-class board: day board $3 50 per week.

2234 WASHINGTON AV.—2d story front: private family; refs. s13

2309 MARKET ST.—Furnished or unfurnished rooms. s13

2326 CHESTNUT ST.—Nicely furnished 2d-story front room, suitable for gentleman and wife or 2 gentlemen; convenient to good board. s13

2327 WASH ST.—Second floor, three rooms, with water and gas if desired. s13

2338 ADAMS ST.—Four rooms on 2d-floor; water in kitchen; front and back stairs; small family preferred; $14. s13

2608 WASH ST.—Furnished rooms for rent. s13

2618 LOCUST ST.—Elegantly furnished front and back parlors, very convenient for doctor, dentist or young couple; with or without first-class board; one nicely furnished third story room. s13

2655 MORGAN ST.—Three desirable rooms, bath and water, second floor, to a couple without children: $13. s13

2706 LACLEDE AV.—2 rooms and kitchen. s13

2708 LOCUST ST.—Nicely furnished room, pleasantly situated, for two gentlemen. s13

2630 CHESTNUT ST.—Two handsome unfur. rooms, 2d-floor, to responsible parties. s13

2731 GAMBLE ST.—Two parlors and basement kitchen, suitable for light housekeeping; new improvements. s13

2735 OLIVE ST.—Handsomely furnished rooms, single or ensuite; for gentlemen or light housekeeping; private family. s13

2814 OLIVE ST.—Handsomely furnished or unfurnished room: permanent parties desired best of refs. given and required. s13

2819 CASS AV.—Furnished room on 1st floor with board for 1 or 2 gents or gent and wife. m13

3127 OLIVE ST.—Large 3d story front room, elegantly furnished; southern exposure; strictly private family. s13

3142 HICKORY ST.—Four rooms with hall for $13. s13

3639 COTE BRILLIANTE AV.—Three large rooms, second floor. Apply at premises.

FOR RENT—One nicely fur. room in a strictly private family for gent who can enjoy home comforts. Terms $8 per month. Ad. R 30, this office. m13

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished second story front room, with board for gentleman and wife or two gentlemen, private family, Stoddard addition; no other boarders or roomers; ref. required. For particulars address T 31, this office. s13

NEW ELEVENTH ST. FLATS—Handsomely furnished rooms, for gents only. Entrance 1019 Pine st.

FOR RENT—One or two elegant rooms: private family. 2120 Olive st. m13

Unifera BALM is woman's best friend; cures all inflammation. 13

FOR RENT—One or two nicely furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Old 21 (new 27) S. 16th st. s13

FOR RENT—One or two nicely fur. rooms, single or together; suitable for gents or light housekeeping. Apply at No. 3216 Chestnut st. s13

FOR RENT—Lady has two newly furnished 2d-story rooms: so. ex.; moderate conveniences: terms moderate. Ad. W 31, this office. 13

FOR RENT—Gentlemen requiring first-class rooms, newly furnished: moderate conveniences; private family, please address A 32, this office. 18

WANTED—Situation of some kind by a good man; will work cheap: good ref. Address E 29, this office. s43

FOR RENT—Clemens' Flats, 11th and Howard sts., fine suite of four rooms on either first or second floor, in first class order, at $15 per month: water, sprinkling, etc., free. BERGMANN & CORNET, 110 N. 8th st. 13

FOR RENT—Elegantly furnished second-story front rooms, single or en suite; location central. Address J 26, this office. s13

FOR RENT—Second story front room with or without board; suitable for two gents: no other boarders. C 26, this office. m13

FOR RENT—Neatly furnished front room: suitable for 2 gents. Inq. 1835 Division st. s13

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished rooms, day, week or by the month: all well heated: prices very low Hotel Alexa, 7th and Olive sts. Ladies' parlor attached to hotel.

FOR RENT—DWELLINGS.

1015 N. COMPTON AV.—Nice 7 room house, with bath, laundry and gas, in first class order.

1223 DOLMAN ST.—Eight rooms, hall, bath, gas; large front and side yards.
14 KEELEY & CO., 703 Pine st.

2107 MADISON ST.—Two rooms and kitchen, hydrant, good repair, $6 50. s14

2240 ADAMS ST.—Nice 7-room house, bath and gas; front and side entrance.
14 KEELEY & CO., 703 Pine st.

2536 NORTH MARKET ST.—Cottage; 3 rooms and stable. 14

2916 CHESTNUT ST.—New stone-front house of 8 rooms, hall, bath, gas, hot and cold water.
14 KEELEY & CO., 703 Pine st.

3442 PINE ST.—Desirable 9-room house, detached; large closets, all modern conveniences; in first-class order. R. W. Goldstein, 407 N. Broadway.

Unifera BALM. Nothing like it for rough, chapped hands. 14

FOR RENT—Nice house opposite Lafayette Park, No. 1340 Mississippi av., containing 10 rooms, etc.; low rent to good tenant. BERGMANN & CORNET, 14 110 N. 8th st.

FOR RENT—$20—6-room house, in the best order, near Jefferson av., on the line of new cable cars.
KEELEY & CO., 703 Pine st.

FOR RENT.—Five-room house, gas and water, front yard, good cellar. Apply at 1848 Division st. s14

FOR RENT—3710 Cook av., a new stone-front house of 8 rooms, newly papered, with laundry, gas fixtures, furnace and stable. Ap. at 3708 Cook av. s14

FOR RENT CHEAP.

New six-room houses; or will be rented in flats of three rooms each; water on both floors; front and back yards; on Grand avenue, one block from the Fair Grounds.
M. A. WOLFF & CO.,
s14 105 N. 8th street.

FOR RENT—A six-room house suitable for two families: water, gas, cellar and yards. Apply at 1843 Division st. s14

FOR RENT—2919 Lucas av., 10-rooms, stone front. Apply to S. Simmons, 620 Chestnut st. 14

FOR RENT.
By John Maguire,
(Telephone No. 754)
No. 519 Walnut Street.

1225 MORRISON AV.—10 rooms, stone front, $50.
No. 1019 S. Tenth st., 10-room stone front, $45.
No. 1540 Chouteau av., 10 rooms, all conveniences, $45.
No. 2619 Lafayette av., 8-room stone-front, $45.
No. 1308 Armstrong av., 7 rooms, large yard, $40.
No. 1158 Hickory st., 7 rooms, all conveniences, $35.
No. 1025 S. Twelfth st., 6 rooms, bay-window front, $30.
No. 3634 and 3636 Garfield av., new 6-room stone fronts, laundry, etc., front yard, $30.
No. 2014 Eugenia st., 7 rooms, $30.
No. 1704 Papin st., 7 rooms, front yard, $27 50.
No. 2616 Clark av., 8 rooms, side entrance, $25.
No. 519 S. Twenty-third st., 6 rooms, all conveniences, $25.
No. 2206 Scott av. 6 rooms, $20.
No. 1607 Hickory st., 7 rooms, all conveniences, $25.
No. 1124 S. Thirteenth st., 7 rooms, all conveniences, $25.
No. 809 S. Tenth st., 6 rooms, $20.
No. 618 Chouteau av., 6 rooms, chouteau, etc., $20.
No. 521 Walnut st., 3 rooms, 1st floor, $20.
No. 1245 Gay st., 5 rooms, $16.
No. 2504 S. Seventh st. near Sidney st., 5 rooms, $16.
No. 610 Sidney st., 5 rooms, $15.
No. 2509 B Ileglade av., 3-room brick, hydrant water, 50-foot lot, 4 blocks north of Easton av. cars, $12.
No. 3055 Madison st., 3 rooms, front yard, $13.
No. 1105 S. Cardinal av. (31st st.), 4-room brick, $9.
Apply to JOHN MAGUIRE, 519 Walnut st.

FOR RENT
VALLAT & VOGEL,
19 N. EIGHTH ST.

DWELLINGS.
At Reduced Rents.

822 S. Eighteenth st., stone-front, 6 rooms, all conveniences.
904 S. Eighteenth st., stone-front, 9 rooms, all conveniences.
1819 Preston place, stone-front, 9 rooms, all conveniences.
2700 to 2706 Spring av., 4 new stone fronts, 6 rooms each, with all modern improvements; $30.
2708 Spring av., 2-story brick, 6 rooms, large yard, etc.: $20.

FLATS—ROOMS.
1807 Lucas av., 4 rooms, 2d floor; $34.
823 Poplar st., 2 rooms, 1st floor; $6 50.
114 Barton st., 3 rooms, second floor; $8.
1109 Ohio av., 3 rooms, 2d floor; $12.
2403 DeKalb st., 3 rooms, 1st floor; $9.
2522 Benton st., 3 fine rooms, 2d floor; $11.
2933 Park av., 3 rooms, 2d floor, new house; $15. s14

TAAFFE, EMERSON & CO.,
710 Chestnut Street,
HAVE FOR RENT:

3221 Chestnut st., a nice 2-story stone-front, hall, gas bath, etc.: $40.
2620 Howard st., a nice 2-story brick, 6 rooms, hall, gas bath, etc.: $22.
2329 Olive st., a nice 3-story brick, 11 rooms, hall, gas bath, etc.: $45.
815 Channing av., near Olive st., a nice 6-room brick, hall, gas, etc.: $22 50.
1123 S. Compton, near Chouteau, a nice 5-room house, stable, etc.: $16.
1911 S. Jefferson av., near Geyer av., 6 rooms, hall, gas, bath, etc.: low rent.
2700 Thomas st., corner Elliot av., nice 6-room brick, hall, gas, bath, etc.: cheap rent.
1107 N. Nineteenth st., near Carr st., nice 7-room brick house, hall, gas, bath, etc.: $25.
2714 S. Eleventh st., near Lynch st., 6 rooms, hall gas, water, etc.: $20.
10 S. Twenty-first st., near Market st., 2-story brick, 8 rooms, hall, water, gas; cheap rent.
2120 Chestnut st., nice 2-story stone-front house, hall, gas, bath, etc.: cheap rent.
4211 Cote Brilliante av., near Whittier st., new 8-room stock brick house, large yard, etc.: $12.
2802 Arsenal st., corner California av., a 2-story brick, with a large yard; $20.
1847 Division st., 6 rooms, hall, etc., $20.
811 Clinton st., 8 rooms, water: $16.

ROOMS.
1457 O'Fallon st., 3 rooms, 2d floor: $7 50.
1454 O'Fallon st., 2 rooms, 1st floor: $6.
2614 Cass av., 3 rooms, 2d floor: $7 50.
3339 Market st., 3 rooms, 3d floor: $9.
2819 N. Eleventh st., 4 rooms and stable, first floor: $14.
2040 Market st., 6 rooms, 3d floor, hall, gas, bath, etc. $20.
1014 N. Twentieth st., 3 rooms, 2d floor: $10.
1222 N. Fifteenth st., 3 rooms, 1st floor: $10.
880 N. Twenty-fifth st., 4 rooms, 2d floor: $15.
1010 N. Twentieth st., 3 rooms, 1st floor: $12.
2012 O'Fallon st., 3 rooms, 2d floor: $9.
2244 Jules st., 4 rooms, 2d floor: low rent.
1432 Chestnut st., 3 rooms, 1st floor: $15.
1514 Cass av., 3 rooms, 1st floor: $9.
1829 Division st., 4 rooms, 1st floor: $14.
1544 Gratiot st., 3 rooms, 1st floor: cheap rent.

STORES.
1500 Chestnut st., fine corner store: cheap rent.
2308 N. Broadway, good store: $15. 14

TO LET—FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES

619 ESPENCHIED ST.—Boarding house and saloon, together or separate if desired; nearest house to Vulcan Iron Works. Apply on premises. s17

FOR SALE—A good work horse to be sold for want of use: price $35. Call at 715 N. 8th st. s17

FOR RENT—Large front room fur.: suitable for office and sleeping room. 612 N. 3d st., near bridge entrance. s17

FOR RENT—Houses, stores and rooms for rent cheap. Call and examine our list.
MEAGHER & NAGLE,
17 204 N. Eighth st.

FOR RENT—Half-store at 1430 Franklin av. s17

STORE---OLIVE STREET.

Five story building, south side of Olive, between 11th and 12th; will be finished about first of December: plenty of light on three sides: alley on the west and south: will be leased to satisfactory tenant at low rent.
GRETHER & BOECK,
17 207 N. Eighth st.

330 MONTROSE AV.—Stable and two or six rooms (two furnished); nice house, just painted.

FOR RENT STORE

No. 719 Franklin avenue, new three-story, iron-front and plate-glass building; rent $2,250 per annum. Apply to
JOHN MAGUIRE,
17 519 Walnut st.

FOR RENT—A place for dairy, with every possible convenience, at liberal terms. Ad. K 29, this office. s17

MISCELLANEOUS WANTS.

Ingalls' Latest. See Page 5.

Rats is never yelled at those Who in our "Wants" their wants disclose.

WANTED—A good second-hand type-writer. Ad. Cole & Cox, Lamar, Mo. s26

WANTED—To buy a second-hand Brussels carpet to cover room 9x18 feet. Address 3229 Cass av. s26

WANTED—Carpet, 80 to 90 yards of new or good second-hand: also a cooking stove and heater; must be cheap. Apply 820 Olive st. s26

WANTED—One good second-hand telegraph instrument. Address A. L. Heffter, Greenville, Ill., lock box O. s26

WANTED—One Scotch terrier (bitch.) Ad. 6-8, 1800 Olive st. f26

CLOTHES wringers repaired at half the old price. Eclo Wringer Co., 1609 Franklin av. 26

ENT—DWELLINGS.

MPTON AV.—Nice 7 room house, with undry and gas, in first class order. KEELEY & CO., 708 Pine st.

N ST.—Eight rooms, hall, bath, gas; ront and side yards. KEELEY & CO., 708 Pine st.

ON ST.—Two rooms and kitchen, hy- good repair, $6 50. s14

S ST.—Nice 7-room house, bath and ront and side entrance. KEELEY & CO., 708 Pine st.

H MARKET ST.—Cottage; 5 rooms able. 14

NUT ST.—New stone-front house of s, hall, bath, gas, hot and cold water. KEELEY & CO., 708 Pine st.

T.—Desirable 9-room house, detached; closets, all modern conveniences; in W. Goldstein, 407 N. Broadway.

BALM. Nothing like it for rough, chapped hands. 14 house opposite Lafayette Park, No. l av., containing 10 rooms, etc.; low BERGMANN & CORNET, 110 N. 8th st.

-room house, in the best order, near n the line of new cable cars. KEELEY & CO., 708 Pine st.

e-room house, gas and water, front llar. Apply at 1848 Division st. s14

Cook av., a new stone-front house of papered, with laundry, gas fixtures, Ap. at 2708 Cook av. s14

RENT CHEAP.

uses; or will be rented in flats of three on both floors; front and back yards; one block from the Fair Grounds.

A. WOLFF & CO., 105 N. 8th street.

six-room house suitable for two families, cellar and yards. Apply at 1843

Lucas av., 10-rooms, stone front. Ap- mons, 620 Chestnut st. 14

R RENT.

ohn Maguire,

elephone No. 754)

19 Walnut Street.

RISON AV.—10 rooms, stone front, $60.
st., 10-room stone front, $45.
u av., 10 rooms, all conveniences, $45. e av., 8-room stone-front, $45.
ng av., 7 rooms, large yard, $40.
st., 7 rooms, all conveniences, $35.
h st., 6 rooms, bay-window front, $30.
Garfield av., new 6-room stone fronts, t yard, $30.
st., 7 rooms, $30.
., 7 rooms, front yard, $27 50.
v., 8 rooms, side entrance, $25.
y-third st., 6 rooms, all conveniences,
v. 6 rooms, $20.
y st., 7 rooms, all conveniences, $25.
e th st., 7 rooms, all conveniences, $25.
st., 6 rooms, $20.
u av., 6 rooms, hall, etc., $20.
st., 8 rooms, 1st floor, $20.
., 5 rooms, $16.
nth st. near Sidney st., 5 rooms, $16.
t., 5 rooms, $15.
lade av., 3-room brick, hydrant water, 50- north of Easton av. cars, $12.
on st., 3 rooms, front yard, $12.
dinal av. (31st st.), 4-room brick, $9.
ly to JOHN MAGUIRE, 519 Walnut st.

R RENT

LAT & VOGEL,

EIGHTH ST.

DWELLINGS.

At Reduced Rents.

h st., stone-front, 6 rooms, all conven-th st., stone-front, 9 rooms, all convenlace, stone-front, 9 rooms, all convenng av., 4 new stone fronts, 6 rooms each, improvements; $34.
story brick, 6 rooms, large yard, etc.; $20.

FLATS—ROOMS.

rooms, 2d floor; $34.
2 rooms, 1st floor; $9 50.
3 rooms, second floor; $8.
rooms, 2d floor; $12.
, 8 rooms, 1st floor; $9.
, 8 fine rooms, 2d floor; $11.
rooms, 2d floor, new house; $15. s14

E, EMERSON & CO.,

10 Chestnut Street,

FOR RENT:

st., a nice 2-story stone-front, hall, gas
t., a nice 2-story brick, 6 rooms, hall, gas a nice 3-story brick, 11 rooms, hall, gas av., near Olive st., a nice 6-room brick, 22 50.
, near Chouteau, a nice 5-room house,
n av., near Geyer av., 6 rooms, hall, gas, rent.
, corner Elliot av., nice 6-room brick, hall, um rent.
eenth st., near Carr st., nice 7-room brick bath, etc.; $23.
th st., near Lynch st., 6 rooms, hall gas,
-first st., near Market st., 2-story brick, 8 ter, gas; cheap rent.
st., nice 2-story stone-front house, hall, cheap rent.
lante av., near Whittier st., new 8-room large yard, etc.; $12.
., corner California av., a 2-story brick, rd; $30.
st., 6 rooms, hall, etc., $20.
, 8 rooms, water; $16.

ROOMS.

st., 3 rooms, 2d floor; $7 50.
st., 2 rooms, 1st floor; $6.
., 3 rooms, 2d floor; $7 50.
t., 3 rooms, 3d floor; $9.
nth st., 4 rooms and stable, first floor; $14.
t., 6 rooms, 3d floor, hall, gas, bath, etc.
tieth st., 3 rooms, 2d floor; $10.
enth st., 3 rooms, 1st floor; $10.
uty-fifth st., 4 rooms, 2d floor; $15.
tieth st., 3 rooms, 1st floor; $12.
n st., 3 rooms, 2d floor; $9.
., 4 rooms, 2d floor; low rent.
ut st., 3 rooms, 1st floor; $15.
v., 3 rooms, 1st floor; $9.
n st., 4 rooms, 1st floor; $14.
st., 3 rooms, 1st floor; cheap rent.

STORES.

ut st., fine corner store; cheap rent.
adway, good store; $15. 14

—FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES

SPENCHIED ST.—Boarding house and sa- on, together or separate if desired; nearest an Iron Works. Apply on premises. s17

—A good work horse to be sold for want of $35. Call at 715 N. 8th st. s17

T—Large front room fur.; suitable for office ping room. 612 N. 3d st., near bridge en-

T—Houses, stores and rooms for rent cheap. n examine our list. — MEAGHER & NAGLE, 204 N. Eighth st.

T—Half-store at 1430 Franklin av. s17

ORE---OLIVE STREET.

building, south side of Olive, between 11th ll be finished about first of December; plenty ree sides; alley on the west and south; will satisfactory tenant at low rent. GRETHER & BOECK, 207 N. Eighth st.

ONTROSE AV.—Stable and two or six rooms wo furnished); nice house, just painted.

R RENT STORE

anklin avenue, new three-story, iron-front and building; rent $2,250 per annum. Apply to JOHN MAGUIRE, 519 Walnut st.

NT—A place for dairy, with every possible con- es, at liberal terms. Ad. K 29, this of-

SCELLANEOUS WANTS.

ls' Latest. See Page 5.

is never yelled at those Who in our "Wants" their wants disclose.

ED—A good second-hand type-writer. Ad. Cole Box, Lamar, Mo. s26

ED—To buy a second-hand Brussels carpet, to er room 9x16 feet. Address 2229 Cass av. s26

ED—Carpet, 80 to 90 yards of new or good 2d- nd; also a cooking stove and heater; must be pply 820 Olive st. s26

ED—One good second-hand telegraph instru- Address A. L. Heffter, Greenville, Ill., lock s26

ED—One Scotch terrier (bitch.) Ad. 4—8, 1800 ive st. f26 wringers repaired at half the old price. ger Co., 1509 Franklin av. 26

MUSICAL.

ESTEY & CAMP,

203 N. BROADWAY,

Are offering special bargains in Decker Bros., Estey and Mathushek pianos, and Estey organs. We sell on easy payments, or for cash at lowest prices. All goods warranted. Pianos for rent. 27

GEO. FOSTER & CO.,

1630 OLIVE STREET,

Dealers in George Steck & Co.'s, Vose & Sons', Kroeger & Son's and C. H. Stone's pianos. All instruments guaranteed and sold on easy monthly payments. 27

PIANOS.

KRANICH & BACH used to make the Steinway piano; now they make the same piano on which they put their own name. Can be seen at

KOERBER'S,

1103 OLIVE ST.

KRANICH & BACH Pianos are made by the former foremen of Steinway's factory. H. Koerber, 1103 Olive st. s27

BANJO and Guitar. H. J. Isbell, teacher. 618 Beaumont st. s27

WANTED—Scholars for the piano by young man; good refs.; terms $12. Ad. O 30, this office. s27

A $450 Miller piano will be sold at half price; good as new. J. A. Kieselhorst, 1111 Olive st. 27

J. A. KIESELHORST'S piano salesrooms, 1111 Olive st.; Miller pianos, Emerson pianos and other cheaper pianos sold on monthly payments as low as others rent them. 27

BUY a Steinway Piano with the name of Kranich & Bach on it and save $100 for a name, at Koerber's, 1103 Olive st. s27

GUITAR by note or ear, taught by gent in pupil's residence; new, easy method. Address H 32, this office.

BANJO thoroughly taught. M. Stewart, 1604 N. 9th st. s27

FREDERICK W. HENZEL, teacher of music, 809 N. 10th st.—Most thorough instruction in pianoforte and singing at pupil's residence; terms moderate; parents who wish their children to learn to understand, to feel and like good music, please address as above. 27

BUSINESS FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—Restaurant and oyster house at a big bargain. No. 7 N. Broadway, up stairs. Call at once.

FOR SALE—Green grocery with stock, $200. Address W 30, this office. 14

FOR SALE—Half interest in paint shop at a bargain; good established trade. Ad. D 32, this office. 14

FOR SALE—Cozy restaurant and oyster saloon; cost $600; will sell for $450 if sold by the 10th inst; splendid location, well established and newly fitted up; fixtures and furniture complete and ready for immediate business; has business of hotel under which it is situated. Apply to Dingee, Cole & Co., 517 Pine st. 4

FOR SALE—Cheap, news depot; old stand. T 30, this office. s4

FOR SALE—An old established millinery store at a bargain. Address 9-25, 1000 Franklin av. s4

FOR SALE—Printing office and stationery store; three presses, card and paper-cutters, stands, cases, cabinet, type, counters, shelving, stock, etc.; doing a good business; all in first-class order; low for cash or time will be given on part. Ad. R 25, this office. 4

FOR SALE—Grocery and saloon; a good place. Inquire of Jos. Schnaider Brewery Co. 4

FOR SALE—A No. 1 small route on P.-D. Ad. A 12, this office. 4

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

STOVES FOR THE MILLIONS.

Our $10 No. 7 cook stove is perfection. Our $3 50 heater is a little giant. Cook stoves and ranges from $7 to $40. Heating stoves from $3 50 to $40. PEOPLES' FURNITURE, CARPET AND STOVE CO., 210 and 212 N. Seventh st., between Olive and Pine.

On Time Payments,

At cash prices; no charges, no interest; everything to furnish a room, house or hotel. People's Furniture, Carpet and Stove Co., 210 and 212 N. 7th st., near Olive. s5

PARLOR & CHAMBER

Suits, all styles and prices, new and second-hand, on time payments. People's Furniture, Carpet and Stove Co., 210 and 212 N. Seventh st. s5

Pine Street Furniture Store.

Wickersham will sell you furniture, carpets, stoves, etc., on time payments at cash prices. 1402 Pine st. s5

Ingalls' Latest. See Page 5.

ALBUMS—Large, full quarto, finest silk plush, new patent nickle clasp and ornaments, $2; sent on approbation; regular $6 book. Famous, Broadway and Morgan. 5

FURNITURE for cash has the correct ring nowadays, when everything is so spurious. Come to 808 and 810 Morgan, where there is no misrepresentation, but both goods and prices as represented, or no sale. Meilis is the name. s5

FOR SALE—Furniture, for cash; no sensible person will buy it on time when they know the extra prices and expenses entailed, the trouble, so neither loss, when misfortune overtakes them, but will come to cash headquarters to be happy. Meilis, 808 and 810 Morgan st. s5

FOR SALE—Furniture of 3 rooms, consisting of parlor set, bed-room and kitchen; will sell very cheap on time or cash. D 31, this office. s5

WANTED—A young lady wishes a situation as stenographer and type writer; can also operate the caligraph; has own machine and can write a good plain hand. Address M 30, this office. 45

FOR SALE—On time payments, furniture, carpets, stoves, houses furnished from cellar to garret, by Paramore, 2500 N. Broadway. s5

FOR SALE—A large furnace with pipes and register all complete; good as new; cost $350 and is capable of heating a 10-room house; price $85. Call 2828 Olive st. s5

FOR SALE—Or Exchange—Parlor cooking stove for a mirror or sideboard. Address J 32, this office. s5

Stoves Repaired.

All kinds. W. H. How Ex. M'g Co., 612 N. Main st.

On Time Payments.

I will furnish your house with furniture, stoves and carpets cheaper than any other house in St. Louis. Call and be convinced. Henry Walker, 206 N. 12th st. s5

FOR SALE—New furniture and stoves, gas fixtures, etc. of a 6 room house. 2329 Market st. s5

DIRECTIONS for making and operating a home-made incubator sent postpaid for 26 cents. The Poultry Monthly postpaid 12 cts. Howard Scott, 1732 Franklin av.

COAL MARKET HALLS—2137 Market st. 10 bu. $1 direct from the car; send postal. m5

FOR SALE—Coal 10 bu. for $1; 21 bu. for $2 at T. F. Carroll's, 2021 Franklin av.; send postal. s5

Spectacles To Suit All Eyes

from $1 up. Solid gold spectacles sold for cash or on time payments; eyes tested with the finest test case in St. Louis. Store open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. Send postal. S. S. Dreifus, 1736 Franklin av. 5

PARROTS, African and South American singing birds, imported English pugs and pet poodles. A. Bohne, Taxidermist, 102 N. 6th st.

FOR SALE—One good fire-proof safe, 81 inches high, 20 inches wide, $28. No. 17 N. 2d st. 5

YOU can save money by calling on us for your heating stoves, cooking stoves and stove repairs. 4-Shaw, 1417 Franklin av. 5

CHEAPEST clothing in the city. Dunn's loan office, 912 Franklin av. 5

FOR trunks, mirrors, wringers and nuters go to Dunn's loan office, 912 Franklin av.

HORSES AND VEHICLES.

Wanted.

WANTED—To buy from 1 to 12 mares; they may be in thin condition, but must be sound, for pasturage for the winter; must be cheap for cash. J. W. Horn, 1721 Biddle st. s11

WANTED—Horses to winter; I am prepared to winter a number of horses; best accommodations, box stalls etc.; satisfaction given as to responsibility; orders left at Henry Scheele & Son's Livery Stable, 701 to 709 Soulard st., St Louis, telephone No. 2024, will receive prompt attention; refers by permission to H. Seiter & Co., Bankers, Lebanon, Ill. N. H. Harralson, Lebanon, Ill. s11

For Sale.

Fine Harness and Saddlery

820 Pine.

P. SCHULTHEIS & SON

FOR SALE—First-class buggy mare, with foal; owner not prepared to keep her during winter; would also sell buggy and harness. E 30, this office. s12

WANTED—To trade top buggy for light stake wagon. 1111 S. 14th st. s12

FOR SALE—A mare, very cheap; price, $23. 2800 Papin st. s12

FOR SALE—1 black horse 16½ hands high; 5 years old; guaranteed to be sound and work single or double. Call at 814 Brooklyn st. s12

FOR SALE—A good delivery wagon and single set of harness, both almost new, will sell cheap, at 2630 Lafayette av. w 9

HOFFMEISTER BROS.' BOARDING STABLE—Horses kept by the day, week or month. 801 and 803 Lucas av. w12

PERSONAL SUNDRIES.

BALM clears and beautifies the worst complexion. 74

MADAME E., business clairvoyant, 1110½ Monroe st. s74

R. SABINE'S Matrimonial Agency, 813 N. 16th st., bet. Morgan and Franklin av. 74

MRS. ROSINE SABINE, the great fortune-teller, gives advice in matters of business, love and matrimony; she unites friends and lovers in nine days, causes speedy marriage, recovers stolen, mislaid and buried property, and cures drunkenness in one week. 813 N. 16th st. m74

PERSONAL—Rebecca L. Ady, M. D., 1422 Olive st., treats with magnetism, electricity and baths, medicated and vapor, for ladies and gentlemen. Magnetism is the chief feature of my baths, hence patients have preference of male or female assistants. 74

PERSONAL—Note the fact that I am making crayons and pastel portraits at lower rates, and in better style than was ever possible before; my patrons should give their orders before the autumn rush commences. 74 J. A. SCHOLTEN, 920 and 922 Olive st.

MRS. WILCUS, truest fortune-teller, 500 N. 15th st., bet. St. Charles and Washington av., can be consulted on matters of love, business and matrimony; separated lovers brought together in 9 days; ladies received only. 74

MRS. HECK, experienced and skillful midwife, removed to No. 3641 Easton av. 74

PERSONAL—Silk hats remade into the Dunlap or Broadway styles. Stiff and soft hats dyed and remodeled into fashionable fall shapes. Work from the country promptly attended to. J.M. Hampson, 318 S. 4th st.

TAPE WORM.

DR. A. W. RAMEY, specialist in treatment of tape worm. Head guaranteed or no pay. Thousands of references. Office, 927 Olive st. Write for circular. 74

PATENTS

KNIGHT BROS.,
S. E. Cor. 5th and Olive sts.
3rd floor.
Patent Lawyers, Solicitors, and Experts.

Mention this paper.

CAST-OFF clothing bought by N. Barnett. 319 Locust st. Send postal card. 74

SELL your cast-off clothing to N. Jacobs. Address postal card, 318 Locust st. 74

ALL SORTS.

The St. Louis Mutual House Building Co. 513 Walnut St.

Loans large and small amounts and builds houses on city real estate. Payments monthly. Terms greatly reduced. 32

Chas. T. Fitzpatrick,

Commission Merchant and Dealer in Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Poultry, Game, etc. Orders by mail or telephone promptly attended to. Depot 903 N. 4th st., corner of Franklin av. Telephone No. 3,147. 32

HAVE your gasoline stoves put in Rawlings' Parlor Cabinet, at 1430 Franklin av. s32

FOR FINE dress shoes made to measure of the best of French calf, patent and enameled leather, and fit guaranteed; at George Frisch: 505 Walnut st. 32

VILLEROI, designer, stamping, perforated patterns, materials fo stamping. 616 Franklin av. s32

BOWERS is still making finely retouched cabinets for $2 doz. 816 and 818 N. 6th st. s32

MONEY TO LOAN on jewelry, guns, pistols, clothing, trunks, valises and all goods of value, in sums from $1 to $10,000; low rate of interest. S. Van Raalte; 12 and 14 S. 4th st. 32

YOU can save money by calling on us for your heating stoves, cooking stoves and stove repairs. 4-Shaw, 1417 Franklin av. 32

A THOUSAND chromo cards, envelopes or bill heads for 90 cents. Howard Scott, printer, 1732 Franklin av.

HIGHEST cash price paid for gents' cast-off clothing; Call or address D. A. Pareira, 614 Morgan. 32

CITY REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Bargains This Week.

PRICES CUT DOWN

ON EVERY PIECE.

Perfect Title, or Examiners' Fees Paid by Seller.

3636 COTE BRILLIANTE AV.—$2,400 Two-story 6-room brick dwelling, half block west of Grand av., in fine order. FISHER & CO.

1404 CHESTNUT ST.—3-story $3,100 building; rent $30 per month; 8 rooms. FISHER & CO.

MR. M. N. BURCHARD'S $3,750 beautiful place on Shaw av., first house west of Shaw place, now occupied by Mr. Grayson; lot 100x400; house 7 rooms, all modern improvements, stable, etc; (leasehold). FISHER & CO.

4811 HAMMETT PLACE—(West $3,600 of Papin av.)—An 8-room new dwelling, lot 50x150. FISHER & CO.

CABANNE PLACE—N. s., lot 100x220 $5,200 feet, frame, 6 rooms, stable, etc.; Wm. Rule's residence. FISHER & CO.

2909 DAYTON ST.—Nine rooms; lot 37x118. FISHER & CO.

2348 PINE ST.—Cor. Jefferson $7,000 av., lot 25x109 feet; 10-room dwelling; modern improvements. FISHER & CO.

3045 SHERIDAN AV.—50x134; brown-stone front. FISHER & CO.

3900 DELMAR AV.—A new 10- $8,200 room stone-front dwelling; lot 30x150 feet; at a bargain if sold this week. FISHER & CO.

3417 PINE ST.—3-story stone- $8,500 front, 10 rooms; modern. FISHER & CO.

2701 MORGAN ST.—Lot 56x134; double 12-room house at a bargain.

FISHER & CO.,

714 Chestnut St.

FOR SALE—1427 and 1429 new 23d st., new 6-room brick house; marble mantels, front and back entrances to 2d story, front, side and back yards and stable, one-half block south of Cass av. Price $3,100 each. Sold on easy terms. Apply to D. R. HAYNES & CO., 211 N. 8th st. 8

$240 Will buy a fine building lot 26x130; owner leaving town. Ad. A 36, this office. a7

SUBURBAN PROPERTY FOR RENT

LOTS IN

ROSE HILL PLACE.

EDGAR MILLER, 716 Chestnut st.

FOR LEASE.

FOR SALE—$1,600 will buy 320 acres of good land in Oregon County, Mo., near railroad. Several other good farms for sale in St. Louis County and other counties. TONTRUP & CO., 636 Chestnut st. s79

IMP'D CITY PROPERTY FOR SALE.

3944 BELL AV.—New 10-room stone front house; one block from cable road; terms easy; inquire within. s7

FOR SALE—1920 Gratiot st., 2-story 8-room house, bath, furnace, etc.; lot 42x200, at low figure. BERGMANN & CORNET, 110 N. 8th st. 7

FOR SALE—1707-9-11-13 Papin st., four 2-story 8-room houses in good repair; lot 75x150 to Singleton st.; will be sold at $14,000 cash. BERGMANN & CORNET, 110 N. 8th st. 7

FOR SALE—Fine building lots w. s. Hogan st. bet. Mullanphy and Madison sts; sewer and street etc., all made at $34 per foot; only a few more lots left. BERGMANN & CORNET, 110 N. 8th st. 8

FOR SALE—House and lot No. 1714 O'Fallon st. at $1,100. BERGMANN & CORNET, 110 N. 8th st. 7

FOR SALE—1524 Hogan st., (old 24th) 6-room brick, water on both floors; can be occupied by two families; $3,100; try this bargain. BERGMANN & CORNET, 110 N. 8th st. 7

Flats are now what the people build; Advertisers keep theirs filled.

THE FEDERAL COURTS.

Further Batch of Indictments From the Grand Jury—Legal Notes.

The Grand Jury of the United States District Court reported another batch of indictments this afternoon and retired for further business. Indictments were returned against George Austin and Ella Watson for having counterfeiting material and counterfeit coin in their possession. A large quantity of counterfeit coin, chiefly dollar pieces it will be remembered, was found by the police in the room occupied by Ella Watson on Chestnut street.

John E. Quinn, the ex-Postmaster of Paragould, Ark., was indicted for forging a postal note and endeavoring to cash it here.

Ira Williams was indicted for counterfeiting operations in Oregon County, having counterfeit coin in his possession, etc. He is already under bond for his appearance for trial.

In court several informations were filed for violation of the revenue laws.

The Miles Sells Case.

Judge Treat heard to-day the arguments of counsel on the motion to dismiss the petition of Assignee Benjamin F. Webster to reopen the bankruptcy case of Miles Sells. The petition was filed several months since, and it was alleged that the bankrupt had concealed some of the assets. Miles Sells alleged that the proceeding was actuated by malice and that it was not the wish of the creditors to reopen the case.

Doings Under the Dome.

In the case of H. C. Sylvester and others against Lou Leubrie and others, the plea in abatement was withdrawn to-day and there was judgment by consent for plaintiffs for $1,562.

A non-suit was taken to-day in Circuit No. 5, in the case of Bridget Dwyer against the Robert B. Brown Oil Company. This was an action for damages arising from adjoining premises.

A suit to reform a deed and divest title was filed to-day in the Circuit Court by Sarah Gilliam against Mary L. G. Thunnell and G. M. Gilliam.

The case of the Fourth National Bank vs. Kleekamp were dismissed to-day in the Circuit Court.

In the case of the Bank of Commerce against Antonio Bernero there was a verdict to-day in Judge Thayer's court for the plaintiff for $966 07.

W. L. Scott was allowed $473 to-day by the Court for services rendered L. E. Alexander, the former receiver of the Columbia Life Insurance Company.

ALL the local Jumbos will be at the Star Rink, Nineteenth and Pine streets, to see the Fat Men's Race Monday night, November 9. Big thing.

A CHASE FOR A CHILD.

How a Husband Met His Erring Wife Last Night.

The destiny of a very bright-eyed lad of 11 years was in doubt last evening when T. H. Wylie, a news agent on the Illinois Central, attempted to secure possession of the boy, his son. The father found him at the Webster School, and took him along, but the mother, who wants to have him also, had the father arrested. Mr. Wylie's story was the old one, and related how his wife, whom he married in 1871, went astray in Chicago, causing a separation, the boy being left with the erring woman's aunt in Chicago. The father was afraid of his boy's surroundings, and took him to Greenville, Pa., but the mother decoyed the child away, and for a year kept his whereabouts hidden from her husband. He finally located the boy, and came to get him. A divorce suit is now pending in Chicago, which will settle the question of the custodian of the child. A writ of habeas corpus in behalf of the father was presented by Rufus J. Delano in Judge Lubke's court. The child is at present in the care of Detective Leonard, and will remain there until the courts determine the matter. The writ is returnable on Monday morning.

The Bridal Bulletin.

Marriage licenses were granted to-day as follows; Horatio Robey, 46 years, Washington D. C., and Lavinia C. Baily, 40 years, Washington, D. C.; Hermann I. Roellig, 21 years, 3133 Iowa avenue, and Maria Rink, 19 years, 2000 Gravois avenue; John H. Selvy, 25 years, 2720 Pine street, and Emma Graham, 26 years, Twelfth and Carr streets; Joel Prine, 34 years, Warrensburg, Mo., and Catherine G. Batch, 18 years, 4288 Labadie street; Jacob Ruhland, 42 years, 3015 S. Broadway, and Emma Begley, 29 years, 2126 S. Broadway; John B. Eilers, 22 years, 2810 Gravois road, and Annie Wetermann, 21 years, 2738 Lasalle street; Charles Bentker, 27 years, 2511 Blair avenue, and Annie Wehrmann, 24 years, 1318 North Market street.

Got His Man.

Dr. McAfee, Post Office Inspector, has at last run down Merideth, one of the sharpest swindlers in the country. He made his headquarters in Indiana just a year ago and sent out numerous circulars offering rare bargains to any one who wanted to purchase counterfeit money of him. It was the old sawdust swindle, and for the past ten months the officers have been after him. He became aware that his scheme had been given away, and after well feathering his nest he skipped for the far West. McAfee, however, got on his trail, lodged him in jail, and is correspondingly jubilant.

To-Morrow's Weather.

As predicted in the POST-DISPATCH last night, the weather turned cool by this morning, although the fall was only eight degrees. In the Northwest the temperature holds at the old figure and there is no indication that the mercury will descend much lower in the tube between this evening and Monday morning. The Signal Service says that to-morrow will be about like to-day, excepting that the wind will not be so high. The temperature here this morning was 54 degrees, with a comparatively high barometer.

Ready for the Rush.

The Custom House officials are going to follow in line with the general process of cleaning up adopted by the Democratic chiefs at Washington, and next week they will renovate and repair both elevator shafts to get them in readiness, it is presumed, for the increased flow of office-seekers who will soon make their haunts around the big building. One elevator at a time only will be run.

St. John's Silver Jubilee.

The silver jubilee of the church will be celebrated with appropriate imposing ceremonies at St. John's Catholic Church, Sixteenth and Chestnut streets to-morrow morning. A grand high mass will be celebrated at 10:30 o'clock with fine musical accompaniments. An interesting feature of the occasion will be the singing of the "Inflammatus" at the offertory by Miss Marie Glover, whose mother, Mrs. D. O'Sullivan, sang at the opening of the church in 1860.

BIGGEST thing on wheels: Fat men's race at Star Rink, Monday night, November 9. Entries: Dick Lancaster, Joe Griesedieck, Robt. Bauer, Ed Payne, Guido Kalb, Frank Harless, Geo. Perry, James V. Byrne and Willie Schulte.

McClellan Memorial Services.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, November 7.—Funeral services will be held to-morrow in memory of General McClellan. Addresses will be delivered by Hon. John Hancock, Colonel Terrel, General Shelly, Colonel Miller and Judge Rector. All the clergy of the city will be in attendance.

Real Estate Transfers.

C. B. Gibson to H. M. Gibson, 20 feet on Chestnut s., in city block 935; warranty deed........	$ 5 00
J. T. Donegan to T. J. Furlong, 30 feet on Olive street, in city block 4886; warranty deed........	15,000 00
W. F. Lamb to Cherokee Planing Mill Co., 87 feet 4 inches on Kosciusko street, in city block 1794; warranty deed........	10,000 00
R. Roberson to V. H. Swighnor, 68 feet 9 inches on Sixth street, in city block 561; warranty deed..	13,000 00

EAST ST. LOUIS.

Items of Interest from the City Across the Big Bridge.

The City Council met this morning in regular session, a quorum being present, but adjourned until Monday without transacting any business. The reason given for the adjournment was that before holding a meeting it was desired that the Board of Drainage Commissioners in Prairie Du Pont be heard from in regard to the proposed draining of the city and surrounding country. Mayor Joyce this morning received sample police hats from a firm in St. Louis and at the meeting of the Council Monday will endeavor to have an order passed that the style of hats sent him, which is the same as worn by the St. Louis police, be adopted for the police of this city.

Late yesterday afternoon ground was broken on Fourth street for the laying of mains of the new Water Works. Only a small force of men was put to work, but this morning the force was increased and Mr. Cullen, the superintendent, says that all men who came to him seeking employment will be put to work until a sufficient force of workmen is obtained. On Monday the excavations for the engine houses and tower, which are to be located at the head of the Island where the old glucose factory formerly stood, will be begun, and employment, it is said, will be given to from seventy-five to a hundred men. Mr. Cullen received a dispatch from Messrs. Inman Bros. of New York, the contractors, yesterday, telling him to go right ahead with the work and push it forward. Mr. Whitman, the engineer of the works, obtained a plat of the city yesterday, and after he has studied it thoroughly will be able to give Maxwell, who has the contract for laying the mains, thorough instructions as to how to proceed. Until Mr. Maxwell receives these instructions he cannot push the work of making the excavations with any rapidity, but it is thought towards the end of next week he will have received all necessary advice in regard to the lay of the city, and will be enabled to push the work with a large force of men.

Otto Geckler was arrested for disturbing the peace this morning, and was fined $5 and costs.

Mr. Maurice Tissier, editor of the Herald, is now engaged in writing a history of East St. Louis from the time it was incorporated down to the present time. Mr. Tissier, besides being editor of the Herald, has for nearly fifteen years been prominently identified with public affairs, and his book will no doubt be very interesting.

The Cleveland Assembly, Knights and Ladies of Honor, will give a grand ball next Saturday evening at Heim's Hall.

Edward Cox, aged 55 years, died last night at his residence in the Fourth Ward. His funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon at 10 o'clock to St. Peter's Cemetery.

A BIG BLAZE.

The McMicken University at Cincinnati Badly Damaged by Fire.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, November 7.—At 4 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the McMicken University building at the head of Elm street. Before the Fire Department could reach the place, the entire front of the building was in flames. The great value of the building stimulated the firemen to their best efforts and they succeeded in saving the main portion of the building, but the part burned will entail a money loss of perhaps $30,000. Among other special losses was a valuable library, belonging to Professor Eddy. It is not known how the fire originated.

Injured at a Fire.

CHICAGO, November 7.—A four-story brick building, No. 265 Michigan avenue, was partially burned this morning. In attempting to save some of his goods H. E. Bucklin, a manufacturer of patent medicines, was quite seriously burned. Otto Miller, a fireman, fell through an elevator shaft to the basement from the third floor, and is thought to be fatally injured.

CARONDELET.

A $5,000 Railroad Accident—Jumped Into the River.

The school-mates of Miss Emily Poepney gave her a surprise last evening on the occasion of her 13th birthday. Nearly fifty children were present, who made Miss Emily the recipient of some very pretty presents.

About 5:30 o'clock this morning freight train No. 442 was going north on the Iron Mountain Railroad and when near Quincy street jumped the track. Four cars were totally destroyed. The loss amounts to nearly five thousand dollars. No one was hurt. The mishap was caused by a misplaced switch.

The cases in the Police Court against Ed. Reed and Chas. McKenna for disturbing the peace were dismissed by Judge Von Gerichten to-day.

Martin Miller, a German, 72 years of age, residing on Blow and Minnesota avenue, who has been suffering for the past six weeks with a disease which is incurable, left his home this morning, going toward the river with the intention of committing suicide. He has not been seen since.

OKLAHOMA.

Commissioner Atkins Apprehends Serious Trouble—Excitement on the Border.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., November 7.—News from Oklahoma is to the effect that nothing has been done in the way of removing the "boomers." The troops are moving, but will accomplish nothing for some days. Commissioner Atkins is in the Creek Nation and is communicating with the Interior Department daily in regard to the invasion. He is of opinion that the invasion is formidable and that trouble will ensue before the intruders are expelled. The excitement is growing along the border adjacent to Oklahoma.

The Fat Men's Race.

The first fat men's race of the season will take place at the Star Rink next Monday night, and from present indications it will be the biggest hit of the roller skating season. The entries include the majority of the heavy weight dignitaries in the city, and their combined efforts to attain the goal of their ambition, coming out first in the half-mile race, that people will have to adopt some means to quell the flow of laughter. Among the entries are Guido Kalb of the POST-DISPATCH, 206 pounds; Frank Harless, 277 pounds; Geo. Perry, of Sanders & Perry, 219 pounds; Joe Griesedieck, of the Griesedieck Brewery Co., 214 pounds; Robt. Bauer, of the Bauer Mercantile Co., 219 pounds; Ed. Payne of the POST-DISPATCH, 260 pounds; Dick Lancaster, 217 pounds; Jas. V. Byrne of the Whittaker Pork Co., 258 pounds, and Willie Schute, age 17, 240 pounds. Hon. H. Clay Sexton, assisted by Percy Warden, will look after the race.

Recent Robberies.

The police report the following robberies:

A quantity of cigars and tobacco were taken Thursday night from G. A. Wheatley's fruit store of 103 S. Sixth street.

Two ladies' gold watches, two gold opera chains, a diamond ring and a solitaire diamond breastpin were stolen Thursday night from Emma Fox of 601 S. Third street.

A quantity of stamps and cigars were stolen from W. B. Kember & Co. of 401 N. Second street.

A set of harness which had evidently been stolen was left in Mr. Hanlon's cellar, No. 1417 N. Twenty-first street.

Thursday night thieves entered the unsecured stable of Wm. B. Morgan, 4200 N. Grand avenue, and stole a set of buggy harness, a whip and a cushion.

A sneak thief entered Edward Bebenger's room at 2122 N. Tenth street, unlocked his trunk and stole $30.

Arrested on a Charge of Fraud.

Samuel J. Castner, a commission merchant, of 711 N. Seventh street, was arrested to-day on a charge of defrauding the Fifth National Bank of $900. It is charged that he obtained advances from the bank on the false representation that he was carrying a large stock of goods whereas his stock was quite a small one.

New Trial Denied.

Special Judge Fauntleroy this morning overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of Gus Oertel, fined $60 after trial on a charge of defrauding Patrick McHale.

Their Buffalo Hunt.

From the Detroit Free Press.

A yearling calf, who hung down his head in the meekest manner, and whose large eyes seemed to be chuck full of sorrow over some calf calamity, was in a yard on Second avenue the other day, when along came two young Buffalo Bills. They had lassos made of stolen clotheslines, and they had been practising on every hitching post for half a mile around. As soon as they saw that calf they realized that they had struck a bonanza. Here was a living, breathing thing to practice on, and they lost no time in going to work on that imaginary buffalo. As the calf stood stock still, it was no great feat to throw the nooses over his head. The trouble was to get them off again. As the slip-knots tightened the calf backed off and uttered the most doleful bawls, and he seemed so utterly meek that the boys climbed the fence to secure their ropes. The calf backed off until he had them twenty feet from the fence, and then a sudden change took place all over him. Down went his head and up went his tail, and the first boy hadn't quit rolling over and over when the second followed after. They got up to go down again, and the calf had both of them nicely cornered, when a pedestrian rushed in and turned the scale.

"How did it happen?" he asked.

"We t-took him for a b-buffalo!" howled one.

"And I'll n-never hunt another!" sobbed the second. "I'm going right home and trade off my bowie knife for a rat trap, and if anybody'll buy my pistol I'll sell it for half a dollar. Mister, do you think we've been morfully injured?"

The pedestrian thought that internal injuries might possibly "set in" in case they were out much after dark, and they limped away with white faces and tearful eyes.

THE HOTEL CLERK.

He Disappears, and the Gorgeous Dinner Table Drill Goes With Him.

C. D. Warner in November Harper's.

The hotel clerk has disappeared, or is disappearing. The faithful chronicler must note this significant change in American life, for it means the passing away of a whole order of things. And he notes it with a certain sadness. For though this clerk was feared by the general public, he was the admiration of the humorist. There was never anything in the world before answering to this resplendent autocrat of sleeping accommodations, this darling of the flashing pin, perfumed locks, impudent eye and lofty condescension. He was the one being in existence before whom the free-born American quailed. We have so little real aristocracy in this country that this dominating person stood out in relief; he had power to abase the proud, and to make the humble crawl into a hole. But his hour has struck, and he is passing away, not gone absolutely; for the traveller can still find him here and there, generally only in those gorgeous palaces where civilization is new and has the appearance of a lacquer, and is not of the substance of the life. In fact the kind of civilization that produced the hotel clerk is gone, or is going also. He belonged to an era of smartness and pretension which the foreign traveler did not recognize as a growing development of character, but mistook for vulgarity. He belonged to what might be called the steamboat period, when the steamboat was as gorgeous and as beautiful as a barber's saloon, and its clerk had the fine manners and the striking attire of the gambler. He belonged to the era of the table in the hotel dining-room a quarter of a mile long, where the waiters were all drilled to move like clockwork at a signal from the first officer, who stood at the head of the table. We can see them now facing the table in a shining line, half wheeling at the signal, stretching out simultaneously over the heads of the submissive guests a hundred arms, seizing the tops of vegetable dishes, and then, tramp, tramp, with the step of a soldier, going down the echoing floor, disappearing through swinging doors, and anon returning with the same military precision to deposit a plate that weighed two pounds, with a bang, before each awed occupant of a seat. As a military evolution it was nearly perfect, and the American people were rather proud of it. It was a magnificence which somewhat crushed them, but they felt they were somewhat a part of it, and it is doubtful if any foreign potentate was ever served exactly in that way. It was very cheap at $5 a day, and if there had been any dinner to match the evolutions we might still be in that showy period of our national development. The hotel clerk had so subdued the spirit of the traveler that he had not, perhaps, much appetite, and rather preferred magnificence to comfort. But in time, with other standards of taste, this pageantry vanished and the traveler began to assert his manhood.

Of course there are still traces left of the old civilization, and when the traveler finds them they awake a train of reflections upon the singular development of democratic life in America.

PITTSBURG MILLIONAIRES.

More Rich Men in Proportion to Population Than Any City in the Union.

Pittsburg Letter to New York Sun.

This city probably has more wealth in proportion to population than any other city in the United States. The people generally are in comfortable circumstances and the proportion of the working classes who own their own homes is larger and yearly becoming more extended. Millionaires are here numbered by the score. Only a few of the large fortunes had their foundation in speculative ventures, but they came either from manufacturing or commercial enterprises or investments in real estate in the early days of the town. The following are among the wealthiest people here, with moderate estimates of their fortunes: Mrs. Schenley, $25,000,000; Andrew Carnegie, $15,000,000; Dr. D. Hostetter, $14,000,000; Denny estate, $10,000,000; Dr. C. G. Hussey, $6,000,000; William Thaw, $6,000,000; Judge Thomas Mellon, $5,000,000; John H. Shoenberger, $5,000,000; George Westinghouse, $4,000,000; Mrs. Gen. Howe, $4,000,000; Thomas M. Carnegie, $4,000,000; J. N. McCullough, $4,000,000; Thomas Donnelly, $3,000,000; Calvin Wells, $2,500,000; Alexander H. Miller, $2,000,000; Henry Lloyd's estate, $2,000,000; John Morehead's estate, $2,000,000; Charles J. Clark, $2,000,000; B. F. Jones, $2,000,000; James Laughlin's estate, $2,000,000; George W. Smith's estate, $2,000,000; Abram Garrison, $2,000,000; Captain William Ward, $2,000,000.

There are besides fifteen citizens whose fortunes are estimated at between $1,200,000 and $1,500,000 and thirty-one citizens who are believed to be worth at least $1,000,000. Pittsburg, therefore, has seventy residents whose wealth aggregates $189,000,000. Andrew Carnegie, the wealthiest man on the list, was born in Scotland, but has spent most of his life and made his fortune here. He is at the head of the largest steel-producing establishment in the United States. He is also largely interested in railroad, coke and other enterprises, and subscribed $1,000,000 to the South Pennsylvania syndicate.

How Was Columbia Set on Fire?

From Gen. W. B. Hazen's Narrative of Military Service.

South Carolina had fired the first gun, and even the smallest drummer boy seemed determined to get even. This feeling was not confined to the army, nor even to the North. Often have I heard Georgians say: "Why don't you go over to South Carolina and serve them this way? They have started it." I have never doubted that Columbia was deliberately set on fire in more than a hundred places. No one ordered it, and no one could stop it. The officers of high rank would have saved the city if possible, but the army was deeply imbued with the feeling that, as South Carolina had begun the war, she must suffer a stern retribution. There was nothing more remarkable in this campaign than the entire change in the treatment of private property after we entered North Carolina. The men all knew where the State line was, and their voluntary conduct in this regard was of itself evidence as to how the burning of Columbia came about.

Local Color in Art.

From Coffee Pot Springs (Idaho) Paper.

We print to-day a portrait of King George I. of Greece, from an engraving made by our special artist after a carte de visite sent us by His Greekness, who is a scion of one of the first families of Europe. Old Coffee Potites cannot fail to detect in King George's pictured lineaments the dead spit of Billy Divine, who ran the New Found Out Saloon in this camp during 1883-84, and was afterwards called hence while endeavoring to hold up the Tin Cup stage.

AN adjourned meeting of the Supreme Lodge, Order of Mutual Protection, was held last evening at Druids' Hall, at which the officers were installed. After the business of the session closed up, and the meeting the Supreme Lodge members and visitors went to 410 Market street and partook of an elegant banquet.

HAIR AND HIDE.

A Wyoming Hunter's Dogs—Their Fight With a Mountain Lion.

From the Chicago Tribune.

Jack Gaylor, a noted hunter of the Wind Mountains, has a breed of dogs famous for their fierce courage and active strength. They are a pure cross between the bloodhound and the best English bulldog. Many bear, elk and mountain lion have these dogs brought to bay and assisted in slaying. Hair and Hide are the two foremost representatives of the gallant and efficient breed.

Not long since Mr. Gaylor was aroused from sleep during the night by a piteous bawling in his calf pen and an uproar among his dogs. Hastening out, he perceived by the light of a brilliant moon two lions making off. They had come for veal and had nearly succeeded in getting it. The next night Mr. Gaylor watched his corral, but the wary brutes did not come. The following night there came from the snowy summits of the Wind Mountains a light snowfall. The old hunter was now sure of his game. Taking Hair and Hide in the early morning he sallied forth. In a short time his course was crossed by the trail of the whole lion family. The dogs at once sped along the freshly tracked snow, and soon the game was found in a leafy covert of pine and quaking aspen. Pushing his way through the snow-laden boughs the hunter came in close sight of the family. The lion was standing on the trunk of a huge fallen pine, his long tail swinging from side to side, while his eyes flashed with a green fire. The lioness had crouched a short distance off at the foot of another huge tree, in the forks of which could be seen two active whelps. Hair and Hide at once sprang for the lion, and a savage fray at once began. With a long leap the lioness came to the aid of her male, but a ball from Gaylor's rifle broke one of her shoulders, and she retreated, spitting with pain and rage, to the vicinity of her whelps. The combat between the royal brute and his fierce and active foes now became terrific. Gaylor watched the lioness and the fight. He was sure of his dogs and wanted them to kill their enemy alone. Even if he had been disposed to lend a helping hand, such was the fierce confusion of the struggle that he would have been as liable to have hurt his faithful friends as their savage foe. After a ten minutes' struggle the deep growls of the lion became more faint; soon they ceased entirely, and the proud hunter beheld his two brave dogs, one at the broad muzzle of the mountain king and the other at his wide haunch. The lion was dead and fairly "stretched out," to use an expressive Westernism. Hair and Hide were dripping with gore from a dozen different wounds, both deep and sore. They were on the fight still, however, and wanted to attack the lioness at once, but Gaylor would not allow them to do any more, and a ball from his rifle stretched the lioness in death. Each of the whelps demanded a bullet, and the whole royal family had paid the stern penalty of their tyrannical customs.

An English Wit.

Greville's Description of the late Lord Sefton.

"He was a man who filled a considerable space in society, and had been more or less conspicuous from the earliest period of his life. He was possessed of an ample fortune, which he endeavored to convert into a continual source of enjoyment in every mode which fancy, humor or caprice suggested. His natural parts were excessively lively, but his education had been wholly neglected, and he never attempted to repair in after life the deficiencies occasioned by that early neglect. He had, therefore, not the slightest tincture of letters, his mind was barren of information, and he not only took no interest in intellectual pursuits, but he regarded with aversion and something like contempt those who were peculiarly devoted to them. On the other hand, he was an acute man of the world, eagerly entering into all the interests, great and small, of his own time, sufficiently acquainted with the mushroom literature of the day for all social purposes, and partly from the authority which his wealth and position gave him, partly from his own dexterity, he contrived to turn conversation aside from those topics in the discussion of which he was incapable of mixing, and to promote that sort of half-serious, half ludicrous talk in which he was not only fitted to play a prominent part, but in which he exhibited a talent quite peculiar to himself. Never was there so great a master of what is called persiflage—of that boisterous, droll and pungent banter, which, if not the most elevated species of wit, is certainly that which is most exhilarating and provocative of laughter. In this he was unrivaled, and it was heightened by the adjuncts of a voice, face and manner irresistibly comical. * * * His father had stamped upon him his hideous form, but with it his sharp and caustic wit."

Solid English Profanity.

From the London World.

I am afraid the publication of the new series of the "Greville Memoirs" will be terribly distressing to Col. Napier Sturt. I am only halfway through the first volume, but the cannonade of blasphemy is tremendous. "When Lord Anglesey was shot he turned to the Duke and said, 'By G—, I have lost my leg!' The Duke replied, 'Have you, by G—?'" which strikes me as exceedingly ludicrous. Again, the Duke is "munching" his dinner and looking through his field-glass. "On a sudden, he exclaimed, 'By G—, they're extending their line; order my horses!'" Again: "Melbourne was talking of Brougham's indignation and mortification at being deprived of his pre-eminence in the House of Lords, and of a letter he wrote in great bitterness of spirit, in which he said: 'Do you mean to deprive me of my lead in the House of Lords? Why don't you say as you did when you took the Great Seal from me? G— d—n you, I tell you I can't give you the Great Seal, and there's an end of it!'"

Devil Worship in Ceylon.

Ceylon Letter to Paris Figaro.

What attracted the attention of of the Princess most (Don Carlos and suite) were the various objects connected with the worship of the devil. They were shown a very curious collection of masks, each of which represented a specific malady. The mask is offered to the devil while beseeching him to cure the disease in question. It is placed on the altar, accompanied by an offering amounting to $2. There are also a number of small wooden dolls. These are placed on the altar and pins are stuck in the head or other parts of the body. During the operation the following imprecation is invoked: "Mr. Devil, behold your enemy! I beseech you to inflict on him pains every place where I insert a pin." The worship of the devil is a superstitious outcome of Buddhism. It is tolerated by the priests who do not wish to make themselves unpopular, but it is not admitted as a portion of orthodox worship. The most curious feature of the practice is that the devil in Ceylon is not masculine, but a woman. But though curious, it can hardly be said to be astonishing.

The Juvenile Tormentor.

From the Springfield Homestead.

"Popper, wot do they have the policemen watch the block where they had the small-pox for?"

"Oh, it is to keep the disease from spreading."

"The policemen'll keep 'em from breaking out, won't they, popper?"

"Yes, yes."

"Is small pox dangerous, popper?"

"Yes, quite dangerous."

"It's catching, ain't it?"

"Yes, very."

"But when you're vaccinated you won't catch anything, will you, popper?"

"No, I s'pose not."

"You were vaccinated when you went off with Mr. Brown yesterday, wasn't yer popper?"

"Why what makes you ask that question?"

"Koz mommer said she knew you wouldn't catch anything if you stayed fishing for a week."

Schneider on Trial.

The trial of Henry Schneider, charged with the murder of John Krans, by poisoning him, is on trial in the Criminal Court to-day.

A FATAL BLUNDER.

Made by the New York Republicans in Raising the Bloody Shirt.

Governor Hill Believes New York to be Democratic in a Fair Fight—The Southern People as Loyal to the Union as Their Northern Brethren—A Few Facts About True Civil Service Reform.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 7.—Governor Hill returned here Thursday from Elmira, and since has been kept busy receiving friends calling to congratulate him. Hundreds of telegrams are received daily at the executive office from prominent people all over the country. The drift of all of these dispatches is that Governor Hill has won a thorough Democratic victory, without any Mugwump ally. Yesterday your correspondent visited the Capitol and was received by the Governor.

"Do you attribute your election, Governor," asked the correspondent, "to the Mugwump opposition?"

The Governor smiled.

"I do not care to discuss that point," he said. "A great many things can influence an election in New York State. I believe New York to be a Democratic State in a fair fight, but the margin is not large enough to allow us to throw away many votes. In my judgment the Republicans made a fatal blunder in raising the bloody shirt. The time has passed when that old, worn-out cry can be used effectually in intelligent New York State. The war is certainly over, and I think this is the last time we shall see the historical garmen brought into service in this State to catch votes. The majority of Republicans were disgusted when Foraker opened with his sectional speech, and I have no doubt it aroused many Democrats to greater activity. The Republican managers in the future will be forced to drop the bloody shirt as a losing issue. I have traveled in the South some and know a little of what the people there have had to endure since the war in the way of oppression. I believe the Southern people are just as loyal to the Union as their Northern brethren. Slavery is a thing of the past, and the Southern people are only anxious now for the development of their manufactures and other industries. For a long time the South's advances have been repelled. The Republican party assumed that every Southern man was a traitor until he voted the Republican ticket. I look for material advancement in the prosperity of the South in the next few years. New York was Democratic before the war because her merchants were largely engaged in handling Southern products. The business men of New York City were

IN POLITICAL SYMPATHY WITH THEIR PATRONS.

The war changed this to a certain extent. Our trade with the South was suspended, and, seeking trade in other directions, the business men of New York formed other alliances and new sympathies. That is one reason, perhaps, why the Republican party has been able for the past fifteen or twenty years to control the principal business interests of New York. But all that is changing now. Trade is reviving everywhere, and especially in the South. There is no reason why New York City should not again regain her prestige as the chief market for Southern products. The stale cry that Democratic success means a depression of business is passing away with its kindred spirit of hate and malice—the bloody garment.

"I feel very much gratified over the victory just won in this State by the Democratic party. From the nature of the campaign made by the Republicans and the many wilful and malicious misrepresentations made by the partisan press against myself, I cannot but feel that the verdict is in the nature of a vindication to me personally, as well as a rebuke to that character of campaigning in the future."

"Governor, don't you think the recent victory in this State was purely a Democratic one?"

"Yes, I do, most emphatically. There can be no doubt about that. There may have been Republicans and Independents who voted for me, but they did so with the perfect understanding that I was a Democrat and without asking to dictate my policy or to control all the offices at Albany in the event of my success. The victory in New York means that the Democrats are in the majority in this State and that the people will not be dissatisfied with a thorough Democratic Administration in all that it implies. I do not think it is necessary for the Democratic party to ask the advice and consent of the Republicans in making removals from office, appointments, or in shaping its policy. As I said, the Democratic party owes its elevation to Democrats, and I do not think it is necessary or essential to our success to try and win the approval of Republicans or so-called Independents and Mugwumps. The Democrats are the ones to be pleased, it seems to me. I do not wish to place myself in the attitude of criticising President Cleveland. The Democrats have been out of power a long time, and perhaps have become a little rusty in managing the affairs of the Government. All that will be changed soon — is changing now, I believe. The Republicans are anxious to give advice and to run our party for us They have always appeared willing to do that, but I think we shall get along just as well without their advice or inteference.

THE PEOPLE HAVE ELECTED US;

why should we apologize to the Republicans or any one for taking hold and performing our duty? I confess I can see no reason for it. I notice in the civil service commissioners some one hastens to remark that the man appointed chairman of the recent commission was recommended by Chief Justice Waite. Undoubtedly the appointee is a good man, but where was the necessity of getting him indorsed by a Republican judge? It is the theory that the Democrats are in some way accountable to the Republicans for everything they do; that I object to. I don't think the people expect it and I don't think Democrats are pleased with it. But, probably when the Democrats have been in power longer we will learn to go on managing our affairs on our own responsibility. I think the election in this State is a guarantee from the people that they will sustain us in such a course. During the campaign," continued the Governor, "I was called a spoilsman by my opponents in the Independent camp. I deny the first charge in toto, and if they mean that I am a politician in the sense that I make my living out of politics, that is also false. It is true I have interested myself in politics. I was brought up and educated to believe it was the first duty of every American citizen to do so. Every one interested in good government must take more or less interest in politics. I have never before heard that it was a crime, and I don't believe it now. I am in favor of civil service reform—of practical civil service reform. There is so much humbug about it, however, that it is difficult to distinguish between the evil and good. The civil service law reminds me of the annual edicts against intemperance. We pass laws prohibiting men from getting drunk and yet they keep on doing it. It is impossible to stop intemperance. Is it possible to regulate the civil service? To a certain extent, yes. We have passed a law, named the necessary qualifications of certain grades of applicants before they can be appointed, and then the attempt is made to prevent removals. I don't think that is possible. Most people probably do not understand the civil service law. The list of people it covers is comparatively very small, but the civil service enthusiasts have endeavored to stretch it to cover all the offices, from the highest to the lowest. I am in favor of retaining in office the clerks and others employed in the minor positions, but I believe that the principal offices should be filled with people in sympathy with the prevailing administration. I have made no change in the force in the executive office here. The same clerks which were under Mr. Cleveland still retain their positions and will continue to do so as long as they are faithful in the performance of their duty. I think the civil service law could be modified to advantage. But, as I said, there is so much humbug and hypocrisy about the whole so-called civil service that it is hard to make people understand the real state of affairs. I am heartily in favor of a true reform of the civil service, or, in short, anything that will have a tendency to elevate it."

WE have watches to suit everybody, and at such low prices that will secure you an actual saving of from 25 to 50 per cent.

HESS & CULBERTSON,
22 N. Fourth st.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

Retail Prices of Sunday Supplies that Cheer the Inner Man.

The marketmen are nearly always found in a complaining mood, and this morning they were more than usually inclined to growl. The reason for their ill humor are the recent increase made in their rents, and the change in the weather. Expecting that the cold weather had come to stay, the game and meat dealers had in a large supply, and if the weather does not again become wintry before this evening their loss will be considerable. The game dealers have received no new species of game, and the prices will remain the same. If the cold weather had continued a large supply of rabbits and squirrels would already have been received, but as it is, they will hardly come into the market in abundance for several weeks. The advance made in the price of butter last week still sticks, and a change is not expected now for some time. Butterine, through the efforts of the Butter and Cheese Dealers' Association, has now been banished for good, and people need no longer have any fear of not obtaining the genuine article. The fruit and vegetable dealers report a number of fruits and vegetables as being out of season, but give but very few changes in the old prices. It is indeed a sight worth seeing to go down to Union Market early Friday morning and see the wagon-loads of fine fish that are brought in to be sold during the day, and the amount disposed of them is enormous. The following are to-day's prices: Spring chickens 25 to 35c apiece. Game—Pheasants $1 25 a pair; quail $3 a dozen; wild turkey 15c a pound; mallards 50c a pair; Woodcock $1 a pair; venison steak 25c a pound; venison roast 20c a pound; grouse $1 a pair; squirrel 15c each; rabbits 20c each; bear steak 25c a pound prairie chickens $1 a pair; snipe $2 50 a doz; young woodduck 40c a pair. Young teal duck 40c a pair. Frog legs $2 a dozen. Plover $1 50 a dozen. Squabs $3 a dozen. Butter—Elgin 35c; Iowa 30c; fancy dairy 25c; choice dairy 22½c; country 15c to 20c per lb. Honey 10@15c per lb. Eggs 17c per doz. Poultry—Spring chickens $2 50@3 00 per doz. Meats—Loin beef 12½@17½c per lb; rib beef 10@15c per lb; veal 15c to 20c per lb. mutton. 10@12½c per pound; pork 10@12½c per pound; corn beef 6 to 10c per pound; kidneys 5c apiece; tongues, 40c apiece; sweetbreads, 30 to 35c a pair; lamb-fries, 15c; calves' liver, 25c; calves' brains, 10c; calves' head $1; skinned calves' heads, 25c; sausage, 10@12½c per pound; ox-tail, 5 to 10c. Vegetables—soup bunches, 5c each; cabbage 5@10c per head; parsley 3 for 5c; lettuce, 4 for 10c; beets at 20c per peck; potatoes at 15c per peck; carrots, 10c per dozen; radishes 3 bunches for 5c; turnips 20c per peck; green onions, three bunches for 5c; tomatoes 20c a peck; fresh mint 5c a bunch; watercress 5c a bunch. Oranges 50c to 50 to 75c doz; lemons 40c to 50c a dozen; string beans 5c a quart; new turnips 20c a peck; new carrots 20c a peck; Spanish onions 10 and 15c apiece; pears 40 to 60c a basket; oyster plant 3 for 10c; grapes 15c a pound; California grapes 20c a pound; Delawares 25c a pound; cauliflower 25c to 50c a head; sweet potatoes 20 to 30c a peck; yellow turnips 25c a peck; endive 3 heads for 10c; lima beans 15c a quart; crab apples 25c and 30c a basket; wax-beans 5c a quart; celery 50c a bunch; spinach 10c a peck; kale, English broccoli, 3 stalks for 10c; savoy cabbage 3 heads for 10c; green tomatoes 50c a bushel; horse radish 10c a stalk; green peppers 10c a dozen. Fish—Salt water and California salmon 15c a pound, 25c for Delawares; bluefish 15c; mackerel 2 for 25c; red snapper 12½c; Halibut 15c. Freshwater white and trout 12½c; crp py and black bass 12½c; buffalo 10c; pike 10c; lake salmon 12½c; sun 15c a bunch

SILK UMBRELLAS.

Very Low in Price and Most Elegant in Appearance.

Three hundred different styles from which to select, finest qualities of silks and newest styles of handles. Solid silver plate and name engraved upon it free.

MERMOD & JACCARD JEWELRY CO.,
Fourth and Locust streets.

☞ Solitaire diamond rings $10 to $500.
See our grand stock of diamonds!

THE VERDICT.

How Mrs. Walkup Received the News of Her Acquittal.

The first news of the acquittal of Mrs. Minnie Wallace Walkup which reached St. Louis was conveyed to the public in the POST-DISPATCH extra of last evening. The following dispatch gives further particulars.

EMPORIA, KAN., November 7.—The verdict in the Walkup case was reached most unexpectedly yesterday evening. It had not been supposed that a decision could be reached for a day or two at least, as news from the jury room was to the effect that the division there was very strong. The first break was made yesterday morning, when C. J. Johnson, George W. Clark and J. C. Cooley, who had stood out firmly for conviction, went over to the other side. This left H. T. Holmes, W. A. Baysinger and J. H. Peterman for conviction, and the other nine for acquittal. Mr. Peterman had been very strong in his expressions of belief in Mrs. Walkup's guilt, while Mr. Cassler had been just as emphatic in his belief in her innocence. It was Mr. Cassler who on Thursday had a fight with Mr. Baysinger over the question of Mrs. Walkup's age. With this strong feeling manifest it was hardly hoped that even the defection of three members of the conviction party would have a great influence in bringing a verdict within twenty-four hours. Mr. Baysinger, however, was the first to come around, and finally Mr. Peterman and Mr. Holmes, realizing what a hopeless minority they represented, and wishing to save the county the expense of another trial, gave in and agreed to a verdict of acquittal.

PREPARED FOR THE VERDICT.

It was nearly 4 o'clock when a bailiff handed Judge Graves a slip of paper on which was the announcement that the jury had agreed upon a verdict. The court was immediately called to order and the Sheriff ordered to bring in defendant. Mrs. Walkup was in her cell anxiously awaiting the announcement when the Sheriff made his appearance. He gently broke the news of her acquittal to prepare her for the scene to come, and then, accompanied by Mr. Jay, who was present in the cell, escorted her to the court-room. The jury had taken their seats and the crowd in the vicinity of the building had filed into the room. As Mrs. Walkup reached her place she shook hands with Mr. Scott, her counsel, and took her seat. There were traces of emotion on her face, but it was well subdued. The clerk called the roll, and when every juryman had responded to his name the Judge put the usual question to the foreman, Mr. Cook, and opening the paper handed to him, read: "We find the defendant not guilty." There was a loud cheer from the audience, which was repeated as the Judge challenged the jury and again when he discharged the defendant. Mrs Walkup shook hands with the jurymen and granted the request of two of them for a kiss. She then shook hands with Mr. Scott and Mr. Jay.

MRS WALLACE,

her mother, had by this time learned that a verdict had been rendered, and reaching the court-room she embraced first Mr. Scott, then her daughter, and finally Mr. Jay. She shook hands with the members of the jury and turning to Judge Graves grasped his hand in hers and thanked him fervently. Then Mr. Jay shook hands with the jurymen, and then with the discharge of the jury every one shook hands with every one else. Mrs. Walkup and her mother finally withdrew to Mrs. Walkup's cell, accompanied by the Sheriff and Mr. Jay. In less than half an hour they reappeared and the two ladies, accompanied by Mr. Jay and Mr. Anderson, stepped in the carriage, and amid the cheers of the assembled crowd drove to Mr. Jay's residence.

During the progress of the jury's deliberations Mrs. Walkup received a telegram from Cottonwood Falls offering her bail on behalf of 100 business men in case the jury failed to agree and a new trial was ordered.

MRS. WALKUP'S INTENTIONS

It was stated last evening that Mrs. Walkup and her mother would leave for New Orleans within a week. Meanwhile they will be the guests of Mr. Jay and his family.

DRINK "Herold's" American ale, porter and half and-half; Manufactured by the Cherokee Brewery Company.

THE POLES MUST GO.

A Corporation Organized Here to Carry Electric Wires Underground.

The incorporators of the Dorsett Underground Service Company of St. Louis held their first regular annual meeting at the office of George D. Capen, 407 N Fourth street, this morning, resulting in the election of the following officers: President and ex-officio Treasurer, George D. Capan; Vice-president, Erastus Wells; Secretary, George Mills.

Mr. Capen explained that the object of the corporation was to give St. Louis the same underground service of telegraph and electric wires that Chicago has. The service consists of conduits similar to sewer pipes, composed of a non-destructible material that is a perfect insulator, and that contains from seven to nineteen water, gas and air-tight tubes. The conduits will be laid in the streets, with man-holes at proper intervals. The whole business will be explained in detail after the bill has had its second reading in the House of Delegates. The corporation does not apprehend any opposition, as they are merely asking the Municipal Assembly's permission to do business, and the telegraph companies need not patronize the corporation if they do not want to. Mr. Capen said the service would be a great thing for insurance men and for the firemen, whose lives were endangered by the electric wires strung in mid-air. The system is a perfect success in Chicago, where fourteen miles of conduits are in operation carrying the wires of the Chicago Telephone Company, Postal Telegraph, Western Electric Company, the Thomson-Houston, the Mather, the Fuller, the Badger and the Sperry Electric Light Companies, the Mercurial Fire Alarm Company, the Gold and Stock Indicator Companies and the telephone and telegraph wires belonging to the police and fire departments. If all goes smoothly with the corporation, the work of laying conduits will begin next month.

THE CIVIL COURTS.

Answer of the Board of Improvements in the Telephone Pole Case.

Reasons for Refusing the Use of the Streets to the Bell Company—The Track War on the River Front—Divorce and Damage Suits—Judge Lubke's Decisions—Matters in Litigation To-Day.

The Board of Public Improvements this morning filed its return or answer to the alternative writ of mandamus applied for by the Bell Telephone Company. This controversy hinges upon the right of the Board to prescribe rules and regulations for the maintenance and use of poles on the public streets other than the ordinance in relation to the subject specifically sets forth. The Bell Telephone, in the early portion of the year, applied for a permit to place poles on certain West End streets west of Twentieth street to Grand avenue. The company complied with the provisions of the ordinance which clothed the Board of Improvements with the right to regulate the location, size and height of the poles, but would not bind itself to rent its cross-bars to other companies. The Board on that ground refused the permit, thus denying exclusive privileges to the Bell Company.

In its answer this morning the Board of Improvements states its reasons above for refusing the permit to erect the poles and asserts that its rules and regulations are enforced simply for the purse of preventing a multiplicity of poles on the public thoroughfares. There are now eighteen district telegraph and telephone companies using the streets of St. Louis for telegraphic and telephonic purposes, the wires being placed above the surface on poles. There are no less than 8,600 poles in use at the present time. Under the Board's regulation for the use of the cross-bars of one company by another company each pole yields an annual rental of $10 80, and the cost of a pole is about $12. Each pole will accommodate eighteen cross-bars and 220 wires, the rental being fixed by the Board at forty cents for half a bar and sixty cents for a full bar.

Some interest is manifested in this controversy, and telegraph and telephone companies are watching for the result. The Bell Telephone Company's directors are E. A. Hitchcock, Edwards Whittaker, George S. Drake, Wm. A. Hargadine; George F. Durant, manager.

The River-Front Track War.

Judge Barclay, on the petition of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railroad Company, has granted an injunction and restraining order against the St. Louis Transfer Railway Company. The latter company is enjoined from constructing its railroad track over and across the Iron Mountain tracks between Barton and Lesperance streets and it is enjoined from the use of the Iron Mountain tracks between Almond and Olive streets on the river front and north of Olive to Carr street. The Iron Mountain Company is requested to furnish bond in the sum of $10 000 and the Transfer Railway Company is required to come into court and be heard on the merits of the controversy, November 14, before Judge Barclay.

Playing With Fire.

Judge Dillon has refused a special jury in the damage suit of Albert Burton Porter against the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association. The plaintiff sues by his next friend and asks $5,000 damages for permanent disfigurement by reason of a portable furnace containing hot coals upsetting all over him. The boy was playing with other lads at the time, and the furnace was on the sidewalk in front of the Brewing Association's Pestalozzi street storehouse. Hot coals enveloped the boy's limbs, thighs and ankles, and he claims that he is permanently injured. The Brewing Company sets up the defense of contributory negligence.

The Divorce Docket.

Jennie Bannon wants a decree of divorce from Owen Bannon. They were married at Red Wing, Minn., April 19, 1876. Mrs. Bannon alleges that her husband left her without cause and has failed to contribute to her support. One child, Eugene, was born of the union, now with relatives in Minnesota. Mrs. Bannon asks for restoration of her maiden name, Traverse.

Walter A. Latham seeks a decree of divorce from Emma Latham on the ground that she deserted him without any cause or provacation. They were married in 1879, and lived together nearly four years.

Judge Lubke's Decisions.

In the case of J. B. Merwin against the Public School Board Judge Lubke to-day sustained the demurrer to the answer of the Board. The Court held that the contract was not set out and there were no specifications of the amounts stated to have been paid by the Board for which the plaintiff is asked to account.

The court overruled the motion to set aside judgment in the case John W. Smith against Flora Marks. Smith visited Miss Flora's establishment for the purpose of selling goods, and went to considerable trouble in the matter. The Justice gave judgment for the plaintiff for $10, and the defendant wanted to appeal.

Judge Lubke to-day ordered in the case of the Harrison Wire Company that the intervening petitions be reset for hearing on Wednesday, December 2.

A Borrower Sued.

Lucien B. Eaton entered suit to day against B. K. Johnson to recover $2,632 67 on a note, and $15 for money loaned.

VISITING CARDS.

The Finest Work and at the Lowest Prices.

For only $1 50 we furnish 100 visiting cards and finely engraved copper plate. Every lady and gentleman should use them. Order at once.

MERMOD & JACCARD JEWELRY CO.,
Fourth and Locust streets.

Wedding and reception cards, fine stationery, sealing wax, at the very lowest prices.

Send for sample sheet of visiting cards.

A SUPERB TREAT.

The Small Exposition Hall to be Opened With a Musical Entertainment.

The small entertainment hall in the Exposition Building will be formally opened next Wednesday evening, when a grand musical entertainment will be given under the auspices of the ladies of the Aid Society of the new Cook Avenue Church. The hall has been pronounced by architects and professional people the best arranged and finest place of its kind in the country. It is now finished to the smallest detail and will be a beautiful and complete revelation to all who visit it next Wednesday. The programme for the occasion will be arranged to make it entirely worthy the occasion. Instrumental and vocal artists of the finest local reputation have been engaged and will do their best to make the entertainment a grand success. Among the singers who will appear are Mrs. Georgie Lee Cunningham, Miss Lillie R. Gavin, Mrs. Mattie J. Hardy, and Messrs. Bernard Dierkes, Ed Cooper, Joseph Saler and W. M. Porteous. The instrumentalists are the Epstein brothers, and Messrs. J. L. Schoen, J. A. Kieselhorst and Henry Miller. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to furnishing the Aid Society's parlor, sewing rooms, etc. The musical treat will be simply superb, and backed by such a worthy object, should crowd the hall to overflowing.

Money Lost

by not buying diamonds at

HESS & CULBERTSON'S,
22 N. Fourth St.

Council Meeting.

The City Council met last evening. Mr. Stone introduced an amendatory ordinance providing for the following employes in the office of the Harbor and Wharf Commissioner: An assistant at $1,500 per annum, a civil engineer at $1,500, a chief clerk at $1,000, a bookkeeper at $1,000, and a porter for the levee office at $5 a month. The appointment of E. E. Guion to succeed Charles Primm as weigher was approved. The bonds of E. Bogasch, and E. E. Guion, weighers, and J. J. Kelly, jail guard, were approved. Mr. Devoy of the Committee on Railroads introduced an amended bill for the construction of the Transfer Railway Company's tracks. The ground to be occupied, from Dorcas to Louisa on Commercial street, he said, was a hollow, and really no thoroughfare. Mr. Seddon moved an amendment empowering the Municipal Assembly to repeal, alter or amend the road's franchise at any time. After some discussion Mr. Seddon's amendment was adopted, and the Council adjourned.

"HE" WAS A WOMAN.

The Dual Role in Real Life Successfully Assumed by Mrs. Wolcott of Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, November 6.—A case of double life was uncovered here to-day which is certainly very remarkable. A saloon has been conducted at 812 Main street, and a grocery store on Seventh and Wyandotte streets, both apparently kept by one Frank Gray. Numberless people knew Frank Gray, who also conducted heavy operations in real estate and live stock. A very few select society people of Columbus, Ohio, knew Mrs. Mary B. Wolcott. It now turns out that they are identical. Suspicion was excited by some real estate transactions between Frank Gray and Mrs. Wolcott, and it was determined to find out who Mrs. Wolcott was, with result aforesaid.

Got Back at the Baggage Scalper.

In the First District Police Court this morning the case was called of William Conover, a baggage scalper charged with making an overcharge upon Robert L. Cooper, a seventeen-year-old boy from Nicolasville, Jessamine County, Ky. Cooper arrived yesterday morning at the Union Depot en route for Cape Girardeau, Mo., where he was to enter the State Normal School. Conover got him in his toils and made a bargain to convey his trunk to the steamboat for $2, which is double the legitimate fare. Cooper had with him a $20 bill and a $10 bill, and by mistake he gave the larger one to Conover, who gave him back $8 in change. Cooper discovered his mistake later and had Conover arrested, who claimed that he found a $10 bill in his wagon and returned it to Cooper. He was bailed out, but this morning he forfeited his bond. Steps have been taken to have the fellow's license revoked.

Gilmore's Return Concerts.

The people who enjoyed the concerts by Gilmore's band during the Exposition will again have an opportunity of hearing the superb organization. On his return from a tour through the West Mr. Gilmore will stop in St. Louis and will give two farewell concerts on next Saturday afternoon and evening in the Music Hall of the Exposition. He will present a programme selected from pieces which were favorites with the people during his recent engagement. The band will be assisted by the distinguished songstress, Mlle. Louise Pyk, who will render several vocal selections. The admission to all parts of the hall at the matinee will be 25 cents, and at the evening concert the general admission will be 25 cents, with a charge of 25 cents extra for reserved seats. The sale of seats will open at the Exposition box office next Thursday morning.

Alarm Clocks.

Best made, $1 30.

HESS & CULBERTSON,
22 N. Fourth st.

Expensive Sympathy.

Yesterday afternoon Otto Heimberger, a young fellow driving a tea-wagon, placed it across the Washington avenue car track near Fourteenth street, right in the way of a west-bound car. The driver called to him to move from the track, but Heinberger refused to do so, and called him a scab and gave very free vent to his admiration for the strikers and contempt for those who had taken their places. He was arrested after he had detained the car several minutes, and this morning Judge Cady fined him $10 and costs.

HOTEL PERSONALS.

George M. Green, Richmond, Va.; J. M. Siebert, Jefferson City; R. Tremain, St. Paul, and H. C. Deet, Toledo, are at Hurst's New Hotel.

E. K. Grayville, Evansville, Ind.; H. Epstein, Detroit, Mich.; Geo. Curtess, Chicago, and M. L. Frank, New Douglas, Ill., are at the Everett.

Joseph Somers, Troy, N. Y.; James Blackburn, New York; L. E. Mitchell, Mexico, Mo., and E. H. Jeffries, St. Clair, Mo., are at Hotel Barnum.

R. W. Quade, Kansas City, Mo.; D. P. Jones, F. N. Scott, G. Nap, Chicago; George Doyle, New York, and H. Roquet, Newark, N. J., are at the Planters'

Dave Mandel, Cincinnati, Ohio; E. D. Steen, Danville, Ill.; H. Boyle, Philadelphia; W. L. League, Poplar Bluffs, and Chas. B. English, Boston, are at the Laclede.

J. P. Crittendon, Nevada, Mo.; T. P. Wellington, Indianapolis; G. R. Davidson, Little Rock; John Cottrell, Denver, Col., and H. S. Black, Buchan, Mich., are at the St. James.

W. R. Bodmer, Orange, N. J.; G. W. Wild and wife, New York; E. J. Knight and wife, Cincinnati; J. W. Gillispie, Coulterville, and E. W. Newell, Chicago, are at Hotel Hunt.

C. M. Solder, Kansas City, Mo.; E. E. Cross, Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. C. D. Gorham, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Henry Benttell, Halifax, Eng., and Alex Beach, jr., New York, are at the Lindell.

William B. Rae, London, Eng.; C. O. Nanson, Moline, Ill.; William R. Nelson, Kansas City; L. J. Jones, Philadelphia; G. S. Morline, Chicago, and H. A. Sherwin, Cleveland, are at the Southern.

Mechanics' Bank

Have made all arrangements to move in their new and convenient quarters, Fourth and Pine, about the first of January, which is being fitted up in the most approved manner to meet their demands The fixtures have been awarded A. A. Prall, 1912 and 1914 Olive street from competitive designs, and will be a novelty in the way of bank fixtures.

CITY PERSONALS.

Mrs. R. P. Spalding leaves for New Orleans this evening to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. F H Ingalls have returned from a visit to New York and Philadelphia.

Miss Birdie Baker has returned to Howard Female College after a visit to the city.

Mrs. Ashley McKinley returned last week from a delightful visit to relatives in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Boyd of Louisville, Ky., are visiting their brother, Mr. Wm. G. Boyd, 4056 Delmar avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lowe and son left for their home in California, Thursday, accompanied by Miss Lillie Ashbrook, who will visit her relatives there.

E. L. Waite, city passenger agent of the Wabash Railroad at San Francisco, Cal., arrived yesterday. He will return after a week's vacation, the guest of his parents.

Mr. James H. Stockwell, editor of the Daily Law Journal of San Francisco, Cal., is visiting his brother, John L. Stockwell, the Missouri Gymnasium manager.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Hulbert have returned to the city after a very pleasant visit to their country residence, and, with Miss Effie Hulbert, are residing at 3117 Olive street.

Mr. Edward F. Rethwelm and his young bride have arrived home from their wedding tour and will receive their friends in their newly furnished house, No. 3116 Easton Avenue.

Jailer Henry Seigmund's desk is richly ornamented this afternoon with fragrant bouquets and scented billets-doux, sent him by admiring friends who have remembered that he reached the thirty-eighth mile stone this morning.

NORTH ST. LOUIS.

The emergency specials of the police force in the Third District were discharged to-day.

The North St. Louis Turners elected new officers on Thursday night.

J. H. Sargent of the lumber firm of Seymour & Sargeant, of Chicago, is here.

The boat race between the Alaska and the Rising Sun boating clubs will come off at 3 o'clock to-morrow at the foot of Mallinckrodt street.

SECOND DISTRICT POLICE COURT.

Judge White had a docket of nineteen cases today, which he disposed of as follows: Thomas Cunningham, John Dillon, Albert Oberwinder and Thomas Lyons, were fined $10 each for disturbing the peace; Julia Blow, same offense, $5; Margaret McMurray, Nellie Labere and Honora Hines, $10 each for being drunk on the street; Ellen Williams was fined $5 and Robert Jackson $3 for the same offense; Annie May, a woman of the town, was fined $15, and Kretchmeyer for lounging, the same amount.

F. H. INGALLS publishes a new price list on our fifth page to-day. It is worth reading.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

OFFICE ASPHALTUM PAVING BLOCK COMPANY,
712 Chestnut st., St. Louis, Mo.

THE annual meeting of the stockholders of the Asphaltum Paving Block Company will be held at the office of the company, 712 Chestnut street, on Monday, November 16, 1885, at 9 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of electing a board of directors to serve during the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. Polls open from 9 a. m. to 12 m.

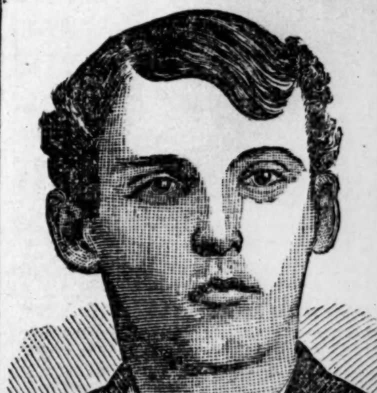
W. F. HOMES, Secretary.
GEORGE S. EDGELL, President.

WE WILL OFFER
Excellent Bargains on Monday
IN TAPESTRY BRUSSELS CARPET
At 50c, 60c and 75c a yard; reduced from 65c, 75c and $1.
A lot of Three-Ply Carpets at 75c per yard; reduced from $1.
A lot of Wool-Filling Carpets at 50c a yard; reduced from 65c.
A lot of Lace Lambrequins, to close, at 25c, 50c and 75c; reduced from 50c, $1 and $1.25.
A limited lot of Smyrna and Velvet Rugs at $2.25 and $3; reduced from $4.50 and $5.
KNAUPP & KRAMER
411 FRANKLIN AVE.

PROVES HIS STORY.

By His Own Appearance and Actions.

Statement of One of the Employes of the Republican Before Its Alleged Purchase by the Hon. John M. Glover.



Bernard Vanderhagen, 2109 N. Eleventh Street.

Mr. Bernard Vanderhagen was for some time employed at the proof readers' table in the office of the Missouri Republican. His health completely gave out and he had to resign his position.

To a reporter he said: "I had been ailing more or less for two years, and had been growing slowly, all the time. I had been to two or three doctors. One of them told me I had a case of dyspeptic catarrh, which was incurable. He said that he could do nothing more than relieve me, that I never could be cured. My work on the Republican was, of course, night work, and I knew, sooner or later, I would have to give it up. We are not rich and we all the money I can make. But I grew so bad in time that I had to give up all work. You can't imagine how weak and miserable I felt. Joined to my worry at not being able to work, there was the pain and nausea of my disease. You can't imagine what a miserable disease it is. I had a continual discharge of mucus, a soreness in my nose and the back part of my throat, a cough and a pain across my forehead just over the eyes; a hawking up of phlegm, the loss of appetite and a roaring in the ears, and a general feeling of wretchedness. My mother had read in one of the papers something about Dr. McCoy's cures. She persuaded me to go and see him. This was five months ago. I went under his treatment, and in a short time I BEGAN TO GET STRONGER.

NEED FOR OUR LIVING

In two months I was able to work again' and you can't imagine how happy I felt. Then I thought I was well, but Dr. McCoy insisted on my continuing taking medicine. Two weeks ago he pronounced me cured, and, for my own part, I don't detect a trace of my old trouble. I am as well as ever."

Mr. Vanderhagen is an intelligent looking young man of 25 summers and is now holding a position that requires hard and vigorous work, with the Excelsior Manufacturing Company. He looks and acts as well as he says he feels.

DOCTOR
J. CRESAP McCOY,
Late of Bellevue Hospital, New York, HAS OFFICES AT
1516 LUCAS PLACE, ST. LOUIS

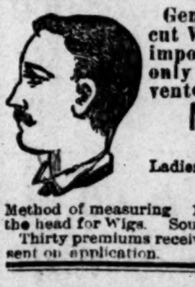
Treats with equal success all curable cases, curing deformities generally considered incurable.

Medical diseases treated successfully. Consumption, Bright's Disease, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism and all Nervous Diseases. All diseases peculiar to the sexes a specialty. Catarrh cured. OPIUM and MORPHIA HABITS CURED IN LESS THAN ONE MONTH.

Consultation at office or by mail, $1.

OFFICE HOURS—8:30 to 11 a. m.; 1 to 4 p. m.; 6 to 8 p. m.

Correspondence receives prompt attention.



PREMIUM WIGS.

Gents' new style short-cut Wigs and Toupees, impossible to detect them; only to be had of the inventor,

M. J. DARCEL,

Ladies' and Gents' Hairdresser and Wigmaker.

Method of measuring the head for Wigs. 102 S. Broadway, under the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, Mo.

Thirty premiums received at St. Lous Fairs. Prices sent on application.

A NEW
AND Excellent Baking Powder.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

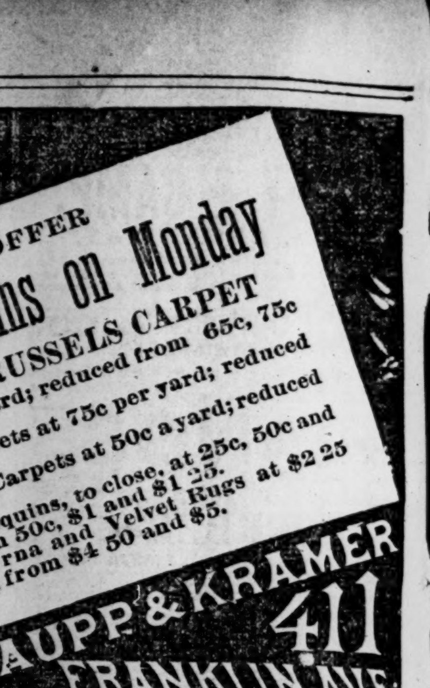
ST. LOUIS, November 4, 1885.

Having used several five-pound packages of Shepard's Economical Baking Powder, I now cheerfully recommend it to all interested in such preparations. For years I have used the high-priced and much-advertised brands of powder, believing there was nothing equal to them, but now I use Shepard's Economical only, as I find it equal to any in quality, while in price it is VERY MUCH CHEAPER.

N. YOCUM,
Proprietor Lafayette Park Hotel.

MANUFACTURED BY
WM. H. SHEPARD,
N. W. Cor. Fifteenth and Clark Av.

Families living at Kirkwood will find this powder for sale by Leet & Kichen. GET A CAN of it to try, and if not satisfactory in quality, RETURN IT TO THEM.



46,972
Now in Use,
And they make that many happy homes.
First premiums over all competitors at World's Fair, New Orleans, and St. Louis Fairs 1883 and 1885.
Sold only at our factory, 1901 Washington Av., and by Simmons Hardware Co.
Write for Catalogues to Wrought-Iron Range Co.
Manufacturers, St. Louis.

SPENCERIAN
STEEL PENS
Possess 3 IMPORTANT CHARACTERISTICS.
UNIFORMITY, DURABILITY,
SUPERIORITY OF METAL.

Used by the best Penmen in the U. S. and Canada. Sample card of special numbers sent on application.
ASK FOR CARD NO. 1.
Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co.,
753 and 755 Broadway, New York.

GRATEFUL — COMFORTING EPPS'S COCOA.
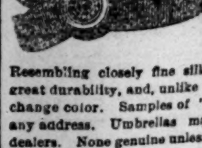
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins by grocers, labelled thus:

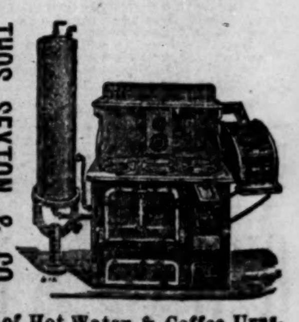
James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.



Windsor Umbrellas

Resembling closely fine silk, are recommended for their great durability, and, unlike Union silk generally, will not change color. Samples of "Windsor silk" mailed free to any address. Umbrellas may be ordered from all best dealers. None genuine unless stamped on tie, as above.

BELKNAP, JOHNSON & POWELL,
New York and Philadelphia.



THOS. SEXTON & CO.,
Agents for Van's Patent Wrought Iron Portable
Hotel & Family Ranges
Choice line of Hot Water & Coffee Urns,
ALSO A FULL LINE
Cooking Stoves, Ice-Boxes and Refrigerators
606 MARKET ST.

HOLMAN'S LIVER PADS
Cure Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, Wakefulness, etc. Promote Appetite Assimilation and Ambition. Prevent Seasickness, Smallpox and all Fevers.
Price Regular Pad $2.00
If not obtainable at your Druggists, send Postal note to
HOLMAN LIVER PAD CO.,
P. O. Box 2112. 120 William St., New York.

Monday CARPET from 65c, 75c
r yard; reduced e yard; reduced at 25c, 50c and $1.25
Rugs at $2.25
and $5.
& KRAMER
411
ANKLIN AVE.
OME COMFORT
6,972
ow in Use,
hey make that many homes,
premiums over all itors at World's Fair,
Orleans, and St. Louis
883 and 1885.
only at our factory,
Washington Av., and by
s Hardware Co.
ite for Catalogues to ght-Iron Range Co.
ufacturers, St. Louis.
PENCERIAN
TEEL PENS
3 IMPORTANT CHARACTERISTICS.
MITY, DURABILITY,
SUPERIORITY OF METAL.
Blakeman, Taylor & Co.,
EFUL—COMFORTING
PS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.
Windsor
Umbrellas
NAP, JOHNSON & POWELL, ew York and Phila'elphia.
THOS SEXTON & CO.
line of Hot Water & Coffee Urns,
ALSO A FULL LINE
Stoves, Ice-Boxes and Refrigerators
08 MARKET ST.
HOLMAN'S LIVER PADS
HOLMAN LIVER PAD CO.

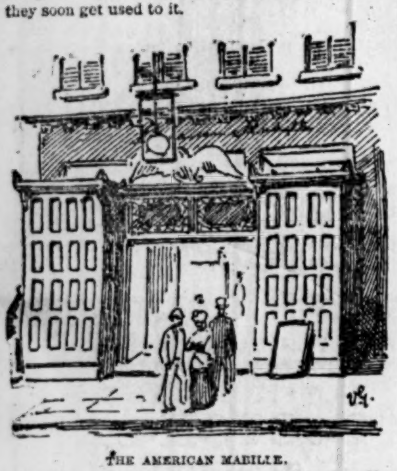
"AMERICAN MABILLE."

Description of a Notorious New York Den.

The Mabille of Bleecker Street—No License, Yet Liquor, Often Drugged, is Openly Sold There—A Very Forcing-House of Sin and Crime.

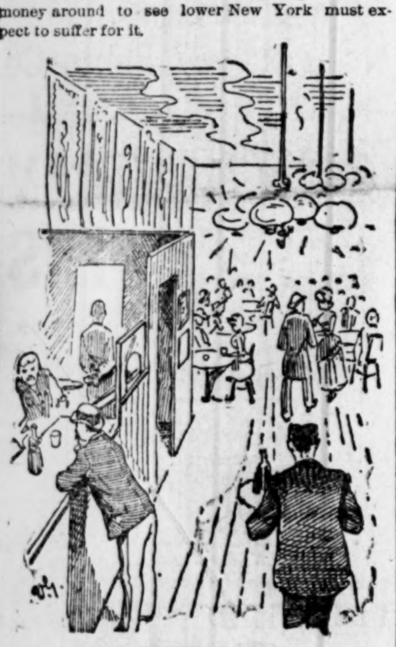
Special Correspondence of the Post Dispatch.

New York, October 20.—Not one hundred yards away from Police Headquarters stands a dingy fronted house on Bleecker street, the lower portion of which is every night brightly illuminated, and bears the pretentious title of the "American Mabille." It is an easy place to find, for it is near Broadway, and right across the street is a big gambling house whose open windows shed floods of light upon the pavements all night long, revealing the hard features of groups of loudly dressed men. It is only by day that the walls of the "Mabille" look dingy. The big gilded eagle that perches defiantly above the always open door is bathed in a never-failing flow of radiance from the double electric burner a few feet away. Yellow gas-jets in the hall glare and flicker in competition with the blaze. Above the noise of the dancers within sound the monotonous thumping and rasping of four alleged musicians in the basement. Captains in charge at Police Headquarters all night often complain that the racket keeps them awake, but they soon get used to it.



THE AMERICAN MABILLE.

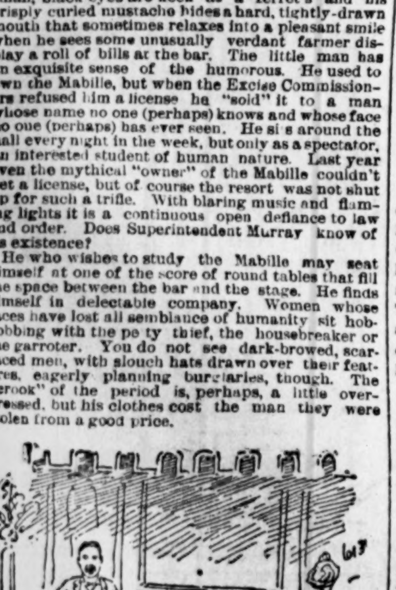
A visitor of ordinary sanity goes into the Mabille very much as he enters a dissecting room. There is much to offend the ear, the eye and, above all, the sense of smell. The bar takes up one-third of the left side of the room. There are always from two to four able-bodied men behind it dealing out liquors of half a dozen names from one bottle, or dispensing bad beer and worse wine Not more than twenty times in the week some foolish countryman who finds himself penniless in the gutter complains that his whisky was drugged, but then the barkeepers had nothing to do with that little accident. Besides, they say, "If we don't some one else will; so what's the odds?" The man who insists on carrying a pocketful of money around to see lower New York must expect to suffer for it.



AT THE BAR.

Perched on an upturned beer keg in the dingy little "office" off the end of the bar sits a compactly built, low-sized man of about middle age. His small, black eyes are keen as a ferret's and his crisply curled mustache hides a hard, tightly-drawn mouth that sometimes relaxes into a pleasant smile when he sees some unusually verdant farmer display a roll of bills at the bar. The little man has an exquisite sense of the humorous. He used to own the Mabille, but when the Excise Commissioners refused him a license he "sold" it to a man whose name no one (perhaps) knows and whose face no one (perhaps) has ever seen. He sits around the hall every night in the week, but only as a spectator, an interested student of human nature. Last year even the mythical "owner" of the Mabille couldn't get a license, but of course the resort was not shut up for such a trifle. With blaring music and flaming lights it is a continuous open defiance to law and order. Does Superintendent Murray know of its existence?

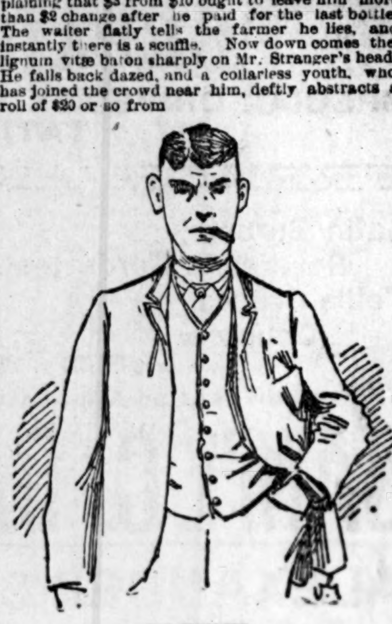
He who wishes to study the Mabille may seat himself at one of the score of round tables that fill the space between the bar and the stage. He finds himself in delectable company. Women whose faces have lost all semblance of humanity sit hobnobbing with the petty thief, the housebreaker or the garroter. You do not see dark-browed, scar-faced men, with slouch hats drawn over their features, eagerly planning burglaries, though. The "crook" of the period is, perhaps, a little overdressed, but his clothes cost the man they were stolen from a good price.



ONE OF THE SCENES.

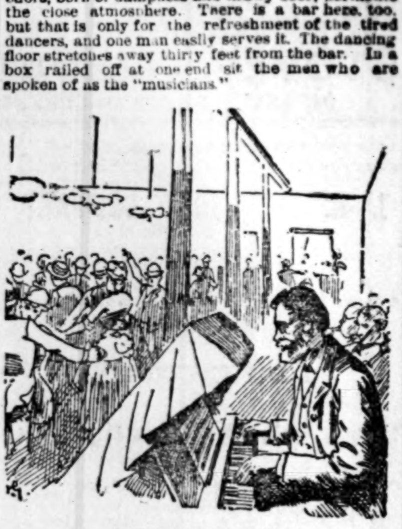
And they are a merry crowd. They are enjoying to the utmost the rare jests of the hoarse-voiced young man on the little stage, who is singing about how nicely he "fooled the new cop on our beat." There are rules painted in large letters, forbidding loud profanity. Oh, yes. But the songs and jokes on the stage are more than merely suggestive. They surpass Zola's nastiness. This amiable young gentleman is the manager.

He is really a noble-hearted fellow, but he forces a scowl on his low, furrowed brow because some one has told him he looks like a well-known prize-fighter, and he must keep up appearances. He carries a heavy lignum vitæ baton as his staff of office. There is a connection between the baton and that little window which you see behind the stage. For example: Observe the man in the butternut suit who is drinking "wine" with a young woman over at that table in the corner. They have been imbibing for twenty minutes, and the colorless powder she dropped in the stranger's glass has fuddled him a little. Not so much, though, as to prevent him from complaining that $3 from $10 ought to leave him more than $2 change after he paid for the last bottle. The waiter flatly tells the farmer he lies, and instantly there is a scuffle. Now down comes the lignum vitæ baton sharply on Mr. Stranger's head. He falls back dazed, and a collarless youth, who has joined the crowd near him, deftly abstracts a roll of $20 or so from his pocket, bounds across the little stage, and a half leap carries him out of the open window and into the dark shades of "Shinbone" alley. Could anything be neater? The club, the agile youth and the window work together like parts of a machine. The merry little man sitting near the bar cannot refrain from smiling his approval. And meanwhile the countryman has found himself on the pavement without a dime in his possession. He does not know who hit him or robbed him, but he is painfully aware of his moneyless condition and the fact that home is many miles away and walking is dusty. He will know better next time? Not a bit of it. His next semi-annual visit to New York will find him repeating the performance.



THE MANAGER.

And the girls who form part of the "attractions" of the Mabille—where do they come from? A walk down the crooked stairway from the barroom leads to the ballroom. And such a retreat! Queer odors, born of dampness and musty beer, permeate the close atmosphere. There is a bar here, too, but that is only for the refreshment of the tired dancers, and one man easily serves it. The dancing floor stretches away thirty feet from the bar. In a box railed off at one end sit the men who are spoken of as the "musicians."



IN THE DANCE HALL.

Their lot is not a happy one, for if they stop five minutes in their task of pounding, blowing and rasping out the miserable dance music the merry little man will come down from the barroom and play practical jokes on their heads and faces with his fist, or perhaps a stout stick. The ball-room is lighted with many flaring gas jets and the floor is reasonably smooth and even. This is the recruiting place for the dive above. Every girl in the neighboring tenements who toils all day for small wages is just as eager for amusement as the petted daughter of the wealthiest merchant. Dancing is about the only luxury the poor girl can command, and dance she will, too, often no matter what the cost. Some of her acquaintances tell her of the Mabille; she dances there once or twice and the spell is fixed.

The dancers at the Mabille confine their efforts chiefly to a slow, sidling whirl, which goes with them by the title of waltzing. It is altogether different from the waltz which dancing masters teach. Occasionally some of the older habitues vary the monotony with an energetic can-can of the most rudimentary type.

A stout, gray-haired old woman pressed through the crowd on the night of the reporter's visit, and, with tears streaming down her face, caught the arm of a 15-year-old girl who was being whirled around by a young pickpocket. "Come home with me, Rosie" she pleaded, as she tried to draw the girl away from her associates. Her daughter laughed defiantly as she let herself be led away. "I'll see you to-morrow evening," she said to her companion. Doubtless she did.

Such scenes are common in the Mabille. The proprietor never interferes with women who are taking their daughters home. He knows the girls will inevitably drift back again in a day or a week.

What is the charm that leads so many rural visitors into the den? They have heard their friends tell about the time they have had there, and they are bound to have a bigger story to tell when they go home. They generally do.

There seems to be no law to keep young girls away from this and similar places. No one drags them in bodily. The music and dancing are the bait, and they run to it eagerly. Their ruin is certain the moment their feet cross the threshold.

Loss of hair and grayness, which often mar the prettiest face, are prevented by Parker's Hair Balsam. If you are sick don't delay, but try Parker's Tonic.

AT THE CLUBS.

What the Members Have Been Doing During the Week.

Club people have, as a rule, settled down to the quiet enjoyment of their privileges. Nothing has happened of special interest at the St. Louis Club during the week, except that the attendance has been extraordinarily large, this fact being mainly due to the novelty of the new surroundings. The success of the down town branch is assured and the restaurant is patronized more liberally than ever before on account of its convenience as to locality.

At the University Club the members are still at sea as to their change of quarters. Nothing has been done as yet in the matter of removal and the members are divided in opinion as to whether the removal will be to the Walsh mansion, the old St. Louis Club House, or to a down-town locality. The Walsh mansion has the largest number of admirers, and the supporters of a down town locality come next. An opinion was expressed by a member that it was almost certain that the Walsh mansion would be selected.

At the Mercantile Club unusual quiet reigns as far as the members are concerned. The daily attendance is large, and quite a number of visitors have been recorded in the books. The club has an established reputation as a place of meetings. The entertainment committee of the Cattle Convention meets there to-night.

The first meeting of the new board of directors of the Elks' Club takes place to-night. The Elks' Lodge has decided to have monthly socials during the winter, and the Flambeau Club arrived at a similar decision, the socials to take place in Elks' Hall.

The first entertainment of the Germania Club takes place next Saturday night. A German farce will be presented.

The first regular entertainment and hop of the Liederkranz will take place to-night.

In the near future Liquid Bread will have become a household necessity. The demand for this pleasant, health-giving tonic beverage is steadily increasing. Druggists and grocers keep it.

A FAR WEST SENSATION.

Mysterious and Desperate Attempts to Murder a Young Woman at Pueblo, Col.

Pueblo, Col., November 7.—This city is in a blaze of excitement over the attempted murder of Miss Minnie Brown. She is now 19 years of age and was married when but 16 years old to C. M. Greffett, from whom she was subsequently divorced, resuming her maiden name. Thursday evening, while on her way to the Pueblo Collegiate Institute, she was attacked by a man or men, stunned and laid on the track of the Rio Grande Railroad. She recovered consciousness and dragged herself away. There is no evidence showing a criminal assault, so the inference is that she was to be murdered, and suspicion attaches itself to C. M. Greffett.

TEAR-PUMPING ART.

The Types of Character Impersonated by Clara Morris.

Disease, Heart-Aches and Death as Dramatic Adjuncts—The Methods of an Emotional Actress—A Pretty Love Scene—Fred Bryton and His Play—A Capital Entertainer—Chat About Players and the Stage—Dramatic and Musical Notes.

The St. Louis people have had an opportunity to see in close conjunction two artistes who have gained distinction in similar roles. They are artistes who present marked points of difference in temperament, physical and mental attributes. Mme. Modjeska and Clara Morris are as different as night from day, and yet both are successful in emotional roles. The emotional drama, however, is only incidental to the career of the first, and it is distinctively the field of the second. One is large, vigorous, full of physical power, commanding in presence, and queenly in figure and appearance. The other is small, without much physical beauty, weak, and suggestive of suffering in her appearance. Both gain the same end by different methods. One is strength simulating weakness, the other is weakness stimulated by the impetus of emotion to fictitious strength. [illegible] to the heart. [illegible] Modjeska gains in versatility, [illegible] ive effectiveness. [illegible] and in it she is without a peer on the stage.

* * *

The symbols of her art are [illegible] and the chamber of death, [illegible] in human life; that [illegible] over the [illegible] dims the glistening [illegible] which blights the beauty of the loveliest [illegible] creation, which clutches [illegible] affection's vitals, freezes the blood in the veins, sends a thrill of [illegible] terror through the stoutest frame, that which makes hope a mockery, wealth worthless, happiness a fantastic illusion and the sport of circumstance, which turns the fruit of loving labor into ashes, the sweetness and joy of home, of association, of affection into gall and bitterness, that blighting factor inseparably connected with human experience which suggests the question is life worth living, which the best philosophy fails to clear away and from which the most comforting religious faith fails to extract the sting; all the sadness and deep gloom that surrounds disease, death and the grave are made to aid the effectiveness of her art.

* * *

Miss Morris' roles are all steeped in the bitterness of suffering and death; they are all colored in somber hues. They are unpleasant, repulsive and harrowing. The pleasure afforded is that which the torture, mental and bodily of another gives. To say that they do no good would perhaps be going too far. The purely emotional characters in which the suffering that disappointed love or the depiction of the anguish of a mother at separation from her children form the chief interest, may have a softening influence from the display of suffering which human beings have to endure. The lesson of such sorrow is often taught to those in whose lives it has never come, and in its learning there may result a broadening and deepening of the sympathies, and a widening of charity for suffering which is the result of sin or wrong. Whatever the character of the roles, however, or their effect, concerning the treatment accorded them there can be but one verdict. It is masterly, and is the perfection of realism in dramatic art. Whether there be pleasure in the contemplation of agony and torture, there is undoubted gratification in the exquisite simulation of it by the artiste. Miss Morris' impersonations are studies in heart torture in the emotional element in human nature and in nervous disorders. She caters not only to morbid tastes, but to the desire for the realistic, which has a distinct place in literature, painting and on the stage.

* * *

She has presented three marked types: the horrible in the development of madness from one burning idea as in "L'Article 47;" the pathos of disappointment in love as in "Alixe," and the expiative suffering consequent upon one false step as in "Miss Multon." They are all supreme efforts of their kind. There is no wonder that people are fascinated and are drawn to see the actress in her characters. Take "Miss Multon" for instance. It is a symphony of sorrow, a story of wrong, of maternal love so touching that the heart-strings are attuned into the saddest of refrains as an instrument in the hands of a master. The mother in whose breast the love of children has been awakened through pain, and perhaps who has suffered the agony of loss; the young girl in whom are the instincts, the disciplinary sufferings of motherhood, the man who can appreciate grief from experience, are all touched to the quick by the sight of sorrows which are simulated with a reality which makes every tear seem as if it were made of heart's blood, every sigh the parting of the tenderest chord of love, and every sob the welling, bursting overflow of heart-broken woe. Such tears, such sighs, such sobs cannot but find responsive echoes in bosoms that are human. The artiste's manifestations of grief seem to come from voiceless depths where pain is inexpressible, where there is no utterance but in tears. It seems incredible that one can express such emotions without having sounded the depths in experience of woe. In voice, in manner, in feature, in expression the artiste is the personification, the incarnation of grief.

* * *

By far the most charming, if not the most powerful, of Miss Morris' characters is that of Alixe. The pathos of innocence suffering through no error of her own is depicted with a strength and delicacy of tear-producing power, which invests it with the finest charm of artistic coloring. The character is altogether attractive, and there is one love scene which is a masterpiece of art. The irresistible love of a young girl for a man whose actions seem contemptible constitutes in itself a touching situation. Then the lover pleads for himself and his passion in tones which command a hearing from a woman. The conflicting emotions of hesitation, doubt, fear, anguish, conscientious regard for duty, and finally the impulsive yielding as if her whole soul were swept by a storm of passionate longing, are shown with a delicacy of shading and a final torrent of emotion, which appealed irresistibly to the audience. When "Alixe," having fought against her nature and her controlling love, threw herself into her lover's arms, fairly quivering with the new-found joy and with come-what-will-I-must impulsiveness, there was not a woman in the house, who had been in love, who did not experience a sympathetic quiver and who did not mentally do what "Alixe" did.

* * *

It is that art of losing herself in the character she is representing, of being natural in the positions she is thrown; the power of magnetism, of becoming fervid and of seeming to be controlled and mastered by the mood she simulates, which makes Clara Morris the greatest emotional actress living. She has more than this. She has studied the physical manifestations of emotion until her body responds at will to the moods of the mind. If tears are called for, they glisten in her eyes; if sighs are needed, they breathe out a world of woe; if sobs are demanded, they gurgle and choke her utterance in her throat, and her weeping is a series of convulsions which fairly rend her bosom. She throws horror, sorrow or despair into her eyes, face and frame with such correctness of outward seeming that she could be framed and would stand for the type of the emotion. She sweeps the whole gamut of woman's trials and griefs, and from women come her best tributes. She appeals directly to them with irresistible power, because they recognize themselves in her under the same circumstances.

* * *

One of the best new plays that I have witnessed this season is "Jack o' Diamonds." It is a simple story of love, unhappiness, separation and reunion, but it is told so naturally and with such power of pathos, combined with strength of dramatic situation, that it appeals directly to the heart. It also has the merit of capable and adequate presentation. There is a picturesque charm and quiet strength about Mr. Bryton's impersonation of John Diamond which is not easily described. It must lie largely in the individuality of the actor. The character sits easily on his shoulders, and the generous impulses, uncouth gentleness and offhand, unflinching courage of the man bubble up from his heart, and are displayed in his carriage, manner and speech as if they were his by nature and not by art. The home scene in the second act is an exquisite picture in which Mr. Bryton, Miss Armstrong and the child are wonderfully attractive personalities. There is much that is deserving in Miss Armstrong's work. She comes practically unknown and unheralded, and while there seems to be something lacking in personal magnetism, she invests the character of the wife with a womanly grace, a repressive force in the emotional scenes, and a quiet effectiveness which makes it thoroughly attractive. The play deserves to succeed.

* * *

It is something of a travesty on dramatic literature to call Sol Smith Russell's vehicle a play. Mr. Russell presents the apparent anomaly of an actor who does not need a play, and the less play there is the better his audiences are pleased. He is a capital entertainer, full of dry, quaint humor which is irresistibly amusing. If he can fill his vehicle full of himself, his songs and his characterization he cannot fail to please. His own individuality, given free rein, is the best character he can assume.

Announcements.

The sale of seats for the Abbott opera season at the Olympic next week indicate that it will be a popular musical event. Miss Abbott, who has always been a favorite here, brings with her a superior company and announces a varied and attractive repertoire. It is a large and strong opera company, and is devoted to the interpretation of English opera, which always appeals more powerfully to the popular heart, and in attempting to place it on a high plane Miss Abbott deserves highly of the public. The company received excellent commendation wherever it has appeared. It includes, besides Miss Abbott, Laura Bellini, Lizzie Annandale, Marie Greenwood, Bertha Fricke, Fernando Michelena, Agostino Montegriffo, Wm. Pruette, Wm. Broderick, Maurice Connell, Ronconi and others. Sig. Tomasi is the musical director. The popular character of the repertoire is increased by the addition of "The Mikado," which it is promised will be given with the English stage business as produced at the Savoy Theater, London, and with elegant costumes. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Photographs of the entire house will be taken at each performance and will be presented to each person in attendance.

THE PEOPLE'S.

Chas. A. Gardner, the well-known German dialect comedian, will open an engagement at this house to-morrow night in Con. T. Murphy's play, "Karl, the Peddler." Mr. Gardner will introduce new songs, and especially a new lullaby, which has been written for him. "Karl, the Peddler," will run for the week with the usual matinees.

THE STANDARD.

George R. Sims and Henry Pettitt's powerful melo-drama, "In the Ranks," will be the attraction at the Standard next week, opening to-morrow night. It will be presented by a full company under the management of Mr. Douglas White, and with complete and adequate scenery.

THE CASINO.

A new programme will be presented to-morrow afternoon at this house by Essie Clinton's Vaudeville Celebrities, introducing new specialties. Among the people who will contribute to the bill are Essie Clinton, one of the neatest and prettiest serio-comic songstresses; the Lavarde Sisters, Sig. Luigi Dell'Oro, the musical artist; Annie Queen, the mind reader; Carlyle, the card manipulator; Wills and Barton, in sketches; [illegible], Burt Queen, [illegible] and others.

THE PALACE MUSEUM.

At this popular resort Manager [illegible] has secured as a special attraction Krao, the marvelous freak, half human, half monkey, who, or which, created so much wonder last season. In addition there will be the [illegible] midget quadrupeds; [illegible] and his sixteen alligators; the baby lion; little Flora, the child snake charmer; R. J. James, the fat boy, and other curiosities, with a good stage show.

The Annual Scott Recitals.

The small hall of the Exposition Building, which will be known as Entertainment Hall, will be formally opened on Tuesday evening, November 17. The hall has been completed and will be ready for occupancy by that date. It is a cozy, bijou theater with new and complete scenery and stage appointments, drop-curtain, foot-lights and roomy numbered seats. The opening of it has been entrusted, very properly, to Mr. and Mrs. John R. Scott, who will give their sixth annual recitals, an event which is always anticipated with pleasure by the people of St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are extremely clever people and are capable of giving entertainment of a high order. No happier selection, when the purposes of the hall are taken into consideration, could have been made by the Exposition directory. It is promised that a fresh and varied programme will be presented, several numbers of which have been written especially for this occasion. A new and entertaining comedietta entitled "A Husband in Clover," will be presented by the talented couple and a taste of their dramatic abilities will be furnished. The only special exercise incident to the occasion will be a dedicatory address delivered by Hon. E. O. Stanard, and this will be followed by the recitals. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are excellent elocutionists and have won the favor of the public, and if the capacity of the hall is tested on opening night it will be only what they deserve. The price of admission will be 50 cents with reserved seats 25 cents extra. The box sheet will be opened for the sale of seats next Tuesday, November 10, at Balmer & Weber's.

A Curious Kind of Kiss.

From the Courier-Journal.

Miss Abbott's kiss as Yum-Yum, however, is altogether different; it is not one kiss, not The Kiss, but a succession of short, sharp and gustatory smacks; not "a single Dropp to quenche a Thirst," but a fusillade of "swete Droppe" of one "long Showre."

Or, perhaps, its nature can be better indicated by a homelier comparison. Did'st ever toss to a particularly "hongry" pig an ear of corn, or turn him into a succulent field of clover? Then thou knowest with what a volley of staccato, voracious and beatific smacks and chops of tongue and jaw he hastens to discuss his feast.

So with the Abbott Yum-Yum kiss when she rushes upon Nanki-Poo as if to devour him.

Let the distinction be preserved. Her Juliet kiss is The Kiss; her Yum-Yum kiss is only a degenerate species of the genus kiss—it is merely the Pig-in-Clover kiss.

Gas Music.

From the London Era.

Music from gas is the latest invention. A novel musical instrument called "The Pyrophone," now exhibiting at the Inventions Exhibition, will shortly be introduced to the public. Its compass is three octaves, with a keyboard, and it will be played in the same manner as an organ. It has thirty-seven glass tubes, in which a number of gas-jets burn. These jets, placed in circles, contract and expand like the fingers of a hand. When the small burners separate the sound is produced, when they close together the sound ceases. The tone depends upon the number of the burners and the size of the pipes in which they burn, so that by a careful arrangement and selection all the notes of the musical scale may be produced in several octaves. Some of the glass tubes in which the jets burn are nearly eleven feet high. When the "Pyrophone" is played upon with the keyboard, it gives out a rich full tone of remarkable delicacy, and to a great extent resembling the human voice. The inventor of the "Pyrophone" was the late Frederick Kastner. We have had music from stones, from wood, and from metals of all kinds, but only a scientific German would ever have thought of producing sweet sounds from gas. Here is comfort for the gas companies in the event of electricity becoming the chief illuminative power. It will be odd to supply long or short metre from the gas meter.

The Longevity of Actors.

From the New York World.

Junius Brutus Booth, with all his eccentricity, never did a more eccentric thing in the profession than when he died young—at 54. The profession of an actor tends to longevity and good health. Old Betterton lived to be 75; Colley Cibber played out at 86; Mrs. Bracegirdle faced the footlights at 83; Yates went off the stage at 97; Quick and Roger Kemble answered the callboy at 84, Dorndon at 88, Mrs. Siddons at 79, and McCready at 80; Macklin made his final exit at 107, and Mrs. Fryer in 1720 danced an Irish jig in London at 85, "her first appearance since the time of Charles II." Harry Watkins supported Kean forty-five years ago, and could still play Claude Melnotte; and could not Mrs Davenport present a Pauline for his vis-a-vis? And Boucicault, has he not just married again and taken a new lease of life?

The Specter of a Masher's Past.

From the Pittsburg Post.

Plump, smooth, jolly Miss Tilbury doesn't amount to much as an actress yet, being a novice, but her youth and comeliness are very compelling to the adulators of stage femininity. Bouquets and notes are sent to her by the noodles, and one evening a somewhat years-worn beau, famous for a quarter of a century as a gallant of the green-room, was struck hard by her agreeable personality. His social and business relations with the management were such that he was able, just after rehearsal next day, to be introduced to the girl. She received him respectfully, but not ardently, and he felt that he was not making a deep impression. He therefore made some intensely silly remarks, intended to convey his admiration.

"I seem to have been acquainted with you for a long time, somehow," said he.

"That's natural, sir," Miss Tilbury responded, "I am wonderfully like my mother was fifteen years ago. You were very sweet on her—judging by the letters you wrote and the inscriptions on the back of your photographs that you gave her. I was overhauling a basket of her trash just before I sailed from England, and we had a good laugh over those things."

"And who was your mother?"

"[illegible]."

[illegible] of two generations retired as soon as [illegible].

A Bishop's View of the Ballet.

[illegible] takes of this [illegible]. Says the Bishop: "The ballet dancers are not immoral; they are good and well-conducted; it is the public who go to see them who have evil thoughts and voluptuous imaginations." The Bishop takes the pretty girls under his protection, but denounces the young men that admire the ballet girls. The former are said to be innocent, the latter lascivious, and from them the [illegible]. All this evidently means that if the [illegible] who view a ballet were holy there would be no danger in the ballet, and it would also be holy. [illegible] the church [illegible] his opinion. It was a bold step for the Bishop to say, but we did not believe ballet girls to be the children of darkness, and one cannot help laughing in one's sleeve that he turns the tables on the young men, condemning them as the perverters of an innocent amusement.

The Circus in the South.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

Cole's Circus left the city last night at 10 o'clock. The tent will be pitched in Greensboro to-day. The circus remained in Atlanta Sunday, not because Mr. Cole wanted to remain, but because he was compelled to do so. The laws of the State prohibit excursion or other trains running on Sunday, except such trains as arrive and depart on a schedule.

The circus left four men in Atlanta, and the probability is that it carried away a dozen boys. Two of the canvas hands are here in the hospital. They have been wrestling with the chills and fever for some time past, and on Saturday were unable to move hand or foot. That night they remained at Police Headquarters, and yesterday they were taken to the hospital. John Calahan, another one of the employes, is in the City Prison. Yesterday morning about 4 o'clock Calahan knocked a glass in the Van Crawford corner to fragments, and was quickly run in by Patrolmen Abbott and Patterson. This morning Calahan will stand up in the Police Court and enter a plea to the charge of drunk and disorderly conduct.

Yesterday afternoon, between 2 o'clock and 11 last night, no less than five fathers visited Police Headquarters to report the disappearance of their sons, the missing boys varying in age from 7 to 12 years, and in every instance the father suspects that his son has gone off with the circus. Some of these boys left home Saturday morning and have not been seen since, while some left yesterday. One man stated that his son, aged 9 years, was extremely active, and that he had been working on the bar and turning somersaults for several months.

Undraped Burlesque Beauty.

Blakely Hall in San Francisco Argonaut.

Mr. Rice has the mysterious faculty of attracting to his company hosts of beautiful girls. I have no hesitancy whatever in saying that we have never seen anything like such a collection of pretty, bright and vivacious girls as those supporting Mr. Mackay in "Evangeline." A quartet of beautiful young women is tolerably well known, but the rest of the chorus company comprises forty or fifty faces and forms that are strange, but none the less welcome to the sight-seer who is fond of looking upon symmetrical, not to say voluptuous, figures that are not too densely draped. It perhaps goes without saying that Mr. Rice does not drape them too densely. It strikes us that he has arrived at the uttermost limits of the law in this regard, and he certainly clothes young women in less clothing, and escapes the clutches of the police with more cleverness than any other manager in the country.

The Pathos of Disgusted Gentility.

Nym Crinkle's Criticism of Mary Anderson.

Even greater was her admirable disgust at Claude's humble home. This was Lady Vere de Vere's chance. It was Boadicea in scorn, it was Lucrezia Borgia in tragic action, it was Lillie Devereux Blake in volubility, and it was all excited by the unfashionable furniture. Her great nature hankered after her Como. She yearned inexpressibly for her alabaster lamps. The pathos of it was deep as the fall of the last rose of summer or the burial of the pet bobolink, and strong men unused to tears bowed their heads and shed a drop or two of sympathy, whether their own broken idols were alabaster or kerosene.

Mary and the Prince.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

Apropos of Mary Anderson, whose return to America is just now occupying a large share of public attention, I may relate a story which was told me the other day by a gentleman who was her guest in London at the time of her alleged "snubbing" of the Prince of Wales.

"I'll tell you how it was," said my friend. "I was in the theater that night and occupied the box next to that in which the Prince of Wales sat. During the performance he sent word to Miss Anderson that he would be glad to call on her between the acts. Miss Anderson replied that it was impossible for her to receive any one between the acts, but that she would be glad to see His Royal Highness at the close of the performance. So, when the play was finished, the Prince went behind the scenes and congratulated the American actress on her success. 'I thought you were afraid of me,' he said, as he shook her cordially by the hand.

"'Oh, no,' she replied. 'I wasn't afraid of you, but it's wholly impossible for me to see any one between the acts.'

"The Prince made a courteous reply, and there the matter ended; but I think I may assure you that Miss Anderson understands too well what is due to her own dignity and that of others to think of 'snubbing' the Prince of Wales or any one else."

An Improvement on Shakespeare.

From the Dramatic News.

I never attend a performance of "As you Like It" without being reminded of the debut of "Professor" [illegible] as Charles the Wrestler. This momentous event in our drama occurred in connection with Miss Rose Coghlan's first essay of the part of Rosalind. The "Professor" was engaged a month in advance to play Charles, and I saw him several times prior to the initial performance. He was in an awful state. He was so afraid of forgetting his lines—"Come, where is this young gallant that is so desirous to lie with his mother earth?" When the night came, he swaggered on, looked around the house, smiled and bowed to about sixty imaginary friends in the boxes and orchestra (he scorned to raise his haughty eyes to Olympus) and—forgot his lines! He hemmed and ha'd, and finally bellowed, "Where is the duke that wants to be downed?"

A Dainty Leading Man.

From the New York World.

Kyrle Bellew is a petit maitre with curling locks of the old style, slender and delicate in appearance and organization, of a different type from any of the recent popular leading men, who have been of the muscular Christian order. Bellew is the ideal French jeune premier rather than an English leading man, and comes nearer to Montague than any who has appeared since his death.

Dramatic and Musical Notes.

Leo Delibes has fallen in love with Slavonic nationalities. He has gathered a large store of Polish and other Slav national airs to employ them in a forthcoming operatic work.

"In His Power" will come to the Grand at the close of this month.

Primrose & West Minstrels will follow Emma Abbott at the Olympic.

Hoyt's latest, "Tin Soldier," will be the attraction at Pope's after Louise Balfe.

Rose Coghlan will appear in a play called "The Idol of the Hour" during her tour.

Maud Granger has secured from Celia Logan the right to produce "An American Marriage."

Matinee performances will be given at the People's and the Standard to-morrow afternoon.

Sol Smith Russell will give a final performance of "Felix McKusick" at the Olympic to-morrow night.

The Siege of Paris is open daily and offers fine entertainment to those who enjoy art on a gigantic scale

The reduction of prices at the Standard has proved a popular move on the part of the management.

Dore Davidson's new play, "Lost," with novel scenic effects, will be seen at the People's after Chas. Gardner.

The first rehearsal of the "Messiah" for the December concert by the Choral Society will be held next Monday night.

One of the best songs recently issued is "Love's Dream," with words by Miss Bertha May Ivory, and music by Alfred G. Robyn.

Manager Mitchell says that his business is ahead of that of last season up to date, and, what is more wonderful, the house is ahead of expenses on the business.

Miss May Brookyn, who had an unpleasant experience here in the "Devil's Diary" Company, has been engaged by W. H. Powers for his "Ivy Leaf" Company.

Alice Harrison's "Hot Water" is playing a successful engagement at Havlin's in Cincinnati. Frank David, formerly of the Dickson Sketch Club is with the company.

Mr. Howard P. Taylor has sold to Miss Rillie Deaves his play of "Olie." Miss Deaves, who played in the Madison Square Theater in "The Rajah," will shortly take "Olie" on the road.

Geo. Heuer will be here next week to greet his old friends and look out for his employers, Hallen & Hart, whose specialty company will play at the People's the week beginning November 22. George will have a benefit on the 23d.

Frank L. Goodwin, manager of Clara Moris, who has been in the city during the engagement, closed a short but successful engagement with Lester Wallack before coming West. He leaves with the company for Cairo, Ill., to-morrow.

The Amberg German Opera Company will give a season of two weeks at the Grand following Mr. Barrett, and will present a varied reportoire, including the "Beggar Student," "Boccaccio," "Nanon," "Black Hussar" and "Gasperone," all successful novelties.

Clara Morris drew an immense house at the Grand last night, and fairly swept the house with her wonderful impersonation of "Miss Multon." To-night, by special request, she will present "The New Magdalen." Her business for the six performances has been lighter than for several seasons past.

Mr. Louis James is under engagement with the Lyceum Theater Company. Mrs. Louis James (Miss Marie Wainwright) has left Mr. Lawrence Barrett's Company, and will be a member of the stock company forming by Mr. R. B. Stevens for the St. Charles Theater, New Orleans. Miss Wainwright's successor in the Barrett Company is Miss Regina Dace.

Mr. D'Oyly Carte lately informed an interviewer that the gross receipts of last year in connection with the Gilbert-Sullivan operas had been $785,000, and that the total sum since 1877 would amount to about $5,000,000. The salaries of the artists, of whom about 350 are employed, amount alone to about $5,500 per week, without the wages for employes of all kinds and the expenses of scenery, costumes, traveling, local theaters and orchestras as well as the general expenses.

F. H. Ingalls publishes a new price list on our fifth page to-day. It is worth reading.

CHURCH CHAT.

Additional Religious Intelligence—Sunday Subjects—Y. M. C. A. Notes.

General Secretary Coxhead of the Y. M. C. A. will conduct a Bible study for young men at 3:30 p. m. Sunday at Twenty-ninth and Pine streets.

E. G. Kraft will lead the gospel service at the Y. M. C. A. this evening, the meeting being held in the new building, Twenty-ninth and Pine streets.

To-morrow morning Rev. Dr. W. W. Boyd will preach on "The Awakening," and in the evening, after an opening service of praise, on "Bad Men in the Ministry."

Rev. Dr. Edward Cooper of the St. Louis Evangelist will preach at the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning and evening, the pastor, Rev. George C. Martin, having gone for a few days to Vermont.

At the Church of the Redeemer to-morrow the pastor, Rev. [illegible] Smith, will preach in the morning, with the rites of baptism and communion. In the evening Rev. J. A. Adams will preach on "Profanity."

Rev. H. I. Coe of this city has been selected by the Home Missionary Committee of the St. Louis Presbytery to preach at the Glasgow Avenue Church several Sundays until the pastor, Rev. W. B. [illegible], returns from Florida.

Dr. Rhodes of St. Mark's Lutheran Church has returned from the East, and will occupy his pulpit to-morrow. In the morning his subject will be, "Following Christ." In the evening he will resume the series of "Vital Questions," and take for his subject, "Can God be Known?"

Bishop Robertson returned yesterday evening from Cape Girardeau and leaves this evening for missions on the Frisco Road, being to-morrow at Cuba, Monday at Salem, Tuesday at St. James, Wednesday at Rolla and Sunday, the 15th, at Springfield. He will be absent several weeks.

In harmony with a request of the Y. M. C. A. to pastors to preach a sermon on Sunday on some phase of work for young men, Rev. Calvin S. Blackwell's theme at the usual service at First Christian Church to-morrow evening will be: "Why the Angel of the Everlasting Gospel Discriminates Against the Unsaved Masses of Young Men in the Great Cities."

At the Third Congregational Church Rev. Wm. C. Stiles will preach to-morrow morning on "Obedience." The pastor will, before each evening sermon, give a prelude on current themes, the subject of the prelude to-morrow being [illegible], Moody and Sankey, the Protestant General and the Roman Cardinal." At 3 p. m. Rev. M. Herzberg will preach in German.

Bishop Robertson has not yet given his decision in the [illegible] case, as all the testimony has not yet reached him, the stenographers evidently being desirous of taking all the year for transcribing their notes. He will probably receive the final batch of evidence on his mission tour of the next two weeks, but will reserve his decision until he has heard the counsel on his return.

The week of prayer for young men all over the world, commencing to-morrow, will be observed by the railway department of the Y. M. C. A. The opening service will be held to-morrow at 4 p. m., at the East St. Louis [illegible], and will be conducted by [illegible], the evangelist. The railway department of the Y. M. C. A. will hold special services during the week as follows: Tuesday evening at Room 1, Union Depot; Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in East St. Louis. On Sunday evening, the 15th, there will be a special meeting at the Fifth Congregational Church, Twenty-third and Clark avenue, addressed by [illegible] and Secretary Geo. T. Coxhead.

The St. Louis Y. M. C. A., in communion with all the associations of the world, will observe the week of prayer for young men from November 8 to 14. A series of young men's meetings will be held, beginning to-morrow at 4:30 p. m., continuing every evening until next week, except Wednesday, at 8 o'clock. All young men are welcomed. The subjects for the evening and the leaders will be as follows: Sunday, "What is Your Life?" [illegible]; Monday, "A Life Question Answered," J. A. Turner; [illegible]; Thursday, "On the Voyage of Life take Christ Into the Ship," H. A. Slaughter; Friday, "Life in Earnest," N. H. Farmer; Saturday, "The One Aim of a True Life," T. J. [illegible]; Sunday, the 15th, "How Shall My Life Here End?" George T. Coxhead.

Literature for the Young.

Mr. Richard Spencer, acting librarian of the Public School Library, has just issued a new finding list of books in the juvenile department. Previous to making up the list, this department received an addition of 650 new and carefully selected books for the young, and the library is now in a position to supply the best of this class of literature. The list is carefully arranged and edited and will prove a valuable aid to the younger members of the institution.

F. H. Ingalls publishes a new price list on our fifth page to-day. It is worth reading.

Conscience Stricken.

Omaha, Neb., November 7.—C. B. Elliott, a man 50 years old, entered the police station last night and gave himself into custody for a crime committed nearly thirty years ago. He claims that in 1856 his sister became the mother of an illegitimate child, and that he took it to Chicago and left it on the steps of a convent, since which time he has never heard of it. The crime preyed on his mind, and he desires to be punished.

THE WIT OF WOMAN.

Kate Sanborn's Collection of the Wit and Humor of Her Sex.

New Books—The Wheel of Fire—Criss-Cross—Literary Notes—Books Received.

THE WIT OF WOMAN. By Kate Sanborn. New York: Funk & Wagnall's. 1885. Sq. 12mo. Cloth, $1 50.

In general the newly fledged author casting his first literary loaf upon the seething waters of criticism is more or less torn with anxiety lest he should find it "after many days," in the rubbish box of a second-hand bookseller, in company with "Baxter's Reflections" and "Smith on the Soul," and surmounted by the legend "Your Choice for 10c." Even when his opinion of his own genius is so great that no doubts assail him as to the ultimate success of his fledgling, he yet has the modesty as a rule to conceal his transports within his own breast. Not so does Miss Kate Sanborn thus hide her light under a bushel—not thus does she belittle the work "of a Summer's Gleaning." That "good wine needs no bush" is a saying of antiquity which either she has never heard or fails to agree with. Her evident delight and exultation at having published a book, is as ingenuous as it is refreshing; nor is she at any pains to conceal it from the world. "I feel," she remarks in the very first page, "a cheerful and Col. Sellers-y confidence in the success of the book; in fact, I expect a call for a second volume." The very last words as the covers close upon the collection of wit and humor, some of which, to do the author justice—is "funny" are

"If you pronounce this book not funny,
And wish you hadn't spent your money,
There soon will be a general rumor,
That you're no judge of wit and humor."

There are no less than three prose prefaces to the work, besides a poetical one, and a dedication. The name of the author appears twice on the cover, once on the title page; once, with her address, at the end of the first prose preface, and again at the termination of the poetical preface; all of which goes to show that Miss Kate Sanborn is, in the eyes of the author, a very important personage indeed. She reminds us irresistibly of a passage in one of Rhoda Broughton's novels, where the bright little heroine remarks to her readers that had she been beautiful, no one would ever have awarded her one-half the unstinted admiration that she would have had for herself.

However, it must be owned that "The Wit of Women" is, in some respects, an admirably compiled work, though, at the awful risk of incurring the author's reproach that we "have no sense of wit or humor," we are bound to confess that there are some very dull pages in the book. The author's keen sense of the ridiculous has led her to scent humor where none exists. Several of the longer selections would cause an oyster to close his shell, while others, again, are as bright and piquant and sparkling as a glass of champagne. On the whole the selection is above the average—the better from the fact that coarseness is (with the exception of one selection) delightfully absent, while the whole is strung together in a bright, humorous style, that adds to the attraction.

The chapter on puns contains two or three good ones — one by Lady Morgan, the Irish novelist, author of "Kate Kearney," another by Miss Alcott. "Some one, speaking of the laxity of a certain bishop in regard to the Lenten fasting, said: "I believe he would eat a horse on Ash Wednesday," "and very proper diet," said her ladyship, "if it were a fast horse." "Query—If steamers are named the Asia, the Russia and the Scotia, why not call one the Nausea?" "At a Chicago dinner party a physician received a menu card with the device of a mushroom, and showing it to the lady next him said: 'I hope nothing invidious is intended?' 'Oh, no,' was the answer. 'It only alludes to the fact that you spring up in the night.'"

Amongst the epigrams, one of the best is a passage from Miss Jewett. Speaking of a person who was always complaining she says "nothing ever suits her, she ain't had no more troubles to bear, than the rest of us, but you never see her, that she didn't have a chapter to lay before ye. I've got as much feelin' as the next one but when folks drives in their spiggits and wants to draw a bucketful o' compassion every day straight along there does come times when it seems as if the bar'l was getting low.

Fanny Fern comes to the fore again and again through the work, as perhaps it is natural she should, as she was the queen of witty women. An amusing passage from one of her school essays is the following "suggestions on arithmetic after cramming for an examination:"

"Every incident, every object of sight seemed to produce an arithmetical result. I once saw a poor wretch evidently intoxicated. Thought I, that man has overcome three scruples to say the least, for three scruples make one dram. Even the Sabbath was no day of rest for me, for prayers, psalms and sermons were all translated by me into the language of arithmetic. A good man speaking very feelingly upon the various divisions of the church pathetically exclaimed 'and how shall we unite these several denominations in one,"

"Why reduce them to a common denominator exclaimed I, half aloud, wondering at his ignorance."

Amongst the longer passages occupying several pages of the work the best are "A Night in a Canal Boat," by Harriet Beecher Stowe; "Aunt Anniky's Teeth," by Sherwood Bonner, which is almost irresistible; and "The Inventor's Wife," a poem, which is a poem indeed, by E. T. Corbett. From this we quote some passages:

It's easy to talk of the patience of Job—Humph!
Job had nothin' to try him;
Ef he'd bin married to 'Bijah Brown folks wouldn't have dared come nigh him.
Trials, indeed! now I'll tell you what—ef you want to be sick of your life
Jest come and change places with me a spell, for I'm an inventor's wife.
An' sech inventions! I'm never sure, when I take up my coffee pot,
That 'Bijah haint bin improvin it, and it mayn't go off like a shot.
Why! didn't he make me a cradle once, that would keep itself a rockin';
And didn't it pitch the baby out, and wasn't his head bruised shockin'?
And there was his "patent peeler," too, a wonderful thing I'll say,
But it hed one fault—it never stopped till the apple was peeled away.

Sometimes I wonder if 'Bijah's crazy, he does such curious things,
Have I told you about his bedstead yet? 'Twas full of wheels and springs.
It hed a key to wind it up, and a clock face at the head,
All you did was to turn them hands an' at any hour
you said—
That bed got up and shook itself and bounced you on the floor,
And then shet up just like a box so you couldn't sleep no more.
Wa-al! 'Bijah he fixed it all complete and set it at half-past five,
But he hadn't more'n got into it when—dear me!
Sakes alive!
Them wheels began to whizz and whirr. I heard a fearful snap,
And there was that bedstid with 'Bijah inside,
shet up just like a trap.
I screamed, of course, but 'twant no use; then I worked that hull long night
A-tryin' to open the pesky thing. At last I got in a fright,
I couldn't hear his voice inside, and I thought he might be dyin',
So I took a crow-bar and smashed it in—there was
'Bijah peacefully lyin', Inventin' a way to get out agin. That was all very well to say,
But I don't believe he'd have found it out if I left him in all day.
Now, since I've told you my story, do you wonder
I'm tired of life,
Or think it strange I often wish I wasn't an inventor's wife?

The latter portion of the work is filled up with short plays, the whole concluding with a string of "fire crackers" presumably by women. On the whole Miss Sanborn has done her work well. That she had no easy task is certain from the fact that she (as she does not forget to inform us) is the pioneer on this special road to literary fame, and, therefore, had no works of reference specially devoted to this subject. She has succeeded, however, in proving to the world that the "Wit of Women" flows as freely, and with as much effervescence and sparkle as that of the sterner sex; and it may be that if she had found less to say in her own praise we might have found more.

THE SNOB PAPERS. By Adair Welckner. Philadelphia. Peterson & Bros., 1885. 12mo., cloth. $1 25.

"The Snob Papers," is a work wholly undeserving of the smallest amount of commendation. Even a passenger on an accommodation train or a public school boy, would find this novel about as much as he could tackle. Although described as "a book of great humor," that element is painfully conspicuous by its absence from the entire work. In vain we searched with the aid of a powerful mental microscope, took it to the dissecting room and laid it on the operating table; there were not sufficient traces of humor, even to warrant a verdict of "not proven." Apparently the author is desirous of emulating Dickens, for there are passages painfully suggestive of Dickens and water (very little Dickens and a great deal of dirty water). There is not a single decent female character in the book—the hero, Mr. Oldheigh, is a vulgarized edition of Mr. Pickwick, while several of the great master's other characters, including Mr. Dombey, Winkle, Snodgrass and others, are paraded upon the stage in miserable caricature. There is not a single original character in the book worthy of the name; the incidents have nothing to do with the story, and the whole is a stupid, purposeless, uninteresting phantasmagoria of passing events, threadless, witless, purposeless, and, in fact, only described in order that they and the book may be together avoided.

TWO NOVELS.

I. A WHEEL OF FIRE. By Arlo Bates. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. 1885. Cloth; 12 mo; $1.

II. CRISS-CROSS. By Grace Denio Litchfield, author of "Only an Incident," New York and London: C. P. Putnam's Sons. 1885. Cloth; sq. 16 mo. $1.

"A Wheel of Fire," from a literary point of view, is a strange compound of strength and weakness, literary talent and the absence of that quality. Its strength is in the careful working out of an original and rather ghastly plot; its weakness in the apparent absence of any visible power of delineating character. It is the story of a girl whose mother and only brother both die insane, and the morbid though not unreasonable fear of the girl, lest she, too, should share the same awful fate. Of course there is a lover who wheedles the girl out of her sensible determination to remain single, and who pays the penalty of his rashness. The girl's morbid and ever haunting terror, the various accidents that combine to hasten the inevitable result are well described, and the reader is kept in a state of suspense until the wedding morn, when suspense and hope are alike at an end, for the bride becomes hopelessly and violently insane just as her lover appears to lead her to the altar. The side plot includes two characters, and a second love story, all of which is very manifest padding, and goes far to undo the good effect produced on the reader's mind by the story proper.

* * *

"Criss-Cross" is a book that will probably never receive full justice at the hands of the public, simply because it will be laid aside unread, from the fact that it crosses a popular prejudice at the outset. The author has contrived to manufacture a very pleasant little romance out of very unpromising materials. She has first set up a tremendous and wholly unnecessary barrier in her road to success, and then proceeds to climb over it and drag her readers after her. For the whole tale is nothing more nor less than a series of letters, and novel readers don't like letters. They are bad enough in real life, and it is safe to predict that quite a proportion of the readers who pick up the little novelette in store or library will lay it aside unread for this very reason. And yet we may predicate that those who do take the trouble to read a page or two before condemning the work will be very sure to read further, for "Criss-Cross" is a charming little tale. It is rather a fragment or sketch than a story, for there is no definite plot, no termination and no marrying or giving in marriage. It is simply the correspondence during an European tour of two people, the letters they write, and those they receive, but every page is sparkling with wit, brilliancy and fun, and you become interested in the characters the moment you make their acquaintance. The heroine, "Freddie" is the most delightful little puss in the world, the wildest of little flirts, and yet the most charming, saucy, loving and lovable young girl it is possible to conceive—a regular typical American lass at her best and worst. Every one should read "Criss-Cross." We predict a success for the talented authoress in the world of fiction.

Book Notes.

Mr. Howell has written a story for the Christmas number of St. Nicholas, which will be illustrated by his daughter. "The little girl among the old Masters," of last year.

Miss Mamie Dickens, the eldest daughter of the novelist, has written a brief biography of her father for a series published by Cassell & Co. She gives many charming pictures of his home life, and tells a number of characteristic anecdotes that will be new to the public.

Mrs. W. G. Norris, who occupies a leading position amongst English novelists, will contribute a new serial novel, "Hope," to Lippincott's Magazine for 1886. The price of this journal will be reduced to $2 from January 1, 1886.

Mr. Howell's new novel, to be commenced in an early number of "The Century," will be entitled "The Minister's Charge; or, The Labors of Lemuel Barker." Some of the characters in "The Rise of Silas Lapham" will reappear in this novel, the scene of which is laid in Boston.

"The Open Door" will be the title of a new amateur periodical shortly to be started. Its object is to encourage and open a field for amateurs of talent, more especially poets.

"King Arthur," not a love story, by Dinah Maria Crank, will be commenced early in the new year by Harper's Magazine. Mr. Archibald Forbes will describe Christmastide with the Germans before Paris in the January number of the same periodical.

Mr. Edwin Pear's book on "The Fall of Constantinople" has just been issued by Harper & Brothers. The same firm have just added Wm. Black's new novel, "White Heather," to their library edition of that popular novelist's works.

* * *

Mr. Grant Allen, in the midst of other literary work, has found time to try his hand at fiction. "Babylon," just from the press, is the title of his first novel.

* * *

The letters of Frances Ridley Havergal, edited by her sister, are among the works to be issued immediately by Anson F. D. Randolph & Co.

Books Received.

From the St. Louis Stationery and Book Company, 407 and 405 N. Fourth street, St. Louis.

PLINY, for Boys and Girls. Edited by John D. White; 52 illustrations. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. 1885. Cl. $3.

THE TRAVELS OF MARCO POLO, for Boys and Girls. Edited by Thomas W. Knox. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. 1885. Illus. $3.

HISTORIC BOYS. By E. S. Brooks. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. 1885. Illus. $2 25.

INCIDENTS AND ANECDOTES OF THE CIVIL WAR. By Admiral Porter. New York: D. Appleton & Co. 1885.

A STRONG MINDED WOMAN; or, TWO YEARS AFTER. By Wm. A. Hammond. New York: A. Appleton & Co. 1885.

PERE GORIOT. By Honore de Balzac. Boston: Roberts Bros. 1885. Half morocco. $1 50.

ANDROMEDA. By George Fleming. Boston: Roberts Bros. 1885. $1 50.

TEXT-BOOK OF NURSING. Compiled by Clara S. Weeks. New York: D. Appleton & Co. 1885.

BABYLON. By Grant Allen. New York: D. Appleton & Co. 1885. Paper. 50c.

From the Publishers:

A TREATISE ON THE AMERICAN LAW OF EASEMENTS AND SERVITUDES. By Emory Washburn, L.L.D. Fourth edition. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. 1885.

MAGUIRE'S Quinine and Iron Cordial is not turbid or decomposed, but clear and unalterable and is chemical. Good for the brain, blood, nerves, muscles and stomach.

THOUSANDS QUIT WORK.

A Big Strike Inaugurated in the Hocking Valley—Serious Trouble Imminent.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, November 7.—In consequence of the coal operators refusing to pay the 10 cents per ton advance between 3,000 and 4,000 men quit work in the Hocking Valley, Ohio Central and Shawnee Valleys yesterday. About 1,000 men are yet at work in the Wheeling Creek region. It is reported that the strikers will try to get these men to quit work peaceably, but will use force if necessary. The operators say they will shut down the mines rather than pay the advance.

The Nailer Strike.

WHEELING, W. VA., November 7.—Wheeling nail manufacturers deny with much emphasis the persistent rumors sent out from Pittsburg that there is a probability of a break in the ranks of the Western Nail Association. They say the Pittsburg manufacturers will continue the fight to the bitter end, and all talk of a break, or even a compromise, is nonsense. Efforts of business men here to bring about a meeting between representatives of the manufacturers and nailors, with a view to making mutual concessions, have met with no encouragement from the mill owners.

Budweiser Beer Depot.

The heating apparatus is completed and is now the most comfortable and pleasant resort in the city.

A SHOCKING TRAGEDY.

A Roundhouse Burned—Kicked His Nephew—Texas Topics.

DALLAS, November 7.—The youngest son of W. L. Bateman, a planter, a lad of 8 years, stabbed and killed his brother, a boy of 16, while out in the cotton field yesterday. The Missouri Pacific roundhouse at Alvarado was destroyed yesterday.

AUSTIN, November 7.—Thomas Pearson, who is on trial for the murder of Dr. Stovall, kicked his nephew in the abdomen last evening for testifying against him.

SAN ANTONIO, November 7.—Miguel Riogas, a horsethief, was sentenced yesterday to fifteen years in the Penitentiary.

Those Complaining of Sore Throat or Hoarseness should use BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES. The effect is extraordinary, particularly when used by singers and speakers for clearing the voice.

WINTER SPORT.

Inauguration of the Polo Season the Coming Week.

The St. Louis-Galesburg Series—The Latham-Sunday Race at Union Park To-Morrow—Arrival of the Derby Winner, St. Blaise—Notes and Gossip.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, November 7.—St. Blaise, the stallion recently bought for August Belmont, in England, at a reported price of $20,000, arrived here yesterday on the steamship Holland of the National Line. Soon after the ship had reached the pier, Mr. Belmont, with his son August, jr., came to see the horse. St. Blaise was in a box stall that had been built for him between decks. He was standing knee-deep in straw, and was munching hay, apparently as happy as if he were on his native heath. He was stripped and Mr. Belmont looked him over critically. He said it was the first time he had seen the horse. One cannot but admire St. Blaise. He is a rich chestnut, stands sixteen hands and a half an inch in height and is finely proportioned. He has a white stripe on the face and his left legs are white, the forward one nearly to the knee and the hind one nearly to the hock. There is also a ring of white about his right hind foot. Mr. Belmont expressed himself much pleased with the horse. St. Blaise is certainly a thoroughbred with what horsemen call "two ends." He is powerful both in front and behind, and has long oblique shoulders, good forearm, good knee, short corner bones and good powerful quarters and a long reach from point of hips to hocks. His legs are without a blemish, though a trifle swollen yesterday from his fifteen days' voyage, but he did not receive a scratch on his trip. He was in charge of G. W. Bishop, who went over after him. Mr. Bishop has taken most of Pierre Lorillard's thoroughbreds across the ocean. He said: "St. Blaise is the best sailor I have ever had in charge. He is so game that he did not seem to mind it at all, though we had some decidedly rough weather. On Tuesday it blew such a gale that we had to lie to for eight hours. The more I see of the horse the more I like him. He is perfect from the tips of his ears to his tail. St. Blaise will be taken from the ship this morning to Stoddard's stable on Greenwich street. Mr. Belmont has not decided whether he will take him to his nursery stock farm at Babylon, L. I., or not. If he does it will be only to keep him there for a week or ten days to rest him before sending him to Lexington, Ky. Mr. Belmont has broken up his breeding establishment at Babylon and transferred it to Lexington, whither forty of his mares have been shipped on Thursday. The nursery stud possesses a fine lot of brood mares and stallions of merit. Belmont has not been fortunate enough to have bred any first-class performers. The nearest he got was Duchess. Turfmen say that the grass is not rich enough nor is the climate suitable. Next year the Belmont colors will once more be seen in the turf, as eight or ten of the nursery youngsters are to be put in training. St. Blaise is to be put at the head of the Kentucky establishment. He is a son of Hermit, Derby winner in 1867, who for years headed the list of winning English sires. St. Blaise won the Derby in 1884 and is the only Derby winner, sired by a Derby winner, that ever left England for America. Although the horse is bred for speed on both sides and won the most important race of his 3-year-old year, he was not what might be called a sensational performer. As a 2-year-old he won three races, secured a walk-over in another and was second in another. The only other time he started that year he was unplaced. In his 3-year-old form, with the exception of the Derby, the only races placed to his credit were walk-overs. As a 4-year-old he ran only once and was then unplaced. This year St. Blaise has started three times, being beaten each time, showing poor form.

Sporting Sundries.

The foot race between Latham of the St. Louis Browns and Sunday of the Chicago League Club, which has been the talk in base-ball circles for the last two months, will be run at Union Park to-morrow afternoon. The race is to be 100 yards with a twelve-foot flying start, and the purse is $400. The race is not for the purse alone, however, but for the title of champion base-ball sprinter of the United States. Both men are very fast and Sunday is said to have a record of 10¾ seconds made in Chicago about a year ago. Latham has no record, but in practice at the Union Park Bill Richards, who is training and backing Latham, says the latter covered the distance in 10¼ seconds. Considerable money has been wagered on the result, St. Louis backing Latham almost to a man and Chicago laying its spare change on Sunday. Bill Richards himself has a bet of $200 even on the result.

* * *

In connection with the foot race an athletic programme has also been arranged. A two-mile heel and toe walking match open to all comers for a handsome prize is one of the attractions besides which a game of foot ball between the Thistle foot-ball eleven and the Hibernian football club will take place. The rivalry between these two clubs is as great as that between the two sprinters who are to appear on the track, and a very close and exciting game will no doubt be had.

* * *

Since the late Hanlan-Teemer rowing match the press throughout the country has been full of criminations and recriminations, each of the principals charging that the other made overtures to throw the race. Viewing the whole controversy in its broadest sense, there is but one result which can accrue to rowing through such exhibitions as that lately had at Pleasant Island. Where there is smoke there is usually some fire, and be the facts as they may, if such continual wranglings are to follow races between representative men in any branch of sport, the sooner the National Association of that sport to which the offenders owe allegiance sifts the matter to the bottom and promptly inflicts the punishment upon the offenders, suspending them entirely if need be, the sooner will the public attend such matches and pay their good money with the feeling that they will see a square contest. Teemer has been caught in plenty of bad scrapes, and many of Hanlan's alleged races with rowing experts have been very queer. No less an authority than Mr. J. A. St. John of this city gives it as his opinion that Hanlan could have been beaten in several of the races in which he won this season. Had his opponents not allowed him to win, however, and divided the purse with him, Hanlan would have refused to row in other races, and so those who were to row with him for special purposes would have received nothing. That oarsman who would willingly throw a race should not be allowed to compete at any regatta or other race in the country, be he Hanlan, Teemer or any other crack.

* * *

As a winter sport polo on rollers is destined to become almost as popular as base-ball is in summer, and in the East, where the game has been played for a number of years, there are clubs in every town which sports a skating rink. Here in the West the game is comparatively new, and has not become such a craze as it has in the East. The organization of the Missouri State Amateur Polo League promises to bring the game before the public, however, in all its glory. Mr. Richard Daly, the treasurer of the league, is now on a tour through the State arranging a regular schedule, and at least two league games a week will be played in this city.

* * *

The Star Polo Club will be the representative of the league in St. Louis. This club was organized last season, and, considering the short time its members had to practice, the showing it has made was a very creditable one. The team this year is almost the same as last year, the principal addition being in the person of Fred Sheldon, the phenomenal rusher of last year's Quincy team. The club will open the polo season next week at the Star rink, where they meet the Galesburg club Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The Galesburgs are the champions of the West, having lost but three games out of fifty played last winter. The Star team has been practicing steadily for some time past, and all the members are thoroughly trained in their respective positions. The games, therefore, between these two clubs will be well-contested ones.

* * *

A very strong team has also been organized at the Crescent Rink. This team will play a series of games with the representatives of the Illinois and Missouri unattached teams. A game is now being arranged with the Springfield, Mo., Club, and will take place probably the latter part of next week.

* * *

In billiard circles the all-absorbing topic is the coming series between Shaefer, Slosson and Vignaux. As foils in practicing, Vignaux has Albert Hoa and Edward Page. Slosson has Capt. A. C. Anson (of the Chicago Base-ball Club) and John Matthews, the latter one of that city's strongest amateur players so far as counting is concerned, while the former is perhaps the best man for practice work that a professional could ask. Any "average" that is made against him must be well earned. Shaefer's companion is Wm. Hatley. Vignaux, thus far seems to be the favorite in betting circles, as his remarkable averages and runs in practice have entirely outshone those of his opponents. All the men are hard at work, however, and when the games begin at Chicago on November 16 Shaefer and Slosson may appear to better advantage.

THREE GREAT POLO GAMES—Galesburg, champions of the world, vs. Stars, at Star Rink, November 10, 11 and 12.

F. H. INGALLS publishes a new price list on our fifth page to-day. It is worth reading.

THE 'LONGSHOREMEN'S STRIKE.

Mr. Henry R. Mallory on the State of Affairs at Galveston, Texas.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Mr. Henry R. Mallory, of the Mallory Steamship Company, said yesterday in regard to the "boycotting" of his line at Galveston, Texas: "It affects not only us, but all the business men of Texas. The 'strike,' or whatever it may be called, extends its influence to all that portion of the State tributary to Galveston. The railroads are affected by it and all mercantile interests, besides. Why, trade is practically at a standstill in the city and its vicinity. The strikers won't allow freight to be delivered at our dock, and they try to prevent every one from having any dealings with us. However, I suppose, we can stand it, if the good people of Galveston can. We have now a large quantity of freight at our dock there, awaiting shipment, and that will suffice to furnish us with cargoes for some time to come. We are putting it aboard our steamers without molestation, and when it is all disposed of, I suppose, we will have to await developments."

"How was the present trouble brought about, Mr. Mallory?"

"Well, about three weeks ago the 'longshoremen employed by us to unload our steamers at Galveston struck for higher wages. They said they wanted 50 cents an hour for their work. They were then getting 40 cents. We told them that the revenue from our business would not justify us in acceding to their demands, and they quit work in a body. We thereupon employed colored men in their places at the old rates—that is, 40 cents. The new men work well, and we found we could get along without the services of the strikers. After awhile the latter applied for reinstatement, and expressed their willingness to accept the compensation they had been getting when they left us. We told them we didn't want them, and that we had no reason for discharging the men then in our employ. They then suggested that we get rid of half the negro 'longshoremen and take strikers in their places. That request we also refused to grant, and for the same reason that we had for not discharging men who were giving us good services. Thereupon the Knights of Labor took up the matter and with the result telegraphed to the press here."

"Is it true, as has been reported, that your company has been 'boycotted' in the matter of telegraphing between New York and Galveston?"

"Well, as to that, all I can say is that we sent important business dispatches to Galveston yesterday, requiring immediate answers, and we have not yet received any replies thereto. This morning we telegraphed to our agent there, asking him to ascertain and inform us at once what the demands of the Knights of Labor are, and that dispatch has not been answered. It is a bad state of affairs and I don't quite see the outcome of it all."

In further conversation Mr. Mallory remarked that the Steamship Company with which he is connected is also having trouble at Key West with the 'longshoremen there, who also struck about two weeks ago, for higher wages. The difficulty there, however, has been arranged by the employment of additional steamer hands and the discharging and loading of freight by the steamers' crews. At Key West, he said, 'longshoremen are colored. The vessels of the Mallory Line, he also stated, are being regularly dispatched to their destinations and freight is being taken as usual for Southern ports at New York.

Our Specialties.
Upright Folding Beds,
Revolving Book Cases,
Cutler Patent Roller Desks,
Shaw's Patent Reclining Chairs,
Hartley's Patent Reclining Chairs,
Invalid Rolling Chairs,
Artistic Furniture
of every description at greatly reduced prices.
BURRELL, COMSTOCK & CO.,
402-4 N. Fourth street.

VIEWING THE PEDESTAL.

M. and Mme. Bartholdi Visit Bedloe's Island—Progress of the Work.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Just before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon M. Bartholdi, with his wife and Richard Butler, secretary of the Pedestal Fund, went on board the Judith Field to make his first examination of the pedestal and Bedloe's Island. The flags that decorated the little steamer looked as dismal in the weather as the old, broken-down boat itself. A few people recognized M. Bartholdi as he came on the wharf dressed in mourning, and all lifted their hats. Mr. Butler pointed out the beauties of the harbor to M. and Mme. Bartholdi as they went down the bay, and everything was duly appreciated. At the landing Gen. C. P. Stone was in waiting for them, and, giving his arm to Mme. Bartholdi, the two accomplished the difficult task of walking together over a gang plank not two feet wide. Indeed throughout the inspection the sculptor's wife had to do enough climbing and walking on narrow places to appal an average woman. After viewing the foundation of the structure the party ascended the unsteady wooden staircase and finally reached the top. Gen. Stone explained all the points to M. Bartholdi, but while the sculptor agreed that it was all perfect and beautiful, and that the view could not be excelled, he evidently cared more for the statue itself than for the beauties of the pedestal. The structure is WORTH ADMIRING,

and a look at it is sufficient to explain the length of time devoted to the work. Thirty-five men, the largest number that can be used advantageously, were hard at work setting in place the huge blocks of granite and pounding down the concrete which will soon be as hard as the rock itself. General Stone stated that the height now reached is 123 feet, and every effort would be made to complete the thirty-one feet remaining of the pedestal before winter. The frost would do great damage to the cement if not hardened in a finished state. On the top of the pedestal of Ohio and Mayor Clark were examining the work, and a pleasant meeting took place. The granite received a great amount of admiration. It comes from Connecticut, and the colors, with streaks of pink running here and there, are beautiful. The party next proceeded to the shed where the statue itself is encased. Here it was M. Bartholdi's turn to explain. The French workmen were engaged in joining steel ribs to the bronze pieces, and the sculptor explained the method of preventing rust by placing papier mache between them. He gave no directions in regard to joining the pieces, as that work is yet in the future, and he will have plenty of time to show his methods to Gen. Stone hereafter. Some of the party stood on the case in which the head of Liberty was placed. As the visitors looked at the work from a distance, the old fort, from the center of which the pedestal rises, seemed to detract from the beauties of the statue. Twenty feet of the pedestal had to be erected before it showed itself above the fortifications, and this naturally seemed a waste of labor. However, when the work is finished the ground will be terraced between the surrounding walls and the statue. A trip to the office near by, for refreshments after the fatiguing walk, finished the afternoon's visit, and the party returned to the wharf just as the old captain, who would not have his boat a minute late, was hauling up the gang-plank. He was persuaded to wait, and the party reached the city a few minutes after 4 o'clock.

EX-LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR LEE

Nervous Debilitated Men,

You are allowed a free trial of thirty days of the use of Dr. Dye's Celebrated Voltaic Belt with Electric Suspensory Appliances, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Debility, loss of Vitality and Manhood, and all kindred troubles. Also, for many other diseases. Complete restoration to health, vigor and manhood guaranteed. No risk is incurred. Illustrated pamphlet, with full information, terms, etc., mailed free by addressing Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich.

POOR BILLY MAHONE.

The Virginia Readjuster Said to be Politically Ruined and Socially Ostracized.

NEW YORK, November 7.—This morning's papers have the following specials:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., November 6.—Reports from Virginia say that Mahone is socially and politically ruined. He has serious thoughts of leaving Virginia. The feeling against him in the State is so great that he will be socially ostracized."

Ex-Judge Cardozo.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Ex-Judge Cardozo continued unconscious all day yesterday, and at an early hour this morning the end was apparently near. It was reported yesterday afternoon that he was dead, but the rumor was unfounded.

DRESS GOODS
DEPARTMENT.
SPECIAL DRIVES on Balance of Our IMPORTATION of FRENCH AND GERMAN
Satin Berbers, Satin Damiers,
Reversible Cordettes, Reversible Biaritz, Toille Crepes, Armenias,
Coupures, Jacquards,
AND SERGES.
Samples Sent on Application.
SAM'L C. DAVIS & CO.

ALEXANDER'S DRUG STORE
N. W. Corner Broadway (Fifth) and Olive Sts.
ALEXANDER'S Medicinal Preparations are Unrivaled.
ALEXANDER'S BEEF, IRON, WINE AND PEPSIN, a Nutritive Tonic. Valuable in cases of Dyspepsia, Nervous Depression and Loss of Appetite.
ALEXANDER'S COUGH MIXTURE. Successful for twenty-five years.
ALEXANDER'S BALSAMIC CREAM, an Elegant Preparation for the Face and Hands, making them smooth and soft.
ALEXANDER'S CORN REMOVER does remove Corns. Perfumery and Fancy Toilet Articles.
Prescriptions accurately prepared by competent apothecaries under the supervision of M. W. Alexander, graduate of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy.

THE ONLY McNICHOLS!
The Only House in St. Louis where You Can Purchase on INSTALLMENTS, for CASH PRICES
STOVES, FURNITURE, CARPETS!
OR ANYTHING FOR HOUSEKEEPING. 1024 MARKET STREET

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY HAVE JUST PUBLISHED
A New, Thoroughly Revised, and Greatly Enlarged Edition of LIPPINCOTT'S
Biographical Dictionary.

A Universal Pronouncing Dictionary of Biography and Mythology. Containing Memoirs of the Eminent Persons of all Ages and Countries, and Accounts of the Various Subjects of the Norse, Hindoo, and Classic Mythologies, with the Pronunciation of their Names in the Different Languages in which they Occur. By JOSEPH THOMAS, M. D., LL. D., author of the System of Pronunciation in "Lippincott's Gazetteer of the World," of "A Complete Pronouncing Medical Dictionary," etc. In one Imperial 8vo Volume, containing 2550 pages and several thousand new names. Sheep, $12 00. Half Turkey, $15 00. Half Russia, $15 00.

The publishers have the pleasure of announcing that this magnificent work, which for more than fifteen years has been in its department without a rival in the estimation of scholars, has lately undergone such a complete revision as the lapse of time since its first issue rendered necessary, and is now offered to the public in a greatly enlarged and improved volume, extending to 2550 pages, and embracing, besides the revisions of old articles, several thousand new biographical sketches, many of them constructed from original data, and now for the first time appearing in print.

THE ENCHIRIDION OF CRITICISM. Edited by WM. SHEPARD. Small quarto. Uniform with the "Enchiridion of Wit." Extra cloth, gilt top, $1 50. Vellum, $2 00. Half morocco, $3 00.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS' ROMAN EMPIRE. By WILLIAM SHEPARD. Uniform with "YOUNG FOLKS' PLUTARCH" and "JOSEPHUS." 8vo. With Illustrations. Extra cloth, gilt. $2 50.

YOUNG FOLKS' QUERIES. Cabinet 4to. Fully illustrated. Uniform with "Young Folks' Ideas" and "Young Folks' Whys and Wherefores." Extra cloth, gilt. $3 00.

THE GOLDEN TREASURY CALENDAR. An Elegant Design. By WILL H. LOW. Chromo-Lithographed in 22 printings on card-board 10x14 inches. With a tablet containing appropriate selections from Palgrave's "Golden Treasury" for each day of the year. $1 00.

AURORA. A Novel. By MARY AGNES TINCKER, author of "The Jewel in the Lotos," etc. Illustrated. 12mo. Extra cloth, $1 25.

"It is certainly among the most delicate and delightful of recent stories, and will make more secure the fair fame of its author."—The Lutheran, Philadelphia.

ON BOTH SIDES. By Miss FANNY COURTENAY BAYLOR. Containing "The Perfect Treasure" and "On This Side," the whole forming a complete story. 12mo. Extra cloth. $1 25.

"Miss Baylor's charming story."—N. Y. Tribune.
"One of the best serials of the year."—N. Y. Town Topics.

 For sale by all Booksellers, or will be sent by mail, postage propaid, on receipt of the price, by

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY, Publishers,
715 and 717 Market St., Philadelphia.

"IN DANGEROUS PATHS."
AND "CLARIBEL," are the titles of two deeply interesting stories just commenced in Part 55 (December, 1885) of THE NEW MONTHLY DOUBLE JOURNAL,
"SOMETHING TO READ."
Part 25 (December, 1885), now ready, consists of 120 LARGE PAGES OF NEW AND ORIGINAL STORIES, with 30 HANDSOME ILLUSTRATIONS and a BEAUTIFUL COLORED PICTURE, forming the BEST and CHEAPEST magazine ever published.
There are five Long and Complete Stories; several Short Stories for the Young; also Fashions, Guide for Home Comforts, etc., etc.
Price 25 cents per copy. For sale by all newsdealers. The St. Louis News Company, St. Louis, Mo.
THE INTERNATIONAL NEWS COMPANY,
General Agents, 29 and 31 Beekman Street, New York.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

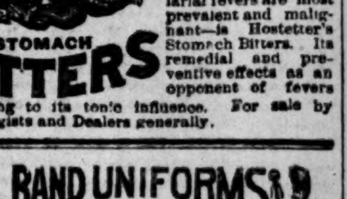
That terrible endemic, fever and ague, shatters the most vigorous constitution, and the after effects of the alkaloid often taken to arrest it, quinine, are scarcely less pernicious. The best remedy, not alone in malarial stricken regions on this continent, but also in those portions of South and Central America where malarial fevers are most prevalent and malignant—is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Its remedial and preventive effects as an opponent of fevers are owing to its tonic influence. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.



Send for our Beautifully Illustrated Catalogue of Band and Drum Corps Uniforms. 30 colored fashion plates. Illustrations and prices of Hats, Helmets, Caps, Pouches, Belts, Drum Major Outfits, Pompons, Plumes, Epaulettes, Shoulder Knots, Gold Cord and Lace, Buttons, Ornaments, Band and Procession Flags and Banners, Cap Lamps, etc. Mailed free. LYON & HEALY, Chicago.

SMOKE THE "SCOTCH-CAP,"
"BIJOU,"
'SHAG FINE-CUT' CIGARETTES
AND Smoking Tobacco.
THE BEST IN THE WORLD.
FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS.

MILD
SCOTCH CAP
TRADE MARK
CIGARETTES.
S. Busnitz & Co.
RICHMOND, VA.

MANUFACTURERS.
F. R. RICE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS.

PREPARED ROOFING.

COMPLETE ROOFING

Guaranteed
CHEAP
and Durable
Water & Fire
PROOF.
Just the thing to put on over
OLD SHINGLE ROOFS.
ESTIMATES FURNISHED.
M. EHRET, Jr., & CO., Man'frs.
W. E. Campe, Agt., 9th and Olive Sts.

Our facilities for the PROMPT and FAVORABLE
Placing of
ADVERTISEMENTS
In all Newspapers and Magazines are UNEXCELLED.
Send for estimates.
LORD & THOMAS
Newspaper Advertising
CHICAGO.
ST. LOUIS OFFICE: EMILIE BUILDING,
Cor. Ninth and Olive Streets.

Drugs, Patent Medicines, etc., 10 to 20 per cent less than at any other place in the city.
ANTI-MONOPOLY DRUG STORE
Southwest Cor. Sixth and Market Streets.
Prescriptions a specialty at lowest rates.

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES
—AT—
F. De DONATO'S.
Hair dressing 50 cents; shampooing 50 cents; ladies' hair cut artistically and curled 25 cents; children's hair cutting 10 cents; switches, bangs and all hair goods in the house reduced accordingly at F. De Donato's, 613 Olive street.

McMUNN'S ELIXIR OF OPIUM
is the pure extract from the drug from which all the hurtful properties are removed and the medical ones retained. No headache, costiveness or sickness of the stomach attend its use. Price 50 cents. All druggists.

WHEEL WHIMS.

Choice Cycling Chat Carefully
lected.

The Lindell Boulevard Scheme—a Boston Lady Invalid Did—on cycle—John S. Prince Expl
Notes and Gossip.

Knapp has gone to live at Denver.
John S. Rogers now calls it bi-sick-le.
Simmons recently got an order for a 64-in chine, the largest ever made.
The Ramblers have elected Mr. R.
treasurer, to succeed Mr. Gorse.
Rowe has joined the Springfield Bicycle C will live in that city next season.
Bicycle events of interest just now are in this locality on account of the bad weat
At Woodside's recent record-breaking p ance at Springfield, Arthur Young of St. L referee.
The largest number of riders sent by a single cycling event was the 122 cyclists f
Massachusetts club in the recent parade.
M. J. V. Webber on his return to Engl dined and presented with a gold locket. H in the highest praise of the American trac
In response to the suggestion of the DISPATCH a bicycle school is to be open week at the Globe Rink. If carried throu winter, it ought to give cycling an impet year it has never yet felt.
John Williams, a colored rider of Boston, ex-jockey, recently won the fifty-mile Amer cycle record by covering the distance in 5 h minutes, almost ten miles an hour. In the contest he climbed Corey Hill on a tricy four seconds slower than Arthur Young.
The Ramblers have decided to extend t
leges of associate membership to non-ri members of other clubs. These privileges clude the use of the club-house, which is trally located at 2015 Chestnut street as to ready acceptance of the advantages it pre
The numerous ladies in St. Louis who ar ing the coming of spring to inaugurate so enthusiastic tricycle riding will apprecia from the Boston Globe: "One of the lad went on the recent ladies' run is an inva unable to walk a mile. She cannot ride riage in an erect position, and cannot stairs without assistance. She rode twen miles on her tricycle that day, and her p said that the effort had greatly benefited h
Mr. E. H. Gorse, who has filled the treasurer in the Ramblers' bicycle club mendably, has resigned to accept a prom the management of Dun's Agency at G Texas. To most excellent, steady and business habits Mr. Gorse adds an enthusi votion to legitimate sports which he alwa to dignify. In company with Mr. E. B
"Starred" through the States of Illinoi and Ohio last spring the second longest r by any St. Louis wheelman this year.
When the Lindell boulevard is comple year, the crush of teams on it will be g thoughtful drivers have suggested that path—twenty feet or so wide—should be for the use of wheelmen exclusively, so danger of scaring horses will be reduc minimum. The cyclists, though not admi
the danger is so great, yet realize that ma are afraid to drive where bicycles are would consent to using such a separate ro accommodation of the drivers of horses.
The idea that any 100-mile or 24-hour re be made over the Clarksville roads se absurd to any one who has climed the leg series of hills. If Whittaker, or any other man with a record bee in his bonnet, want any long-distance time, he should wait
Lindell boulevard is completed next year, by going over it and the Forest Park road dozen times—for the Boston records h made by riding over the same road instances five times—secure a smooth sur will put him on an equal footing with th men.
The local wheelmen who are still hallucination that a wheelman in parade
"holy show" of himself ought to read
Boston papers say of the recent cycle p that city. Although the wheelmen wore suits and had their machines fa decorated, evidently doing their utmost
"holy shows" of themselves, the Bos says: "The line was a mile and was a magnificent spectacle.
turned out to see the novel sight, and su have not been seen on the streets since t campaign of last fall." Some of the de sources of merriment and others of lou cheering. By the aid of Chinese lanterns made it appear as if he was sailing a yacht Puritan, while another transformed into a weird-looking wagon. Such a pa Louis during Fair Week would dazzle the of visitors to whom a bicycle unadorned in broad daylight is a thing of wonder.
The rather cool reception with whi
Prince and Eck, the bicyclists, have bee by the local wheelmen has caused the fo still seems to have a regard for the title pion of America," to disclaim any intent ing hippodrome races with Eck. "I announced that they were races" said Pri
"and I don't want to have it so und don't wish to have the cycling interests o hurt by anything in the shape of hipp My races with Mr. Eck are exhibitions which we try t
as interesting as possible audience. Because somebody is foolish say we are racing for so much money a championship is no reason why I should blame of it. I am here to break some possible, and next week, if the weathe shall make a strike at the 50-mile rec Woodside failed to get at Springfield la may also get ten or twenty records be and twenty miles."

How Women Differ From M
At least three men on the average jury to disagree with the rest just to show th got minds of their own; but there is no ment among the women as to the me Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." They a imous in pronouncing it the best re world for all those chronic diseases, and complaints peculiar to their sex. It t the pale, haggard, dispirited woman i sparkling health, and the ringing lau
"reigns supreme" in the happy househol

DRINK "Herold's" superior bottled bee first premium at the great St. Louis Fa 885. Manufactured by the Cherokee Company.

SOCIETY GOSSIP.

Mrs. Maffitt and daughters are in the E
Miss Lionberger is daily expected from Miss Clara Edger's marriage takes p week.
Mrs. Robert Filley left last week to vi ville.
Mrs. Ellis Wainwright leaves this week
York.
Mrs. Drake has recently taken a house avenue.
Mrs. John H. Garth is the guest of her present.
Miss Ada Evans left this week to visit
Boston.
Mrs. A. G. Turner of Mexico is visit
in the city.
Mrs. Theodore Foster of Boston is visi
in the city.
Miss Shepley's engagement to Mr. L announced.
Miss Maggie Voorhees is making a vis in Hannibal.
Mr. George Flannagan has recent from Europe.
Mrs. Maria Hunt is visiting her sist
W. C. Hardin.
Miss Clara Steinwender's marriage on Wednesday.
Mrs. A. B. Howard and family are
J. B. Reynolds.
Mrs. Freeborn is entertaining Miss J
ford of Paris, Ky.
Miss Cora Marsh spent last week with Mrs. J. A. Sweet.
Mrs. Nellie Peyinghaus is absent fr visiting her mother.
Miss Churchill's marriage to Mr. Gar place in a fortnight.
Miss Irene McPike has returned ho short visit to friends.
Mrs. N. Blanke has returned home to friends in the city.
Miss Julia McFarland's marriage to M
Pocock is announced.
Mrs. Marshall Lyle has removed fr avenue to Pine street.
Miss Louise Boisliniere's engagement
tonnier is announced.
Mr. Keeley, who has been the guest of

OODS
ENT. of Our IMPOR-GERMAN amiers,
ersible Biaritz,
as,
cquards,
ES.

S & CO.
UG STORE
) and Olive Sts.
Valuable in cases of Dyspepsia, Nervous Face and Hands, making them smooth and Fancy Toilet Articles.
competent apothecaries un-graduate of Philadelphia Col-

ICHOLS!
Can Purchase on ASH PRICES
E, CARPETS!
24 MARKET STREET

SMOKE THE COTCH-CAP," "BIJOU," AG-FINE-CUT"
IGARETTES
AND oking Tobacco.
BEST IN THE WORLD.
SALE BY ALL DEALERS.

MILD
SCOTCH CAP
CIGARETTES
RICHMOND, VA.

MANUFACTURERS.
R. RICE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS.

PARED ROOFING.
Guaranteed
CHEAP
and Durable
Water & Fire
PROOF.
Just the thing to put on over
SHINGLE ROOFS.
ESTIMATES FURNISHED.
HIRET, Jr., & CO., Man'frs.
E. Campe, Agt., 9th and Olive Sts.

Our facilities for the
PROMPT and FAVORABLE
Placing of ADVERTISEMENTS
in All Newspapers and Magazines are UNEXCELLED.
Send for estimates.
LORD & THOMAS
Newspaper Advertising
CHICAGO.
S OFFICE: EMILIE BUILDING,
Cor. Ninth and Olive Streets.

rugs, Patent Medicines,
10 to 20 per cent less
e in the city.
ANTI-MONOPOLY DRUG STORE
Southwest Cor. Sixth and Market Streets.
scriptions a specialty at all hours.

EAT REDUCTION IN PRICES
—AT—De DONATO'S.

cMUNN'S ELIXIR OF OPIUM

WHEEL WHIMS.

Choice Cycling Chat Carefully Collected.

The Lindell Boulevard Scheme—What a Boston Lady Invalid Did on a Tricycle—John S. Prince Explains—Notes and Gossip.

Knapp has gone to live at Denver.

John S. Rogers now calls it bi-sick-le.

Simmons recently got an order for a 64-inch machine, the largest ever made.

The Ramblers have elected Mr. R. E. Lee treasurer, to succeed Mr. Gorse.

Rowe has joined the Springfield Bicycle Club and will live in that city next season.

Bicycle events of interest just now are very few in this locality on account of the bad weather.

At Woodside's recent record-breaking performance at Springfield, Arthur Young of St. Louis was referee.

The largest number of riders sent by a club to a single cycling event was the 122 cyclists from the Massachusetts club in the recent parade.

M. J. V. Webber on his return to England was dined and presented with a gold locket. He spoke in the highest praise of the American tracks.

In response to the suggestion of the POST-DISPATCH a bicycle school is to be opened next week at the Globe Rink. If carried through the winter, it ought to give cycling an impetus next year it has never yet felt.

John Williams, a colored rider of Boston, and an ex-jockey, recently won the fifty-mile American tricycle record by covering the distance in 5 hours, 27 minutes, almost ten miles an hour. In the recent contest he climbed Corey Hill on a tricycle only four seconds slower than Arthur Young.

The Ramblers have decided to extend the privileges of associate membership to non-riders and members of other clubs. These privileges will include the use of the club-house, which is so centrally located at 2015 Chestnut street as to insure a ready acceptance of the advantages it presents.

The numerous ladies in St. Louis who are awaiting the coming of spring to inaugurate some very enthusiastic tricycle riding will appreciate this from the Boston Globe: "One of the ladies who went on the recent ladies' run is an invalid, and unable to walk a mile. She cannot ride in a carriage in an erect position, and cannot walk up stairs without assistance. She rode twenty-three miles on her tricycle that day, and her physician said that the effort had greatly benefited her.

Mr. E. H. Gorse, who has filled the office of treasurer in the Ramblers' bicycle club so commendably, has resigned to accept a promotion to the management of Dun's Agency at Galveston, Texas. To most excellent, steady and accurate business habits Mr. Gorse adds an enthusiastic devotion to legitimate sports which he always helps to dignify. In company with Mr. E. B. Page he "Starred" through the States of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio last spring the second longest ride taken by any St. Louis wheelman this year.

When the Lindell boulevard is completed next year, the crush of teams on it will be great, and thoughtful drivers have suggested that a special path—twenty feet or so wide—should be set apart for the use of wheelmen exclusively, so that the danger of scaring horses will be reduced to the minimum. The cyclists, though not admitting that the danger is so great, yet realize that many people are afraid to drive where bicycles are, and so would consent to using such a separate road for the accommodation of the drivers of horses.

The idea that any 100-mile or 24-hour record can be made over the Clarksville roads seems very absurd to any one who has climed the leg-wearying series of hills. If Whittaker, or any other St. Louis man with a record bee in his bonnet, wants to make any long-distance time, he should wait until the Lindell boulevard is completed next year, and then by going over it and the Forest Park roads half a dozen times—for the Boston records have been made by riding over the same road in some instances five times—secure a smooth surface that will put him on an equal footing with the Eastern men.

The local wheelmen who are still under the hallucination that a wheelman in parade makes a "holy show" of himself ought to read what the Boston papers say of the recent cycle parade in that city. Although the wheelmen wore grotesque suits and had their machines fantastically decorated, evidently doing their utmost to make "holy shows" of themselves, the Boston Globe says: "The line was a mile in length and was a magnificent spectacle. Thousands turned out to see the novel sight, and such crowds have not been seen on the streets since the political campaign of last fall." Some of the designs were sources of merriment and others of long and loud cheering. By the aid of Chinese lanterns one rider made it appear as if he was sailing along on the yacht Puritan, while another transformed his wheel into a weird-looking wagon. Such a parade in St. Louis during Fair Week would dazzle the thousands of visitors to whom a bicycle unadorned and seen in broad daylight is a thing of wonder.

The rather cool reception with which Messrs Prince and Eck, the bicyclists, have been greeted by the local wheelmen has caused the former, who still seems to have a regard for the title of "Champion of America," to disclaim any intention of riding hippodrome races with Eck. "I have not announced that they were races" said Prince to-day, "and I don't want to have it so understood. I don't wish to have the cycling interests of St. Louis hurt by anything in the shape of hippodroming. My races with Mr. Eck are simply exhibitions which we try to make as interesting as possible for the audience. Because somebody is foolish enough to say we are racing for so much money and for the championship is no reason why I should stand the blame of it. I am here to break some records, if possible, and next week, if the weather permit, I shall make a strike at the 50-mile record which Woodside failed to get at Springfield last week. I may also get ten or twenty records between one and twenty miles."

How Women Differ From Men.

At least three men on the average jury are bound to disagree with the rest just to show that they've got minds of their own; but there is no disagreement among the women as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." They are all unanimous in pronouncing it the best remedy in the world for all those chronic diseases, weaknesses and complaints peculiar to their sex. It transforms the pale, haggard, dispirited, woman into one of sparkling health, and the ringing laugh again 'reigns supreme" in the happy household.

DRINK "Herold's" superior bottled beer, awarded first premium at the great St. Louis Fair, 1884 and 885. Manufactured by the Cherokee Brewery Company.

SOCIETY GOSSIP.

Mrs. Maffitt and daughters are in the East.

Miss Lionberger is daily expected from abroad.

Miss Clara Edger's marriage takes place next week.

Mrs. Robert Filley left last week to visit Louisville.

Mrs. Ellis Wainwright leaves this week for New York.

Mrs. Drake has recently taken a house on Delmar avenue.

Mrs. John H. Garth is the guest of her sister at present.

Miss Ada Evans left this week to visit friends in Boston.

Mrs. A. G. Turner of Mexico is visiting friends in the city.

Mrs. Theodore Foster of Boston is visiting friends in the city.

Miss Shepley's engagement to Mr. Lionberger is announced.

Miss Maggie Voorhees is making a visit to friends in Hannibal.

Mr. George Flannagan has recently returned from Europe.

Mrs. Maria Hunt is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. W. C. Hardin.

Miss Clara Steinwender's marriage takes place on Wednesday.

Mrs. A. B. Howard and family are visiting Mr. J. B. Reynolds.

Mrs. Freeborn is entertaining Miss Jennie Bashford of Paris, Ky.

Miss Cora Marsh spent last week with her friend, Mrs. J. A. Sweet.

Mrs. Nellie Peyinghaus is absent from the city visiting her mother.

Miss Churchill's marriage to Mr. Garesche takes place in a fortnight.

Miss Irene McPike has returned home after a short visit to friends.

Mrs. N. Blanke has returned home after a visit to friends in the city.

Miss Julia McFarland's marriage to Mr. Harry J. Pocock is announced.

Mrs. Marshall Lyle has removed from Laclede avenue to Pine street.

Miss Louise Boisliniere's engagement to Mr. Chertonnier is announced.

Mr. Keeley, who has been the guest of his mother,

Mrs. Benson of Chestnut street, left on Thursday for Buena Vista.

Mrs. John E. Hall is entertaining Mrs. J. M. Millspaugh of Illinois.

Miss Mamie Lamb of Hannibal has returned to visit St. Louis friends.

Miss Effie Nitchey returned to her home in Jefferson City last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Coyt and family are located at the Southern for the winter.

Mrs. Barton, nee Waddell, has gone to Glasgow, Mo., to spend the winter.

Miss Emma Baker is visiting the family of Captain Portal in Chester, Ill.

Mrs. Ulrici has been entertaining for a few days Mrs. James Hill of Illinois.

Mrs. Joseph Specht gives a ladies' luncheon next week at the Lindell Hotel.

Lieut. Craig and family are located at the Lindell Hotel for the winter.

Mrs. John Baker has been entertaining her sister, Miss Nellie R. West.

Mrs. Robert Carr is visiting Mrs. N. V. P. Block and daughters of Louisiana.

Mrs Mamie G. Forster has returned from a visit to her mother in the interior.

Mrs. R. M. Hall has returned after a visit of three weeks to her daughter.

Mrs. A. M. Ridenour has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. E. W. Harper.

Miss Lily Haydel and Sophie Papin have returned from a visit to Ste. Genevieve.

The first meeting of the "Home Circle" takes place just before Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Breden has taken one of the new houses just completed on Ware avenue.

Mr. A. C. Fowler of Washington City is spending a few weeks at Hotel Beers.

Miss Julia Vion leaves this week for Boston, where she will spend the winter.

Mrs. H. Lecompte of Springfield has been spending the past fortnight in the city.

Miss Mamie Moss has returned home after a delightful visit in St. Louis County.

Dr. Tupper did not go South as reported, but is still at his home on Locust street.

Mrs. Flournoy of Kentucky is visiting her sister, Mrs. Coleman, on Chestnut street.

Miss Allie McVeigh has returned home after a pleasant visit to St. Louis friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Bell and family occupied a box at Pope's on Thursday evening.

Mrs. G. M. Cole has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Judge Dail, at Evansville.

General Thomas of the U. S. A. with his wife, spent this week at the Southern Hotel.

Mrs. Wm. F. Pack is visiting her sister, Mrs. George S. Bryant of Woodland College.

Mrs. Charles Balmer entertained last week Misses Grace Kemper and Miss Mollie Holman.

Mrs. Irwin Harrison of Chicago is visiting the family of Judge Breckenridge this week.

Miss Hallie Cole is spending the week with her cousins, the Misses Cora and Grace Cole.

Mrs. Keyt left last week to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. German, in Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark have taken the new house on Ware avenue, near Locust street.

Mrs. Bowman returned on Friday evening to Eureka Springs, accompanied by Mrs. Filley.

Mrs. M. A. Fanning is expecting Miss Kate Kountz of Philadelphia, this week to visit her.

Miss Minnie Pierce has returned home after a long and delightful visit to friends in the city.

Mrs. Christianson has purchased and taken possession of a house, No. 2712 Chestnut street.

Miss Nannie Emery of Philadelphia is daily expected as a guest of Miss Alma Breckenridge.

Mrs. Brown nee Bettie Boffinger will not take possession of her new home before December 1.

Mrs. C. E. Udell, formerly of this city, leaves soon for California for the benefit of her health.

Invitations have been issued to the wedding of Miss Jennie Clarkson to Mr. Wallace Burckhart.

Society gossip notices of weddings should be sent to No. 2934 Chestnut street by Friday afternoon.

Miss Annie Livingstone of Benton place left this week to visit Mrs. Charles Lucas of Kansas City.

Mrs. Plympton of Buffalo, N. Y., will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Thornburg.

Miss Garth of Hannibal, Mo., is the guest of Miss Rolla Billingsley.

Mr. Jacobson, recently arrived from France, has taken a suite of rooms at Hotel Beers for the winter.

Mrs. Jennie E. Wagner has returned to her home in Illinois, after a short visit to relatives in this city.

Miss Carrie Berman has returned to her home at Fort Smith after a pleasant visit to relatives in this city.

Mrs. Cross of Baltimore is daily expected to visit her father, Judge Breckenridge, and family very soon.

Miss Emily Tredway, daughter of Mr. Dwight Tredway, is visiting Mrs. L. R. Ridgely of Bunker Hill.

Miss Bessie Russell of Springfield, Mo., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Russell of Lucas avenue.

Mrs. Asly Chouteau, nee Cora Baker, is located at Hotel Beers for a few weeks en route for Florida.

Mrs. M. A. Boyd and her daughter, Miss Ora Boyd, have returned home after a pleasant visit to the city.

Mr. James Dameron of Southern California is visiting his nieces, the Misses Melton, on west Morgan street.

Mrs. Fielding and her daughters, Misses Mamie and Blanch Fielding of St. Charles, spent last week in the city.

Mrs. J. L. D. Morrison is entertaining Miss Strickland of Paris, France. She will probably spend the winter here.

Miss Mamie Hopkins left last week to attend the wedding of Miss Fronie Brannin which occurred on Wednesday.

Mr. Clarence Larkin of Milwaukee was the guest this week of his sister, Mrs. Mason G. Smith, at the Lindell Hotel.

Mrs. Adams of Washington City is expected soon to make St. Louis her home, her sons being located here already.

Mrs. Lizzie Pollard of Fayetteville, Ark., has returned home after a visit to Hannibal and St. Louis friends.

Misses Mary McCreery and Julie Papin accompanied Mrs. Arthur Sherman to her home in New York this week.

Miss Bettie Waddell, after a visit of several weeks to relatives in this city, has returned to her home at Lexington, Mo.

Miss Mary B. Farrow, Mrs. James Coomey and Miss Sallie Lillard are making a short visit to friends in the city.

Miss Brella Sherwood, daughter of Judge Sherwood, formerly of this place, is now visiting friends in Jefferson City.

Hon. Thomas J. Stephens, ex-Mayor of Cincinnati, and wife are visiting the city, and are located at the Lindell Hotel.

Mrs. Dr. Lebeau, who has been visiting Mrs. Dr. Haydell of St. Louis, leaves the latter part of this week for her home.

Mr. Will Nave has returned from Central Kentucky, where he has been visiting friends, and is at the Planters' House.

Miss Alma Ahrenstock of Springfield, Ill., is spending the winter with her aunt, Mrs. Carroll, on Washington avenue.

Mrs. James Clinkscales, nee Annie McBain, a noted belle and beauty of Columbia, is spending a few weeks in the city.

The first meeting of the Monday german takes place on the 9th at the residence of Mrs. Hartnett on Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moore have issued over 400 invitations to a ball, complimentary to Miss Battie Moore, for November 11.

Miss Mattie V. Pool of Louisville, came over to attend the Zook-Ewing wedding, and was the guest of Miss Ida B. Ewing.

Mrs. Miles, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dorsey Maynew of Franklin avenue, returns this week to her home in Kentucky.

Dr. Elmer Lee has fitted up for himself very handsome bachelor quarters opposite the Club House on Twenty-ninth street.

Mrs. Wilson of Vicksburg, who has been visiting Mrs. Leroy B. Valliant of Olive street leaves this week for her home in the South.

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Loy, of Cincinnati, are visiting relatives in St. Louis. The Doctor is speedily recovering from his late serious illness.

Miss Mamie Hopkins, now visiting Louisville, Ky., was lately given a boat party on the steamer City of Owensboro by Mr. Louis Hite.

Mrs. Crum of this city has returned from Jefferson City, where she attended the double wedding of her nieces, the Misses Harding.

Miss Ella Rhoders, who went to Leavenworth to attend the wedding of her brother, will visit Lexington, Mo., before returning to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson of Ashley, Ill., left this week for a bridal tour of a few weeks, when they will return to Hotel Beers for the winter.

Major and Mrs. Wm. McKee Dunn of San Francisco attended the Hewitt-Smith wedding, a brilliant social event at Leavenworth, last week.

Miss Belle Hays, who has been visiting friends here, has gone this week to Kansas City, but will return to the city in time for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Preston Hicks and daughter have returned from the East and are at the Lindell for a few weeks, and will then go to Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore have issued invitations for a reception at their home, 2730 Lucas avenue, Wednesday evening next, from 6 to 12 o'clock.

Wedding invitations and visiting cards elegantly executed at very low rates. Mermod & Jaccard Jewelry Company, Fourth and Locust streets.

Miss Cliffie Estill and Miss Rebecca Lewis left last week for the home of the former at Estill. They visited Sedalia en route.

Mr. Walter S. Bartley left last week for New Orleans, where he will spend a month or six weeks. Mrs. Bartley will not go to New Orleans this month.

Mrs. Dr. Hall, nee Alle Barney, of Shanghai China, will shortly arrive in the city to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barney, of Locust street.

Miss Zaidee Tennent is expected soon from Europe, when Mrs. John Tennent will give a large reception in honor of her return, at which she will present her daughter in St. Louis society.

Mrs. Martin, who has been the guest of Mrs. Maynadier at the Lindell, has returned home leaving her little daughter to spend a week longer with her friend, when she will return for her.

Mrs. McCullough and daughter of Lake Providence are spending a few weeks at the Lindell Hotel. Miss McCullough is preparing her trousseau for her marriage, which takes place very soon.

Mrs. Robert Cox of Lexington was the guest this week of her brother, Mr. Edgar Fleming of Chestnut street. She is now with her sister, Mrs. Rankin Fleming of No. 2928 Washington avenue.

The O. T.'s had a meeting at Mrs. General Carr's residence on Locust street on Friday afternoon, when they perfected their organization. The first entertainment will be given by Mrs. Ben Kimball at her home on Franklin avenue.

The marriage of Miss Fronie Brannin to Mr. Ben Ridgely took place in Louisville at the residence of the bride's sister, November 2. It was followed by a large reception. A large party of St. Louisans attended, among them Mrs. Walter B. Trask, sister of the bride.

Mr. Keeley of the Drummond Tobacco Company has purchased the residence of Mr. Buck, on Grand avenue, facing Chestnut street, and is having it thoroughly repaired and improved before moving into it with his family, when he will have a grand house-warming.

Mrs. John B. Carroll is daily expected after a delightful visit to Mrs. Carroll, at her country seat in Maine, and afterwards at her town house. Miss Julia Carroll will remain in New York at school. Mrs. Carroll will probably stop for a few days at Louisville and Lexington, Ky., en route home.

Miss Sallie Patterson left on Tuesday to attend the wedding of Miss Mobelle Haley, daughter of the Rev. T. P. Haley, former pastor of the First Christian Church of this city, to Mr. Campbell. The ceremony takes place in Kansas City, the residence of the bride's parents, and will be performed by the father of the bride.

Invitations have been issued to the first of the series of Barracks entertainments by the officers of Jefferson Barracks, for Tuesday evening. R. S. V. P. trains will leave for Jefferson Barracks from Fourth street and Chouteau avenue at 7:30 and return at 12:30. The Wednesday afternoon receptions of the officers and their wives have been resumed.

One of the most popular young ladies known in society is Miss Belle Bacon. Her numerous friends and admirers will be pleased to know that she is with the Parisian Cloak Company, where she will always be happy to see her friends. She occupies a responsible position in charge of the fitting department, for which her well known skill particularly fits her.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Rowley to Mr. J. H. Siegrist, jr., will be solemnized at Rock Church next Wednesday afternoon, the 11th inst., at 3 o'clock. The bridesmaids and groomsmen assisting will be Miss Clintie Evans and Mr. Will Curry, Miss Nellie Marsfield and Mr. Thos. Hally, Miss Sidney Rowley and Mr. William Rowley. There will be no reception after the ceremony, as the bridal pair will leave immediately for the East.

Miss Florence Fulton entertained twenty young ladies on Thursday afternoon at a progressive euchre party. Six prizes were distributed and an elegant supper served at 5 o'clock. Among those present were Mrs. Hudson Peru, Mrs. Goodman King, Misses Sallie and May Douglass, Mary and Annie Branch, Annie Garth, Alice McLaren, Alma Parks, Dora Harrison, Edith Powell, Belle Allen, Ada Alexander and others.

On Tuesday Mr. H. E. Ellison, formerly of this city, now engaged in business in Chicago, was married to Miss M. E. Dinwoody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dinwoody. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 4227 Evans avenue, Rev. Dr. Schuyler officiating. Miss Fannie Harrison and Mr. Wm. Dinwoody, jr., were the only attendants. Many handsome presents were received by the young couple, who left at once for Chicago.

Mrs. Gen. C. W. Squires gave a luncheon at her residence, 4004 Washington avenue, last Tuesday, complimentary to Mrs. Dave Hucheson of Vicksburg, Miss. Invited guests present were Mrs. Hutcheson, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Col. Dorsheimer, Miss Ella Dorsheimer, Mrs. T. K. Wormer, Mrs. D. W. Van Harten, Mrs. H. W. Burton, Mrs. William T. Gauss, Mrs. E. B. Southworth, Miss Maggie Southworth, Mrs. Marie Holmes, Mrs. H. H. Dalton, Mrs. E. L. Abadie, Mrs. J. D. Thompson, Mrs. W. H. Gardiner and others.

Mrs. C. E. Udell gave this week at Hotel Beers a progressive euchre party, in which twenty-four guests participated. The guests were received in the parlors up-stairs, then adjourned to the ladies' ordinary, where six tables were set for the game. In the private dining-room the supper was served from a large center table beautifully decorated with fruits and flowers and favors, six smaller tables ranged around it, at which the guests were seated. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Udell, Mr. F. E. Udell, Mr. and Mrs. Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Obear, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Bascome, Mr. and Mrs. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Crown, Mr. and Mrs. Ludington, Mr. and Mrs. Scudder, Mr. Christianson, Mr. Normile, Mr. Patterson and others.

Our Specialties.
Upright Folding Beds,
Revolving Book Cases,
Cutler Patent Roller Desks,
Shaw's Patent Reclining Chairs,
Hartley's Reclining Chairs,
Invalid Rolling Chairs,
Artistic Furniture
of every description at greatly reduced prices.
BURRELL, COMSTOCK & CO.,
402-4 N. Fourth street.

LITERATURE OF WAR.

Notes of Personal Experiences with a Large and All-Pervading P.

Burdette in Brooklyn Eagle.

We have been at great pains to secure the following account of the most hotly-contested battles of the rebellion from one of the participants, Lieutenant du Sitton de Kampstuhl, a young nobleman who served during the war on the staff of General de Resperaid, in the Quartermaster's department. In these days, when there is such a dearth of war stories, a true and thrilling narrative from the lips of a soldier at once so eminent and so modest as Lieutenant Kampstuhl will fall upon the land with the cheering stimulus of a "recitation" at an evening party. Lieutenant Kampstuhl says:

"I heard the firing in My front at 5:10 a. m., by My watch, and immediately ordered My servant to saddle My horse, which I at once mounted, and then I rode rapidly back to My supply train. I ordered My train into corral, and then, as the firing became heavier, I ordered it out into the road again. I led it back some three miles further to the rear, where I ordered it again into corral. I crawled cautiously under one of My cracker-wagons to listen. My mules had not been fed and I could hear nothing but their noise. I ordered My wagonmaster to have My mule fed. An orderly came dashing from the front, looking for Me. The General desired to know where I was. I said to the orderly, 'Tell him,' said I, 'that I will hold My position here at all hazards. He may depend on me.' The firing in My front grew heavier, and I ordered the teamsters to lead My mules around to the hostile side of My wagons. My sufferings, and those of My command, became intense. My mules began chewing My wagon-covers, and I thought I would see if I could not divert My mules' minds by laying down some rails for them to gnaw on. I had no fear for Myself, but My command was hardly pressed, as so many stragglers came to My corral, I had scarcely enough wagons for all My own men. Seven men crawled under My wagon where I was, and I feared if the enemy should charge me then that the carnage would be fearful, as I was determined to sell My life dearly. Just at this critical point in My battle, as I thought I would have to rally My men and lead another advance to the rear, I heard loud cheering in My front, the musketry firing which I thought I heard coming nearer Me, I now knew was further away from me. I heard the cheering coming nearer; My men took it up; I crawled out from under My wagon; I took off My hat, and as I bowed to My cheering men, I felt a cloud of blackness surround Me; I tottered; a soldier sprang to catch me, and I knew no more. The battle of Seven Oaks was fought and won; the reaction after the intense strain of fourteen hours' fighting overcame Me, and as I dropped My sword from My nerveless grasp, I fainted."

While we shall continue to depend upon Boston for our Designs in Artistic FURNITURE,
The consolidation of our Factory and Warerooms in St. Louis gives us great advantages.
PRICES ARE LOWER AND DESIGNS MORE BEAUTIFUL.
Our Stock is Larger and More Attractive than ever—Preserve these Figures.

3 Rooms Nicely Furnished
For $54 00.
Dining-room, Bed-room and Kitchen, or 23 articles.

5 Rooms Nicely Furnished
For $176 40.
Bed-room, Parlor, Dining-room, Servants' Room, Kitchen, or 40 articles.

7 Rooms Beautifully Fur'd
For $356 70.
Dining-room, 3 Bed-rooms, Servants' Room, Kitchen and Parlor, or 60 articles.

9 Rooms Elegantly Furn'd
For $914 40.
Dining-room, 4 Bed-rooms, Nursery, Servants' room, Parlor and Kitchen, or 88 articles.

12 Rooms Elegantly Furn'd
For $3,417 00.
Dining-room, 8 Bed-rooms, Nursery, Library and Parlor, or 158 articles.

Special Attention Given to Ordered Work.

If Our Goods Prove Unsatisfactory they will be Exchanged or Money Refunded.
The Designs are New and Artistic. COME AND SEE THEM.
Guernsey Furniture Co., 304, 306, 308 LOCUST, bet. 3d and 4th Sts.

INCIDENT OF THE FRANCO-PRUSSIAN WAR.

(Published on the authority of an eye witness in Le Figaro.)

It was on the 15th of January, 1871.

The 16th Corps, under the leadership of Admiral Jaureguiberry was slowly retreating upon Laval. The whole day had been passed in skirmishing; and it was not until ten o'clock at night that the troops arrived at their cantonment, established at Saint-Jean-sur-Erve and in the neighboring villages.

The cold was intense. A thick snow covered the soil.

The admiral had received orders from General Chanzy to hold the position all the following day; and at daybreak on the 18th the guns were already in position, and the men all at their posts.

Later in the morning the admiral inspected the various positions, and encouraged the soldiers with those ardent words which he alone, perhaps, knew how to use. Moreover, the mere sight of his calm, austere face is enough to inspire confidence;—the men know his energy and his admirable coolness.

About 10 o'clock the admiral, followed by his staff, took his way to the presbytery of Saint-Jean-sur-Erve, where a frugal breakfast had been prepared for them by two old sailors.

The repast was a silent one,—everybody felt weighing upon him the gravity of events to come;—even the parish priest, a little frightened by this irruption upon his peaceful life, never uttered a word. Nevertheless it occurred to him to order an omelette to be prepared; but at the very moment that he was bringing it in, a long whistling sound was heard; and a shell, bursting in the yard of the presbytery, blew a window to atoms, and flung a storm of dust and wreck into the dining-room.

The priest let fall the omelette, and joined his hands.

—"To horse, gentlemen!" exclaimed the admiral, with his habitual calm.

While he was in the act of rising, and the officers were buckling on their sword belts, a second shell fell near the spot where the first had exploded.

—"Monsieur l'Amiral!" cried the priest, fairly beside himself,—"this is frightful! You must not expose your life like that"............

—"Monsieur le Cure," replied the admiral, without moving a muscle, "it is written in the *91st Psalm of David: 'A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.' "

Instinctively the officers uncovered their heads while the priest stammered out:—

—"Ah! Monsieur l'Amiral,—it is very beautiful to have such a faith as yours!"

* * *

As they left the court of the presbytery, to the accompaniment of a tremendous fusilade, which broke out on all sides simultaneously, the natural French spirit of merriment once more obtained the upper hand.

—"The admiral did not treat us very kindly in those remarks of his," observed one of the officers.

Another twisted his mustache thoughtfully. It was Col. Beraud, an old trooper and retired staff officer, who had re-entered the service at the beginning of the war. He approached an officer, belonging to the Protestant faith, who was one of his personal friends:—

—"Species of Huguenot," he said, in his big, kindly voice, "tell me over again what the admiral said that time!"

The Protestant officer repeated the words of the Psalm:

—" 'A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand.' "....

—"Good!" growled the old Colonel;—"I know what I'm going to do;—I'll keep to the left."

* * *

The admiral took up his position directly in front of a battery, while the artillerymen fired directly over his head. His officers grouped themselves about him; and the Prussians, at once remarking the little assembly of twenty motionless men, whose figures were sharply defined in black against the dazzling background of white snow, divined that some French general was there, and directed their fire accordingly.

Shells began to rain all around the little group. The admiral, still motionless, holding his big marine glasses to his eyes, watched the movement of the troops, and appeared to pay no attention whatever to the projectiles which kept plunging into the snow around him with a heavy thud. The snow broke their fall, and most of them did not burst. But in a little while the officers observed that the Prussian fire was being steadily corrected, and that the shells began to fall nearer and nearer to the admiral, in the most alarming way—although he still remained impassive."

* * *

After a brief consultation with the rest of the staff, an orderly approached the admiral, and said:—

—"Admiral, we are prepared to get ourselves all killed here, if it is necessary so to do; but we beg of you not to expose your life in this way. It is too precious;—you are commanding the 16th Corps;—what would become of it if you were killed,—or even seriously wounded?"

A shell which went whistling by Admiral Jaureguiberry's head at that very moment doubtless convinced him of the truth of these remarks; for he leisurely turned his horse's head, beckoned to the officers to follow him, and took up his post in a depressed pathway, behind the battery.

Again his officers grouped themselves about him; and Colonel Beraud, either by chance, or through the habits acquired by long service, placed himself to the right of his chief, writing orders from dictation.

Admiral Jaureguiberry continued to direct and correct the fire of the guns, saying from time to time:—"One cable-length further, my children;"—or: "Half a cable-length nearer, my children." And he continued to scan with his glasses the French lines, which held their position firmly, and who occupied an immense semi-circle between two heights. The enemy had not yet been able to make an impression upon the line.

But in a little while the Prussians discovered that the Admiral had chosen a new position; and before many minutes had passed, shells began once more to fall around him. He paid no heed to them, and occasionally consulted the map that had been spread on his horse's back—watching the battle the rest of the time through his glasses.

Suddenly, a shell, better aimed than the rest, whizzed right at the Admiral's horse, carried away the head of the animal, which sank at once to the ground, and struck Col. Beraud full in the chest.

He threw up his arms and fell from the saddle.

* * *

Almost without removing his glasses from his eyes, the Admiral stood astride the body of his horse, and sorrowfully exclaimed:

"Poor Bayard!"

Then, raising his voice, he said to his orderly:

"Monsieur de Beaufort, pick up the maps, and have Tremolo saddled!"

But the officers, terrified and dumfounded, were contemplating poor Col. Beraud, whose fall had not even been noticed by the Admiral, and who lay struggling in the agony of death, murmuring:

" 'At the right hand!'....I was on the right!"

Surprised at the silence and the immobility of his officers, the Admiral turned round.

"But, Admiral," said M. de Beaufort—"you cannot have noticed that Colonel Beraud...."

* * *

He did not need to finish the sentence;—already Admiral Jaureguiberry had seized in his own the hand of his old companion-in-arms, who was uttering his last sigh.

But after a moment of pathetic silence, the Admiral made a supreme concession to the momentarily increasing peril.

—"Gentlemen," he said, "we shall dismount."

And although the position was still a very dangerous one (for even on foot the officers were protected only as high as the waist), the Admiral's staff were spared that day.

MAURICE REYNOLD.

Budweiser Beer.
Selected Wines, Cigars, etc. First-class Restaurant attached. Sixth and Locust.

WOMEN WHO SPECULATE.

Their Successes and Failures—Actresses Who Dabble in Stocks.

From the New York Mail and Express.

"That women speculate and do not stop at ordinary ventures I know to be a fact," said a prominent banker, when approached on the subject, "but they usually employ men to do their work. You see, they cannot operate in person because of the prejudice of their own sex, but they can study and scheme and direct—and this is what they do. The cases in this city where brokers carry heavy lines of stock under their own names, which really belong to their clients, are not a few, I can tell you. These women, however, do not all live in New York. Bless your heart, they represent every county in the State, and, for all I know, every city and town. They are usually women who have inherited property, wards of indulgent guardians or women who have seen the world. By this I mean women who have traveled and learned of the wonderful achievements in the stock line of some noted foreigners, titled or untitled, and desire to outshine them."

"And are they successful?"

"As a rule, yes. Women have a very keen appreciation of the 'perhaps.' Then, again, they are content with a small margin of profit. And, finally, they seldom play, like a man, for a four-time winner, as it were, or press the limit. If a purchase of to-day shows a gain they are content to pocket that gain, rather than wait for another advance to-morrow, which advance is not always sure to come."

"But if they lose?"

"They lose as little as possible by getting clear of their stock as soon as they see it going contrary to the way they want it to go. They are very philosophical and cautious, are these same women. But all the women who are represented on the street and in the exchanges are not moneyed parties, by long odds."

"No?"

"Far from it. Many a woman sends her last $10 to put up her margin when the day shall begin."

"I should not think a broker would bother with a business so small."

"The brokers in these cases are usually the woman's brother, sweetheart or cousin. She wheedles a few bank notes out of papa and gives them to her agent, who in turn gives them to some small broker, and very often the miserly little sum of the morning is quite a respectable bank account by night. I remember an instance where a young woman came to New York to attend lectures at the Women's Medical College. She found living, tuition and other expenses so very much more than she had expected that she was not willing to commence her work until she had realized sufficient money to see her through her studies. Listening to the advice of a male cousin, she sent $50 by him to put up as margin on oil. That $50 in a week's time brought her back nearly $1,000.

"All women, however, are not so successful."

"I should say not. There are thousands of dollars swallowed up in margins every day that represent many a young woman's pin-money for a month. Women are natural-born gamblers. They take to gift enterprises, lotteries, speculation and betting as a duck does to water. If you want a good proof of it go any day to those large tea stores where the proprietor gives away a piece of crockery or a silver-plated spoon with every pound of tea. You will find women coming there to buy from districts miles away. They really spend more in car fare and time than the gift is worth, besides getting an inferior grade in their purchase. The proprietor, however, knows their weakness and profits accordingly."

"Are there any female brokers in business in New York?"

"None that I know of. Men brokers, however, have their female aides—women like Vic Woodhull and Tennie Claflin—and these women are powerful allies, I can tell you."

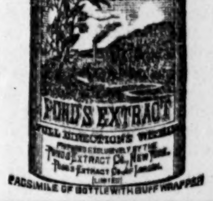
"What is their method of operating?"

"It depends upon circumstances. As a rule they seek the confidence of some recently bereaved widow, one, bear in mind, who has not been left moneyless. Then they proceed to advise her against trusting the wicked men in matters of business, invariably winding up by recommending their banker or broker as the man above all others to look after her affairs. The same plan is followed with young girls who succeed to legacies or young women from the country who come to the city looking for safe investments for their savings."

"As a class, what women do you think have the greatest use for a broker?"

"Actresses. There is hardly an actress in America to-day, that is one of any note, that does not dabble more or less in stocks. The reason for this is, I suppose, that no class of men become more intimate with ladies in the theatrical profession than the banker and the broker. Confidence, of course, begets confidence, and in a short time the actress has made the plunge into the financial maelstrom. There is an up-town firm of brokers whose business is almost entirely made up of orders from prominent actresses. Mrs. Langtry, Lotta, Maggie Mitchell, Rose Coghlan, Modjeska, Mary Anderson, Fanny Davenport and others of equal fame, all have a nice little bundle of good paying stocks, and, as a rule, are ready to buy more."

POND'S EXTRACT



Price 50 Cents.
POND'S EXTRACT
POND'S EXTRACT CO. NEW YORK
FACSIMILE OF BOTTLE WITH BUFF WRAPPER

POND'S EXTRACT
VEGETABLE
PAIN DESTROYER

Hemorrhages. Bleeding from the Lungs, Stomach, Nose, or from any cause is speedily controlled and stopped.

Sores, Ulcers, Wounds, Sprains and Bruises. It is cooling, cleansing and Healing.

Catarrh. It is most efficacious for this disease, Cold in the Head, &c. Our "Catarrh Cure," is specially prepared to meet serious cases. Our Nasal Syringe is simple and inexpensive.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia. No other preparation has cured more cases of these distressing complaints than the Extract. Our Plaster is invaluable in these diseases, Lumbago, Pains in Back or Side, &c.

Diphtheria & Sore Throat. Use the Extract promptly. Delay is dangerous.

Burns and Scalds. For allaying heat and pain it is unrivaled, and should be kept in every family ready for use in case of accidents. A dressing of our Ointment will aid in healing, and prevent scars.

Piles, Blind, Bleeding or Itching. It is the greatest known remedy; rapidly curing when other medicines have failed. Our Ointment is of great service where the removal of clothing is inconvenient.

For Broken Breast and Sore Nipples. Mothers who have once used The Extract will never be without it. Our Ointment is the best emollient that can be applied.

Female Complaints. In the majority of female diseases the Extract can be used, as is well known, with the greatest benefit. Full directions accompany each bottle.

CAUTION.
Pond's Extract Has been imitated. The genuine has the words "Pond's Extract" blown in the glass, and our picture trade-mark on surrounding buff wrapper. None other is genuine. Always insist on having Pond's Extract. Take no other preparation. It is never sold in bulk, or by measure.
Sold everywhere, Prices, 50c, $1, $1.75.
Prepared only by POND'S EXTRACT CO.,
NEW YORK AND LONDON.

ESPECIALLY SUITED FOR BABES,

A WHOLESOME CURATIVE
THE BEST AND CHEAPEST
FOR CONSTIPATION
LIVER STOMACH AND BOWEL AILMENTS
PRICE 25 CENTS.
TROPIC FRUIT LAXATIVE
Proprietor
NEW YORK, U.S.A.

Reduced fac-simile of bottle. Wrapper printed in red and black.

CHILDREN, WOMEN and DELICATE PERSONS. Relished by every one. TROPIC-FRUIT LAXATIVE is an agreeable substitute for CASTOR OIL, SENNA, BABY SYRUPS, DROPS, &c., FOR CHILDREN, AND PILLS, MINERAL WATERS, APERIENTS, AND OTHER PHYSICS for ADULTS. Containing no mineral or other injurious ingredient, it is entirely harmless for infants and children of all ages, and is equally effective for grown persons. TROPIC-FRUIT LAXATIVE is NATURE'S GREAT SYSTEM REGULATOR & CLEANSER. DOSE SMALL, ACTION PROMPT, EFFECT COMFORTING.

FORMULA GIVEN ON APPLICATION.
For Constipation, Bile, Hemorrhoids, Cerebral Congestion, Sick Headache, Drowsiness, Indisposition, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness, Indigestion, Sallow or Bad Complexion, Coated Tongue, Bad Taste in Mouth, Disordered Stomach, Complaints of Children, and Liver, Stomach & Bowel ailments generally, it is unequaled. Absolutely safe for delicate and nursing women. Taken eagerly by infants and children. 25 AVERAGE DOSES FOR 25 CENTS.
Ask for Liquid Tropic-Fruit Laxative. Price 25 cts.; 5 bottles, express paid, $1. Lozenge form, 25 and 50 cts. per box. Liquid best and cheapest. Sold by druggists. Depot, 9 Dey Street, New York.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.
ADVICE TO INVALIDS.
WEAK, NERVOUS INVALIDS, and others Seeking Health, Strength and Energy, are advised to send for "The Electric Review," a large illustrated journal, published for free distribution. It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopædia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases. Young men and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefited by consulting its contents. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. If in need of medical aid or counsel, read it before investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. Address for free copy, The Electric Review, 1164 Broadway, New York.

ESTABLISHED 1859.
CLEANING, DYEING AND REPAIRING
SUITS CLEANED IN SIX HOURS.
Cleaning. Coat.........$1 00 Pants.........50
Dyeing. Coat.........$2 00 Pants.........1 00
W. SURBLED,
North Sixth st., bet. Market and Chestnut sts.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.

F. W. GUERIN, PHOTOGRAPHER,
Twelfth and Washington Av.

Highest prize awarded at National Photographic Exhibition, Cincinnati, 1884, and medal awarded at the World's Exposition, Paris, 1878. Special attention paid to Crayon and Pastel work.

OUR FAMOUS 60cTEA

Also our Roast Samarang Java, 25c per lb, are our special drives. Try them and save your money.

RELIANCE TEA COMPANY,
615 Franklin Av.
Send for price list. Country orders promptly attended to.

14 lbs best Granulated Sugar	$1 00
18 lbs good Yellow Sugar	1 00
Best roast Mocha Coffee	30c ℘ lb
Best roast Java Coffee	25c ℘ lb
Best roast Golden Rio Coffee	15c ℘ lb
All Coffees down	5c ℘ lb
Good Tea	25c ℘ lb

All Teas 25 per cent lower than can be had elsewhere. Best baking powder, 15c.
ST LOUIS TEA CO., 106 N. 5th st.

CITY NEWS.

Show your wisdom by giving the exclusive tailoring stores a wide berth and trying the new tailoring department of D. Crawford & Co. for a suit, who guarantee a perfect fit and a saving to you of from 25 to 75 per cent. Close to-night at 7 o'clock.

Man wants but little here below. Woman wants Pozzoni's Complexion Powder. For sale by all druggists and fancy goods dealers.

Dr. E. C. Chase,
827 Olive street. Set of teeth, $8.

Private matters skillfully treated, and medicine furnished. Dr. Dinsbeer, 814 Pine street.

Dr. Whittier, 617 St. Charles street, cures diseases of indiscretion, excesses, indulgencies. Call or write.

Art Gossip.

The gentleman who has the Prize Fund Collection of American Paintings in charge, Mr. Charles M. Kurtz, has arrived here from Louisville, and is superintending the transfer of the pictures to the Museum of Fine Arts. The work of placing and hanging them will be begun about the middle of next week and the exhibition will be open on Friday or Saturday. Whether there will be a reception or a "first view" is a question that has not been settled. It is being discussed now and will be decided probably by Monday evening. The length of time during which the pictures will be exhibited will be determined by the attendance during the first two weeks. The pictures may remain for a month, and it is to be hoped that the attendance will be sufficiently large to warrant the continuance of the exhibition for thirty days. The collection amply merits it, as it is conceded to be far and away ahead of anything of the kind ever seen in the West.

⁂

Mr. George M. Chambers has now one of the handsomest studios in the country. In fact, very few of those recently pictured in the century at all equal it. It is a one-story frame structure of beautiful design, built in the grounds of the residence of the artist at Kirkwood, and constructed under the supervision of Mr. Chambers and the architect, Mr. Will Eames. One can scarcely conceive anything more adaptable to the necessities of an artist or more satisfying to a desire for artistic surroundings. With such an atelier one would fancy that inspiration would come naturally and constantly. Mr. Chambers has a genius for decorative work, and the interior of his studio is a charming attestation of the fact. The walls are covered with rare tapestries, centuries old, upon which are hung trophies, curios and art treasures of all kinds. Old fringes, vestments, rugs and scarfs are among the many things shown by Mr. Chambers to those who visit him, but he has such a wealth of them that one has to be satisfied with only a cursory inspection. The chief feature of the studio is an immense fire-place of rough, hard made brick, which, with its wrought-iron andirons and bright wood fire, makes a pleasing picture. A fine light is had through roof and wall, as well as a good view of the landscape beyond and about. It is to be hoped that other artists in St. Louis will emulate Mr. Chambers in the matter.

⁂

Mr. Robert Bringhurst will begin to teach a class in modeling and sculpture next Monday. This will be one of the Art school classes and the work will probably be of more practical value to St. Louis than that of any other class in the school. The young stone-cutters, carvers and artisans of this city, who are serious and ambitious, have an opportunity here presented that they will surely not miss. These are expected to form a night class, and with these Mr. Bringhurst expects to accomplish wonderful results. The class will meet at the sculptor's studio on the ground floor of No 1724 Washington avenue, in rooms especially fitted up for it.

⁂

Mr. Meeker and Mr. Eichbaum are the only artists who have sent pictures from St. Louis to the fall exhibition of the American Art Association. Mr. Gutherz's salon picture was sent there from Paris and received a mention in the New York papers.

⁂

The annual reception of the Metropolitan Museum of Art on Monday afternoon last in New York City worked very little enthusiasm, as the public had been previously informed by the press that few new paintings had been secured for the winter exhibition. The paintings of William M. Hunt, loaned by Mr. Richard M. Hunt, Marshall's colossal canvas "Head of Christ," Hans Makart's "Midsummer Night's Dream," Bierstadt's "Lake Donner" and Ingham's fine portrait of Dewitt Clinton, and Pope's of Daniel Webster were the chief centers of attraction. Owing to rainy weather and, it is said, to the absence of the Watts collection, the attendance was very small.

⁂

The opening of the galleries of the American Art Association for a special fall exhibition was much more gratifying. This occurred on Tuesday morning, a reception having been given on the evening before. The association has added to its four handsome galleries of last year still another, which is said to be the handsomest in the metropolis. In this gallery were hung a varied and interesting collection of water colors by American artists. To the four who shall receive the largest number of votes from all visitors before November 14, a prize of $250 each will be awarded by the Association. Among those who are represented in this gallery are Miss Greatorex, M. de F. Bolmer, George Wharton Edwards, Walter Satterlee, Hamilton Hamilton, Charles Harry Eaton, W. Hamilton Gibson, George N. Smellie, Childe Hassam, W. H. Shelton and Rhoda Holmes Nicholls. The works of oil in the lower galleries receiving mention are an interior with figure, by Clement R. Grant; a large panoramic canvas rather hard in coloring, "Dakota," by Carl Gutherz; a finely posed, carefully painted "Portrait of Thomas Allen, Artist," by J. H. Caliga; "In With the Tide, St. Melo," vigorous and breezy with unnatural water, by F. M. Boggs; a large marine, "La Vogue," by Alexander Harrison, variation with sunrise effect of "La Crepuscule," but not nearly as happy as that effort, the waves lacking liquidity; a landscape, "The Ruin—Evening," by Charles H. Davis, a gem among its fellows, filled with respectful sentiment, with tender coloring, and exquisite tones, and a "Portrait" by J. W. Alexander, a daring and novel, but successful, color scheme in light greens and grays, with lovely light effect.

⁂

The St. Louis View Club, which completed its organization this week by the election of officers, promises to be one of the most interesting art organizations in the city. The club is composed of amateur photographers, who propose to interchange views, compare work and organize touring expeditions during the coming winter. The club intends eventually to open a headquarters down town and hold monthly or semi-monthly meetings. At each of these some member will be requested to read a paper on any peculiar experiences he may have had in his photographic work. A series of sociables may be held during the winter, after the plan adopted by the sketch clubs, when members can exhibit specimens of their work to their artist friends. Amateur photography has progressed so far in St. Louis that many members of the View Club vie with professionals in outdoor work.

The latest Eastern decoration craze has reached this city. The plain prosaic three-legged stool on which the rustic beauty sits when extracting lacteal fluid from the meek-eyed Alderney, will now be found in all aristocratic residences, but ah, how transformed! The seat is upholstered with silk, satin or silk plush hand-painted, and the exposed woodwork of the stool is gilded and decorated with delicate traceries of vines. They are called dairymaid stools.

Pretty Finger-Nails.

Trim them; polish them; scrape them and fix them all you please, yet they never will be truly beautiful unless the circulation of the blood is healthy, and the blood itself in perfect order. Look at the finger-nails of the debilitated person who suffers from lack of nervous energy. They look waxy and lifeless. Secure rich blood and perfect circulation by using Brown's Iron Bitters. Mr. Wm. Welsh, Lexington, Mich., says, "I was reduced almost to a skeleton. I used Brown's Iron Bitters and now weigh 170 pounds."

F. H. Ingalls publishes a new price list on our fifth page to-day. It is worth reading.

THE MILITARY.

A Week of Unpleasant Surprises in Local Circles.

The Court-Martial at the Armory—Last Night's Proceedings—New Victims for Next Week's Session—How the Offenders May Be Punished—Capt. R. W. Goode Succeeds Gen. Frost as Judge Advocate—Inspection—Notes.

The court-martial met at the Armory last night to try the twelve members of Company I on a charge of mutiny. Col. Bull, Captains Cookson, Skipwith and Henry, and Lieutenant Abadie were present. All of the accused were present except Private W. J. Rae, who was reported absent from the city. Private Lightner admitted having signed the paper requesting Captain Cavender to resign. Privates John Brewer, jr., and G. C. Davis stated that they did not drill on the evening of October 23, the former alleging sickness, and the latter loss of his uniform as an excuse. R. E. Mitchell testified that he had never been notified that his commission as sergeant had been revoked. Sergeant A. F. Lee swore that the men were innocent of mutinous intentions in their actions against their Captain. This closed the evidence for the accused and the court then adjourned for deliberation.

An order was received from Jefferson City yesterday afternoon relieving Gen. R. G. Frost as Judge-Advocate of the Court-martial, and appointing Captain Robert W. Goode of the First Regiment to act in his stead.

Charges Against Roemer.

The charges reported as having been filed against Capt. T. Rosser Roemer of the Busch Zouaves, on account of his share in the quarrel and fight with Lieutenant Jacobs at the Armory, have thus far been ignored by the court-martial, for the very good reason that when handed to Adjutant Batdorf of the First Reg't they bore no signature whatever. Captain Batdorf, in his official capacity, turned the charges over to Col. E. D. Meier, who brought them to the attention of the court-martial. On Thursday evening the court, for the reason above stated, directed Associate-Judge Advocate Robert Goode, to return them to the persons who filed them with Adjutant Batdorf. Captain Goode accordingly gave back the charges to Trooper Wilson Primm of the Cavalry, counsel for Lieutenant Jacobs.

A High-Toned Court.

The members of Companies H, F and G, who disobeyed the orders of their superior officers, when ordered to do duty as guards at the Armory during the late street car strike, will very likely not be brought before the general court-martial convened by the Governor's last order and at present in session at the Armory. The members of the general cour-mtartial are mostly officers of high rank; generals, colonels, lieutenant-colonels, etc., and it would hardly be in accordance with military procedure and etiquette to require such a high-toned court to sit on minor offenders, such as privates, corporals and sergeants. The cases of the sixteen members of Company I who were brought before the court, the privates stood charged with mutiny. Mutiny being a very serious offense, the general court could, without unbending its dignity, take cognizance of it. For the trial of the members of Companies H, F and G, however, a regimental court-martial will doubtless be called at an early day.

The Court's Power.

An erroneous impression prevails that a reprimand and discharge is the severest punishment which the court-martial now sitting at the Armory can inflict. It is stated on reliable authority that should the good of the service demand it, in the eyes of the court, it (the court) has the power to imprison, in the County Jail, an offender against the State military law, for a period between one month and twenty years. It is not probable, however, that the court will deem it necessary to resort to such extreme measures. The findings of the court will not be made public until after their approval by the Governor of the State. Should any of the court's decisions be not approved, the greatest care will be taken by the State officials at Jefferson to keep them secret. The members of the court are all on oath not to divulge any of the court's deliberations or proceedings in executive session.

Captain Branch's Fix.

Charges have been filed against Captain Joseph Branch of the First Regiment, and are now before the court-martial. Captain Branch's offense consists in having assumed command of a company other than his own without having been detailed to the service by proper authority.

Inspection and Review.

The inspection of the companies of the First Brigade, N. G. M., by Inspector-General Bull will be concluded with the inspection of B, I and C and the Kirkwood Guards at the Armory on next Friday evening. On or about Thanksgiving Day a grand review of the First Regiment, the Battery and Cavalry under command of Col. E. D. Meier, will be held in Lucas Market Square by Governor Marmaduke. The Governor will be accompanied by the members of his staff and by Adjutant-General Jamison.

Dress Drill and Hop.

The Kirkwood Guards, Capt. Halloway in command, will take a special train on the Missouri Pacific for the city at 9 o'clock next Friday evening. Company inspection by Gen. Bull will be followed by a dress drill and hop in the Armory Hall. A number of ladies from Kirkwood and vicinity will accompany the command.

Notes.

Captian Cookson was presented with a magnificent sword by the members of Company A, in their quarters at the Armory, last night.

The Tredway Rifles will begin drilling next week, for the prize drills to be held at Atlanta, Ga., and Savannah, S. C., early in the spring.

On last Wednesday evening, H. H. Hess, the newly elected Second Lieutenant of Company F, tendered the members of that company an oyster supper in their quarters.

Owing to the absence of Col. E. D Meier at Troy, N. Y., on business, and the indispositien of Lieutenant-Colonel Jas. Buchanan, the First Regiment is temporarily under the command of Major C. D. Comfort.

Owing to the absence from drill of the sixteen court-martialed members of Company I last night, it was impossible for Captain Cavender to get a sufficient number of men together to make a respectable showing at the general inspection of the company, which was to have been made by Gen. Wm. Bull, and the inspection was accordingly postponed.

The following is the detail of officers at the Armory during the week: Monday, November 9, Lieut. C. E. Ware; Tuesday, November 10, Capt. R. R. Tilley; Wednesday, November 11, Capt. W. C. Marshall; Thursday, November 12, Capt. E. V. Walsh; Friday, November 13, Lieut. J. C. Wiegand; Saturday, November 14, Sergeant E. C. Scott.

Thomas Manahan, No. 32 Montgomery street, Hudson, N. Y., two years ago was given up by his physicians. He was afflicted with dyspepsia and obstinate constipation; had lost forty pounds in weight and was a bed-ridden invalid. He commenced taking Brandreth's Pills in doses of five, four, two and one. Then he took two every night for a month, gained eight pounds in weight, and able to attend to business. He took two pills every night for the following six weeks, and was entirely cured.

DR. ENNO SANDER'S AROMATIC GINGER ALE combines all the efficacious and wholesome ualities of the finesttonics.

SEDALIA'S SENSATION.

A Mayor Arrested for Accepting a Bribe—Robbed a Pastor—Missouri Matters.

Sedalia, November 7.—The trial of Samuel Bailey for assault with intent to kill, and for rescuing a prisoner, commenced yesterday. Bailey took part in the tragedy at Holden, in which J. L. Ashby, who had been adjudged insane, killed his father-in-law, W. F. Hess. Mayor Rickman was arrested last night for receiving a bribe for the reappointment of Fire Engineer Graham.

St. Joseph, November 7.—A woman called upon the Rev. Dr. Bullard West yesterday, claimed an old-time acquaintance with members of the family, and was invited to lunch. She managed to get into the parlor and stole a quantity of jewelry valued at $300. James Calkins, a cooper, on a collection tour, was enticed into a saloon yesterday and robbed of $1,100.

La Plata, November 7.—J. B. Thompson retires from the ownership of the Home Press, and it passes into the hands of Mitchell Rutherford.

Lebanon, November 7.—The town of Urbana in Dallas County was destroyed by fire yesterday. All the business houses were consumed in flames, and a hotel was the only building left. The loss is placed at $50,000.

St. Charles, November 7.—The Grand Jury yesterday indicted R. F. May for the killing of James Webb. The little daughter of Mrs. Geo. Cox fell through a boarded cistern yesterday and was drowned. Several residences in this vicinity were visited by burglars yesterday, and property of value was taken away.

MAKE A NOTE OF THE FACT —THAT—
BRANDT'S STOCK OF FINE FOOTWEAR

For LADIES and GENTS includes all the leading and most popular makes, and all the brands shown by HIGH-PRICED COMPETITORS. Also, note the fact that we carry them in a more complete run of styles, shapes and widths, and save you from 50 cents to $1 50 a pair.

J. G. BRANDT'S Double-Deck Retail Shoe House,
Nos. 619, 621, 623, Cor. Fifth (Broadway) and Christy Av.

Famous.
LAMBRECHT-CO.

FAMOUS.

$16,000 SPOT CASH!

The largest check ever drawn in St. Louis for a single purchase in ONE STYLE of LADIES' SHOES!

We have just closed out 8,000 pairs Ladies' Extra Fine Hand-made Cur. Kid Button Boots, double soles, all sizes and widths, at $2. We will sell them to our customers at an advance of 50c a pair, making them cost you $2.50.

We guarantee that these Shoes cost dealers $3 50 a pair, and are worth, and retail in all first-class Shoe Houses at $5. This is an actual saving to any lady wearing a fine shoe of $2 50, which is the price of a machine-made shoe. These are hand-sewed and first-class in every respect. Don't fail to see our GREAT SHOE DRIVE.

Our regular stock of Gents' and Ladies' Boots and Shoes is the largest and most complete in all respects shown in this city. We guarantee the style, workmanship and material in our Footwear to be the best obtainable in this country. PRICES ALWAYS THE LOWEST.

FAMOUS
SHOE DEP'T, BROADWAY AND MORGAN.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue of Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Furnishings and Cloaks.

BOYS' CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER
MILLS & AVERILL.

Parents and guardians of boys will find that a MADE TO ORDER suit for their boy is cheaper than a ready made suit. The first will give its value in style and durability, while the ready made garments will do neither. By patronizing our Boys' Custom Department you have selections from fabrics the clothing dealers can not get. Our prices are low considering the value we offer. We will be pleased to give prices and show goods even if no sale is made.

MISPLACED TRUST.

The Mystery of the Failure of a Boston Firm Cleared Up—A Dishonest Employe.

Boston, Mass., November 7.—The arrest of Timothy F. Gorman yesterday for embezzlement clears up the mystery of the failure of John A. Lowell & Co., the well-known art engravers. Gorman is about 36 years old and was a trusted clerk of the concern, having been in their employ for six years. Gorman married three years ago a beautiful young girl of South Boston and lived in good style. No suspicion attached to him and all that was thought was that he was a little extravagant. The firm was doing an excellent business, but some time ago, the firm needing money, an examination of the books was made and the statements of Gorman were accepted as a fact that the firm was in good standing and the loan was effected. It was soon afterwards discovered that a large number of the cash customers of the firm were behind in their accounts, and after some trouble it was discovered, by drawing drafts on them, that their bills had been paid. It was also discovered that the pay-roll of the firm was tampered with and the embezzlement was so flagrant that a warrant was obtained for Gorman's arrest. The books so far show a discrepancy of $8,000.

Our Specialties.
Upright Folding Beds,
Revolving Book Cases,
Cutler Patent Roller Desks,
Shaw's Patent Reclining Chairs,
Hartley's Patent Reclining Chairs,
Invalid Rolling Chairs,
Artistic Furniture
of every description at greatly reduced prices.
Burrell, Comstock & Co.,
402-4 N. Fourth street.

ECZEMA

And Every Species of Itching and Burning Diseases Cured by Cuticura.

Eczema, or Salt Rheum, with its agonizing itching and burning, instantly relieved by a warm bath with Cuticura Soap, and a single application of Cuticura, the great Skin Cure. This repeated daily, with two or three doses of Cuticura Resolvent, the New Blood Purifier, to keep the blood cool, the perspiration pure and unirritating, the bowels open, the liver and kidneys active, will speedily cure Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Lichen, Pruritus, Scald Head, Dandruff, and every species of Itching, Scaly and Pimply Humors of the Scalp and Skin, when the best physicians and all known remedies fail.

Will McDonald, 2542 Dearborn street, Chicago, gratefully acknowledges a cure of Eczema or Salt Rheum, on head, neck, face, arms and legs for seventeen years; not able to walk except on hands and knees for one year; not able to help himself for eight years; tried hundreds of remedies; doctors pronounced his case hopeless; permanently cured by Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier) internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures) externally.

Chas. Houghton, Esq., lawyer, 28 State street, Boston, reports a case of Eczema under his observation for ten years, which covered the patient's body and limbs, and to which all known methods of treatment had been applied without benefit, which was completely cured solely by the Cuticura Remedies, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

Mr. John Thiel, Wilkesbarre, Pa., writes: "I have suffered from Salt Rheum for over eight years, at times so bad that I could not attend to my business for weeks at a time. Three boxes of Cuticura and four bottles Resolvent have entirely cured me of this dreadful disease."

Physicians Prescribe Them.—I have nothing but the highest praise for the results obtained from your Cuticura Remedies, of which I have sold more than of all others of the kind.
MONRO BOND, M. D.,
2500 N. Broad street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Sold by all druggists. Price: Cuticura, 50c; Resolvent, $1; Soap, 25c. Potter Drug & Chemical Co., Boston, Mass. Send for Pamphlet.

BEAUTIFY the Complexion and Skin by using the Cuticura Soap.

RHEUMATIC, NEURALGIC, SCIATIC. Sudden, sharp and Nervous Pains absolutely annihilated by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster, a perfect antidote to pain and inflammation. New, original, infallible. At druggists. 25c.

Newland's College of Midwifery
—AND—
LYING-IN INSTITUTE

This is the only institute of the kind in the West in which regular physicians lecture, and which is connected with a Lying-in Institute, so that students will receive practical and theoretical lessons. Male and female students admitted. The regular term will commence March and September each year.

Ladies who expect their confinement can be accommodated.

DR. H. NEWLAND.
1205 Chouteau av.

Diogenes Finds Honesty at Last in Clothing.

FINE
CUSTOM-MADE CLOTHING!

At H-A-L-F First-Class Tailors' Prices. Our SUPERB stock includes every fabric, shape and style sanctioned by FASHION.

Hats, Satchels,
Furnishings.

THE BEST THAT'S MADE.

HUMPHREY'S,
BROADWAY AND PINE,
Store open till 10 o'clock this evening.

The J. M. Ward Furniture Stove and Carpet Co.
1111, 1113 and 1115 Franklin Avenue.

Have now ready for inspection ELEGANT BEDROOM SETS in CHERRY, MAHOGANY and WALNUT; Handsome PARLOR FURNITURE, Beautiful CARPETS, RUGS and EVERYTHING NEEDED in HOUSEKEEPING, which they offer on EASY WEEKLY or MONTHLY PAYMENTS at bedrock prices. Call and be convinced. Open until 9 o'clock every evening.

Heating and Cooking Stoves at a Sacrifice!
Carpets and Furniture at Your Own Price!
All on Easy Monthly Payments.
C. FARNER Stove, Furniture and Carpet Company,
Northwest Corner 14th and Clark Avenue.
Sole agent for the Alligator Cook Stoves. Open Every Evening until 9 o'clock.

TRUSTEE'S SALES.

Whereas, Armand Sertier and Harriet, his wife, by their certain deed of trust recorded in book 13, page 379 of the office of the Recorder of County of St. Louis, State of Missouri, and dated May 3, 1880, conveyed to the undersigned trustee the following described piece of ground, lying and being in St. Louis County, State of Missouri, to-wit: Commencing at the southwest corner of the school-house lot, in the west half of the northwest quarter of section seventeen, township forty-five north, range six east; thence west two hundred and seventy-eight feet four inches; thence north seven hundred and eighty-three feet four inches to the south line of Clayton road; thence east with the south line of Clayton road four hundred and eighty-nine feet; thence south six hundred and eleven feet to the northeast corner of said school-house lot; thence west with the north line of school-house lot two hundred and ten feet to the northeast corner of said school-house lot; thence south to the west line of said school-house lot two hundred and nine feet to the place of beginning, containing eight acres, and being the same property acquired by Armand Sertier of John Lee and wife by deed recorded in the office of the Recorder of the city, late county, of St. Louis, in book 517, page 42, in trust to secure the payment of certain notes in said deed described; and whereas the principal note in said deed of trust described is past due and remains unpaid; Now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said note, I, the undersigned trustee, will sell the above described property, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, at the east front door of the Court House, in the City of St. Louis, Mo., between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., on WEDNESDAY, THE 25TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1885, for the purposes of said trust.

C. C. HARTMAN,
Trustee.

St. Louis, November 6, 1885.

Trustee's Sale—Whereas, by his deed of trust, dated July 3, 1883, and recorded in book 701, page 470 of the records of the Recorder of Deeds for the city of St. Louis, John Van Kamen conveyed the property hereinafter described to the undersigned in trust, to secure the payment of certain notes in said deed described; and whereas one of said notes is past due and remains unpaid. Now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said note I, the undersigned trustee, will sell the following described real estate to-wit: That certain lot or parcel of land lying and being situated in said city of St. Louis and State of Missouri, and being in Newman & Howard's sub-division of block number four (4) of the city commons of the city of St. Louis, and in block 1807 of said city, to-wit: Lot number one (1) of said sub-division, and having a front of thirty-two (32) feet on the east line of Mississippi avenue, with a depth between parallel lines of one hundred and thirty (130) feet to an alley fifteen (15) feet wide, and bounded north by lot number nine (9) of Ryan & NcNulty's sub-division of said block number four (4) of the city commons, east by said alley, south by lot number two (2) of said Newman & Howard's sub-division and west by Mississippi avenue, at the east front door of the Court House in said city of St. Louis, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m and 3 o'clock p. m. of WEDNESDAY, THE 2ND DAY OF DECEMBER, 1885, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, for the purposes of said trust. BERNARD KERNAN, Trustee.
St. Louis, Mo., November 7, 1885.

Trustee's Sale—Whereas, Michael Bloser and Christine Bloser his wife (both over nine months dead), by their deed of trust dated October 17, 1883, and recorded in the Recorder's office of the city of St. Louis, Mo., in book 694, at page 176, conveyed to Rudolph Bender, trustee, the following described real estate: Lot number one (1) in block number five (5) of Thornton D. Murphy's second addition to the city of St. Louis, Mo., a plat whereof is of record in the office of the Recorder for the said city of St. Louis, said lot having a front of fifty (50) feet on California street, by a depth of one hundred and twenty-three feet and eight inches (123 ft. 8 in.) to a line running through said block with said California street, which conveyance was made to secure the payment of certain notes therein described, and whereas default has been made in the payment of the principal note, which has become due and remains unpaid. Now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said note, and under the provisions of said deed, I, the undersigned, having been appointed trustee by the Honorable Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis, Mo., in place of the original trustee, who has departed this life, and by reason of the refusal to act of the sheriff of the City of St. Louis, Mo., I will offer the said property for sale, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash at the east front door of the Court House in the City of St. Louis, Mo., on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 24th, A. D., 1885, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. of said day for the purposes of said trust.

HENRY HIEMENZ, Jr.,
St. Louis, October 30, 1885. Trustee.

HERNSTEIN & PRINCE,

PRACTICAL OPTICIANS,
Opera and Field Glasses,
Surveyors', Engineers' and Architects' Supplies,

317N. FOURTH ST

Artificial Eyes a Specialty.

Ten Years Maintained Superiority
1875. A. B. C. 1885
STEAM COOKED,
CRUSHED WHITE OATS.
AND OTHER
American Breakfast Cereals:
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS!

Ask for A. B. C. Brand only. (Registered Trade Mark.)
For sale by all Grocers. THE CEREALS M'F'G CO., Send for circulars. 83 Murray St., NEW YORK.

DOCTOR WHITTIER
617 St. Charles Street, St. Louis, Mo.

A Regular Graduate of two medical colleges, has been longer engaged in the treatment of Chronic, Nervous Skin and Blood Diseases than any other physician in St. Louis, as city papers show and all old residents know. Consultation at office or by mail, free and invited. A friendly talk or opinion costs nothing. When inconvenient to visit the city for treatment, medicines sent by mail or express everywhere, securely packed, free from observation. Curable cases guaranteed; where doubt exists it is frankly stated. Hours, 8 a. m to 8 p. m. Sunday, 10 to 1.

Nervous Prostration, Debility, Mental and Physical Weakness, arising from Indiscretion, Excess, Exposure or Indulgence, producing some of the following effects: Nervousness, Debility, Dimness of Sight, Perverted Vision, Defective Memory, Pimples on the Face, Aversion to Society of Females, Want of Pleasure in Life, Want of Ambition, Unfitness to Marry, Melancholy, Dyspepsia, Headache, Restlessness, Loss of Spirits, Pains in the Back, etc., are treated with unparalleled success. Safely, privately.

A Permanent Cure Guaranteed.

Blood Impurities and Blood Poisoning, Mercurial and other Affections of Throat, Skin and Bones, Blotches, Eruptions, Old Sores and Ulcers, Painful Swellings,

From whatever cause, positively and forever driven from the system, by means of SAFE, TIME-TESTED REMEDIES. STIFF and SWOLLEN JOINTS, and RHEUMATISM, the result of blood poison, positively cured.

Especial attention to difficult, severe and long standing Cases.

Catarrh, Throat, Nose, Lung Diseases and Constitutional and Acquired Weaknesses Treated successfully.

It is self-evident that a physician paying particular attention to a class of cases attains great skill, and physicians in regular practice all over the country, knowing this, frequently recommend cases to this oldest office in America, where every known appliance is resorted to and the proved good remedies of all ages and countries are used. A whole house is used for office purposes, and all are treated with skill in a respectful manner; and knowing what to do, no experiments are made. On account of the great number of cases applying, the charges are kept low, often lower than is demanded by others. If you secure the skill and get a speedy and perfect life cure that is the important matter.

MARRIAGE { 260 PAGES.
FINE PLATES. } GUIDE.

Elegant cloth and gilt binding. Sealed for 50c in money or postage stamps. Over fifty wonderful pen pictures, true to life; articles on the following subjects: Who may marry, who not, why. Proper age to marry. Who marry first. Manhood; Womanhood; Physical decay; Who should marry. How life and happiness may be increased. Those married or contemplating marriage should read it. It ought to be read by all adult persons, then kept under lock and key. Popular edition, same as above, but paper cover and 800 pages, 25 cents by mail, in money or postage

DR. CLARKE
NO CURE! NO FEE!! } ESTABLISHED 1851. ST. LOUIS, MO. { 811 Locust St.
Treats with the greatest SUCCESS
ALL PRIVATE, NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES

☞ A written guarentee of cure given in every case undertaken. ☞ All consultations FREE and SACRED. Dr. Clarke's Celebrated Book and Writings (plain envelope two stamps.
F. D. CLARKE, M. D., 811 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo.

MANHOOD when lost from Abuse, Excesses, Vice, &c. quickly and secretly restored, full Vigor and Potency, by the French Hospital Treatment. No Drugging. Send for Illustrated Work (sealed). 6 Consulting Physicians. "A noted and reliable medical firm."—Tribune & Farmer. CIVIALE AGENCY, No. 174 Fulton Street, New York.

TO WEAK MEN suffering from the effects of youthful errors, early decay, lost manhood, etc. I will send you a valuable treatise upon the above diseases, also directions for self-cure, free of charge. Address Prof. F. C. FOWLER, Moodus, Conn.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it, is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist.

FOR SALE BY
M. W. ALEXANDER, Druggist,
Broadway (5th) & Olive, ST. LOUIS, MO.
Call or write for pamphlet containing hundreds of testimonials from the best women and men from all parts of the country.

JOHN MAGUIRE,
REAL ESTATE AGENT
319 WALNUT ST., BETWEEN FIFTH AND SIXTH.